Peace can be a moment of stillness, steeped in the beauty of God's world, shared with those you care about.

Yet there is no definition that can fit every human experience of peace. That's probably why the Bible speaks of the peace of God which passeth all understanding.

And the way to find peace — the best way — has always been to seek God. As we turn to Him in prayer and fix our thoughts upon his truth we know a calmness and confidence that neither nature nor companionship alone can provide.

If you haven't already begun the quest for peace — start this week in your place of worship.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

"AFRAID TO BE FREE"

Lesson for August 10, 1980

Background Scripture:
Haggai, Zechariah 1:1-6, 7-8.
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 132:1-5.

A habitual criminal was being interviewed on television. Looking at his career in crime, it appeared to the interviewer that the convict was constantly trying to get back into prison. All of his behaviour--including the leaving of obvious and stupid clues--seemed guaranteed to put him behind bars no matter how much he protested his desire for freedom. "But why would you continue to do that which was guaranteed to put you back in jail?" the interviewer wanted to know. "Because," said the convict in a moment of rare insight, "it was safe there. Inside, I know the ropes. Outside, I have never learned."

Rev. Althouse

The Time Not Yet Come

Many criminals are thus motivated. Unconsciously they prefer the security of their captivity to the frightening responsibilities of freedom. But this syndrome encompasses not just convicts, but many other types of people as well. Some people unconsciously prefer the special privileges of illness to the responsibilities of being well. Others who consciously bemoan their lack of advancement in their jobs, unconsciously do all they can to prevent themselves from having to face the responsibilities of a better position. They may tell themselves that "the time isn't right," that later they will be ready, but for many the time never comes.

This was the situation which the prophet Haggai found in Jerusalem in the fifth century B.C. When Nebuchadnezzer had besieged the city, he had levelled it to the ground and carried off its most important people into captivity. Left behind were just a handful of lower class people to haunt the ruins of the once-holy city. Most of the people of Judah were carried into Babylonian captivity. But when Cyrus, the Persian, conquered the Babylonians in 538 B.C., he published a decree allowing the Jews to return to their homeland and rebuild their temple. Some did, but many, having grown accustomed to their life in Babylon, despite years of yearning to return, remained there.

Busy With Yourselves

When the exiles returned to Jerusalem, they found a reluctance on the part of the local people to rebuild the city and its temple. So, "the word of the Lord came by Haggai the prophet, 'Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, while this house lies in ruins?" (Haggai 1:4). The people continued to procrastinate, saying it wasn't yet time to rebuild, but through Haggai God was calling them to leave the security of their self-imprisoning attitudes and take upon themselves the responsibilities of free men, putting their trust, not in their sheltered, confining lives, but in God.

When we are afraid, it is because we have failed to put our trust in God. Until we do, we will continue to be afraid of freedom.

RX Monthly News
DOES YOUR BABY HAVE NORMAL HEARING?
Watch out for early warnings about possible hearing problems. A newborn baby usually becomes startled at a sharp nearby handclap. At three months he should blink his eyes or move at unexpected loud noises. At 12 months, babies can hear and turn toward a soft voice three feet away.
If you suspect trouble, consult your physician. We carry many medicines Doctors specify for ear problems. Babies' ears are sensitive and should always get speedy medical attention.
YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knotts, Massillon, Ohio, were weekend guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Pauline Henline.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rudy and daughter, Allison, of Oakland, were last Saturday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Friend.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and daughter, Kathy, of Ishpeming, Michigan, spent several days last week with Mrs. Merle Smith.

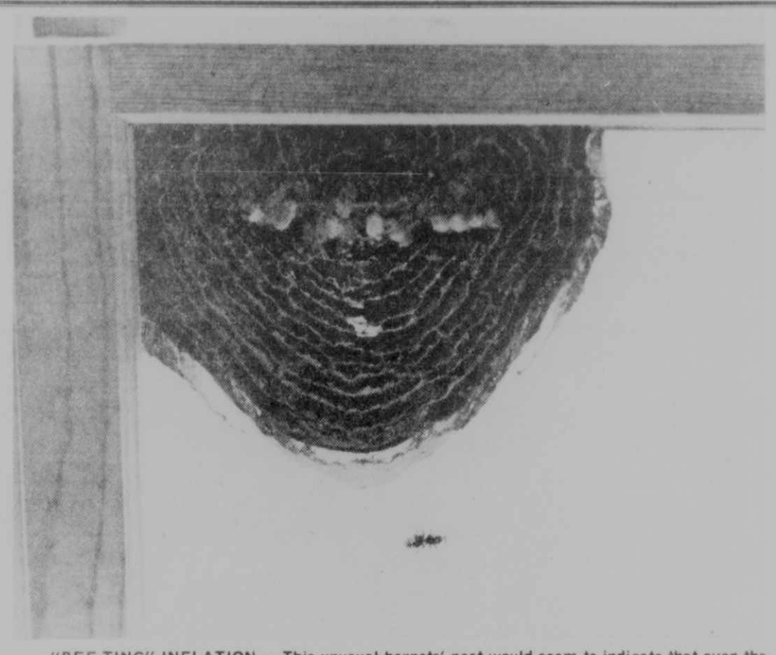

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Friend and daughter, Amy, of Frostburg, spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Friend.

William "Bud" Henline, Laurel, has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Pauline Henline. She returned home with her son for a week's visit. She also visited her son, Jerry Henline, at Laurel and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henline, at Ijamsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Graham and Fred Graham, Jr., and children, Cheryle, Charles and Michael of Edgewater; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Baluch of Somerset, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Ashby, Crellin; Mrs. Rachel Sue Evans, Oakland; and Mrs. Lillian Mersing, Terra Alta, W. Va., were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Blauch were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ashby. They all attended the Mersing reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Sisler and family of Kingwood, W. Va., and Mrs. Homer Sisler of Preston, W. Va., were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Lillian Jordan and family. Afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lee of Red House.

Sunday evening dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Lillian Jordan were: Mrs. Fay Shaffer and daughter, Rose Mary Wolf, of Masontown, W. Va.; Frank Lee, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shaffer and son and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shaffer and children, all of Masontown, W. Va.

"BEE-TING" INFLATION — This unusual hornets' nest would seem to indicate that even the insect world is being affected by inflation. The "residence", which is located on a window in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Plessinger, Pleasant Valley, required only half of the normal construction since the bees utilized the window pane as one side of the nest. Most hornets' nests are spherical and hang suspended from a tree branch or house eave. Not only is the interior of the nest much brighter, but it also has central heating, at the expense of the Plessingers. Who said bees were stupid?

County Housing Office Receives Mortgage Funds

The Maryland Home Financing Program has received $4.8 million and is opening its regular mortgage lending program on a statewide basis on Monday, August 25, according to the Garrett County Housing Office. Garrett County has been allocated $80,000 for exclusive use in this jurisdiction from August 25 through September 26, 1980. The interest rate on loans approved from this allocation is 8%.

After any jurisdictions' allocations are exhausted they may use a common "pool" of funds. These funds will be available on a first-come, first-served basis.

For program information or an appointment, persons should phone the Garrett County Housing Office at 334-4443.

Forest Board Is Participant In Workshop

The 1980 Forest Conservation Workshop which is sponsored by the Maryland Association of Forest Conservancy Boards was held at Camp Hickory, July 27 through August 2, and on Friday, August 1, the Garrett Forestry Board participated in the evening activities. The Board members ate dinner with the members and staff of the workshop and then held a brief business meeting to discuss future activities.

One activity which is upcoming in August is the dedication of a new bicentennial tree. A white Oak on James Chisholm's property off Route 560 has been selected, and the Board members discussed the arrangements for the ceremony. The program will be held on August 30 at 10:00 a.m., at the site.

The Board members discussed the selection of another member to fill a vacancy on the Garrett Board, and bring it to its full complement of seven members. Only four members were present for the meeting, so the Board decided to postpone the final nomination until a later date.

The next meeting of the Garrett Forestry Board is scheduled for August 30, after the dedication of the Bicentennial tree.

Oakland Police Releases July Activity Report

The Oakland Police Department has released its activities report for the month of July.

During the past month the department responded to two assaults, one attempted rape, eight domestic incidents, two fights, five intrusion alarms, one missing person, one obscene and threatening phone call, 18 open doors and windows, six prowlers, one runaway, three suspicious persons, and 12 vandalisms.

Other cases investigated involved five drunk and disorderly persons, one case of littering, five traffic-related incidents, and four cases of trespassing.

The department arrested nine adults and one juvenile during the month of July, and issued 13 traffic citations, three warnings and one equipment repair order. The department investigated six traffic accidents last month.

What Is Cystic Fibrosis?

Eidtor's note: The following article, written by a local physician, was requested by Mrs. Patricia Blythe, chairman of the Cystic Fibrosis Fund Drive for Garrett County.

by Jared B. Zelman, M.D.

Cystic fibrosis is a hereditary disease of children, adolescents, and young adults. It causes lung congestion and disturbs digestion. Cystic fibrosis (CF) primarily affects Caucasians, with an incidence of greater than 1 in 2,000 live births. About 5% of the population carries a gene for cystic fibrosis. Cystic fibrosis is, therefore, the most common substantially lethal hereditary disease among young Caucasians.

In cystic fibrosis the mucous-producing glands do not work normally and the glands, therefore, become dilated and engorged with secretions. Consequently, the gland becomes obstructed. The most commonly affected organs are the lungs, pancreas, salivary glands, gallbladder, and liver. Even the reproductive organs and eyes may be affected.

How does cystic fibrosis affect a youngster? The hallmarks of CF are chronic lung disease, digestive problems, and an abnormally high salt concentration in sweat.

Chronic lung disease is the most serious manifestation of CF, responsible for most of the morbidity and the early death of these patients. Chronic cough, wheezing, pneumonia and colds are frequent problems with CF patients, and may begin at any age, from weeks to years old. Good preventative and curative medical care for these respiratory problems can help prolong lives. In 1950, the average life expectancy for a child with cystic fibrosis was four years. By 1976, the median survival age had risen to 19 years.

The digestive problems of CF include intestinal obstruction, pancreatic insufficiency causing intestinal malabsorbtion (poor digestion of food), liver disease and a curious phenomenon where the sweat has an abnormal amount of salts. This often provides an early diagnostic clue for physicians when a mother notes that her child's skin tastes "salty."

Presently, the basic defect causing CF is unknown. Therefore, therapy must be palliative and aimed at slowing or preventing some of the complications of this disease. Research is presently needed for accurate detection of CF in newborn infants, and efforts are needed to identify adults who carry the gene. Surveillance of high-risk populations and appropriate genetic counseling are of prime importance today. In the future, we hope to know the cause and be able to deal more effectively with this horrible disease.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday, August 6, the 219th day of 1980 with 147 to follow.

The moon is moving toward its new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Leo.

Actor Robert Mitchum was born Aug. 6, 1917.

On this date in history:

In 1926, Gertrude Ederle of New York became the First American to swim the English Channel.

In 1940, the Battle of Africa started in World War II as Italy invaded in British Somaliland.

In 1945, President Harry Truman startled the world by announcing an Atomic Bomb had been dropped on Hiroshima. Japan surrendered eight days later and World War II came to an end.

In 1978, Pope Paul VI died at the age of 80 after a heart attack. He had led the Roman Catholic Church for 15 years.

A thought for the day: Harry Truman said in his first message to Congress, "The responsibility of the Great States is to serve and not dominate the world."

Green Reunion Winners Named

The eighth annual Green reunion was held on Sunday, August 3, at the Glotfelty Pavilion.

Winners in the children's 6 to 10 age group were John Cook and Keith Green. In the 11 to 16 age group, winners were Scott Spiker and Rick Green.

Winners in the adult games were Shirley Spiker, Lonnie Rodeheaver, and JoAnn Spiker.

Todd Green was the mystery man guessed by Johna Spiker. The mystery woman was Bertha Green, guessed by Louise Rodeheaver. Michelle Hardesty and Christian Green were mystery boy and girl, guessed by Trisha Cogley and Louise Rodeheaver.

Other game winners were Karen Brown, Patti Smith, Lonnie Rodeheaver, Nadiene Durst, Carol Green, Karole Wilt, Missy Smith, Karen Brown, Kevin Green and Nida Hardesty. The grand prize was awarded to Lillian Tasker.

One change was noted in the trustees. Carolyn Cook took the place of Lonnie Rodeheaver.

Oakland Development Commission Explores Landscaping Options

The Oakland Downtown Development Commission met Tuesday, July 29, to discuss plans regarding Oakland downtown revitalization, with particular emphasis on landscaping. The commission is working to take action on ideas outlined in the Economic/Market Feasability Analysis, Revitalization Study, Economic Analysis and Urban Design Proposal, part of the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development Downtown Commercial Revitalization program.

The commission has begun working with the Town of Oakland on such aspects as parking, paving around the courthouse, the newly-installed gate in the Liberty Street lot, traffic control, directional signs, walkways and landscaping.

Dave Berry, Management Assistance Specialist, Institute for Small Business, was present at the meeting, along with Ernie Metz of the Maryland Forest Service. Metz provided information from the Urban Forest Service, a federal program, in the area of landscaping, the proper types of trees necessary and proper locations. Tim Dugan, County Planning Director, stated that the group will continue to work on developing a planting plan.

The Commission, which is composed of members of the business community and town council, was appointed by the town council last year when it saw a need for development planning in the Oakland business district. The group has not been allotted funds for revitalization, and is looking into various funding sources. Dugan stated that four or five of the members will attend a state program workshop on August 12, to explore possible funding sources.

The Liberty Street gate was financed by the Greater Oakland Merchants Association, and the Town of Oakland.

WILL IT OR WON'T IT? — NBC is still not certain how to air its much-anticipated "Shogun" this September. Should they kick off the season with the TV blockbuster, or first air their new series? In the scene above, from Part 2, Richard Chamberlain (r.) makes believe he has gone insane to escape a trap set by the ruthless Lord Ishido, played by Nobuo Kaneko (l.). Orson Welles narrates the mini-series, which is set in Japan of the early 1600s.

IN FOCUS

Cable: Do options mean viewer lib?

The cable business is booming in the United States, bringing (and promising) a variety of programming never before known to TV viewers.

Cable was first used in 1949 in western Pennsylvania to improve reception in homes where network affiliate signals could not penetrate. Today, offering up to 35 channels, cable has splintered the old mass television audience into many smaller audiences. By 1990 there could be as many as 20 national networks.

Last year the number of cable franchises grew by more than 100 and now number about 4,100; the number of subscribers has jumped more than 2 million, to 16 million homes. The cable audience has doubled since 1973, to about 20 percent of the viewing audience. The leader of the cable companies is TelePrompter Corporation, based in New York, with about 1.25 million subscribers in 32 states. Its revenues were $165 million in 1979, a 15 percent increase from 1978.

In the most basic of cable setups, viewers usually pay $8 to $10 a month to pull in from 15 to 30 different stations — most offering network fare along with local productions.

In more specialized systems, known as pay-cable, average monthly fees of $15 to $20 buy live, uncensored entertainment, first-run movies, sports events and other shows not available on network TV. Claiming the biggest share of that market is Time-Life's Home Box Office. The network began in 1972 with 15,000 subscribers and now has 3 million. Others are Tele-Communications, Inc., Hollywood Home Theater, Viacom and Spanish International Network.

Also in competition for the viewer's attention is programming aimed at an even more specific audience. Examples of "narrowcasting," or special interest networks, are programs delivered by cable over the Christian Broadcasting Network, Praise The Lord Television Network, Calliope (children's programming) and Black Entertainment Television.

And there are the "superstations," the most publicized of which is Ted Turner's WTCG in Atlanta, "the superstation that serves the nation." Combining satellite distribution with cable delivery, WTCG beams its programs — mostly old movies and sports events (Turner owns Atlanta's baseball and basketball teams) — to more than 5 million households in 46 states. New York's WOR-TV is another superstation, and more independent stations around the country are planning to join the ranks.

Plans are being laid, too, for powerful satellite stations that will beam programs directly into homes (this is already being done in remote parts of Canada) and offer still more viewing options.

Communications experts believe that audiences will become even more eager to try these and other television innovations (such as videodisks) because of the increasing tendency to find entertainment that does not require leaving home. "The more the cost of gasoline rises," says Sidney Pike, operations director of WTBS in Atlanta, "the more TV viewers there will be."

Many observers are optimistic that the greater choice will eventually lead to improved quality in television, although we haven't seen much original or creative cable programming yet. "With greater competition from cable," says David Korte, of the Cable Television Industry Association, "the networks will either have to offer the best available programming for the mass audience or go after the specialized audience. Either way, TV should get better."

It's still unknown whether the progressive deregulation of the cable industry will spur more competition or concentration. Stan Benson, co-director of the Federal Communication Commission's network inquiry, described the FCC's current position on cable by saying, "Anyone is free to own as much as he wants of whatever he wants." He added that the FCC "seems to be willing now to stand aside and let entrepreneurs provide whatever the consumer wants."

The large cable companies are increasingly powerful, not just financially as owners of cable systems, but also through the networks they choose to operate and the kinds of programming they produce. The owners are the clear winners in the cable scramble. What the future holds for viewers, in terms of quality and varied programming, is in their hands.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

YUP — Is Hans Gudegast, formerly of "Rat Patrol," the same person as Eric Braeden? If so, why did he change his name? — M.C. McGuffin, Houlton, Maine.

Good eyes — they are the same gentleman. Hans-Eric changed his name because, while he was born in Germany, he spent his teen years in the United States and can easily play American roles. He felt Hans Gudegast limited him to German roles in the minds of casting people. It's the same reason why many years ago Henry DelGado changed his name to Henry Darrow. He is capable of playing more than Latin roles.

DEAR JOHN LETTER — Could you please tell me where I could write to John Travolta? — Stephanie Justice, Jacksonville, N.C.

Sure. Write John in care of LeMond-Zetter, 5160 Genesta Ave., Encino, CA 91316.

LOOKALIKE LETTER — Some people say I look a lot like Ruth Buzzi. Could you give me her address? — A.K., Lowelville, Ohio.

Write Ruth in care of her agent, William Morris, 151 El Camino Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90212.

LISA FROM THE PAST — There was a "Hallmark Hall of Fame" show several years back called "Lisa, Bright and Dark." Who were the leads? Will it ever be shown again? — Stephanie Valchar, Uncasville, Conn.

The ladies who were most prominent in that touching story, which probably will not be repeated except maybe on late-night TV, were Kay Lenz, Jamie Smith-Jackson and Debralee Scott.

BIRTHDAY CARD — I would like to know when Patrick Laborteaux's birthday is. — A Fan, Dillwyn, Va.

Patrick was born July 22, 1965, and his address is in care of MGM Studios, Culver City, CA 90230.

COMPLAINT — I am very teed off about this. When summer comes and kids get to stay up late, all their favorite shows go off the air. As a 9-year-old viewer, I know a lot of kids who are with me on this. Why do they do this to kids? — D.K.D., Lubbock, Texas.

They do it to adults, too. My favorite show is "Tenspeed and Brown Shoe," and they took that off completely. But I guess you are talking about popular series that are preempted for the summer. One reason they do it is that there are a lot of pilots made that don't sell, and the networks run them during the summer to get some of their investment back. Why don't you write the networks? Letters, even from 9-year-olds, carry a lot of weight.

Ex-soapster returns; wife-beating on 'AMC'

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — Doris Belack, who was known and loved for her role of Anna Craig on "One Life to Live," vacated that role a little over a year ago, but has re-entered the soap opera world in the short-term role of Dr. Claudia Howard on "The Doctors."

Newcomers to "All My Children" are Bill Ferriter and Lizabeth Mackay in the roles of Kurt and Leora Sanders. And the way things are going, the Saunderses, who are neighbors of Joe and Ruth, are going to be deeply embroiled in a summer storyline about wife-beating.

A few weeks ago we did a bit on Joey Phipps of "Edge of Night," but unfortunately, the young actor has been replaced, and Allan Fawcett has stepped into the role of puppeteer Kelly McGrath. Other new members of "EON's" cast are Paul Tinder as Larry Watts and Shirley Stoler (who appeared in the Lina Wertmuller film, "Seven Beauties") as a mobstress named Frankie.

In "TD" new line-up are David Canary who is back as Far Wind (Warner), Sam McMurray as Larry Rowan and Harriett Hall as Shelly Simmons. Glenn Corbett has been enticed to return to the show as Jason Aldrich.

On the West Coast, "Days of Our Lives" has added Trent Dolan to its cast in the role of Alan Hamilton, while Terry Lester has taken up the role of Jack Abbott on "The Young and the Restless."

And the hottest rumor from the West is that Kin Shriner will vacate his Scotty Baldwin role on "General Hospital" when his contract comes up for renewal this fall. Kin will be forsaking the show for a plump role on "Texas."

Wayne Massey (Johnny Drummond on "One Life to Live") has joined the ranks of daytime performers that have cut a record. Perhaps Wayne will fare better than his successors, however, since the president of Polydor records (the label he's recorded on) has undertaken the platter's promotion as a personal project.

CINDY SAYS

Sammy Davis tips big; Rod cleans up his act

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Sammy Davis is a hotshot tipper. Gave one busboy a $20 bill. I wish I knew what the kid brought him ... You wouldn't believe it, but chums of Rod Stewart say the run-around, sleep-around, dirty, stay-out-late Stewart now avoids parties, alcoholic spirits and other exotic goodies, goes to exercise class and eats health food ... Ann Baxter: "I've made movies since my teens. I hate when people ask how old I am. Makes me feel I was there when Washington crossed the damn Delaware."

Carol Burnett said thanks-but-no-thanks to a magazine that wanted to photograph her house. She's wary of robbers, kidnappers and the rest of the world's creatures ... Michael Wilding, who's in his 20s and is the son of Elizabeth Taylor Warner (who is 50), is dating the European model, Bettina, who once dated Prince Aly Khan. Bettina is 55.

Baldy Telly Savales is muttering as how he wants to kick the acting habit and take a shot at directing ... Omar Sharif's kid, a law student, dropped out to become an actor. Tarek Sharif wants to try for daddy's old parts. And if you don't mind my saying so, no matter how old daddy's old parts get they're still good enough for me!

Alan Arkin finished the sequel to "The Inlaws." It'll co-star Peter Falk again, natch ... Brigitte Bardot's into carrots and lettuce, and she's given up cigarettes. (I just know you woke up asking what ever happened to Brigitte Bardot, n'est-ce pas?)

The once-upon-a-time newsman of the "Today" show, Frank Blair hosts PBS's "Over Easy" next season ... The play about Ethel Waters' early life is hung for memorabilia, notes, anecdotes, etc., about those days. If anybody's hoarding any goodies, get in touch ... At age 66, Geraldine Fitzgerald is happily telling friends she's never been busier in her life — acting, directing, singing and writing. She's a nice lady... Editor-author-intellectual Norman Podhoretz bangs out his best-selling, award-winning, money-making controversial streams of consciousness on an old, manual typewriter ... Mickey Rooney: "I'm sick of people asking how a short guy got all those beautiful women to marry him. Love has nothing to do with how tall or short one is."

THURSDAY

Barney Miller (Hal Linden, r.) listens when Det. Harris (Ron Glass) returns from an undercover assignment as a bum and brings along a few friends, on Part II of a two-part episode of "Barney Miller," Thursday, Aug. 7, on ABC.

TV TATTLE

'Star Wars' radio

More than a year behind schedule, the projected 13-week "Star Wars" radio series completed first stage production last month. The initial stage, done in Hollywood, consisted of dialogue tracking only. Mixing of music, special effects and voices, will take place in Minneapolis from September through December. Principal roles in the radio series, adapted from characters and situations created by George Lucas, are Bernard Behrens as Ben Kenobi, John Considine as Tion, Keene Curtis as Tarkin, Anthony Daniels as C-3PO and Stephen Elliott as Prestor. Perry King is doing Han Solo, Mark Hamill is Luke Skywalker, Brock Peters is Darth Vader and Ann Sachs is Princess Leia.

Mason hosts

James Mason has been signed as host of "The Search for Alexander the Great," a four-part docudrama on the life and times of the man who conquered the known world by the time he was 27. The series will be seen on PBS early next year. The series will explore the character of the legendary Greek, who died in 323 B.C. at 32, through the eyes of his wife, parents, friends, generals and a sage. In addition, the programs will incorporate major portions of the international exhibit of some 200 artifacts from the Age of Alexander, which opened last month in Salonika, Greece, and will subsequently tour the U.S. for two years.

Foxx's funny fodder

Asked where he gets his comedy material for his nightclub act, Redd Foxx, star of NBC's "Sanford," replied, "Anywhere. Like Reader's Digest. I take it and I dirty it up."

NBC gets 'Rage'

NBC has acquired the exclusive television rights to broadcast the dramatization of "Rage of Angels," Sidney Sheldon's current number-one best-seller about a beautiful young woman who becomes one of America's top criminal attorneys.

CBS says no

CBS doesn't want Loni Anderson, star of "WKRP in Cincinnati," to compete with that program by appearing as a guest star on ABC's "Love Boat" and "Fantasy Island" episodes next fall. CBS and MTM Enterprises filed suit against Anderson, ABC, Aaron Spelling Productions and Spelling-Goldberg Productions. Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief for "interference with contract and conspiracy to interfere with contract." Another step in the litigation seeks to restrain the defendants from exhibiting "offending" programs Sept. 13, from 8 to 8:30 p.m., when the first half of "Love Boat" would be opposite "WKRP."

New York hosts its fourth

Lively action predicted for Demo convention

Television viewers who yawned their way through the unrelenting coverage of the Republican Convention in Detroit last month may fear this week's Democratic gathering in New York's Madison Square Garden will be equally tame. But not Ron Kovic, the wheelchair-bound Vietnam veteran who spoke at the 1976 Democratic Convention. Kovic believes this convention, to run Monday, Aug. 11, through Thursday, Aug. 14, will be a lively confrontation of opposing factions.

In his role as convention reporter for Penthouse magazine, he anticipates numerous floor fights that will prove to politicans (and the TV-viewing audience) that the American people are not stupid, do care and know their rights.

"I think there will be a tense atmosphere," he says. "I don't think Carter will get in on the first ballot. The Carter camp will be defensive, wary, insecure, and I think they will feel overly competent. But by the second day, that will be shattered. Carter promised no Americans would die in a foreign conflict, and we've already lost Americans overseas. I think it's too late for Carter. Senator (Edward) Kennedy will make a strong bid for the nomination. I predict Kennedy will come close to the nomination. Right now delegates are jumping for Kennedy.

"Also there will be veteran groups demonstrating outside against the draft. I don't know how many will be there. People will have a hard time trusting again."

Kovic, who wrote the controversial "Born On the Fourth of July," is bitter about what he views as the administration's disregard of veterans' needs. "Carter has done a great disservice to veterans," he says. "Veterans' hospitals are still in a poor condition; they're overcrowded and give second-rate treatment.

"Politicians have to listen to the men who came home from the last war. When I left, the generation of men who now have to sign up for the draft could hardly walk. They must not be played with by politics."

Of the candidates, Kovic feels that Kennedy "listens — he has the potential to speak out on behalf of veterans."

Republican nominee Ronald Reagan, however, is a disappointment. "He has shown disinterest, as well as insensitivity to veterans. Over all, he should re-evaluate his veteran policy."

Kovic fears the country is moving toward a strong "militarism and chauvinism. We could easily have a nuclear confrontation, another Vietnam war. We must listen to the living reminders. If we don't, we're committing a big mistake.

"When I'm at the convention, reporters say to me, 'Kovic, where is your patriotism? Don't you care?' But I feel veterans have sacrificed. We love this country. The people are so loving. We have to unleash the potential for good and cooperation."

Kovic recommends a congressional investigation of U.S. foreign policy to inform the public of its options. "Americans should demand this investigation. We ask the young to go to war when most don't even know what the situation is.

"I want to give the full-blown picture in my coverage of the convention. I think the media will respond to the challenge of the times and will be the eyes and ears — not just the mouth — of the rhetoric."

This week's event will be the fourth Democratic convention to take place in New York. (The Republicans have never held a national convention in the city.) In fact, the longest of all political conventions — the 1924 summer marathon that dragged on for 103 ballots before nominating John W. Davis — took place in an earlier, un-air-conditioned Madison Square Garden.

And it was here that Carter received the presidential nomination four years ago from one of the most harmonious Democratic conventions in recent history. The denouement, if not the demeanor, of this year's production will no doubt be the same. It's probably just as well that the convention will lack quite so much sustained balloting. At today's inflated prices, how many delegates could afford to linger for 17 days in New York City?

New York City's Madison Square Garden will host its fourth Democratic convention, Monday, Aug. 11, through Thursday, Aug. 14. The three major networks will provide live coverage of the lively floor fights anticipated between supporters of Jimmy Carter (left, below) and Edward Kennedy.

Following is the schedule for the Democratic Convention proceedings:

Monday — Opening ceremonies, welcoming speeches, finance report, approval of temporary rules, keynote speech by Rep. Morris Udall.

Tuesday — Credentials Committee report, Compliance Review Commission report, Rules Committee report, Platform Committee report.

Wednesday — Nomination of president, roll call.

Thursday — Rules Committee report (part two), nomination of vice president, roll call for vice president, acceptance speeches by presidential and vice-presidential nominees.

Golfer Tom Watson is PGA superstar

Tom Watson

Ask any of the pros on the Professional Golf Association Tour for a favorite in the $400,000 Manufacturers Hanover Westchester Classic and chances are you will hear the same name over and over: Tom Watson.

Joining some of the best names in golf, Watson will compete for the first-place prize of $72,000 at the Westchester Classic, which will be televised live on CBS on Saturday, August 16, and Sunday, June 17.

After only nine years on the tour, the personable Kansas City native became the third player in PGA history to win more than $2 million during his career. And most golf experts agree that Watson's reign is just beginning.

While galleries still flock to watch traditional favorites like Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Lee Trevino and Jack Nicklaus, Watson is the top money maker on today's tour. But although he won five tournaments last year — three more than any other pro — Watson refuses to put his name alongside those legends.

"I just have to win more major championships. That's how the press, the fans and my peers evaluate a player," says Watson, who has won three PGA tournaments and a Masters title but is still far down the money list after a string of 18 major championships.

"I don't bother listening to the comparisons between my accomplishments and what people like Palmer and Nicklaus have already done. I personally believe the only way to judge a player is over the long haul, and hopefully, my era's just starting."

His rise began in 1977, the year he copped his first tour money leader's title along with golf's top two awards, the Vardon Trophy (for the player with the lowest stroke average on the tour) and the PGA Player of the Year Award.

In 1978 he did even better. His $362,429 in winnings broke the old mark of $312,821 established by Johnny Miller. Watson also eclipsed Miller's distinction of having made the fastest million dollars in tour history. While it took Miller six years and nine months to push his career earnings to the seven-digit figure, Watson accomplished the same feat in six years and seven months.

Watson rewrote the PGA record book again in 1979. His $462,636 in total winnings surpassed his own mark, and for the third straight year he led the money title, the Vardon Trophy and the Player of the Year award. Only one other player has managed to win all three honors three years in a row.

This might be Watson's best year yet. A win at Westchester with the $72,000 first-place check would bring him become golf's first pro to crack $500,000 in winnings in a single year. The $1 million mark of money most pros only dream about.

Mother Nature's Morning Rush Hour

by Carol Kapel

Because I was born and raised in an urban area, I've had at times, an exceptionally difficult, though often humorous, time adjusting to my environment. Traffic jams and diesel fumes, combined with miles of asphalt and too many neighbors, played a major part in my family's decision to move to Garrett County, in search of clean air, and friendly faces.

Early morning adventures are often pre-arranged for me through the discretion of Mother Nature. Because I live in a rural section of the county, and work in the city of Oakland, the stage is often set when I leave each day.

Visions of Noah's Ark sometimes flash across my mind during the fourteen-mile trek through some of the county's finest farmland, but what transpires before reaching Rt. 219 in McHenry is often incredible.

Take this morning, for instance. I left my driveway just a little behind schedule, thanks to a neighborhood grey squirrel. He scampered across my lane in record time, apparently remembered something he'd forgotten to do at home, promptly changed his course directly in front of my car, and hurried up a nearby maple tree.

Leaving our bushy-tailed friend behind, I encountered two chipmunks, a baby rabbit, and three stray cows before reaching Maryland Rt. 42.

Once on the way toward Oakland, I relaxed, preparing for the drive, when something along the road caught my eye. In pace with my car, making record breaking leaps, was a large brown toad, apparently bent on a specific destination, as the noise and proximity of my automobile had little affect on what he had in mind. Obviously, he didn't maintain the 55 mph speed limit, but he did add to my collection of strange events for the morning.

A mile or so down the road, I ventured upon a dead black snake which had chosen to expire approximately eight inches from a broken auto fan belt. I immediately thought I'd happened upon a double fatality. Closer observation revealed I had not.

The next encounter was a bit more pleasant, but still very much animal oriented. Again, I was forced to bring the car to a near stop, allowing a mother duck and three fuzzy ducklings to sashay across the road, closely followed by a rooster and his harem of clucking, squaking chickens. With route 219 in sight, I knew it was almost time to meet my daily friend, a large farm collie which alternates the habit of catching 40 winks in the center of the highway with sleeping in a death-like position alongside of the road, from 7:30 a.m. until I return at 5:30 p.m., seeming never to have moved a whisker.

My collie friend shares his barnyard home with a mother horse and her beautiful baby colt. I've observed this loving pair from his first attempt to stand on gangly, spindly, too-long legs, to the soft, gentle nuzzling shared only by a mother and her young one. It's like I share in his care and upbringing, and I'm disappointed on the mornings he's inside the barn.

At last, the Rt. 219 intersection looms in the distance. I know I've completed the domestic zoo tour for that morning, as I come to the end of the road. Lo and behold, there's one more snake just ahead. Unfortunately . . . he's also come to the end of the road.

SSI Beneficiaries May Now Apply For Food Stamps

Persons applying for Supplemental Security Income (SSI), or those who are already receiving SSI benefits can now apply for food stamps at their local Social Security office, according to an announcement by Richard G. Lacombe, Director of the Income Maintenance Administration of the Maryland Department of Human Resources.

Also, those persons who are notified to reapply for food stamps, on or about the same time they are scheduled for an SSI eligibility review, and who initially filed for food stamps at the Social Security office, may reapply for both benefits at the same time at their local Social Security office.

All other food stamp recipients scheduled for recertification must file their applications at a local social services office.

Lacombe explained that, previously, applications for food stamps were available only at the local departments of social services. This joint effort by the Maryland Income Maintenance Administration and the Social Security Administration will make it easier for certain people to receive food stamp assistance.

For more information about where to apply for food stamps, persons should contact any local Social Security office or a local social services office. Or, interested persons may call the Food Stamp Hotline: 685-0525 in Baltimore or 1-800-492-0618 toll free.

Capital Debt Affordability Report Issued

State Treasurer William S. James and State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein are urging a new method for using surplus revenues to fund capital expenditures and continued moderate debt authorizations by the Maryland General Assembly. The recommendations are contained in the third annual report of the Capital Debt Affordability Committee, chaired by Treasurer James. By law, the committee must make annual recommendations on Maryland's debt to the Governor and General Assembly.

A debt authorization ceiling of $175 million was recommended for the 1981 session of the Maryland General Assembly, which will be considering the capital budget for Fiscal Year 1982.

The committee proposes a contingent appropriation of $30 million be in the Fiscal Year 1982 budget to fund capital projects without selling general obligation bonds. The appropriation could only be used to finance previously authorized projects and could not be used to expand the authorized level on any project. Under the proposal made by the committee, the appropriation would be contingent upon surplus revenues and would be reduced or eliminated if surplus revenues did not materialize.

According to committee members, the proposal would allow more revenue to be used to fund capital projects without selling general obligation bonds and paying the resulting interest costs, but it would not compete with other state operating funds because of its contingent basis.

As a further measure to reduce Maryland's bonded debt, the committee urges continuation of direct appropriations of state revenues to pay for specific, small capital projects. This "pay as you go" funding saves approximately 60¢ in interest costs for each $1.00 spent. The use of $89 million in this way over the past two fiscal years will save Maryland taxpayers approximately $140 million over the next 15 years.

State/local matching grant programs also came under the review of the committee, which urged that evidence of lump sum cash availability be required prior to the state making its share of the match available to the local government or non-profit organization.

The committee also strongly urged maintaining the current 15-year limit on Maryland's Triple-A rated general obligation bonds.

Also serving on the Capital Debt Affordability Committee are Thomas W. Schmidt, Secretary of Budget & Fiscal Planning, and Constance Lieder, Secretary of State Planning. Staff support was provided by Dr. Robert D. Rader, Chief of the Bureau of Revenue Estimates, Dr. Emory Harrison, Department of State Planning, and Frederick Lickteig, Department of Budget and Fiscal Planning.

Lung Association Schedules Meeting

Murray Allen, a registered pharmacist, will be the featured speaker at the August 25 meeting of the Allegany/Garrett Patient Club Meeting sponsored by the American Lung Association of Maryland. The club is for persons with Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease, emphysema, asthma, bronchitis, and their family members. Mr. Allen's topic will be "Medications for COPD". The club meets at Sacred Heart Hospital Auditorium, Cumberland, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Club members receive a newsletter, "Breath of Life", containing information about COPD, articles written by fellow patients, news about other clubs around the state and future meeting times and topics. Persons interested in joining the Allegany/Garrett Patient Club should contact the American Lung Association of Maryland, 11 E. Mt. Royal Avenue, Baltimore, MD 21202, (800) 492-7527. The COPD Patient Club is a service of Christmas Seals.

Maryland Historical Trust Begins Historic Sites Survey Locally

The Maryland Historical Trust recently entered into a $98,000 contract with the Department of Natural Resources, Maryland Bureau of Mines to undertake a survey of historic resources in Western Maryland, according to a release from the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development. This one-year survey will cover the western portion of Allegany County and all of Garrett County, the first time that a comprehensive survey of the latter county has ever been undertaken by the State Historic Preservation Office.

The survey itself is part of the State of Maryland's required preservation planning process to determine the location and significance of historic buildings, structures, district and objects potentially affected by coal mining activity in this area. This survey is undertaken as part of Maryland's compliance with the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977. The surveyors will assess and document historic resources including dwellings, mining structures, commercial and industrial buildings, and farm outbuildings. From this inventory, the survey team will determine which sites are eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

A full survey team has now been hired and assembled at a field headquarters in Frostburg. David Dorsey, Historic Site Surveyor for Allegany County for the past three years, has been retained to survey the western part of Allegany County. In this capacity, he will be surveying rural sites and towns in the area, both gathering additional information on known sites, as well as locating new sites. In addition, Dorsey will be working closely with Ms. Donna Ware in the preparation of National Register nominations for that group of structures judged by the team to be of especial historic and architectural significance.

The Garrett County team consists of one Historian, two Architectural Historians, and a Survey Intern. Ms. Ware, who holds a BA in Interdisciplinary History from Emory and Henry College and an MA in American Studies/Historic Preservation from George Washington University, is a member of this team. From 1977 to the present, she has worked as a Preservation Planner for the Historic American Engineering Record, a division of the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service in Washington, D. C. In this capacity, she has acted as Project Director of the Lehigh Canal Revitalization Project (Pa.), and worked as part of a survey team in Danville, Virginia, that produced a rehabilitation study for industrial structures in that city.

Ms. Merry Stinson, surveyor for the Trust in Calvert County for the past two years, is one team Architectural Historian. After earning a BGS degree in architecture from Ohio University, Ms. Stinson spent 1½ years as a VISTA architect in Little Rock, Arkansas. She came to Maryland in 1974 to work with Dr. Cary Carson and the St. Mary's City Commission, first on Historic American Buildings Survey drawings for selected buildings and then on the St. Mary's County Historic Sites Survey.

Mrs. Ann Fair Burns, who holds a BA in History with Distinction from Southwestern at Memphis, and is a MA degree candidate in Architectural History from the University of Virginia, is the team's second Architectural Historian. Her survey experience involves work in Lexington and Albermarle County, Virginia. The team's last member is Ms. Valerie Cesna. Ms. Cesna, a June graduate of the University of Delaware with a BA in American Studies and Art History, has surveyed industrial and rural sites in Ashland and New Castle County, Delaware, for that state's historic preservation office.

The team appreciates any historical information that local residents can provide. Their headquarters is located at the Maryland Bureau of Mines Office at 69 Hill Street, Frostburg, Maryland, 21532 (telephone 689-4136). Their secretary, Miss Kathi Martirano, should be able to relay any calls made to them during normal business hours.

A public meeting is planned for Thursday, August 7, to introduce the team to citizens of these counties, and to discuss the project in greater detail. Also at this meeting will be representatives of the Maryland Geological Survey, who will discuss their work to produce a survey of significant historic and prehistoric archeological sites in the region, and the Maryland Wildlife Administration. These organizations have been retained to provide required planning data for the Bureau of Mines.

The meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building, City Hall, Council Chambers, 37 Broadway, Frostburg.

TO CONDUCT HISTORIC SURVEY OF GARRETT COUNTY — Five members of the Department of Natural Resources, Maryland Bureau of Mines, will conduct a survey of historical resources in Allegany and Garrett Counties, under contract with The Maryland Historical Trust. This is the first survey of its kind to be conducted in Garrett County. The surveyors will assess and document historic resources including dwellings, mining structures, commercial and industrial buildings and farm outbuildings. Pictured left to right are surveyors Donna Ware, Merry Stinson, David Dorsey, Ann Fair Burns and Valerie Cesna. See story.

Southern States Annual Meeting Slated At Eglon

Election of Advisory Board, Farm Home Advisory Committee members, as well as operations reports, will highlight the Southern States Cooperative's annual membership meeting for Eglon Farm Service on August 13 at Wildlife Park. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m.

Patrons and members planning to attend the business session should contact Eglon Farm Service for meal tickets.

Joe Stemple of Aurora will serve as chairman of the local meeting. The Reverend Bernard Carl of the Lutheran Church of Aurora will give the invocation.

Jim K. Stutler of Clarksburg, a member of Southern States Cooperative's regional staff, will report on the over-all Southern States operations. This report will also include a 12-15 minute slide-tape presentation entitled "You Are Here," which will show the cooperative's board involvement in behalf of its members.

Local operations and services rendered to agriculture in the community will be discussed by manager Ronald J. Bishop.

Slides featuring local service to members will be shown.

There will be special recognition for local board and Farm Home Advisory Committee members who retire this year.

Nominees for the local board are: Carl Bachtel and Paul Teets, Horse Shoe Run, and Jerry Hauser, and Allen Wilt, Eglon.

Ladies nominated for the Farm Home Advisory Committee are: Mrs. Bernard Ball, Horse Shoe Run; Mrs. Ralph Lee, Mrs. John Harsh and Mrs. Fred Stemple, Aurora and Mrs. Tom Lewis, Eglon.

The delegate and alternate nominees in Election District E are: Clifton Bachtel, Horse Shoe Run; John Fint, Aurora; and Charles Teets, Eglon.

The following committee chairpersons will assist with the meeting—Mrs. John Fint, Aurora, attendance and telephone committee; Mrs. Joe Stemple, Aurora, foods committee and Joe Stemple, Aurora, greeting and ribbons committee.

Sang Run Church Plans Homecoming

The United Pentecostal Church, Sang Run, will hold its annual Homecoming on Saturday, August 16. Services will be held at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., with the regularly scheduled revival service at 7:30 p.m.

A basket lunch will be served at noon.

There will be sermonettes by former pastors and other visiting ministers, in addition to the featured speakers for the day, along with musical selections.

Rev., Lloyd Garlitz invites the public to attend.

Ambulance Service Benefit Dance Set For Saturday

A benefit dance for KAMP Ambulance Service, a non-profit organization, will be held at the Eagles Club in Kingwood, W. Va., on August 9, from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. The dance is $7 per couple. "Smokey and the Bandits" will be the performing group.

The event is open to the public and proceeds will go for new equipment for the service group. Persons wanting more information should call (304) 329-1614, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Agency On Aging Delegates Sought

State Delegate nomination forms are still being accepted by the Garrett County Commission on Aging, 104 Center Street, Oakland, from persons interested in attending the State Conference on Aging, being held in Baltimore on November 17.

Reports from the State Conference will contain opinions, ideas, and suggestions that delegates make for improving the welfare and quality of life for older Americans. Each state will hold a conference, and reports will be forwarded to the White House Conference Advisory Committee. Contents of these reports, along with reports of Community Forums, will provide the basis for deciding what issues will be discussed at the December, 1981, White House Conference on Aging.

According to Betty Randolph, Consultant for the Western Maryland Area Agency on Aging, older Americans now make up 15.6% of the national population and 14% of all persons 60 years and older are living below the poverty level. Another 10 to 15% have incomes just above poverty level, so the need for adequate incomes will certainly be one of the primary concerns at the Conference. In addition, many older persons are asking for better job opportunities, more efficient delivery of services, more appropriate housing, better health care, and a host of other changes. If these are of interest, or other issues are of concern, interested persons are urged to contact Marilyn Metheny, at the Garrett County Commission on Aging office, or obtain a nomination form in any senior citizen center or public library throughout the county.

Delegates will leave by chartered bus on Sunday, November 16, and return Monday evening, November 17. The Western Maryland Area Agency on Aging will be responsible for all the delegates' expenses.

La Leche League To Hold Meeting

Questions of expectant mothers will be answered with the latest medical research and personal experience at the Oakland La Leche League meeting on August 12, at 7 p.m., at the home of Barbara Speicher on Bumble Bee Road, Accident.

Among questions answered will be, "Are there foods I should avoid if I breastfeed my baby?"

Discussion will include suggestions about nutrition for nursing mothers and their families, as well as information about introducing solids and weaning the breastfed baby. All women are welcome to attend the meeting and contribute their experiences and knowledge.

For more information and directions to the meeting, persons should call the local leader, Ellinor Hamilton, at 826-8543.

Trees Available For Fundraising

The National Arbor Day Foundation is now making it possible for organizations to sell trees for fall planting as a fundraising project.

Youth and school groups, clubs, churches and other organizations can sell trees in their community to raise money for their activities, and the Foundation will mail the trees directly to the customers' homes. The local sponsoring organization never has to handle the trees, according to the Foundation.

The Arbor Day Foundation, a non-profit organization, is working to improve the quality of life in communities throughout the country by encouraging tree planting.

"Trees are an unusual fundraising idea, much different from the usual candy or cookies. Trees can be a profitable fundraiser because many people will buy several," a Foundation representative said.

Red maple, sugar maple, redbud, weeping willow, tulip tree, and white flowering dogwood trees are sold for $3.50, including a profit of $1.25 per tree for the local sponsoring organization.

The trees are four to six feet tall and come with complete planting instructions. They are delivered at an appropriate time for fall planting. The Foundation said that for best results, trees should be sold from August 15 to October 31 for fall delivery.

Organizations may obtain sample sales literature and further information by calling (402) 474-5655 or writing the National Arbor Day Foundation, Arbor Lodge 100, Nebraska City, NE 68410.

Health Department Comments On Bats, Bat Bites And Batproofing

The following is an article by Dr. William W. Pope, Deputy State Health Officer.

Many persons have been calling the Health Department this summer with questions about bats. Because bats continue to be an important reservoir of potentially fatal human infection with rabies, it is important that everyone understand what to do if bats are seen in their home or are picked up by their pets.

STRAY BATS

Occasionally a bat is discovered flying in the home. It is not necessary to destroy it and the bat can be encouraged to leave by opening two opposite windows (and screens) to establish flow of air which the bat will follow to the out-of-doors after the lights are turned out and the room closed off. Family members should avoid exciting the bat by first turning off the lights and leaving the closed room for about 15 minutes or until the bat comes to rest. Then one person should re-enter the room and open the windows. Repeated appearances of bats in the living area of your home is strong evidence you are haboring bats somewhere in the building.

It is not normal for bats to be found on horizontal surfaces (the ground or floor), to be seen landing or flying during daylight hours, or to make threatening sounds and gestures rather than fly away. These bats should be carefully avoided or destroyed.

BAT BITES

Bats are not aggressive animals by nature but will bite if handled. If a person is bitten or suspected as being bitten, the bat must be recovered for laboratory testing in order to rule out an exposure to rabies. An escaped (untested) bat will be considered rabid. Therefore, every attempt consistent with personal safety should be made to submit a biting bat for testing. A broom, tennis racket or similar implement may be useful to kill or capture the bat. The head (brain) should not be smashed and direct contact must be avoided by using tongs or pliers to scoop it into a jar or other container with a tight cover. The bat specimen should be refrigerated (not frozen) until delivered to the laboratory. The Garrett County Health Department, Environmental Health Section (telephone 334-8111 or 895-5050) will arrange to have tests performed on the bat specimen for you.

Your doctor should be consulted immediately about treatment of the bite wound. Only a bite or a scratch made by the bat is considered a possible rabies exposure. The presence of a person in a room with a flying bat or near roosting bats is not an exposure and these bats need not be tested.

PET EXPOSURE

Dogs and cats which are found with an alive or dead bat are assumed to have been bitten, and the bat must be submitted for laboratory testing as outlined above to prevent a possible future exposure of the pet owner's family to rabies. If the test result is negative, (not rabies), then no further action is required.

BATPROOFING YOUR HOME

The only way to batproof your home is to physically exclude them by closing all openings with an appropriate material. Openings into attic spaces and walls, under (behind) wood trim and uncapped chimneys all may provide a place for bats to roost. Needed repairs may be replacing an attic windowpane, screening over the window or vent openings, replacing mortar or caulking which fell out and renailing or replacing trim or siding. Holes and slots 3/8 of an inch or greater must be permanently closed. Bats will not make or enlarge openings, but starlings and sparrows may reopen holes unless well repaired. It is normal behavior for bats to hide (roost) during the daytime in out-of-the way places, but, as wild animals, bats should not be allowed to share our homes.

Finding openings which are actively used as entrances is inexpensively and safely done from the ground on clear, warm evenings from May through September. The watch for bats leaving the roost is made at dusk (the one-half hour before dark) when the bats begin to emerge to hunt insects and water. Entrances into the roost sites are usually high on the building about the eaves and gables and often the bat will quickly drop for a foot or two from the opening before swooping away on opened wings. Two sides of the house can be watched by one person stationed back from the corner in the comfort of a lawn chair. Attempting to inspect for bats in the attic may be useless because the numbers may be few (one to 30 or more) and hiding in very small cracks and crevices is typical of bats.

To avoid trapping bats inside the building the bats should be allowed at least an hour after dark to leave on a clear warm evening. Working above ground or on a ladder after dark can be minimized by providing temporary exits by opening a window or removing a vent or board which can be easily replaced. Openings can be then easily closed and repairs made during the daylight. If bats are not allowed to leave in the evening before the final repair or closing of the temporary exits, they will be trapped and may find their way into the living areas of the house or die in an unreachable location in the attic or walls. Young bats are left behind in the roost by their mothers leaving to feed in the evening between May 15 and July 15 and will be trapped inside to die if final closings are made during this period. Sometimes bats may roost directly under (behind) loose trim or siding, shingles or shutters and only the removal of these items will permit repair without disturbing the bats as the work is done.

These simple precautions will protect you and your family from the threat of rabies, and also save you the unnecessary pain and anxiety associated with rabies treatment.

Judge Jones Hears Bad Check Charge

A Mountain Lake Park woman was found guilty on charges of issuing a worthless check to the Crellin Service Center. Catherine Patricia Halterman was found guilty of the charge and fined $25 by District Court Judge Lewis R. Jones. According to the complainant, Ms. Halterman issued the check in November on an account that had been closed since May to obtain clothing from the firm.

A total of five cases were declared Nolle Prosequi by the State's Attorney.

Counties Receive Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Revenue

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced yesterday that Baltimore City and the 23 counties of Maryland received $25,493,725 as their share of distilled spirits, beer and tobacco tax revenue for Fiscal Year 1980, down slightly from the $25,554,000 returned to the subdivisions for the previous fiscal year.

The slight decline is attributable to the tobacco tax distribution, which amounted to $15,453,997 for Fiscal Year 1980, compared with $15,632,809 for Fiscal Year 1979. The subdivisions received $5,569,043 in distilled spirits tax revenue and $4,476,685 in beer tax revenue for Fiscal Year 1980, both greater than the amounts returned the previous year.

Maryland's subdivisions received $6,364,279 in shared revenue from alcohol and tobacco tax sources for the fourth quarter of Fiscal Year 1980. Baltimore City received the largest portion of that amount, $1,437,796, while Prince George's County received $977,298 and Baltimore County received $944,449. Garrett County received $36,478.30.

Distribution of cigarette tax revenue is based on a formula that returned 3 cents of the 10 cents per pack state tax during Fiscal Year 1980, based on population of the subdivisions. Approximately one-third of the $1.50 per gallon distilled spirits tax is returned to the subdivisions, based on deliveries to retail licensees within the subdivisions. Approximately one-half of the 9 cents per gallon state beer tax is returned to the subdivisions based on deliveries to retailers within the subdivisions.

Forestry Program Improves Private Woodland Areas

Landowners in Maryland have improved or reforested over 2,336 acres of woodlands in 1979 through the Forestry Incentives Program administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the ASC State Committee, said the program cost shares with eligible landowners the planting of new trees or improving established woodlands.

"Tree planting is not only a good investment, it also helps increase the nation's supply of timber," Crowl said. Thinning overstocked woodlands increases the growth rate of desirable trees resulting in a higher quality stand of timber. Technical help, provided through State Foresters, assures that forests are managed professionally and efficiently, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Crowl said many private nonindustrial landowners do not have the funds to make necessary long-term investments to develop and improve their forest areas. "Landowners who own at least 10 acres of eligible forest land may receive cost-share assistance under this program to raise marketable timber," he said.

The program offers agreements in designated counties where a landowner can plan tree planting and timber stand improvement measures for up to 10 years. There is a payment limitation of $10,000 to any one person during any year of the agreement, according to Crowl.

Landowners who wish to apply or obtain additional information on the Forestry Incentives Program should contact the local ASCS office.

Big Top Reading Club Prepares For Circus Extravaganza

Children in the Ruth Enlow Library Big Top Summer Reading Club, Oakland will meet this Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the library, to prepare for the group's party and "circus extravaganza," to be held August 19. Members of the group are asked to bring crayons with them.

The children have had visitors to the club for the past seven weeks, to demonstrate various circus skills and other aspects of a circus.

The participants will perform and apply the skills learned at the workshops, during the group's circus. Options available for the children include juggling, gymnastics, unicycling, singing, "clowning around," magic, dancing, roller-skating, skateboarding, animal impersonations, pantomime, and others.

The group will plan the event, including costumes, and make posters this Tuesday.

State Police Issue Several Traffic Citations

State police issued various citations in connection with accidents occurring over the last week in the district.

A vehicle driven by Kathy Erlene Ridder, 30, Oakland, was proceeding east on Glendale Road when another vehicle driven by Phyllis Joanne Engle, 45, Grantsville, failed to keep right of the center line. The Engle car ran into the left side of Ms. Ridder's truck, forcing her to a stop. Police charged Engle with driving left of center and driving while intoxicated. Tfc. R. C. Georg investigated.

A Keyser, W. Va. man escaped serious injury last Sunday evening when he came upon a pickup truck which had stopped in the middle of Savage River Road. Elwood R. Beavers, 20, swerved to avoid hitting the parked vehicle, and as a result, was forced into the lawn of Robert J. Eaton, striking the Eaton garage in the process. The impact forced the driver's door open, and Beavers fell from the vehicle. Tfc. J. E. Foley investigated.

A garden and several shrubs fell victim to a vehicle being driven by Fay Eugene Engle, 45, Grantsville, last Monday night.

According to police reports, the Engle vehicle was northbound on Rt. 219 near Accident when the driver failed to negotiate a curve, lost control and ran off the roadway, striking the property of Sherman Frazee.

Police charged Engle with negligent driving and driving while intoxicated. Tfc. Dale Williams investigated.

FUTURE, YES — INFINITY, NO

If you are a househunter, no doubt you already have some preconceived notions about the fundamental requirements of your new home. Here's a thought to consider which may help facilitate the image of your new home's "master plan" as well as your long range financial planning.

Consider the stage of your family life, and how it should change within the next five or ten years. As your family numbers decrease by means of vocation, campus living, and marriage, so will your space requirements.

Don't imagine that your task is to find a home in which you will live happily all the rest of your days. A home is not forever. For perfectly sound reasons, such as advancing age, changing career prospects, changing family size and requirements, people tend to move on, often in less than ten years. So plan for the foreseeable future - not for infinity.

PET POINTERS

This summer's hot weather is taking its toll on dogs as well as humans, and pet owners should make a special effort to keep dogs comfortable, according to a veterinarian in the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Nationwide inspections have shown dogs to be suffering from the heat wave, and deaths from dehydration and heat prostration have been occurring, according to Dale F. Schwindaman, USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

"The best way to protect pet dogs is to take them inside a place that's air conditioned and to keep a supply of cool water available," Schwindaman said. "But many people have no alternative but to house dogs outside. They should provide shade over the place where dogs are housed, increase the movement of air and keep an ample supply of cool water available around the clock. Owners also should not exercise dogs vigorously during the hot part of the day," he said.

Schwindaman said puppies and nursing litters need special attention, as puppies younger than three weeks cannot control their body temperature like adult dogs. He advises owners of unairconditioned kennels to keep the kennel windows open.

"Outside nest boxes should be kept in the shade all day," he said. "The roofs of nest boxes should be opened or taken off to improve air movement, and fans should be used to remove stagnant air from nest boxes.

Water is a critical commodity in hot weather, he said. "Ample, cool water should be available at all times, meaning that it should be replaced morning noon and night. Some dogs refuse stale, warm water, so even if drinking water remains from the previous watering, it should be replaced," he said.

Cats, as well as other pets, need special care during the hot weather, Schwindaman added.

CONSERVATION WORKSHOP PARTICIPANTS — Fifty-eight high school students from throughout the state of Maryland completed a week-long conservation workshop Saturday at Camp Hickory, Garrett County Schools' environmental educational center in Accident. Pictured above is the entire group who attended the workshop, including Camp Hickory staffers, which was sponsored by the Maryland Forest Service and the Maryland Association of Forest Conservancy District Boards. Classes, field trips and other activities were available to the participants. Pictured below, left to right, are those students who attended from Garrett County, Elizabeth Hanft, Charlotte Uphold, Stephen Genco, and Tim Yunker. The four students are shown learning forest measurements, one of many forest and ecological skills the participants learned during their week's stay. Forester Paul Mateer, Oakland, was director of the workshop.

AAUW Conducts Summer Workshop

The Garrett Branch of the American Association of University Women held its summer workshop at the lake cottage of Anna Bishop on Monday, August 4. Kathie Smith, branch president, presided over the workshop. New committee chairmen for the next biennium were appointed as follows: Educational Foundation Programs, Evelyn Watson; Public Information, Anna Bishop; Bulletin Editor, Sarah Smith; Legislative Program, Phoebe Goodwin; Community, Polly Hanst; Cultural Interests, Aloise O'Neil; Education, Joanne Rebele; International Relations, Linda Garris; and Bylaws, Elizabeth McComas.

Planning the programs for the year with emphasis on "Families Facing Change" are Ellen Ruhl, chairman, and Kathie Smith, chairman of the topic "Managing Tomorrow's Resources."

Meeting dates were set for the second Tuesday of each month. Meetings will be held at 7:30 p.m. in members homes, except for the December, January, and February meetings, which will be held at 4:30 p.m.

Other discussions were held regarding a memorial gift for the late Ruth Keller, first president of the Garrett Branch; fund raising activities, which will include a crafts booth at the Armory at Autumn Glory; and the AAUW Interstate Economic Conference for Women to be held September 13 at the Towers at West Virginia University.

Members attending the workshop were Kathie Smith, Sarah Smith, Elizabeth McComas, Dorothy Frame, Amy Rudy, Marilyn Johnson, Linda Garris, Pat Powers, Ellen Ruhl, Janice Hutchinson, Evelyn Watson, Kathryn Helbig and Anna Bishop.

Pat Krajeski and Dorothy Stahl were guests of Kathie Smith and Kathryn Helbig.

PERSEID METEOR SHOWER

Monday at 10:00 p.m. the maximum of the Perseid Meteors will occur. As many as 50 meteors may be observed per hour by a single observer at this time. These meteors may be observed for several days before and after Monday. The best time to observe Meteors is before sunrise.

MOON

The New Moon phase will be on Sunday at 3:09 p.m. This will be the time of a solar eclipse visible in South America. At New Moon, the Moon is between Earth and the Sun. Moonset will be at 9:27 p.m. next Tuesday. Today moonset will be at 5:11 p.m.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Venus, Mars, and Saturn will be the most easily observed planets during the week. Venus will be visible for about 3 hours before sunrise in the east sky. Mars will be low in the west for about an hour after sunset. Saturn will be near Mars. Both Mars and Saturn will be among the stars of Virgo.

DAYLIGHT DECREASES

Sunrise was at 6:21 this morning. Sunset will be at 8:24 this evening. Next Tuesday sunrise will be at 6:26 a.m. followed 13 hours 51 minutes later by sunset at 8:18 p.m. This will be 12 minutes less daylight than there will be today.

Today will be the 219th day of the year. The sun will be at the same altitude at noon today that it was last May 6th.

Penn Point Group Elects New Officers

On Saturday, July 26, outgoing president, of the Penn Point Association met at the home of Sam D'Alfonso for the purpose of electing new officers and to discuss matters pertaining to Penn Point property owners. The new officers elected are Jack McCandless, president; Joseph Betz, vice-president; Ann Frantz, secretary; Al Hartka, treasurer. The Road Chairman appointed is Ed Frantz and the Social Committee co-chairwomen are Elsie Papasoff and Pearl Moore. Bob Martin was re-appointed as chairman of the nominating committee. Becky McCandless is chairwoman, publicity.

The association commended D'Alfonso and the outgoing officers for their "diligent interest in Penn Point affairs."

Task Force To Address Drinking Driver Problem

Governor Harry Hughes Monday announced the formation of a 12-member Task Force charged with the responsibility of developing broad based measures to address the problem of drinking drivers.

In making the announcement, the Governor directed the Task Force specifically to "examine fully the utilization of the probation before judgment disposition to determine whether or not it would be appropriate to record such a disposition on an individual's driving record. . ."

In a letter to the Task Force Chairman, William T. S. Bricker, State Motor Vehicle Administrator, the Governor also directed the Task Force, "to examine those areas of the federal highway safety standard which deal with alcohol in relation to highway safety to determine where Maryland is not in conformance and to recommend appropriate action in that regard."

"Of particular concern to me," the Governor said, "is the fact that Maryland's blood alcohol level for intoxication is .15 while the national standard is .10."

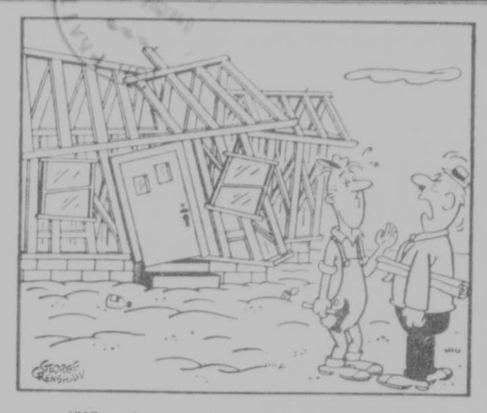

In announcing the formation of the Task Force, the Governor expressed the hope that the measures developed "will enhance the State's ability to identify the drinking driver, remove him from the road, attempt to rehabilitate him and then restore his driving privileges when rehabilitation has been successful."

By calling upon the Task Force to examine the recording of probation before judgment dispositions on driving records, the Governor is recognizing that such dispositions prevent highway safety officials from identifying and taking action against drinking drivers in Maryland.

Probation before judgment is tantamount to a not guilty decision and, as a result, is not recorded on the driving record maintained by the State Motor Vehicle Administration, preventing any administrative action.

Under the current system, it is possible for an individual with a drinking problem to be charged on several occasions in different jurisdictions with driving while intoxicated or impaired and, if given the disposition of probation before judgment, no entry would be made on the driver's record.

The Governor asked the Task Force to submit its recommendations to him by October 1, 1980, "so that appropriate steps . . . can be taken without delay."

"What do you mean, you lost your level?"

Camping Safety Brochure Issued By Park Service

In an effort to promote safe recreational experiences in campgrounds throughout the state, a brochure entitled "Have A Safe Camping Trip," is now available from the Maryland Forest and Park Services.

Campgrounds managed by the Maryland Park Service offer a variety of recreational activities including swimming, hiking, boating and sightseeing. According to a news release from the Maryland Forest and Park Services, campers seem to experience more injuries than day use visitors to state parks. The safety brochure has 19 tips for safe camping, and focuses on basic accident prevention.

Persons wanting a copy of "Have A Safe Camping Trip" should write to the Maryland Park Service, Tawes State Office Building, 580 Taylor Avenue, Annapolis, 21401, or call 269-3761. The brochure is also available in all state parks.

Aurora Odd Fellows Attend Summer Camp

The 31st annual Junior Odd Fellow and Theta Rho Camp of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was held July 27 through August 2 at Camp Caesar, Cowen, W. Va.

Those attending the event from Aurora Jr. Odd Fellows No. 32 were David and Charlie Myers, Chris Conrad, Page McCrum, Gary Conrad, Tony Conrad and Michael Pritt.

Attending from Cathedral Theta Rho No. 8, Aurora, were Tammy Tackett and Jane Pritt. Advisors of the two lodges, Harold Harsh and Betty Pritt, accompanied the youths.

Four members from Aurora won top awards at the camp. David Myers won the Friendship award, Michael Pritt and Tammy Tackett won the Love award and Gary Conrad was presented the Outstanding First Year Camper award. Aurora Jr. Odd Fellows No. 32 was presented the Attendance award at the event.

Both lodges are planning a Ham and Bean Dinner to raise money to attend the Sovereign Grand Lodge Youth Day at Toronto, Canada, from September 12 through 14.

WOW Holds Encampment

State Manager Earl Cupp directed the Woodmen of the World Annual Juvenile Encampment program, assisted by Thomas O. Bender, which was held at Alcamp No. 1 site at Hagerstown from Sunday through Wednesday. The meals were cooked and served by Alcamp No. 1, assisted by Melda Butler.

Tents were set up among large trees and Sycamore trees were used in the activities.

The rifle range was under the direction of Harold Butler and Jeff Jenkins. The trophy and blue ribbon for boys went to Jeffery Snyder, the red ribbon to John McDaniel, and the white ribbon to Robert Christopher.

The trophy and blue ribbon for girls went to Stacey Wable, and a blue ribbon to Jill Crowe. The red ribbons went to Sheila Beitzel and Shelli Patts. The white ribbons went to Cheryle Guthrie and Michell Dodwill.

Larry Burkett was in charge of archery. The trophy and blue ribbons were won by Cheryle Guthrie and a blue ribbon went to Jill Crowe. Red ribbons went to Gail Cupp and Wendy Wiley. White ribbons were won by Stacey Wable and Kim Lashley.

The trophy and blue ribbon for boys went to Scott Wable, a red ribbon to Junior Guthrie and a white ribbon went to John McDaniel.

The casting was directed by Walter Younkin and Thomas O. Bender. The girls trophy and blue ribbon was won by Cheryle Guthrie and a blue ribbon by Jill Crowe. Red ribbons were won by Wendy Wiley and Stacey Wable, with white ribbons going to Tina Lashbaugh and Shelli Patts.

Scott Wable won the trophy and a blue ribbon for casting. The red ribbon was won by Junior Guthrie and the white one by John McDaniels.

The campers went swimming and also played ball. A campfire was held each evening, followed by a snack.

A National Activity Award, Junior Unit of the month of May went to Unit No. 128, Grantsville, and was presented to Walter and Alice Younkin in behalf of the unit.

Other counselors not mentioned were Phyllis Bender and Tom Keiser. There were 10 workers from Alcamp No. 1.

The children were transported there by bus supplied by the Casselman Motor Co. and driven by Walter Younkin.

All trophies were presented by State Manager Earl Cupp.

All meals were planned for by Coit and Kate Jenkins.

Service Agency For Handicapped Slates Meetings

Representatives from the Maryland Advocacy Unite for the Developmentally Disabled (MAUDD) will be conducting meetings in Garrett County on August 11 and 12.

A session on Educational Advocacy will be presented on Monday, August 11, at 7:30 p.m. at Garrett Community College, McHenry Campus, Room LC-154, for parents and handicapped children.

Representatives of local agencies will meet with MAUDD personnel on Tuesday, August 12, at 9 a.m. at the Oakland Center of GCC, Room 303, to discuss the range of services that the Advocacy provides.

MAUDD is a private, nonprofit agency designed to serve developmentally disabled persons throughout the state of Maryland.

Legal and social-legal advocacy are provided for people whose disabilities include such conditions as mental retardation, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism, dyslexia, learning and language disorders and certain mental illnessess.

Some of the kinds of problems dealt with are: employment discrimination, rights to education, transportation and architectural barriers, community placement and program access, guardianship, adult protective services, de-institutionalization and rights of people within institutions. Support and technical assistance to consumers and consumer groups attempting to advance the cause of disabled people is also provided.

MAUDD involves itself in negotiations, litigation, administrative hearings and rule making, public education and coordination of services. Its services are provided without charge.

Winifred DePalma, attorney for MAUDD, and Kathryn Rohrbach, Volunteer Coordinator, will conducting the local meetings. The public is invited.

Three New Art Instructors Will Teach At GCC

Three new instructors will be teaching art courses at the McHenry campus this fall semester, according to Joan B. Crawford, Chairperson of the Humanities Division.

Mrs. Lane Heise, McHenry, will teach Art Appreciation, Art History, and Fundamentals of Sculpture, all day-time offerings. A graduate of Pennsylvania State University, Mrs. Heise is associate editor of Mountain Heritage magazine and has previously taught art courses at the Oakland Center. She is a member of the Garrett County Arts Council and was chairman of the outdoor art exhibit at this year's Summerfest.

Barry Domenick, a graduate of Garrett Community College and Frostburg State College in Art Education, will teach the Basic Design course on Monday evenings. Mr. Domenick presently teaches in the Garrett County school system and has a sign painting business during the summer months.

Tom Shimrock, a graduate of Edinboro State College, will teach the Art Workshop course on Wednesday evenings. Mr. Shimrock works with the stained glass shop in Grantsville and with the Highland Shop, where he builds Appalachian dulcimers.

In addition to his teaching, Shimrock conducts puppetry workshops and presents puppet shows for various school groups. Because of his diverse artistic talents, he plans to introduce a variety of activities in the Art Workshop course. These will include puppetry, basketry, macrame, ceramics, stained glass, and woodworking.

"Double your pleasure"

BECKMAN'S PENINSULA — This duplex with lake access is an exceptional value. Rent one unit and enjoy the other yourself. A brick fireplace and knotty pine paneling in the kitchen/dining and living area make this feel like home. All this on a 0.46 wooded acre lot with shared dock. Consider the possibilities . . . . . $33,500.

"Invest in your future"

McHENRY — This three-apartment brick and siding house is an investor's dream. A spacious lakefront lot holds an especially nice porch view of the lake. Each apartment has two bedrooms, bath, modern kitchen and living room. Let us show you your next income-producing property. Call our office for further details.

"Wildlife abounds"

THOUSAND ACRES — Wildlife abounds in one of the more secluded areas of Deep Creek Lake. An attractive two-bedroom starter cottage located on a gently sloping lakefront lot in a prestige no-development. This little retreat promises utility as well as a nice view of the lake from your armchair. Capture the spirit of a remote mountain lakefront setting and while away summer hours watching the "deer and the antelope play." . . . . . $70,600.

"A charming chalet"

SKY VALLEY — A large living room and native stone fireplace grace this three-bedroom, fully furnished chalet. The large bedroom loft doubles as a den setting and large expanses of glass provide a view of the well manicured lot. Step out of your kitchen and on to a porch with attached fireplace and outdoor grill. Ownership includes dock and other Deep Creek Lake privileges. Just right for that no-fuss, move-right-in buyer . . . . . $72,500.

"For year 'round enjoyment"

LOWER GLENDALE ROAD — For the budget-minded home buyer, this three-bedroom cottage battles energy costs with insulation and hot-air oil heat. Enjoy the new front deck on hot summer days and move indoors to a functional living room in the cool of the evening. A 30-foot lake access and dock included. Very affordable. Owner will finance with 20% down, 20 years, 12% interest. Isn't it time you owned a weekend haven? . . . . . $44,500.

"Storybook Forest"

BOY SCOUT ROAD — This was built for the romantic in your family - a picturesque stone and frame cottage right from a scenario in "Brigadoon". Two smaller cottages, aptly named "Wee Hut" and "Not-so-Wee Hut", adjoin the main house. All are charmingly complete and situated on an aggregate of four lots . . . that's 2.71 acres with 318.68 feet of lakefront! Enjoy an evening cocktail and oversee your dream house from a unique "crow's nest" deck. Make this fairy tale home a reality . . . . . $110,000.

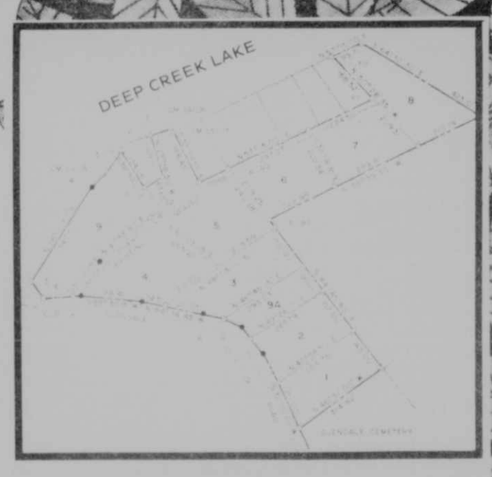

"Get away from it all"

GREEN GLADE — Get away from it all and bring family and friends with you. Four bedrooms, a modern kitchen and full bath are very accommodating - and complete the new addition to serve any whim. A large, level lakefront lot will keep the kids entertained while Mom and Dad unwind from a hectic week. A perfect beginning . . . . . $49,900.

"The view makes it all worthwhile"

TURKEY NECK AREA — Solidly constructed four-bedroom home situated on a level lakefront lot with a spectacular view of the sailing waters of Deep Creek Lake. The interior is in excellent condition - light, airy, and open. An abundance of storage space, two full baths, and fully equipped kitchen insure maintenance-free living. Tastefully furnished with deep pile wall-to-wall carpeting makes decorating a breeze. The large patio porch with built-in barbecue adds unlimited possibilities for the entertainer in your family. A garage, dock, and swimming platform complete an already perfect retreat . . . . . $110,000.

STATE PARK ROAD — Large selection of wooded lots. Call our office for details.

"A monument to craftsmanship"

LAKE SHORE DRIVE — A rare opportunity to purchase a chestnut log lodge, handcrafted with care in the days when homes were built to endure for generations. A large native stone fireplace serves to heat in all but the most bitter weather, with an oil hot-air backup system. All natural wood throughout provides warmth and atmosphere. Large living room, dining area, with massive stone fireplace, three bedrooms and bath. Offered complete with furnishings and boat with 100 hp outboard engine., As if that weren't enough - add a matching guest cottage containing sleeping accommodations for 12 on two levels, with two baths and kitchenette. All on a nicely landscaped, lakefront lot . . . . . $92,500.

"The elegance of yesteryear - today!"

STATE PARK ROAD — Picture an elegantly landscaped lot, flourishing with rhododendron, evergreens, woodland paths, an English-terraced garden with gazebo, surmounted by a unique five-bedroom cottage. Picture a covered outdoor patio, built-in stone barbecue with fan ventilation, a rustic log guest cottage, and an outbuilding with laundry facilities, workshop, and attached carport. Roam through the interior of the main house, relax near a baronial fireplace, and wake up to a view of Deep Creek Lake in your spacious master bedroom. Wormy chestnut paneling and tastefully appointed furnishings complete the picture. All on a two-acre lot. Elegance was never this affordable . . . . . $97,500.

"Nestled in among the pines"

LAKE SHORE DRIVE — Tucked in among the hemlock and the rhododendron, this two-bedroom redwood cottage overlooks 100 feet of lakefront. Its large living/dining room with fireplace, convenient kitchen, two bedrooms and bath are well maintained. Storage buildings and a bunkhouse for additional sleeping quarters will accommodate friends visiting for a weekend, who want to stay for the summer. Appreciate the view from a redwood deck . . . . . $64,500.

"All in your own backyard"

MARSH HILL ROAD — This three-bedroom home presents everything that Garrett County has to offer, right in your own backyard. A 100-foot lakefront lot gently slopes to the Deep Creek waters and this solid cut-stone ranch home is within walking distance of the Wisp Ski area. The living room has a full wall cut-stone fireplace and a large picture window view of the lake. Attractive owner financing is available to qualified buyer. For 12 months a year you'll be glad you did . . . . . $78,500.

NORTH GLADE ROAD — ½-acre woodland with a travel trailer that sleeps 6, kitchen, dining area, bath. Well, septic and electric hookup. Great for family who enjoys camping . . . . . $11,900.

SKY VALLEY — Exceptional chalet offered fully furnished. Large living room with native stone fireplace, 3 bedrooms plus loft. Situated on well manicured lot. Dock and DEEP CREEK LAKE privileges included. Many extras combine to make this one of our outstanding offerings for year 'round or seasonal living . . . . . $72,500.

STOCKSLAGER ROAD — ½-acre level wooded lot with 125 feet fronting on lake . . . . . $26,500.

HOYES RUN ROAD — Ideal cottage for hunting or fishing. 2.72 acres fronting on a flowing stream and just off a paved county road in a rustic setting with privacy. It's ready for your finishing touch and is just minutes from the Ski Wisp and Deep Creek Lake . . . . . $12,500.

SHINGLE CAMP T SOLD - Wooded lakefront lot improved with a 12x2

HARVEY'S PENINSULA — Wooded one-half acre lake access lot. Owner will finance . . . . . $6,990.

PARADISE POINT ROAD — Attractive ½-acre building lot with lake access, docks, picnic area, etc. Health Dept. approved and ready for building . . . . . $10,000.

"Watch the sailing regatta from your front porch"

TURKEY NECK — A two-bedroom log cottage situated on three lots fronting 181' on Deep Creek Lake. Newly carpeted and freshly painted throughout its colorful interior. A stone fireplace and large expanse of windows add to the amenities . . . . . $125,000.

Nature's Valuable Forest Resource

By Michael R. Gregory, Forest Naturalist Maryland Forest Service

What's a tree done for you lately?

The answer to that question depends on how often you use such products as wood, paper, plastics and other products we obtain from our forests. Wood is a very versatile material which can be cut, chipped, shaved, ground, or processed to provide numerous goods. Trees provide us with lumber for our homes, turning stock for furniture, and timbers for mine and bridge construction. Wood pulp is processed to produce newsprint, fine papers for printing, and corrugated paper for packaging. Certain plastics and rayon are produced by chemically changing the wood and drawing it into long strands. As one can plainly see, the wide variety of wood-related products makes timber a very important commodity in today's markets.

Aside from the physical materials produced from them, trees play an important role in providing us with a pleasant environment in which to live. The visual appeal of the forest is readily apparent to anyone who takes the time to observe the faint tints of the green in spring, the lush growth of summer, or the splendid colors of autumn. In addition, trees are planted in certain areas to help absorb and diminish noise which would otherwise disturb us. Also, a forest helps to protect the land beneath it by shading it from the parching sun and by intercepting rainfall which could wash away the soil. Finally, trees add oxygen and help to cool the air we breathe. For example, an acre of young trees gives off as much oxygen as is breathed by 18 people, and a single tree on a hot summer day transpires seven tons of water, producing the same cooling effect as eight room air conditioners running for 24 hours. All in all, life would be much less comfortable without our forests.

Perhaps the best thing about our forests is that they are renewable. That means unlike resources such as oil or natural gas we can assure ourselves of a constant supply of trees for the future. All that is required to accomplish this is the preservation and proper management of our state forests and other commercial forest lands. As such our forest lands form a vital link in the future production of trees and wood-related products. This is an important fact to keep in mind. All too often we tend to dismiss our forest lands as being relatively unimportant. However, without these lands we would also be without our friends the trees.

Kitzmiller High Class Of 1931 Conducts Reunion

Twelve of the 21 living members of the Kitzmiller High School Class of 1931 met in the old high school, now Kitzmiller Elementary School, on Saturday, July 26, for the group's third class reunion in their 49th year since graduation.

A luncheon was prepared by Carma White, Dorothy Knotts, and Lorraine Elliott, and was followed by a Memorial Service held for the seven deceased class members, Mary (Craver) Condron, Justin Arnold, Cecil Burdock, Ralph Campbell, John Droppleman, Adam Pritts and William Shank. Marguerite (Moon) Pulliam gave a short memorial message, then as she called each name, Cora (Hanlin) Davis lit a candle in honor and memory.

A cake, baked by Edith Evans, was frosted in the class colors, green and ivory, with various colors of sprays of sweet peas, the class flower. Place setting cards were made by May (Cosner) Hetz and her daughter, Kitty Taylor, and displayed the class motto, "Pick Your Peak and Climb."

Prizes were donated by Marguerite (Moon) Pulliam and Lucy (Johnson) Jordon. Eldred and Ruth (Kirby) Bounds won the prize for traveling the farthest, and Ted Liller won for the most grandchildren and the youngest grandchild. The most recently married couple was Garry and Mary Ridder, and Marjorie (McRobie) Wright won the award for the most great-grandchildren. Ruth Bounds won the door prize.

The twelve graduates attending the event were Theodore (Ted) Liller, Stella Rohrbaugh, Eldred (Pat) Burns, Virginia (White) Ward, Jean (McKean) Sollars, Anna Pratt, May (Cosner) Hetz, Antonio (Tony) DiGiustino, Cora (Hanlin) Davis, Marguerite (Moon) Pulliam, Paul Kalbaugh, and Garry Ridder.

Other classes of Kitzmiller High School were represented at the luncheon by schoolmates and their spouses. Approximately 29 other persons attended.

CLASS OF 1931, Kitzmiller High School, met on July 26, at what is now Kitzmiller Elementary School, for their 49-year reunion. Twelve of the 21 living members of the class were present, as well as guests and members of other classes. Pictured seated, front row, are Antonio (Tony) DeGuistino, Cora (Hanlin) Davis, Marguerite (Moon) Pulliam, Paul Kalbaugh and Garry Ridder. Pictured back row, left to right, are Theodore (Ted) Liller, Stella Rohrbaugh, Eldred (Pat) Burns, Virginia (White) Ward, Jean (McKean) Sollars, Anna Pratt; and pictured center is May (Cosner) Hetz.

Tentative plans were made for next year's 50-year reunion to be celebrated with an open house and luncheon. The group plans to invite anyone graduating from the Kitzmiller High School, and reservations will be needed in advance.

Anyone wishing to send the secretary their names and addresses may do so anytime, and should address all correspondence to Mrs. Clyde C. Davis, Route 1, Box 125, Elk Garden, W. Va. 26717.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Airman Patricia M. Lipscomb, daughter of Cynthia M. Durst of Route 2, Grantsville, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College at the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

Scholarships Available To 4-H Members

Young people planning careers in agriculture, or in related fields such as forestry, veterinary medicine or animal science, may be eligible for $5,000 in scholarship grants this year if they meet requirements set by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Valued at $1,000 each, the scholarships are provided by private-sector donors and are arranged by the National 4-H Council, a non-profit organization serving the 4-H program.

One scholarship, donated by Educational Foundation of Alpha Gamma Rho, will go to a current 4-H member who will be enrolled as a college freshman this fall. The recipient must be planning to major in agriculture, forestry, veterinary medicine or a closely related field.

Allied Mills, Inc. will donate scholarships to two present or former 4-H'ers who will be enrolled as college juniors this fall and plan to major in animal science.

Two former 4-H members currently enrolled in a college of veterinary medicine can earn $1,000 scholarships provided by Champion Valley Farms, Inc., Recipe Division.

All scholarship applicants must have completed at least one year of 4-H work. Winners will be selected by the Cooperative Extension Service and will be announced prior to the 59th National 4-H Congress, November 30 through December 4 in Chicago, Ill.

Present and former 4-H'ers who are interested in applying for these scholarships should contact the state 4-H leader or county extension office for more information and special application forms.

4-H Club News

MONTE VISTA, JR.
By Angie Thomas

Members of the Monte Vista, Jr. 4-H Club and their parents toured Pittsburgh last Wednesday and Thursday, July 30 and 31, ending their tour with a day at Kennywood Park. The group stayed at Howard Johnson's Motel near Pittsburgh.

A trip down the Three Rivers on the Clipper Ship was narrated by the captain of the boat, telling the group about Pittsburgh and the buildings along the way. Later the members enjoyed Ice Skating at Monroeville Mall and shopping at Century Mall.

The Club earned money for the tour during the year by having roller skating parties, bake sales and candy sales.

Attending the tour were: Tonya Bray, Angie Dixon, Pam Evans, Renee Helmick, Tabby Jackson, Cinda King, Denise Livengood, Sandy Mason, Debbie Mason, Debbie Riggs, Patti Spencer, Carrie Sweitzer, Dawna Symons, Amy Thomas, Angie Thomas, Jackie Thomas, Melanie Thomas, Teresa Thomas, Carrinelle Stemple, Janette Smith, Dee Dee Symons, Karen Casteel, Teresa Rivenbark, Angie Flanigan and Tabitha Sliger. Parents attending were: June Bray, Reva Thomas, Susie Livengood, Regina Riggs, Sandy Symons, Pat Helmick, Becky Mason, Jean Spencer, Rosalee Evans, Carl Spencer, Jeff Spencer, Scott Spencer, Anna Rhodes and Byard Beitzel.

CETA Program Offered At GCC

Under a CETA program starting this September, eligible students may enroll at Garrett Community College full-time with all expenses paid and be able to earn over $90 a week, according to Dr. J. W. Janssen, Dean of Students. Eligibility for the program, titled "Individual Referral," includes one or more of the criteria of being unemployed, sixteen years of age or older, a member of a family with income qualifying for public assistance and handicapped. Income qualifications approximate $7,830 or less for a family of 4 persons.

The IR program enables students to enroll in occupational course work for the fall, spring, and summer semesters. GCC offers occupational programs in Secretarial Science, Business, Construction, Wildlife Management, Physical Plant Maintenance, Agriculture, Veterinary Science, and Coal Mining.

The IR program provides prepaid tuition, fees, and books and hourly wages of $3.10 per hour while in class and while assigned to work sites. Weekly classroom instruction amounts to about 15 hours for a full-time student. An additional 15 hours of wages per week may be earned at an assigned work site related to the occupational program.

Persons interested in this training opportunity should contact GCC Admissions, 387-6666, or the local CETA Office, 334-8136. Because the program is limited in positions, application should be made at the earliest practicable date.

FALL FASHIONS

It's time to start evaluating our wardrobes for the fall and winter seasons when the classic look of the '50's will be appearing on the fashion scene. Here are some of the trends for the coming season.

*Plaids, argyles, lacy collars and string ties will be seen with the main color emphasis being gray, followed by burgundy, navy and traditional fall shades.

*Pants will be straight or pegged with single or double pleats or no pleating. Workpants and baggies will also be popular. Corduroy, denim, cotton canvas, acrylic and wool flannel, gabardine and twill will be fabric choices.

*Sweaters will be the favorite tops with the most popular being crewnecks, cardigans, and vests. Vests and pullovers will be seen over shirtwaist dresses as well as with skirt or pants and shirt combinations. Cardigans will often be teamed with matching pullovers.

*Shirts of plain and plaid woven fabrics will feature man-tailoring, with button-down collars or the softening of lace collars.

*Skirts will be crystal pleated, A-line, half circle or kilted made of polyester flannel, wool blend flannel, corduroy and velour. Plaids will be very popular.

*Blazers will once again be an important garment to wear with many different outfits.

*Shirtwaist dresses will be popular this fall. Details will include little collars, grosgrain and string ties, cuff interest, pleats and tucking, and often dropped waists.

*Sweatsuit dressing and fleece-backed fabrics with novel detailing and colors will surface in active sportswear.

*Boyswear will be divided into classic Preppy and rugged outdoor looks. Classic designs will include button-down collar shirts, V-neck sweaters, sport-coats with natural shoulders and easy shaping, along with trimmed down trousers.

Enjoy getting ready for fall!

FOOD NOTES

Turkey is continuing to be a very economical source of protein. It can be included in meals in many forms for example: salads, casseroles and sandwiches. Also, cooked turkey can be sliced and frozen for use within three months. Here is a tasty turkey recipe I think you will enjoy trying.

BARBECUED TURKEY ON BUNS

- 1½ cups cubed cooked turkey
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¾ cup catsup
- ¾ cup water
- 4 hamburger buns

Combine all ingredients except turkey and buns in a heavy skillet. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes. Add turkey. Serve hot on split hamburger buns. 4 sandwiches.

HUD-Census Survey In Garrett County To Begin Next Week

The eighth annual survey of housing in the United States will begin in Garrett County the week of August 11. The survey is conducted by the Bureau of the Census for the Department of Housing and Urban Development, in response to the need for frequent and up-to-date information on the Nation's housing inventory, considered a prime indicator of the Nation's economic well-being, according to the U. S. Department of Commerce.

For the 1980 survey, a sample of 90,000 housing units out of the Nation's 86 million has been selected to represent a cross section of all housing in the United States. The sample was originally selected from 1970 census records and has been updated each year to include new construction, conversions, and losses from the housing inventory.

Previously, information on the housing inventory came only from the decennial census of housing, irregular sample surveys, and one-time special studies. With regular annual surveys it is possible to make year to year comparisons of the number and types of housing, changes in the total housing stock resulting from losses and new construction, and changes in housing cost and the cost of services and utilities. Timely information will be available for a wide variety of items related to housing, such as indicators of the structural characteristics of residential units, and the characteristics of the occupants and those who move over the years.

Census Bureau representatives will begin interviewing households the middle of August and the work will continue for about four months. Households in the sample will be mailed an introductory letter prior to the interviewer's visit. For unoccupied units, information will be obtained from landlords, rental agents, or neighbors.

Joint HUD-Census reports on the results of the survey are expected to be issued in late 1981. Statistics will be tabulated for the U. S., for each of the four census regions, for urban and rural areas, for Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas as a whole, both inside and outside central cities, and for the remainder of the country (nonmetropolitan areas).

Grove Appointed United Methodist Bishop In W. Va.

William B. Grove, a 51-year-old Bethel Park, Pa., resident has been appointed Bishop of the West Virginia Conference of the United Methodist Church to succeed Bishop D. Frederick Wertz.

Grove, who has been serving as pastor of the Christ United Methodist Church in Bethel Park, will assume the episcopacy September 1. He was elected Bishop in July.

The new Bishop is a graduate of Bethany College and a member of the Board of Trustees of West Virginia Wesleyan College at Buckhannon, W. Va. Grove has also been a member of the Ecumenical Strategy Development Committee that formed Christian Associates of Southwest Pennsylvania, one of the first ecumenical bodies in the county to include Roman Catholics.

At a recent news conference, Grove discussed his views on current issues. He stated he favors the peacetime registration of persons for military service but opposes the draft in peacetime.

Grove is also concerned about the division within the church between persons who are interested in personal religious experience and those committed to social improvement. "Our (United Methodist) heritage is personal holiness and social righteousness. Those are the two wings of the bird and without both the bird doesn't fly."

On another current issue, Grove firmly committed himself to the full utilization of women in the church.

"I have a very strong and deep commitment," he said, "to the fullest possibilities of the development and expression of the gifts of women in the church—in the ordained ministry, in the lay leadership of the annual conference and of local churches."

Bishop Grove expressed a plan to end the continuing decline in church membership.

He said, "A great social disease in our culture today is cynicism and cynicism rather than doubt is the opposite of faith. A major task of the church is to drain off the poison waters of cynicism.

"Human beings don't want to feel cynical about themselves and about their culture and about the possibilities of life. People want to believe that things can be better. And in so far as we're (the church) able to help them do that they'll find a reason to be with us."

Bishop Grove has a Master of Divinity degree from Drew University and a Doctor of Ministry degree from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

He and his wife, Mary Lou, have two daughters.

Bishop Wertz, who has been Bishop of the West Virginia Conference for 12 years, has been appointed Bishop of the Washington D. C. area.

Production Of Red Meat Up

Commercial production of red meat in Maryland and Delaware for June was nearly 8.7 million pounds, seven percent above June 1979, but 15 percent below May 1980. The January to June red meat production amounted to 60.4 million pounds, an increase of 22 percent from the 49.3 million pounds produced during the first half of 1979.

There were 4,900 head of cattle commercially slaughtered during June in Maryland and Delaware, a decrease of six percent from May slaughter, but nine percent above a year earlier. Calves butchered at 1,800 head were unchanged from last month, but up six percent from a year ago. The hog kill for June amounted to 31,700 head, 20 percent below last month, but eight percent above last year.

Sheep and lambs slaughtered during June totaled 2,400 head, four percent below last month, but unchanged from last year.

Assignee's Sale Of Valuable Real Estate

Situate in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage from Robert C. Koch and Teresa A. Koch, his wife, undated but recorded on August 23, 1976 in Liber No. 369, folio 153, one of the Mortgage Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and said mortgage being duly assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will on Friday, the 29th day of August, 1980

At the Hour of 11:00 a.m. EDT on the property hereinafter described, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the property to be sold being described as follows:

That parcel of land situate, in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, which is known and designated as Lot No. 15 as shown on the plat of "Springwood Acres South," recorded in Plat Book 2, page 29, one of the Plat Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being the property conveyed to Robert C. Koch and Teresa A. Koch, his wife, by deed from Hugh Michael Buttry, dated August 5, 1976 and recorded in Liber No. 370, folio 186, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

Said property is subject to the following restrictive covenants:

1—Said land shall be used for residential, single dwelling homes.

2—No activity may be conducted on said property or in any building thereon which may constitute or become an annoyance or nuisance or disturb the peace of the community.

3—No temporary structure, such as a tent or trailer or cabins shall be placed upon any part of the property except as a temporary measure during construction of a permanent home. All plans and specifications for homes constructed on said property shall be approved by Everett Allen Fratz and wife, their heirs, personal representatives and assigns.

4—Buildings may be of any design, and may be constructed of wood, logs, stone, brick or composition, provided they will not detract from, or mar the natural beauty of the community.

5—No building or other structure shall be placed within a setback of 15 feet from the front property line and 10 feet from any adjacent property line.

6—Any permanent structure placed upon a lot must contain a minimum floor area per floor of 480 square feet exclusive of porches, patios or carports, and any said structure facing a street must be at least 20 feet wide.

7—Water supply and sewage disposal installations shall be made in strict compliance with the health and building codes applicable to Garrett County, and all bathroom and toilet facilities shall be incorporated within the main structure.

8—Open fires are prohibited on any part of the property. Outdoor fireplaces, grills and all chimneys must be provided with fire screens of sufficient design to prevent scattering of sparks.

9—Trees and topography shall remain uncut and undisturbed except as required for construction purposes.

10—Each property owner shall promptly remove or otherwise dispose of any accumulation of trash, garbage or rubbish, and at all times maintain said property in a neat and sanitary condition.

11—Firing of rifles, guns or weapons of any kind is prohibited within the aforesaid boundaries.

12—In the event that water shall be made available from a central system a charge will be made to users thereof.

Said lot contains 1.21 acres and is unimproved.

Terms of sale: 1/3 cash on date of sale and the balance upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

State and county taxes will be adjusted to date of sale.

FOR LEASE

Modern Two-Level Structure
Suitable For
Warehouse, Terminal, or Light Manufacturing

The H-P Stores, Inc., has streamlined its distribution systems to provide direct shipments from our suppliers to our retail store locations, thus eliminating the need for our warehouse terminal.

Now available for lease, this modern 63,000 sq. ft. facility, situated on five acres near Oakland, Maryland, reaches markets in the Atlantic and Midwest regions. The complex is served by the Chessie system and 18 trucking companies.

The concrete block building is fully insulated and heated by natural gas. Office space is air-conditioned. Other utilities include a 600 amp electric service, municipal sewer and unlimited supplies of water from approved deep wells. Six loading docks, a rail siding and conveyor systems provide rapid freight transfer. Parking is available for up to 200 vehicles. Modern security and sprinkler systems ensure building-wide protection.

The complex can serve industrial or commercial requirements. Low interest financing is available. Building modifications can be made to meet specifications.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

The Hauser Reunion will be held August 10 at the Stemple Ridge Church with a basket lunch at 12:30 p.m. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

On Sunday, August 17, the Crossroads School Reunion will meet at the Farmers' Wildlife Park for a covered dish lunch at 1:00 p.m. with a program to follow. All former students and interested persons are invited to attend.

A covered dish meal preceded the regular meeting of the Union District Senior Citizens, held in the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building on August 2 at 6:30 p.m. The business session was called to order by the president at the close of the meal and Paul Stemple presented the devotions.

Annie Ringer announced there will be a Bazaar and Bake Sale at the time of the Buckwheat Festival, to be held in the new Senior Center across from the Wesleyan Center in Kingwood. Local persons may contribute to this fund-raising effort. Another method of fund-raising for the center will be the selling of raffle tickets for a handmade quilt and also a handmade hemlock dropleaf table. Miss Ringer also announced that the flu shot program for Senior Citizens will begin on August 15 and continue through December 15, with no expense to the seniors.

Entertainment was provided by Donna Lantz Sharpless, who accompanied herself on the guitar as she sang gospel songs. Also entertaining were her father, Oscar Lantz, and Floyd Knapp.

Membership dues of $1.00 are being accepted from now until the next meeting which will be September 6, with the covered dish dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the Aurora U.M. Memorial Building. Persons may contact Mrs. Ernest Shaffer to join the group. There were 49 members and guests in attendance at the August meeting.

The Shahan Reunion was held August 2 at the Aurora U.M. Memorial Building with 58 family members present from Michigan, Ohio, West Virginia and France.

Mrs. Ervin (Willa Shaffer) Wotring of Davis is a patient in Cleveland Clinic where she underwent heart surgery last Monday and further surgery on Sunday morning. Her husband has been in Cleveland with her. Her daughters have joined him there.

Rose Ina Harsh, Stanley Harsh and Linda Hauser went last weekend to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Frantz in Virginia Beach, Va. When they returned Monday night, they were accompanied by Mark Harsh, who had been visiting there, and the Frantz children, Donnie, Melvin Ray and Melissa, who will spend the month visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harsh and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Frantz, and their cousins here.

Mrs. Ardis Teets of Eglon spent last weekend in Kingsville, Ohio, where they visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Junior Feather and also visited their grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Feather, at Conneaut, Ohio.

Ardis Teets of Eglon joined other Stanley dealers on Saturday night at Clarksburg for a bus tour to Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Teets of Copley, Ohio, were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Teets, Eglon, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brown, Jr., at Horse Shoe Run. They brought along slides of their recent trip through the western states.

Mr. and Mrs. Wicky Myers and sons, Wicky and Ricky, of Aurora, returned the latter part of last week to their home after a trip through the western states, which included visits to several national parks.

Mrs. Helen Borcher, grandmother of Nancy Pinkerton, is staying with Dr. and Mrs. Pinkerton at their home in Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Flory and family of Fairborn, Ohio, arrived Sunday evening for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Artenis Harsh, at Eglon.

Anne Feather of Morgantown was a weekend visitor of her father, Russell Z. Feather, in Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartel of Trenton, N.J., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harsh at Brookside.

Mrs. Josephine Stanton visited recently in Trenton, N.J., with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Stanton and children, and then in Chester, Pa., with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Stemple, who returned Mrs. Stanton to her home this weekend and are remaining for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wotring and Norma Harsh attended the Newton and Lydia King Wotring reunion held Sunday at Amboy.

Mrs. Doyle Bolyard and son and Mrs. Mary Ford of New Philadelphia, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Coy Allen, Susan Allen and the Allen's granddaughter, Kim Schwank, of Solon, Ohio, were guests for an extended weekend with Mrs. Martha Crowe in Aurora. Visiting with them all at Mrs. Crowe's on Sunday evening were Mrs. Nancy Crowe, Chad and Elizabeth, of Reedsville. Her husband, Glenn Crowe, is established in a new job at East Carolina University and the family will be joining him later this month.

Here for the Fike Reunion and staying with the Galen Fikes were Roy Judy, Jr., Doug and Barbara Taylor and on Sunday night, Roy Judy, Sr., all of Greenwood, Del. Mrs. Roy (Lela) Judy stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fike.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Teets and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Teets and Tommy were Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Reish of Harrisonburg, W. Va. They just returned from a tour of Germany.

A picnic supper was held Sunday night at the Maple Spring Church pavilion, moved there from the Eglon Clinic lawn due to the large crowd and threatening skies. A large number of persons from surrounding areas were on hand to celebrate with Dr. and Mrs. Greg Pinkerton the taking over of the clinic for private practice under the name Union Medical Service.

On July 29, May Beckman was surprised at her Eglon home by all of her children and grandchildren who came with decorated cakes, ice cream and canteloupes to celebrate her birthday. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Harley Donham and Patty, Grafton; Mr. and Mrs. David Knotts, Fairmont; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Boelyn, Morgantown; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Beckman and Victoria, Parsons; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beckman, Julie, Tanya and Rhett, Eglon; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beckman and Bobby, of Terra Alta; Shirley and Evelyn Lipscomb, of Eglon. On Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Martin and Jason, of Mannington, were visitors. Spending the weekend with Mrs. Beckman were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Shuman and Kelly, of Fairmont. On Saturday evening the Shumans and Mrs. Beckman were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beckman in Terra Alta.

Lester Stemple, of Stemple Ridge, was a patient last week in Garrett County Memorial Hospital and has now returned to his home.

Also from Stemple Ridge, Mrs. Lester (Marie) Hauser was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital after suffering a slight stroke. She remains a patient there at this time.

The Erwin United Methodist Church held a homecoming on Sunday and attending from Aurora were the Rev. Ralph Wycoff and Frank Stemple.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Roth and family, Horse Shoe Run, and his brother, Earl Edward Roth and family, of Rainelle, met for a week's vacation in North Carolina at Kill Devil Hills. They returned to their homes Saturday.

Draft Enrollment Branded Failure

Leaders of an anti-draft organization said Monday that President Carter's draft registration program has been a failure and called on the administration to grant amnesty to those who refused to sign up stated an Associated Press report.

Representatives of the Committee against Registration and the Draft told a Capitol Hill news conference that checks in five major metropolitan areas showed as many as 20 percent of the eligible young men failed to sign up during the two-week registration period.

"It is quite likely that today there are more than 500,000 potential felons which have been created by this program," the Rev. Barry W. Lynn, chairman of the organization said. "The nation cannot possibly track down, prosecute and punish or imprison this number of people. To do so would criminalize an enormous segment of a . . . generation . . .

"In my judgment, there is only one legal, moral and practical solution to the reality of non-registration—an unconditional amnesty for those who failed to register for the draft for any reason whatsoever," Mr. Lynn said.

No exact figures for the number of youths in Garrett County who registered were available, nor was there any available data for the number of those eligible to register.

The men, born in 1960 and 1961, were supposed to register at their local postoffice. Failure to register is a felony carrying a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Oakland Sewer Moratorium Lifted

The Oakland Mayor and Town Council officially acknowledged the lifting of the sewer moratorium on the City of Oakland, during its monthly meeting on August 1. The authority of the action came from Dr. Benjamin D. White of the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, following a recommendation from Dr. William Pope, Deputy State Health Officer of Garrett County. Edgar Harman, Director of Environmental Health, stated that the department recognized that the town has made an effort to move ahead on a sewage treatment facility, an effort which caused the lifting of the moratorium to come about.

The moratorium will be lifted with certain stipulations, the first being that Oakland will issue no more than ten sewer connections per year. Each connection must be based upon a single family dwelling or its equivalent. The lifting will apply to businesses as well as family dwellings, however a tap for one business, for instance, a restaurant, would probably equal or exceed the yearly allowance, said Harman.

Projects having special community interest, beyond the ten connections allotted, will be handled on an individual basis. Such projects will be initiated through Dr. Pope, who will forward requests to the Assistant Secretary for Environmental Programs.

The conditions and limitations of the lifting will be reviewed annually by the Department of Health, and will be modified in accordance with continued efforts of Oakland to complete a sewage treatment facility within a reasonable period of time. The number of yearly connections could therefore increase or diminish, depending upon the progress made by the Town Council to remedy the sewer situation. The failure of demonstrated effort on its part will result in the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene reinstituting the sewer moratorium.

Harman stated that the first moratorium was placed upon

THE BLOOMINGTON DAM PROJECT IS NEARING COMPLETION and is now 80 percent finished. The estimated $170 million project is expected to be in full operation by fall of 1981, when the dam will serve towns and industries along the North Branch Potomac River in providing water quality control, water supply and flood control. Pictured right is the intake control tower, which will selectively draw water through five intake levels. The dam is constructed of rolled earth and rockfill. The entire project is designed and supervised by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, and is located in Garrett and Mineral Counties. See story on page 12.

Diana Wawzinski Appointed County Housing Director

The Garrett County Commissioners have announced the appointment of Diana Wawzinski as the county housing director to replace Deborah Lawton who resigned April 1980.

Mrs. Wawzinski, who has served as acting-director since Lawton's resignation, worked as a secretary/bookkeeper in the Garrett County Housing Office for the past two years.

Wawzinski graduated from St. Mary's Academy, Southbend, Indiana, and studied for two years at Butler University, Indiana. Before moving to Garrett County in 1968, she lived in Washington, D. C. where she worked as a secretary for four years.

Prior to her employment at the Housing Office, Wawzinski worked as an elementary teacher's aide in the Title I program from February 1975-August 1978.

She is a member of the Mt. Lake Park Planning Commission, the League of Women Voters, and the Southern Middle Parent-Teacher Association.

She and her husband, Edmund, reside in Mt. Lake Park with their three children.

County Treasurer Reports On July Tax Collections

Garrett County taxpayers are paying their county tax about as fast as ever says county treasurer Arzella Parsons.

Mrs. Parsons has tallied up the collections for July and says even though a comparison between July 1980 and July 1979 is difficult because of the difference in the tax rates—$3.31 this year, $2.37 last year—it is not impossible. She explains that by knocking 40 percent off July 1980 collections, which is the difference in the two tax rates, she arrives at a nearly equal figure.

The real estate tax collection in July 1980 totalled $852,769.98. Ordinary business tax collected was $88,044.02 while public utilities was $155.55.

Tax from prior years came to $45,815.12; state tax, $58,596.39; coal tax, $100,000; gasoline tax, $99,027.40; and cigarette tax, $22,603.83. Income from other sources reached a total of $68,893.20.

The total collection for July 1980 was $1,210,012.90.

Parsons reported that discounts totalled $45,904.73; circuit breaker credit, $72,653.86; and 15 percent credit, $6,333.75.

BYRON TOURS MINES — In order to get a firsthand look at the industry, Congresswoman Beverly Byron took a tour of the Mettiki Coal Corporation mines in Garrett County Friday morning. Mrs. Byron, pictured center, was then a guest at a luncheon at the Starlite Restaurant in Oakland, sponsored by MAPCO Inc., parent company of Mettiki. Also attending the luncheon were approximately 35 area businessmen and officials from MAPCO and Mettiki. Rep. Byron renewed her pledge at the luncheon to pursue all avenues for increased use of coal on a state and national basis. William H. Thompson, Jr., Chairman of the Board of MAPCO, also announced that Mettiki mine number 2 will be opened in the near future, just as soon as a buyer for the coal is located. The new mine would add approximately 500 jobs to the Garrett County economy. Photo courtesy of Crabtree Photography.

TCC Names Municipal Coordinator

The Tri-County Council has announced the appointment of Wendall Keaton as Municipal Assistance Coordinator in Garrett County a position which has been vacant since March 21 following Dean Bastianini's resignation.

Keaton, presently employed as a technical assistance coordinator for Region I Planning and Development Council of Princeton, West Virginia, is expected to assume duties August 18. His appointment followed official word from the Appalachian Regional Commission, the main funding source for the program, that funding was approved effective August 1.

As technical assistance coordinator, Keaton's responsibilities included the development and administration of various grant programs, coordination of federally funded disaster recovery program throughout five of the six counties, and liaison assistance to the local constituency.

Keaton has a bachelor of arts degree and a masters of public administration from West Virginia University.

Keaton will work with town officials of seven of the eight incorporated communities of Garrett County. Participating in the program are Accident, Friendsville, Grantsville, Deer Park, Kitzmiller, Mt. Lake Park and Oakland.

Commissioners Approve Several Funding Measures

The county commissioners approved several resolutions involving financial matters during their regular Tuesday meeting.

They approved a resolution amending the 1979-80 operating budget appropriations which will transfer $53,000 from various accounts to pay pending bills incurred during the latter part of FY1980. The commissioners set a public hearing for Tuesday, August 26 to discuss the resolution.

The commissioners also set August 26 as a public hearing date to discuss a resolution relevying revenue sharing funds not expended during fiscal years 1978-79 and 1979-80 to pay courthouse capital and Board of Education capital projects.

A resolution guaranteeing a loan of $36,617 from the First National Bank for the Appalachian Parent Association, part of the Appalachian Adult Activity Center (AAAC), for the County Oven Bakery Project was approved by the commissioners. The project will be funded by a line of credit through the 1980 HUD Community Block Grant. AAAC received an award of $85,000 for the project.

The commissioners instructed Herb McCrobie to comply with a Garrett County Circuit Court order to reimburse Ron Stewart, Hutton, $99.75 for reconstruction of a fence which had been removed during Stewart's boundary dispute with the county.

The commissioners, noting their concern for the residents who live beyond Stewart on the Tannery Road, announced that the roads department engineer should be contacted in case an emergency situation arises.

A supplemental order to the original order issued by the Water Resources Administration against the county roads department concerning reclamation work to be done along Savage River was received by the commissioners from Tom Andrews, director of WRA.

The order revised the time table for installation of sediment control measures and deleted requirements to perform work on property located immediately adjacent to Black Lick. Andrews pointed out that the work along Black Lick would be pursued separately with the property owner and would not involve the county.

The order was accompanied by a letter summarizing a meeting held recently between the commissioners, county roads

Tornadoes Sighted

Mountaintop Rocked By Severe Thunderstorms

Severe thunderstorms rocked the mountaintop throughout the past week, causing considerable fire damage due to lightning, power outages throughout the county, and destruction of property by extremely high winds. Hundreds of fairgoers were caught off guard at the Garrett County fairgrounds last weekend, as severe storms struck the gala event without warning on Friday and Saturday evenings, causing many to flee to their vehicles, only to be trapped in the congested traffic which followed.

Two persons were injured, hay, livestock and three barns were destroyed and a house was damaged severely, resulting from the forceful weather conditions. Rainfall for the week amounted to 2.58 inches, and the storms were accompanied by hail.

Bill Baker, Potomac Edison, Oakland office, reported that the company's main problems were with excessive rain and high winds on Sunday and Monday evenings. "The ground was so saturated that the high winds caused trees to blow over without much resistance," he said. Approximately 500 customers were without power at various stages, but there were no continuous outages for any one group.

Sunday evening customers were basically affected in the Deep Creek Lake and Kitzmiller areas, while the storm Monday affected customers in Selbysport, Friendsville, the Cove area and Accident. Four crews worked into the night last evening, and power was restored to all areas and all debris was cleared away as of 4:30 this morning.

Brad Frantz, acting Director of Garrett County Civil Defense, stated that several severe storm watches were issued for the county and surrounding areas during the past week, accompanied by two tornado warnings over the weekend. Two funnel clouds were sighted in the county on Sunday, in Crellin and Gorman, about 7:10 p.m. The sighting in Gorman was confirmed by radar, however, there were no reports of tornadoes touching down in the county, said Frantz.

High winds destroyed a barn and livestock on Negro Mountain Road near McHenry on Sunday evening about 5:30 p.m. The barn was owned by Playford Glotfelty, who claims a twister came down through a nearby farm, destroying the Glotfelty barn in its path. A cow, a riding horse and two ponies, which were housed in the barn, were killed in the storm. All were owned by Wayne Glotfelty, who resides on the Glotfelty farm. A calf was also inside the barn when the storm hit, but managed to survive the forceful winds. Approximately $1500 in hay was lost. The estimated loss value of the barn is at least $50,000.

The families were not insured. Mrs. Wayne Glotfelty stated that their children were hit hard by the loss of their riding horse. Although Civil Defense claimed that no torandoes touched down, the damage to the Glotfelty property appeared to be the work of a twister.

Frantz said the loss of the animals was reported to the United States Department of Agriculture, and Garrett County Civil Defense offered assistance in clearing the debris left by the storm.

Lightning took its toll throughout the weekend, causing several fires in the

New Assistant Superintendent Of Schools Named

James J. Lupis, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools in Calvert County, has been appointed to the position of Assistant Superintendent for Administrative Services with the Garrett County Board of Education, effective September 2.

Mr. Lupis, a native of Lonaconing, holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from Frostburg State College, and a Master's Degree in Educational Administration from George Washington University.

Lupis's experience in public school education dates back to 1960 when he began his career as a teacher with the Prince George's County Public Schools, serving until 1966. From Prince George's County he moved to Carroll County where he served as an Assistant Supervisor in Transportation until 1969, when he moved back to Prince George's County as a Pupil Accounting Assistant. From 1973 to 1979, Mr. Lupis served as the Director of Personnel with the Allegany County Public Schools before taking his present position with the Calvert County Board of Education.

Lupis's responsibilities with the Garrett County Board of Education will involve the management of all business aspects of the school system. In this regard he will be responsible for budgeting, financial planning, cost analyses, and insurance within the school system.

In addition, Lupis will be responsible for overseeing the accounting, financial reporting, and purchasing of the Garrett County Board of Education. With the assistance of the supervisory staff he will also coordinate the food service, transportation, and maintenance and operations programs.

Lupis will also serve as the catalyst in the Garrett County Board of Education's school building program.

Lupis holds membership in Phi Delta Kappa, the Maryland Association of School Business Officials, the American Association of School Personnel Administration, and numerous other professional and civic organizations.

Lupis and his wife and two children plan to settle in the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park area.

EXTREMELY HIGH WINDS DESTROY BARN, HAY, LIVESTOCK — A barn owned by Playford Glotfelty, Negro Mountain Road, near McHenry, was destroyed Sunday night about 5:30 p.m., when high winds blasted the structure. Glotfelty and his neighbors stated that the damage was the result of a twister, which apparently traveled across a neighbor's property and struck the barn. A cow and three horses, owned by Wayne Glotfelty, who resides on the Glotfelty farm, were killed by the forceful winds. The barn was estimated at $50,000, and approximately $1500 in hay was lost. A calf, also owned by Wayne Glotfelty, survived the incident. Both families were uninsured. Garrett County Civil Defense reported that two funnel clouds were sighted Sunday evening, in Crellin and Gorman. Brad Frantz, acting Director of Civil Defense, stated that there were no reports of tornadoes touching down in the area, however, Glotfelty and his neighbors feel the destruction of the barn was the result of a twister.

Sheriff's Office Pursues Stolen Vehicle Cases

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating two stolen vehicle cases, and several breaking and entering cases, reported to the department last week.

On Wednesday, August 6, a 1971 Jeep Wagoneer, owned by Dr. Mark Sugar, Mt. Lake Park, was stolen while it was parked along the southbound shoulder of U. S. Route 219 near the Garrett County fairgrounds. Police report the keys were inside the vehicle, but not in the ignition. To date the vehicle has not been recovered. Loss value is placed at approximately $1500.

In a separate incident, Jackie Garland Friend, 22, of Deer Park, was arrested Monday evening by Maryland State Police officers, assisted by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department. He was charged with three counts of burglary which occurred Friday evening along U. S. Route 219, one-quarter mile north of Mayhew Inn Road. Three residences in that area were broken into.

A suspect entered the home of Josephine Long through a rear window of the dwelling, and removed money and firearms. Taken were over $100 in change, a bottle of whiskey, a 30-30 Winchester rifle, and a 32 caliber revolver.

Later the same evening the same suspect entered the nearby residence of Donald Friend, gaining entry by forcing open a door and breaking the door latch. A jar containing money was taken. The loss value is undetermined at this time.

The third residence entered by the suspect is owned by Joseph Friend. The suspect used a pry tool to force open the rear door of the trailer home. Approximately $300 to $400 in two dollar bills and silver coins was missing from a can, in addition to $75 to $100 in old silver coins.

Jackie Friend, a suspect in the burglaries, is being held without bond, awaiting trial.

A breaking and entering and theft occurred at the Buffalo Coal Company, Bayard, W. Va., sometime during the night of August 9. The Sheriff's Department notified the coal company Sunday morning when deputies recovered a 1976 Dodge truck on Eagle Rock Road, belonging to the company. The vehicle had been totally destroyed by fire, police said. The battery and antenna of the automobile were missing.

Buffalo Coal Company officials first received word of the breaking and entering when they were notified by police. Investigation of the company's job site revealed that the main entrance gate had been torn down, causing nearly $600 in damage. The office was broken into and the telephone wires were cut. Nothing was reported missing from the office, however, unknown subjects removed two five-gallon cans of gasoline from the outside property, amounting to a loss value of $33. The automobile was valued at $2500.

In a separate incident, the Deer Park Church of God of Prophecy was broken into sometime during Monday night or Tuesday early morning hours. Unknown persons gained entry and ransacked the building, throwing books, stereo equipment and other items onto the floor. Police report nothing was found missing.

Six persons were incarcerated by the department last week, in addition to Jackie Friend.

William Madigan, Jr., 19, was arrested Friday and charged with battery. He was released the next day when he posted $100 bond.

William Guthrie, 19, was arrested Sunday for driving while intoxicated. He was released the sameday on his own recognizance.

Joe Hutzel, 21, was incarcerated Monday after appearing in Garrett County District Court on a charge of writing bad checks. Hutzel will serve a sentence of 60 days in jail.

Jerry Waybright, 24, was arrested yesterday and charged with trespassing and battery. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

George Lee Evans, 40, was arrested yesterday for spotlighting. He is still incarcerated on $100 bond.

Donald Roy Hart, 40, was arrested yesterday for possession of a loaded firearm in a vehicle. He is still incarcertated on $100 bond.

EMT-A Class Schedule Noted

The Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad has announced the scheduling of a class for anyone interested in becoming an Emergency Medical Technician - Ambulance (EMT-A). The class, which consists of 84 hours of instruction, will be held at the Rescue Squad hall on Monday evenings from 7-10 p.m., beginning September 29, 1980.

First priority will be given to those persons who are interested in serving on the Rescue Squad. A charge will be made for the class textbook. A fee for testing and certification also will be made for persons not joining a rescue squad or a fire department by the end of the class year.

The class is limited to 25 members and reservations must be in by September 12, 1980. Reservations may be made by contacting Mary Ellen Lichty at 334-2866 after 6 p.m.

A Bright Future . . .

Despite Garrett County's high unemployment rate, its extremely high tax rate and the general condition of high inflation which is facing all the nation, the future economic picture for Garrett County is not necessarily so gloomy. There are several indicators which show stability and growth in the county, among them the recent announcements of some local industry concerning expansion plans.

William H. Thompson Jr., Chairman of the Board of MAPCO, Inc., which owns the Mettiki Coal Corporation, was in Garrett County last week from Tulsa, Oklahoma, and made the announcement to a group of area businessmen that his company is planning to open Mettiki mine number 2 in the near future. This move would add approximately 500 more jobs at the Mettiki site, nearly doubling the present work force and adding millions to the county economy.

Bausch and Lomb, Inc., from its headquarters in Rochester, N. Y., recently announced it is planning some consolidation, which will add over 300 new jobs at the Mt. Lake Park facility.

Tourism countinues to grow in the county as more and more visitors come to enjoy the dozens of forms of recreation, both winter and summer, which Garrett County has to offer.

Most of the area merchants are also experiencing growth.

Coal is becoming a more valuable resource every day, as state and federal officials push for its increased use. Bausch and Lomb is a solid company, showing tremendous growth over the past few years with the introduction of the soft lens. There is no indication that tourism is going to diminish.

So, while the economy of the county may be bleak today, tomorrow's picture shows real promise.

Letters to the Editor

Sir:

I have watched your editorial stumbling from the irrelevant to the obdurate. At last your woolly thinking has settled upon me. I must reply.

You misread my letter and the others you criticized. It is the deathwish of abnegatory liberals and their confused followers which I refuse to share.

Consider this: The birth rate among majority, white Americans is declining. Many cannot afford both the tax burden and the cost of properly raising children. The minority birth rate increases drastically. The welfare system financially encourages it. Affirmative action, the name of acceptable discrimination, takes jobs from the white majority giving them often to unqualified minorities.

Meanwhile, government provides for the influx of millions of foreign persons. Minorities' ranks swell. Most of these wind up on welfare.

The Urban League estimates there are 42 million blacks in America. It has been estimated that within 15 years, Hispanics from Central and South America, most of whom do go directly on welfare, will outnumber the blacks. At a time when the world war two baby boom approaches retirement age, the white majority will become a minority. Social security will surely collapse, and with it the economy. I wonder if the black-Hispanic majority will cry for minority rights then.

This is the deathwish of which I speak. At that point two alternatives will pertain: miscegenation into one, mixed race, the end of your culture and mine, or separatism. Both are unacceptable.

Your are the one who is guilty of ethnocentrism. Apparently, you cannot conceive that I can wish to avoid the evils of minority racism, and the end of my culture, without being a bigot. Which of us has prejudged?

But then, you have not analyzed your own dogma, and do not understand the words you use, much less the concepts behind them.

Sincerely,
Bob Watson

Dear Mr. Sincell:

I will not attempt to comment on the content of Mr. Watson's most recent letter because the content seemed very vague. Yet, as a teacher of English composition, I must comment on his writing.

We teach our students that writing is an extension of thinking, and that one way to clarify thought processes is to write ideas in clear, coherent prose. Student essays are evaluated for logical organization, coherence, precision of word choice, sentence structure, and mechanics. Mr. Watson's letter would rate "zero" in the first three categories. It would be difficult to find a clearer example of incoherent, irrational, emotion-wrought prose.

If that muddled verbiage is a product of Mr. Watson's thinking, we may only wonder what else goes on in his mind.

Name withheld by request

Dear Sir:

In response to Mr. Watson's letters of July 23 and August 6, I choose to remind us all that America is now and has been always a country whose doors were open to the exiles, the forsaken, the homeless, the poor from all over the world. That's the meaning of freedom. Our fathers and grandfathers were also refugees who found the doors of this land open to them. But if freedom is meant for only one group or class or nationality, then none of us may ever hope to be free. Then we are no better than the dictators across the world who have imprisoned and destroyed all but those of their choice. May God keep us from that kind of mentality.

Let us remember the words of Emma Lazarus whose poem at the Statue of Liberty marks the door of freedom for all Americans:

"THE NEW COLOSSUS"

"Not like the brazen giant of Greek fame,
With conquering limbs astride from land to land;
Here at our sea-washed, sunset gates shall stand
A mighty woman with a torch, whose flame
Is the imprisoned lightning, and her name
Mother of Exiles. From her beacon-hand
Glows world-wide welcome; her mild eyes command
The air-bridged harbor that twin cities frame.
"Keep ancient lands, your storied pomp!" cries she
With silent lips. "Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

I'm proud to be an American and to have a part in helping to welcome those to America who have lost everything but their desire to be free. May God bless us all, for we are all refugees from somewhere.

Fred Illick,
Accident

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter as a response to Mr. Watson's latest, Mrs. Groves' and Mr. Insley's.

Personally I think you all are 100% wrong!! To refresh your memory, Mr. Watson, your forefathers and mine did "come adrift" from a place they could no longer live. They sailed in a little boat called the Mayflower, Remember??? Or were you not taught about these precious moments in history? The founders and pioneers are the ones who made America what it is today. They've gotten us this far, haven't they? I think they can handle it. If it wasn't for them you wouldn't be here right now, writing such trash as your latest letter.

Mrs. Groves, you may work "Damn Hard" (as you put it) for your money, but so do many others. I think it's wonderful how these people are taking in families and feeding and clothing them. How would you like to be left out in the cold? Now they are who you call "True Americans." Not like you and some others!!

Mr. Insley, I will say to you the same thing I told the others, you I think are incorrect! The only namby-pambys in this world are people such as you.

I close my letter hoping that you three will soon let the light shine through on the truth.

Lori Cooley
Friendsville

P.S.

I have always been taught to look up to adults for guidance. Fortunately, you sound too short!!

Dear Editor:

Who won? The suit by the Board of Education against the County Commissioners has been dropped, so I guess the County Commissioners won.

On the other hand the Board of Education collected all the money that was due them, so perhaps they won.

Attorneys don't come cheap and I am sure everyone involved had to have at least one. Also the Judge and the Clerk and several stenographers and some office workers got a little work out of the proposed suit, so in a sense they were winners.

Now I'm not nearly as well educated as the people on the Board of Education, and I'm not a good leader like our County Commissioners, and I'm not nearly as smart as the attorneys involved, and I can't understand who could possibly have won this case, but one thing I'm sure of, after reviewing my tax bill, I LOST.

Yours truly,
Burton W. Lytle
Taxpayer

Mr. Sincell, Editor:

On the morning of July 17, 1980, our residence in Oakland was struck by lightning causing minor interior and exterior damage. The damage was kept to a minimum only because of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Company's professional training.

I was truly amazed by the dedication and prompt service we received from these men. Mr. Crabtree was at our house 3 minutes after the alarm was called in. These men had to remove drywall, celotex, insulation and exterior siding to extinguish the smouldering fire inside of the wall. Due to the guidance and direction of Mr. Updyke, all of this was performed without applying any water, which would have added greatly to our clean-up.

Our community should be proud to know that these are the types of individuals that serve us in times of need. Thanks fellows.

Dear Concerned Neighbors,

It might interest you to know my husband gets ready for work every morning at 5:30. So we need our rest as much as you do. Our house is probably just as hot at night as yours. So we also have our windows up. If our dogs were barking I'm sure we would hear them. Since we don't hear them it must not be our dogs. The law might be interested if you notified them, but my dogs are tied and I doubt if the law can do more than listen to you complain.

As you can see I'm signing my name, so no one will have to answer me in the paper. If you'd signed your name I wouldn't have to write to the local paper and let the county know you have a problem.

Sincerely,
Andrea Martin

Sir:

Look at what happened under the nose of the prestigious law firm paid to sit watchfully at Sanitary Commission meetings:

Over a year ago the Commission shot itself in the foot by abolishing Sanitary District No. 1, leaving it no district for its local water system. In June it came up with a scheme to have separate districts for Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn; an administrative nightmare with serious legal flaws.

Our mayors denounced the scheme as devisive. The Sanitary Commission backed down; never even submitted the scheme to the County Commissioners. This left them in an impossible position. They had, in writing, specifically linked the new water rates to the discredited and abandoned water sanitary districts.

It's not in Sanitary Commission records, but someone decided to go ahead and levy the new water rates anyway. This puts the prestigious law firm on the spot. Will they tell the Sanitary Commissioners to obey the law, stop the rate levy, create an acceptable water district, then hold new rate hearings for that district?

In the past year Dick Nace administered the water system into a penniless condition. The Sanitary Commissioners want to raise his $32,000 salary ten percent.

A single incident illustrates this outfits incompetence. At their last water rate hearing I asked how much cash was in their water system's bank account. No one, including Nace, could answer the question.

Do you Deep Creek Lake folks want these people running your multi-million dollar sewerage project?

Planning Board Registers Support For Lake Project

The Garrett County Planning Commission Wednesday approved a letter to the Garrett County Sanitary District confirming its support for a sewerage system at Deep Creek Lake. The letter was to be entered in the hearing record for the project.

The letter reiterated the Commission's position on development at Deep Creek Lake and noted that the installation of a sewerage service should not allow development "contrary to the legally adopted County Plan."

The Commission pointed out that the ultimate decision on the extent of the service area for the sewerage facility "must be based on engineering factors and cost-effectiveness criteria weighed against the urgency for serving known or probable or expected sources of biological pollutants." That decision must be made by the Sanitary Commission Water Resources Administration and the Environmental Health Administration, the Commission noted.

In its future land use plans for the Deep Creek Lake are, the Planning Commission had made "a conscious attempt to strike a balance between 'high' and 'low' density of future development."

"Given our desire," the Commission stated in the letters, "both to protect the high environmental quality that has made the Lake so attractive and also to allow some opportunity for additional persons to enjoy the Lake area, we devised a land use plan combining a "low" density residential district covering almost all of the Deep Creek basin plus two higher-density 'town' locations—McHenry and Thayerville."

Board Schedules Visit To School In Grantsville

The Garrett County Board of Education will begin its regular monthly meeting Thursday, August 14, with a visit to the new Grantsville Elementary School at 10:30 a.m.

At 1:30 p.m. the regular business meeting will convene at the Board's meeting room in Oakland.

A tentative calendar of Board meetings will be presented at 1:40 p.m.

Following, at 1:50 p.m., will be action on educational programs for the Vietnamese refugee children and CETA in-school options. The Board will also discuss the Southern Middle School Language Arts-Social Studies Program.

Action on various pupil personnel concerns will be taken beginning at 3:30 p.m. The Board will act on a decision of a policy for handicapped children, on procedures for handicapped children placed in parochial and other private schools, and on compensatory special education services for handicapped individuals. Also to be discussed will be the student discipline, responsibilities, and rights handbook.

At 4:30 p.m. the Board will discuss bus contractor concerns.

Before going into executive session and 5:45 p.m. for personnel matters, the Board will take action on the food service budget at 5 p.m., on fuel bids at 5:15 p.m., and on building projects at 5:30 p.m.

The Board will reopen its meeting after the executive session for action on personnel matters and for miscellaneous matters.

personnel, Savage River residents, and WRA officials concerning Savage River.

The commissioners authorized payment of $2,360 to the Eastern Garrett County Recreation Association for construction of a community park at Finzel. The payment was in accordance with terms of a previous agreement in which the county was to match the amount of funds raised by the Association, not to exceed $5,000.

The Association representatives noted they were proceeding with arrangements for grading work at the park site.

Dr. Frank Custer of the Maryland Department of Agriculture and Gary Mullich, building manager, met with the commissioners to discuss construction of the Animal Health Lab, to be located on a site adjacent to the county animal shelter.

Preliminary requirements and specifications for the building were discussed. A property agreement prepared by the state was reviewed and signed by the commissioners which specified the state and local share in financing the construction of the building.

The commissioners appointed Annie Steyer, Oakland, to replace Marilyn Filemyr as the consumer representative from Garrett County to the governing body of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland. Mrs. Steyer will finish Mrs. Filemyr's term which ends August 31, 1982.

county. Friendsville and Deep Creek volunteer fire departments responded to a house fire Friday evening on White Rock Road, eight miles outside of Friendsville. The blaze broke out at the home of Bertha Federica and relatives Lloyd Casteel and Junior Casteel. Robert Shimer, fire marshal for Allegany and Garrett Counties, stated that the fire was a result of lightning hitting a power line, coming into the home through the line, which set fire to the upstairs of the dwelling. Shimer said the entire second floor was destroyed and the living room of the first floor was severely damaged. Firefighters were able to save the contents of two bedrooms on the first floor. The three residents of the dwelling are elderly people, he said, and they had no insurance.

The two fire companies arrived at the home about 11:30 p. m., and returned to their stations about 2:30 a.m. They were called out three and one half hours later when the house rekindled, and remained on the scene about an hour. Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad was on stand-by, and the Garrett County Air Cascade was on hand at the scene. Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications.

On Sunday two barns were destroyed by fire, after they were struck by lightning. Two persons were treated and released at Frostburg Community Hospital, where they were taken by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. The injuries were reported at the Roy Garlitz residence, Avilton-Lonaconing Road, when lightning struck, blew out appliances in the house, and entered the electrical system. Lightning also struck the Garlitz barn, setting it on fire. The identity of the two injured was not available.

Grantsville and Eastern Garrett Volunteer Fire Companies found the barn involved in flames upon their arrival. Bittinger Fire Company was on stand-by. Garrett County Central Alarm received the call about 5:41 p.m., and firefighters returned to their stations at 9:43 p.m. The barn was destroyed, as was the farm machinery it housed.

A barn belonging to Allen Jack Teats, Gravel Hill Road, Friendsville, burst into flames about 8:40 p.m., on Sunday, after it was hit by lightning. Friendsville and Accident Volunteer Fire Companies responded, with Deep Creek Fire Company and Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad on stand-by. Garrett County Central Alarm handled communications. The residents were not at home at the time of the fire. In addition to the barn, hay and a calf were damaged in the blaze. Firefighters were out until nearly 11 p.m.

Accident Volunteer Fire Department responded to an electrical pole fire, the result of lightning, on the town hill on Sunday at 8:07 p.m. Firefighters were out about one half hour.

Frantz stated that a tornado warning was in effect Friday night, as the National Weather Service determined the severe storm conditions were favorable for tornadoes, but no twisters were sighted. A tornado warning was issued Sunday, and a severe storm watch was in effect on Monday evening. Winds Monday reached speeds of 35 to 40 miles per hour, however, there were no reports of damage. Frantz stated that the storm season seems more severe and longer than usual this year, perhaps due to an unusually hot and humid summer.

Pinball Machine Licensing Efforts Prove Successful

The County commissioners recently noted success in their attempt to gain compliance with a state law requiring licensing of coin-operated amusement machines.

Bill Smith, county licensing and permit investigator, reported to the commissioners Tuesday, August 5 that in the past two weeks 38 coin-operated machines had been licensed.

The commissioners had resolved at their July 22 meeting that as of August 1 any unlicensed machine would be confiscated from its owner.

Smith reported that there were still approximately ten unlicensed machines in the county and that he was working to confiscate those machines.

In other business, the commissioners denied a rezoning petition by H.M.S. Associates of Crofton. The petitioners were requesting exclusion of a 19-acre parcel of land near Deep Creek Lake from the Deep Creek Watershed zoning ordinance.

The commissioners established a unified county policy for reimbursement of travel expenses for county employees. They ordered all county employees to support requests for reimbursement of travel while on official business with receipts not to exceed $18 per day for meals and incidentals. The employees must also be in travel status for a minimum of four hours to be reimbursed for meals.

Four Promoted At Bausch & Lomb

Jerry Andrews

Steve Bruckey

Thomas Whiteman

Stephen Reese

Pat Fischetti, Plant Manager at Bausch & Lomb, Incorporated, Mt. Lake Park, announces the promotion of Jerry Andrews, Steve Bruckey, Thomas Whiteman, and Steve Reese. The moves are a part of the plant's expansion, which will bring additional bifocal lens manufacturing to the Mt. Lake Park facility.

Jerry Andrews, who previously held the position of Department Manager in Kryptok (Bifocal) Manufacturing, will be manager of a newly formed Countersink-Match-and Fusing Department. Andrews, a native of Camden, N. Y., has been employed by Bausch & Lomb since October, 1961. Since that time he had held various management positions. He transferred to the Mt. Lake Park Plant in 1971 to assist the plant start-up. He currently resides in Gortner with his wife, Marion, and two children, Keith and Kimberly.

Andrew "Steve" Bruckey joined the company in April of 1971 and has served in numerous capacities in the Toric Manufacturing Department, his most recent appointment being the manager in 1978. His new position will be Department Manager of Semi-Finish (Bifocal) Manufacturing. This department is also new as a result of the company's expansion program. Bruckey lives in Shallmar with his wife, Debbie, also a Bausch & Lomb employee, and their daughter, Julie.

Thomas Whiteman will assume the position of Department Manager of the Toric Manufacturing Department. Whiteman's previous assignment was as Assistant Department Manager of Final Inspection, where he has held supervisory positions since 1971. He currently resides in Sang Run with his wife, Ruby, and their children, Candy, Jamie and Michelle.

Stephen Reese has been promoted to the position of Department Manager of Disc Manufacturing, a new department. Reese joined the company in 1971 and has held numerous supervisory positions during his nine years with the company. He currently lives in the Oakland area with his wife, Denise, also a Bausch & Lomb employee.

GRAND CHAMPION BABY BEEF — Kriss Hinebaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hinebaugh, is shown here with his 1,180 lb. crossbred steer, which he sold last week at the Garrett County Agricultural Fair, Baby Beef Sale. Garrett National Bank purchased the champion animal for $826. Kriss is a member of the Red House 4-H Club, and has exhibited a beef at the Garrett County Fair for five consecutive years. Dale Rodeheaver and Fred Glotfelty, members of the Board of Directors at Garrett National were on hand to present the steer as a donation to Hobart Bowser of the Accident Fire Company, and Don Bender, representing the Kitzmiller Fire Company.

GCC Adjusts Tuition Rates

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees has been obliged to modify the costs of tuition starting with the 1980 Fall Semester, according to Bill Ewing, Director of Admissions.

The changes include an increase for full-time in-county students and a decrease for part-time in-county students. Full-time local students, those carrying twelve or more credit hours, will be increased to $168 per semester as compared to $150 in the past. Part-time students will pay $14 per credit hour, a decrease of one dollar per hour. The tuition for part-time students has been reduced in order to attract larger numbers of adults to the College, Ewing said.

The tuition for out-of-county Maryland full-time students will be raised to $360 per semester from $300. Part-time tuition remains at $30 per credit hour.

Out-of-State students will continue to pay $66 per credit hour.

Students who qualify for financial aid will receive increased amounts of assistance to offset higher tuition costs, Ewing said.

Firefighter Course Schedule Is Noted

The University of Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute has recently released a list of field courses to be taught in Garrett County during the 1981 fiscal year. Firemen are being urged to determine which courses they intend to take, and to preregister by calling contact persons connected with each course.

A basic firefighters' course will begin October 15 at 7 p.m. at the Deep Creek Lake Volunteer Fire Department. The class will be held every week on Wednesday. The contact person and instructor is Robert Rudy, and persons interested in taking the course may reach him at 334-2325 or 334-2654.

Special fire courses will begin in September. On September 8 a course taught by Robert Shimer will begin in Oakland. The contact person for this course is Robert Rudy.

On September 10 a similar course will be taught by Robert Shimer in Bloomington. The contact person will be Leon Marple, who can be reached at 359-9046.

Children's Home Reunion Planned

A reunion will be held this Saturday and Sunday for all children, workers, teachers, and all of their families, or anyone affiliated with the former Amish-Mennonite Children's Home near Grantsville.

The Mennonite Children's Home was founded in 1913 by Mr. and Mrs. Noah Brenneman at their home near Bittinger. Three years later it was moved to Grantsville, at which time a new building was provided by the Conservative Amish Mennonite conference, under the supervision of the Maple Glen Church. The home officially closed its doors in 1938.

This will be the fourth reunion held. The event will take place at the Maple Glen Mennonite Church, located next to the former children's home, now the Goodwill Mennonite Home.

All persons associated with the home should arrive at the reunion between 9 a.m. and 12 noon. A meal will be served at noon, followed by informal gathering and socializing from 1 until 4:30 p.m. A second meal will be served at 5 p.m., and beginning at 6 p.m., activities will be open to the public. At 7 p.m. a program will be presented by former home residents.

Sunday's activities will begin with Sunday School at 9:30 a.m., followed by church services at 10:30 a.m. A meal will be served at 12 noon, followed by fellowship.

Daniel Puffinburg of Springs, Pa., is in charge of reunion plans. His phone number is 1-814-662-2806.

Rainbow Girls To Elect Officers

There will be election of officers at the August 18 meeting of the Rainbow Girls, Oakland Assembly #. 8.

The Grand Reception will be held August 23, 1980, at 7:00 p.m. All Master Masons and Eastern Star members are welcome. Regular meetings of the Rainbow Girls will be every first and third Monday of each month for the entire year. The girls are presently selling candy as a fund raising project. Girls between the ages of 12 and 20 who are interested in Rainbow, or have questions concerning Rainbow, should contact Charee Reckner at 826-8603.

Wall Cave-In Injures Youth

A nine-year-old Bradley Manor girl remains in satisfactory condition in the pediatric ward of Garrett County Memorial Hospital after sustaining injuries when a section of wall fell on her Thursday afternoon.

Carrie James was in the shower room at the Bradley Manor pool at the time of the accident. Though no official word has been released on the cause of the wall fall, some persons present at the scene suspect the girl may have been scaling the six foot wall when the upper portion of the wall broke free pinning her under it.

Miss James' injuries included cuts to her legs and right hand and a broken ankle.

The Southern Garrett Rescue Squad responded to the scene and transported the victim to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Hutton Residence Damaged By Fire

Oakland firefighters were called to a house in Hutton, owned by Dave Lantz, on Saturday evening after passersby noticed smoke coming from the frame structure. Garrett Central dispatched the Oakland Fire Department at 9 p.m. and firefighters discovered fire within the interior walls of the house, believed to have been started by a wiring problem. Fire damage was confined to three walls, however, there was smoke damage throughout the house.

First assistant chief Milton Fike stated that the fire may have been the result of a staple cutting through some wiring within the wall.

Fire personnel remained on the scene for approximately one hour. The equipment truck from the Southern Rescue Squad also responded. There were no injuries.

A DREAM COME TRUE — A living memorial to the land and its people has been realized in the construction of the Great Meadows Amphitheatre, a visible tribute to many who realized the value of the rich heritage surrounding the site of Great Meadows and Fort Necessity, a turning point in American history. Planning began in 1964 by Dr. William B. Hindman, a local historian and authority on George Washington. In later years, Rex Carter, a former Fayette County, Pennsylvania, farm agent and regional historian, led the quest for realization of the dream of Pennsylvania's first outdoor amphitheatre. These two men, along with countless others, worked more than fifteen years to help complete this massive tribute to their memory. Both men died before the completion of their dream, but the realization will live forever in the hearts and minds of those who come there. A fitting tribute to these men is "Young Washington", Pennsylvania's only outdoor historical drama. The drama is currently being performed nightly, except Monday. See review below.

Young Washington . . .
More Than A Page From History

by Carol Kapel

Within an hour's drive of Garrett County, lovers of history and the true heritage of our country will find awaiting a unique dramatic tribute to America's first real hero.

'Young Washington', Pennsylvania's only historical outdoor drama, is performed in the Great Meadows Amphitheatre, an outdoor extravaganza that nearly defies description. The spectacular view of the mountains surrounding the very site of the ill-fated battle of Fort Necessity, combined with the spirit, enthusiasm, and determination of young George Washington, totally captures the audience, allowing it to see and experience the actual making of history.

The story is not of Pennsylvania history alone, but rather, events that changed the face of America forever.

The characters of Washington, portrayed by Anthony Newfield, Half-King and his daughter, Bright Lightning, the Indian allies portrayed by Ron Culbreth and Cathy Sessions, and Ben Franklin, aptly played by Del Austin, lend depth and meaning to the severe damage suffered through mis-calculations by Washington's troops during the events leading up to the forced surrender.

The costumes (160 in all) immediately transport the audience to the times and culture of the 18th century in Colonial America. The music blends originality with authenticity, creating a remarkable illusion, heightening the tension of the drama.

In the second act, Washington and General Braddock, whose character literally comes alive through the graphic portrayal of Jim Maddux, meet for the first time. The events that lead the audience through the final months of the French and Indian skirmishes tell the true story as no schoolbook text can ever hope to accomplish.

A word must be said for the production personnel, who assist in the deliberate execution of environmental change, the costume designers, and stage management staff. The blendings of these individuals, so practiced in music, lighting, and choreography design, leaves nothing to the imagination; in fact, enhances the reality of the drama.

It has often been said that great figures of history cannot be successfully portrayed in the theatre because everyone has preconceived ideas as to how they should appear and act. An evening spent under the stars in the magnificance of the Great Meadows Amphitheatre will convince the viewer to the contrary.

Tickets to 'Young Washington' may be purchased at the door, or reserved by telephone at 412-329-8562. Reserved seats are $6.00 for adults, $3.00 for children under 12, and $5.00 general admission. Any seat in the amphitheatre offers an excellent overall view of the stage and the many scenes of activity throughout the production. The amphitheatre is located adjacent to Fort Necessity, Route 40, 12 miles east of Uniontown, Pa. It is an evening of entertaiment well worth the drive and the cost for each and every member of the family. The performance begins at 8:30 p.m., with a short musical interlude at 8:15. You won't want to miss this experience.

There are more chickens in the world today than people, and the number of chickens is growing faster than the human population, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Oakland High Class Of '30 Holds Reunion

The Oakland High School Class of 1930 held its 50th year class reunion on August 2 at the Will O'the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Thirty-three persons attended, including 16 class members and four teachers.

John Stevenson, Richmond, Va., served as master of ceremonies and the welcome was given by Sara Stanton Wine. Bettie Gonder Lawton conducted the memorial service, Jackie Lockyer Elias introducted teachers and guests and Helen Sollars Friend gave the invocation.

Other class members present included Gladys Tasker Brickford, Willoughby, Ohio; Leona Browning Hampton, Hudson, Fla.; Lucille Sembower Ball, Brandywine; Bernadette Maffett White, Mechanicsville, Va.; Virginia Weeks Hardesty, Lovettsville, Va.; Richard Davis, Oakland; Geraldine Nordeck Glotfelty, Oakland; Thelma Wolfe, Oakland; Willa Harvey Speicher, Sand Flat; Mildred Stemple Alstetter, Oakland and Bernard Gonder, Oakland.

Teachers present were Pat Brookhart, Oakland; Rose Gisriel, Mt. Lake Park; O. T. Graser, Oakland; and Eva Bishoff, Accident.

Jackie Elias won the door prize and each graduate and teacher present received a key chain with his or her picture inserted from 1930 yearbook.

Mrs. N. A. Reams Birthday Observed

A birthday celebration was held Sunday, August 10, in honor of Mrs. N. A. Reams, Swallow Falls. Mrs. Reams was born on August 8, 1882. A family picnic was held at her home to mark the occasion.

Family members and friends from Oakland, Kitzmiller, Accident, and Shinnston, W. Va., attended the affair.

WHY WAIT?
5 SOLID REASONS FOR BUYING AND FINANCING A HOME RIGHT NOW

1. Savings have been coming in rapidly here so plenty of money is available to finance your home purchase.
2. You need a home, perhaps larger or smaller than you now have, because your family is outgrowing your present one — or because a job promotion or job change may call for a different neighborhood — or because you are retiring — or for some other good reason.
3. You want a home all your own — that you can afford to improve, when you wish, for greater livability, and where you can be happy to entertain and to raise your family.
4. At the rate construction labor and material costs have been rising, the home you buy or build today will cost more later.
5. We offer you the best mortgage financing available — with repayment terms worked out to fit your income.

Let Us help you finance a home of your own... it's the best investment you can make.

Local Golfers Participate In Benefit Tourney

A golf tournament for the benefit of the Maryland Epilepsy Foundation was held Sunday afternoon at the Oakland Golf Course with numerous local players participating.

The winners of the mixed pair tourney were Dish Cogley and Phyllis White, who shot a 65. June Archambeault and Willis Shaffer, along with the team of Martha Lou Ashby and Gary Daniels tied for second, carding 67s.

There was a four-way tie for third, including the teams of Mary Pollock and Bud Vanucci, Ruth Durst and Bob King, June Bray and Harold Ashby, and Diane Kennedy and Jim White, all shooting a 68.

Caryl Doe and Gig Sylvester shot a 69, followed by Elda Whetsell and Milford Beckman with a 70 and Ruby Sylvester and John Archambeault with a 72.

Fishing Contest Winners Named

Oakland's Hopes For First Place Are Dashed By Everett, Tri-Towns

The Oakland team of the Pen-Mar League saw its hopes dashed this weekend for a first place finish in the southern division as it dropped three straight games. The first loss was a make-up game with Everett on Saturday, 6-2. On Sunday, Oakland met division leader Tri-Towns in Westernport for a doubleheader and was defeated 10-1 and 7-4. The losses dropped Oakland to third place in the division for the final regular season standings. Tri-Towns finished with a 24-5 record, followed by Bel Air, with a 22-7 record, and Oakland, at 21-8.

In the first game against Tri-Towns, Mark O'Reilly swatted a two-run homer and Don Raines hit a two-run single, both in a six-run second inning that carried Tri-Towns to a 7-4 triumph.

Rick Wilkinson bested Mark McCarty as Phil Cook went four-for-four for the winners.

Oakland made it a game in the seventh inning when Corky Sweitzer and Craig Cumberworth smacked round trippers during a three-run rally.

Bobby Raines tossed a one-hitter for five innings in the second contest, while Rick O'Reilly and Don Raines hit two-run singles during a nine-run second inning. The game was called due to rain in the fifth inning.

Randy Cirillo was the only Oakland player to connect, reaching on a single in the first inning.

Oakland will face Hyndman this Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at Donahue field in Cumberland for the opener of tournament play. Should Oakland win that contest, they would face Island Creek on Sunday at 1 p.m. and, again if successful, they would meet Tri-Towns at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

In other post-season action, Tri-Towns will face northern division leader, Everett, on August 30 and 31 to determine the overall league champion.

Western Maryland Tennis Tourney Finalists Named

The winners of the Western Maryland Tennis Championships, which were held July 30-August 3, were announced this week, with the exception of the men's doubles competition, the finals of which have not yet been played.

The 59th annual tournament was sponsored by the Mt. Lake Park Tennis Club and play was conducted on numerous courts throughout the county, with the finals of several categories held in Rawlings. There were over 100 entrants in the tournament, which is one of the nation's oldest sanctioned amateur clay tourneys.

Dr. Ray Lake, of Bethesda, took the men's finals on August 4 at the Mt. Lake Park courts by stopping Kevin Manning, of Arlington, Va.

Beth Miller, of Wheeling, was the victor over Corky Pardew, Baltimore, to earn the women's singles trophy.

In the senior men's, 45 and over, Mickey Pardew, Baltimore, won the final match over Jim Benton, of the Washington, D. C. area.

Pardew also made it into the finals of the senior men's, 55 and over, but was defeated by Fred McNair, Chevy Chase.

Mike and Bob Barnes, of Chevy Chase and Hampsted, will face Harry Hipps, of the Washington area, and Dr. Ray Lake in the men's doubles finals, probably within the next week.

The senior men's doubles competition was won by Chuck Atherton and John Myers, both of the Washington area and Deep Creek Lake, after defeating Earle Brown, Bethesda, and Tucker White, Winchester, Va.

In mixed doubles, it was Beth Miller and Harry Hipps over Steve Gill and Cathy Tyler, both of the Washington area, in a thriller that went three sets and 15-13 in the final set.

Ladies' Golf Association News

The Oakland Country Club Ladies' Golf Association had No Penalty Day on August 7, with Marianna Naylor and Pat Filsinger having low gross scores of 89.

Low net scorer was Mary Peterson, with a 71. Second low gross was Deb Daniels with 93, and second low net score went to Karen Browning and Tommie Wilson, with 72 each.

Deep Creek Realty
CASH PLANNING IMPORTANT
If you are considering the purchase of your first home, you should also consider taking a close look at your financial balance sheet so that your decision will be one of pleasure rather than pain.
Items to take into consideration are, first and foremost, the down payment, settlement fees and moving costs. These will make the biggest dent in your savings. You should have enough margin to draw on for such items as furniture, carpeting, storm windows, etc., if needed.
After figuring what your mortgage payments will be, don't forget to add on the cost of utilities and services that may be included in the rent you are now paying.
FHA and VA mortgages, if available, can be used to keep the down payment low. And don't be shy about asking your Realtor to spell out all the closing costs in advance—on paper. Financial surprises—you don't need!

Garrett County Cancer Tennis Tourney Slated

Numerous local tennis players, as well as some non-the Camerican Cancer Society Tournament of Garrett County, to be held this weekend at the Mt. Lake Park Tennis Club courts. Registration for the tourney is still being accepted and persons interested should contact Jack Jones at Marvin's Men's Wear in Oakland. in Oakland.

Some of the local players include Alex Grant and James DeGrafft, who went to the finals in doubles at the Rawlings Cancer Tournament in July.

Barry Garris and Fred Pratt recently played in the Rawlings Clay Tournament.

Dale Sweitzer and Sonny Riggs will be playing in their fourth area tournament. Riggs has notched two semi-finals in singles and, teamed with Sweitzer, has reached the semi-finals twice in doubles. They have played in the Allegheny Open, The Rawlings Cancer tourney, the Western Maryland Championships and the Rawlings Clay Open.

The top seed in this weekend's tournament is Al Pico, the number one ranked player at Prince Georges Community College and the number two ranked player in the JUCO of Maryland.

The tournament will be officiated by David DeGrafft, who is president of the Mt. Lake Park Tennis Club. DeGrafft is recognized as a tournament official by both the USLTA and MALTA and has recently officiated the matches of Ilie Nastase and Eddie Dibbs.

The clay courts at Mt. Lake Park, which are owned by the Mt. Lake Tennis Club, recently hosted the 59th annual Western Maryland Championships, one of the oldest sanctioned clay tournaments in the United States. The club dates back to the turn of the century.

Dairy Sale Set For Tomorrow

Robert H. Miller, president of Garrett Holstein Club announced that their annual Production Dairy Sale will be held at the McHenry Fairgrounds on Thursday, August 14, starting at 7:00 p.m.

Sale Manager, Ezra Yoder, related that 40 registered Holsteins will be auctioned by Clark A. Yoder, with pedigrees being read by Oren C. Bender.

The cattle will be on display at the fairgrounds during the day of the sale. A chicken barbecue will be served at 5:00 p.m. Garrett diarymen who need good production animals to build their fall milk base are encouraged to attend, by Mr. Miller.

Proceeds from the Garrett Holstein Production Sale are used to conduct educational dairy activities for adults, as well as 4-H/FFA youth.

The GARRETT COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

Tonight the Playhouse opens its sixth show of the season, Neil Simon's charming "Barefoot in the Park." This bright and witty comedy about newlyweds suffering from the seven-day itch launched a number of spectacular careers—those of Simon himself as well as of Robert Redford and Elizabeth Ashley in the original New York Production.

The leads in this hysterical romance will be played by Gerry McLaughlin and Laurie Daniels. Featuring Joan Statkus and Milburn Mehlhop and directed by Cather MacCallum, "Barefoot in the Park" will play through Saturday. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

All theatregoers are urged to make reservations through Englander's, Proudfoots or Gregg's pharmacies in Oakland. Reservations will be honored until 8:20 on performance nights.

Next week, see Herb Gardner's fabulous success, "A Thousand Clowns," August 20 through 23.

KITZMILLER

The seventh reunion of the descendants of the late Mary Grayson and Howard Evans was held recently at the home of Bernadine Evans George in Swanton. Approximately 36 people attended the event, from North Carolina, Indiana, Maryland and West Virginia.

The 30th annual Glass Reunion was held at the Pleasant Valley 4-H Center on Sunday, August 3. Approximately 46 people attended the event, from Maryland, West Virginia and Ohio. The oldest man present was Jack Lowman, and Ann Ross was named the oldest woman. Evelyn Bartell traveled the farthest distance to attend the event, and the Adams family was named the largest family at the reunion. James Olva Knotts was the youngest person present, and the oldest married couple was Olive and Jack Lowman. Maria and Bob Venlito were named the youngest married couple.

Library Corner

The Grantsville Branch of the Ruth Enlow Library will host a reading club party on Monday, August 18, at 1 p.m. Prizes and certificates will be distributed and two movies, entitled "Bob A Job" and "Sam, Bangs and Moondisco."

Youth Arrested For Breaking And Entering

State Police have arrested a 17-year-old juvenile and charged him with breaking and entering, and attempted breaking and entering.

According to police reports, C. F. Ritter, Jr., Ellicott City, discovered food missing, and evidence of someone living in his summer cabin located along Mosser Road. The Andre Fortin summer home, located next door, also had damage reported to the rear entrance, but actual entry was not evident.

The youth is awaiting proceedings in juvenile court.

Develop Your Managerial Skills During Good Weather

At

FROSTBURG STATE COLLEGE

All fourteen courses in our Masters of Science in Management (MSM) are offered in each of our three fourteen week semesters. The Spring Semester (January-April), however, is notorious for its snowy weather and poor local driving conditions. If those driving conditions turn you off, but you still want to develop yourself as a manager, consider the following.

- You can enter our MSM program in either the Summer Semester (May-August) or the Fall Semester (September-December) and not be at any disadvantage with respect to course sequencing.
- You can skip the Spring Semester—bad weather and driving time—and still not be at any disadvantage with respect to course sequencing.
- We offer our courses at 6:00-8:20 p.m., and 8:30-10:50 p.m. That means you can take two courses in one evening, further reducing your time away from your other responsibilities.
- Our students are all working full-time, most of them in positions requiring management skills. That means you have the opportunity to learn how others are solving similar problems.
- Our faculty are practicing managers in a variety of organizations. That means you get real world applications of management training.
- Our tuition is $55 per credit hour (42 credit hours in the program).

Why not write or call for information about our Fall Semester, September 2 - December 11.

Bloomington Dam Project Nearing Completion

by Kathy Railey

The estimated $170 million Bloomington Dam and Lake Project, located in Garrett and Mineral counties, is now approximately 80 percent completed and is scheduled to be fully operational in the fall of 1981. The massive structure was authorized by the Flood Control Act of 1962, and is designed and supervised by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. When originated, the dam was the third largest East of the Mississippi, but has since been surpassed in size by other projects. When completed, the dam will serve towns along the Potomac River, from Bloomington to Washington, D. C., in providing water quality improvement, water supply and flood control.

Nine years of research, public opinion, real estate transactions, tests and ground work went into the project, followed by six years of re-location and preparation to begin work on the rolled earth and rock dam. The project required the purchase of 4,500 acres of land, located between Bloomington, Kitzmiller and Elk Garden, W. Va., and the relocation of about 200 people. Russell Newman, Assistant Area Engineer, stated that the project has been "a boom to the area economically," as the project emp'oys 400-600 people, at least 80 percent local.

The project is natural, located in the ideal dam setting, said Newman, and the construction is remarkably self-sufficient. Every detail is checked and double-checked, projections and estimates figured and re-figured, and all Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Natural Resources, and other guidelines are met, sparing no expense. The project is funded yearly.

"The dam is designed for the maximum flood of record, a safety factor is added, and an ultimate safety factor is added on top of that," said Newman. For instance, one of the numerous phases of the project is an Emergency Overflow Spillway, 210 feet long, constructed in a notch in the side of a hill, lower than the dam. The anticipated frequency of use of the spillway is once in 250 years. It was built because any water travelling over the dam will erode the structure and damage towns, and, as Newman expressed it, there is no way of knowing when that "once in 250 years" will occur.

The Bloomington Dam was originally authorized by Congress to provide water supply for Washington, D. C. and other areas, and for flood control. Water quality control later entered into the picture, due to an increase in mine drainage. The dam will improve the quality of water, not by the use of chemicals, but through an intake control tower which will run from the bottom of the lake to the top, 330 feet high. The tower has five intake levels and is designed to selectively withdraw water as the acid seeks its level, store it, and release the acid over a long period of time, for instance, one year, to send consistent, high quality water downstream.

The tower will contain instruments on each level to measure temperature, turbidity, PH, etc., and will also be used to store spring run-off, and let it out when the river is much lower, to provide a consistent water supply. When heavy rains are anticipated, the lake can be drawn down for a place to store the surge, thus providing flood control. The selective drawing dam will reduce anticipated downstream flood damage estimated at $9 million per year, said Newman. This is 46 percent of the average annual flood damages along the North Branch of the Potomac River. The dam will average out the flow of the river, and will help industry, said Newman.

Water will be released from the intake tower through a tunnel which travels around the dam. The tunnel is cut through the rock in the right abutment, is lined with 18-inch thick concrete, is over 16 feet in diameter and measures 1619 feet in length. Two slide gates will control the flow through the tunnel, which will open into a stilling basin. A rolled earth and rock-fill dike, 900 feet long, with a maximum height of 90 feet, will be constructed across the low area of the left abutment.

Work on the actual dam did not begin until 1977, following extensive relocation of W. Va. Route 46, railroads, power lines, gas lines, the river and other obstructions. Sediment control ponds, used to filter and dilute impurities, were also constructed for the present river water flow, in accordance with EPA standards.

Portions of W. Va. Route 46 have been improved and new sections have been added to conform with the design of the dam and reservoir. Three miles of the highway have been relocated, costing six and one half million dollars. A new roadway is being constructed to run to an overlook at one end of the dam.

About 12.5 miles of railroad were relocated. Relocation of the railroad began in June, 1971, and was completed in November, 1975. The railroad phase of the project required several miles of cutting into the side of a hill, to raise the tracks above the reservoir. Newman stated that the railroad work alone amounted to an excess of $34 million.

A 175-foot high railroad bridge was constructed at Elk Lick Run as part of the Bloomington Dam project, and the river was diverted, because it was required that the dam be built in a dry valley. The river will be diverted once more, said Newman.

The area of construction is vast and complex, and guidelines are strict. Therefore, many preparatory "mini" projects were launched before work on the dam itself. The "mini"

TRANSPORTING, DUMPING AND PACKING of rock and earth are continuous activities at the Bloomington Dam site, as approximately eight zones are being constructed with exact precision and planning. The activity will continue until the estimated completion of the project, the fall of 1981. When completed, the dam will measure 2,130 feet in length and will rise a maximum of 296 feet above the stream bed. The layers of various sizes and types of rocks are for drainage, filtering, stability, slope protection, and protection from earthquakes and sliding. The center core of the dam is impervious to water, constructed of firmly packed clay. The volume of the completed structure will be nearly one million cubic yards. Conducted tours take visitors directly out onto the dam.

EMERGENCY OVERFLOW SPILLWAY IS ADDED PRECAUTION — This enormous structure was built lower than the dam, to be used as an outlet in the event of an emergency overflow. The estimated use of the spillway is once in 250 years, however it was constructed as an added precaution against water traveling over the dam, which would result in erosion and the loss of towns. Russell Newman, Assistant Area Engineer, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, stated that the dam is built for the maximum flood of record, with extreme safety precautions added. The spillway may never be used, however, it is not known when the "once in 250 years" will occur.

CONVEYOR SYSTEM DEMONSTRATES SELF-SUFFICIENCY — A conveyor belt is utilized at the job site to transport rock from the quarry to the dam, the cleared area pictured upper right. The quarry covers 80 acres of land, where the rock is dynamited, poured into a sophisticated crushing system, then emptied onto the conveyor to travel over one half mile to its destination. The conveyor is monitored by closed circuit television, and the rocks are separated by size into two bins at the bottom, then loaded into massive trucks and carried onto the dam. All rocks must meet sizing requirements for the various layers of the dam. Pictured in the background, top center, is a railroad bridge constructed as one phase of the project, in conjunction with 12.5 miles of railroad relocation.

THE MAJOR CONTROL CENTER of the Bloomington Dam is the intake control tower, pictured above, which is near completion. The tower will serve many useful purposes, including water quality control, flood control, and water supply, as it will selectively draw water from the reservoir through five intake portals. The tower will have the capacity to store water when necessary, and to store acid as it seeks its level, then to release it over an extended period of time. When completed, the tower will measure 330 feet in height, and will run from the bottom of the lake to the top. A service bridge is extended out to the tower, to be used by two persons who will live on site and man the tower 24 hours a day. The tower opens into a tunnel cut in the rock of the hillside.

Bloomington Dam

projects, however, would appear to be of major importance, some quite large and involved, and constructed in a precise and detailed manner.

One such preparation is the project's own quarry, indicating prudent, economic use of available materials at the site. Within the land purchased by the Army Corps of Engineers, 80 acres were stripped off to form a quarry to supply such materials as sandstone and shale for dam construction. Newman stated that about 10 million cubic yards of materials will come from the quarry, but the amazing part is how the materials get to the dam.

Dynamite is used to break the rock initially, and larger pieces are then broken to meet sizing requirements. The rock is transported by trucks and poured into a large bell-shaped bin with a "clapper" used to further crush the stone. The rocks leave the bin on a conveyor belt, which runs more than one half-mile down a mountainside to the dam site. At the end of the conveyor, the rocks enter a second bin and are sorted into two sizes, emptied into trucks and taken out onto the dam. The conveyor runs continuously, and operators observe its path on closed circuit television, as cameras are placed at various points along the way. This assures workers at the control panel that no problems are developing in the transporting of the rocks. The conveyor system amounted to about one and one half million dollars, Newman said.

The earth and rock dam will measure 2,130 feet in length and will rise 296 feet above the streambed. The dam is being composed of seven or eight zones of various types and sizes of rocks, with each layer serving a specific purpose. Newman indicated that it is difficult to impress upon persons unfamiliar with engineering, how complex the dam structure really is. Weather, temperature, moisture, sizing, packing-down materials properly, and other factors are crucial during the construction of the natural barrier.

The layers of the dam are for drainage, filtering, stability, slope protection and other factors. Earthquakes, sliding, and filter requirements (how rock and earth act when dry or wet) entered into the planning of the earthen dam. The center core of the dam will be impervious, constructed of firmly packed clay. A road will be constructed on top of the dam, which will measure 25 feet in width. Nearly one million cubic yards will make up the volumn of the structure.

Recreation will make up approximately two percent of the project, and areas will be developed and operated by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. High Timbers Camp Area will be one attraction, featuring rather rustic trails and camping sites for tents. A picnic area will be built along the access road into the dam, overlooking the lake, and a boat launching area will be available along relocated W. Va. Route 46. The North Branch of the Potomac will not support fish life, however, hunting will be a major attraction of the area.

The reservoir will be fed by the North Branch and the lake will cover 952 acres in surface area, with a shoreline of 13.6 miles. It will extend upstream from the dam a distance of 5.5 miles measured along the streambed. The lake will be about 2,600 feet wide, 800 feet upstream from the dam, and 1,500 feet wide at the recreation area. For flood control, the lake will have a surface area of 1,184 acres. The reservoir will be more than 250 feet deep. The Maryland-Potomac Water Authority, an agency of the State of Maryland, is contributing funds to cover the initial water-supply costs for the project.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers works out of the Upper Potomac Area Office, located on the job site. This office is a sub-division of the Baltimore District, and is headed by Robert A. Craig, Area Engineer, and Russell Newman, Assistant Area Engineer. The area office is staffed with 25 people, including secretaries, government representatives and inspection personnel. Various phases of the project are under sub-contract with 16 companies, with Perini Corporation constructing approximately one half of the project, said Newman. The Corps of Engineers seldom uses its own equipment and personnel to actually build the projects it is assigned, he said.

The people employed by the various project sub-contractors work two 10-hour shifts, six days a week, toward the project's completion. When the dam is completed, the intake tower will be staffed around the clock with two persons who will live on the site. These people will have access to the tower by way of a bridge, which is off-limits to tourists.

The Army Corps of Engineers, about one percent military and 99 percent civilian, specializes in dam and flood control. The Corps builds for other governments and serves the United States in the areas of civil works and designing and supervising construction for other Department of Defense and Army agencies. All work performed by the corps is designated by Congress, Newman said. The corps is primarily tasked with some form of waterway construction, and to oversee regulatory functions regarding navigable waterways.

During peacetime, the Corps serves the military by constructing hospitals, tanks and other military-related projects. During wartime, the Corps provides communications assistance, beach heads and prepares fields and builds bridges.

Newman stated that the Corps of Engineers conducts free tours of the construction area, upon request. Area residents may be driven around the dam to observe the hundreds of people hard at work, and to picture the vast expanse of the nearly completed dam and reservoir.

A tour of the impressive facilities is both educational and a study of Federal tax dollars being put to a constructive and worthwhile use.

Obituaries

REGINALD L. CASTEEL

Reginald L. Casteel, 77, Accident, died Monday in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Born in Hoyes, he was a son of the late Nathan Hamill Casteel and Sadie Ellen (DeWitt) Casteel. He was employed as an electrician for the Goodyear Tire Company, Akron, Ohio.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Mary I. Forney and Mrs. Martha Glotfelty, both of Accident.

Friends will be received at the Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville, today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the funeral home by Rev. Alva Maust. Interment will follow in the Hoyes Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Merrill Wilburn, Joe Buckel, Hubert Friend, Raymond Klotz, Ronald Rodeheaver and Russell Brenneman.

KING DeLAWDER

King DeLawder, 88, Washington, D. C., died Wednesday, July 30 in Georgetown Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Born in McHenry, he was a son of the late John A. DeLawder and Alice (Glotfelty) DeLawder. Mr. DeLawder owned King DeLawder, Inc., a plumbing company. He was a member of the Master Plumbers Association and Dawson Lodge 16, Washington, D. C. He retired in 1972, after 51 years in the plumbing business.

Surviving are a daughter, Louise McAuliffe, Silver Spring; a sister, Ruth Herbert, Washington, D. C.; four granddaughters and four great-grandchildren.

Services were held in the Joseph Gawler & Sons Funeral Home, Washington, D. C. Interment followed in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Church News

Word and Witness Class will meet at St. John's Church on Thursday evening. Mrs. Leona Yaste is teaching the class.

Mrs. Norma Mitchell is attending the Lutheran Church Women's Convention in Atlanta, Georgia, this week. She is a delegate to the Convention from the W. Pa.-W. Va. Synod.

Bishop Kenneth R. May, president of the W. Pa.-W. Va. Synod is meeting with the joint councils of the three churches of the Bittinger Parish this week to make plans to call a new pastor after Pastor James Mitchell leaves the parish on September 1.

Zion Lutheran Church will observe Holy Communion next Sunday.

Personal Items

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hipsley and son Marc, Mrs. Jean Cape, Cumberland, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keir and family were Monday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buckel.

Mrs. Charles Keir and Mrs. Herbert Buckel were visiting Hazel Klotz in Grantsville last week. Wayne Brenneman was a Monday visitor of the Buckel family.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Perkins, Fayetteville, Arkansas, and two children John and Jamie are visiting Mrs. Perkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buckel this week.

Mrs. Helen Englar, Westminster, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Glotfelty.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brenneman were Mr. and Mrs. James Killius and family, New Stanton, Pa., and Melvin Ash and two children from Gap, Pa. Perry Ash and son, Perry, Jr., were Sunday visitors. All attended the Ash reunion held in the Bittinger Fire Hall on Sunday.

Sally Beachy, Mary Ellen Stemper and Douglas Stemper, College Park, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stanton. Douglas remained for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Maust, Meyersdale, Pa., became the parents of a son, Brent Wayne, on Saturday morning at the Meyersdale hospital. The baby weighed six pounds 15 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pratt, and Miss Mary Lee Cottrill, Wolf Summit, W. Va. and Mrs. Isabel Klotz were Monday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Glotfelty , Mr. and Mrs. Orval Glotfelty and Martha Glotfelty.

Martha Glotfelty attended the DeWitt reunion at Sang Run on Sunday. She visited Mrs. Sam Thomas while in the area.

Graham Family Reunion Noted

The family of the late Frank and Helen Graham held a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilt in Gorman on Sunday, August 10.

Family members and friends from Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Crellin, Terra Alta, W. Va. and Glen Burnie were present.

The oldest Graham present was Victor Graham, who will celebrate his 90th birthday on September 14.

It was planned to make this an annual event. The 1981 celebration will be held on August 30.

State Police Issue Various Traffic Citations

Maryland State Police issued seven traffic citations in the district last week, including one to a pedalcyclist for operating a bicycle without brakes.

John Edward Thomas, 20, Mt. Lake Park, was cited by police last Tuesday when he failed to stop at the intersection of Rt. 135 and 560, running into the side of a vehicle driven by Thomas Franklin Yoder, Seabrook, Ohio. Thomas was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

In a separate incident, Robert Charles Burd, Markleysburg, Pa., was cited by police for driving at speed greater than reasonable and driving on unsafe tires.

Burd's vehicle was northbound on Md. Rt. 42, near the Blooming Rose Road when he ran off the left side of the roadway, striking the guardrail.

Autos driven by Doris G. Feaster, 59, Oakland, and Carroll Patrick Harvey, 19, Deer Park, were involved last Monday in a collision at the intersection of Cross Cut Road and Dennett Road.

According to police, the Feaster auto stopped at the intersection and attempted to make a right turn. She then apparently changed her mind and decided to make a left turn. In so doing, she backed into the Harvey vehicle. Police charged Ms. Feaster with unsafe backing.

An Arlington, Va. woman escaped serious injury last Sunday afternoon when the car she was operating overturned.

Lisa Thurston, 20, was eastbound on Rt. 48 when she lost control, striking the embankment and overturned, coming to rest on its top. Police charged Thurston with negligent driving.

Roger Alan Shaheen, 19, Markleysburg, Pa. was charged by police with reckless and negligent driving stemming from an incident in Friendsville last Saturday night.

According to reports, Shaheen was traveling north on Second Avenue when he ran into the rear of a parked vehicle owned by Garrett Heating Co.

Charges are pending against two drivers involved in a collision last Thursday morning, approximately 2:30 a.m.

According to reports, Roger Allen Johnson, Thomas, W. Va., was southbound on Rt. 219 near Mansfield Road at an apparent high rate of speed when John L. Swiger, 22, Oakland, attempted to make a left turn onto 219, N., pulling directly into the path of the Johnson vehicle.

Country Bluegrass Festival Scheduled

The Frostburg Lions Club is sponsoring the third annual Country and Bluegrass extravaganza on Sunday, September 7, from 1 to 7 p.m.

The event will take place at Hoffman Ball Field, located off Rt. 48 at Exit 34. Follow the signs along Rt. 36 to the field.

Six bands will be featured, offering a variety of musical entertainment.

Advance tickets are available from all area Fox's Pizza Den locations, as well as any participating band members or Frostburg Lions Club members.

Proceeds from the musical extravaganza will benefit the Sight and Hearing Conservation Projects.

Visitors are asked to bring their own chairs. The rain date is set for September 14.

MELLINGER REUNION

The sixteenth Annual Mellinger Reunion will be held on Saturday and Sunday, August 16 and 17, at the John F. Mellinger, Jr. Farm at Swanton, MD.

Saturday is clean-up and work day, with Skeet Shoot competition and Corn Roast in the evening.

Sunday, Lunch at 12 noon, with a day of games and entertainment for all.

All friends and relatives are invited to bring a basket lunch and spend the day.

Browning's Honors Kate Stewart

Browning's Oakland Foodland held a retirement dinner in honor of Mrs. Marcella "Kate" Stewart on August 4, at the Deer Park Fire Department Hall.

The banquet was attended by Mrs. Stewart's family, the management and owners of Browning's Foodland and many of her fellow workers.

Don M. Browning, Chairman of the Board for Browning's Inc., presented Mrs. Stewart with a dozen roses, an engraved watch, and an engraved plaque on behalf of the Browning organization.

Kate had been an employee of the Oakland market for seventeen years and her retirement date of August 1, 1980, was recently dedicated as "Kate Stewart Day".

Health Systems Board Approves Priority Projects

The governing board of the Health Systems Agency (HSA) of Western Maryland, which oversees health care in Allegany, Frederick, Garrett and Washington counties, Thursday approved the priority list for projects submitted for 1981 fiscal year funding to the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC).

The priorities were first set by HSA's governing body at its July 16 public meeting. They will now be sent to the Tri-County Council for Western Maryland, which oversees ARC programs in Maryland's three westernmost counties, for approval.

Those projects included in the priority listing which would benefit Garrett County are as follows:

Ranked first by HSA is administration of the Appalachian health program in Western Maryland. A grant of $120,000 from ARC is requested to pay staff salaries in 1981.

A program ranked third is requested by the Regional Education Service Agency to offer health education to students, grades kindergarten through seven, at schools in Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties. An $88,720 ARC grant is requested.

HSA ranked sixth a $60,000 request by the Garrett County Health Department for a program to educate county residents on heart disease, cancer and stroke.

A request for $38,725 from the Western Maryland Area Agency on Aging for a home care program for older persons in Garrett County was ranked tenth.

The Addison Volunteer Firemen will have a chicken barbeque on Sunday, August 17, at the community building there.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Bender and family were in Middlefield, Ohio, the first weekend in August to attend the wedding of a nephew, Kevin Petersheim, to Melodie Polson. The Benders were in Greenville, Pa., this past Saturday to attend an IW reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Yoder returned to this community after spending a honeymoon trip in the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee, and are residing in their trailer on the farm of Mrs. Yoder's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Oren Bender.

A large number of relatives were recent weekend guests at the Wucik-Darlington home and, along with a number of other friends and relatives from the local area, they attended a surprise birthday dinner and party honoring Mrs. Anna Wucik who was celebrating her 80th birthday anniversary recently at Deep Creek Lodge. Several families unable to attend the party visited with Mrs. Wucik and family at their home that evening and the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary McClintock and sons entertained with a birthday party on Sunday at their home honoring Mrs. McClintock's father, William Burow, Listonburg. A number of other guests were in attendance.

Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bender were Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Brenneman, Accident. Mr. and Mrs. Bender and daughter spent the week at Belleville, Pa., for church conference.

The Cove Homemakers' Club recently met at the home of Miss Emma Krause. Pillow kits were distributed by Misses Alverta and Louise Dillon and they demonstrated a needlework stitch to the group. The members will make the pillows in the coming months. The group discussed plans for an outing. The next meeting will be held Monday, September 22, at the home of Mrs. Randall Harman, Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bender and family were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hershberger, Springs. They were Sunday visitors of Floyd Bender at the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home, Grantsville.

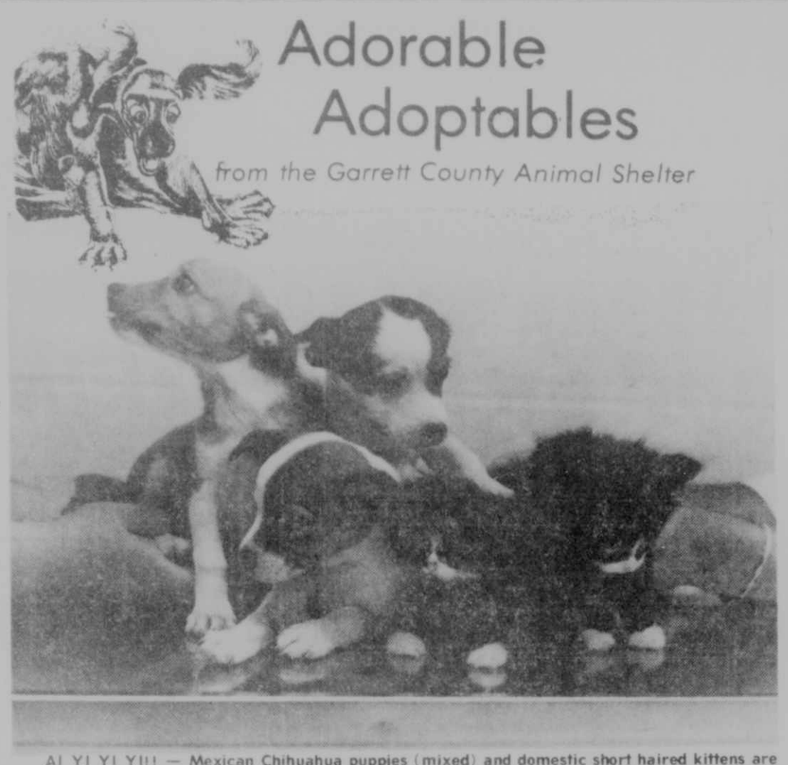

Monday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hockman were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Long and family, Mt. Lake Park. Mrs. Mildred Beeman was a visitor of the Hockmans one day. Mr. and Mrs. Hockman visited with Mrs. Dollie Hunter at Spear's Nursing Home, Markleysburg, Tuesday and Saturday evening. They were Monday visitors of Edward Hachman at Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home, Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft and daughters also visited at the Dennett Road Manor Nursing Home recently with Mrs. Rose Richter and Edward Hachman.

Mrs. Wayne Collier and daughter, Nancy, and Mrs. Walter Hanft were among those attending a dinner at the Will O' the Wisp recently honoring the Farm Queen contestants. Miss Nancy Collier is the 1980 Dairy Princess and presented a skit at the county fair during the Farm Queen contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Paugh and family entertained with a corn roast at their home on Saturday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dale Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Reese, Bruceton Mills, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Rumer and daughters, near Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Don Uphold and family, Oakland; Mike Klier, Mt. Lake Park; Jeanette Glotfelty and Elsie Sullivan, McHenry.

Adorable Adoptables

from the Garrett County Animal Shelter

AI YI YI YI!! — Mexican Chihuahua puppies (mixed) and domestic short haired kittens are planning a fiesta while they wait for you to re-fry your beans, heat up your tamales, and hurry down to the Garrett County Animal Shelter to pick them up! You may call 334-3553 to let them know you're on your way. Last week, one of the puppies was adopted by Robert Burow. The remaining two puppies and the kitten will be available only until this Friday. Won't you call today?

Chip Schwing is spending the week with friends in Minneapolis.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bentz for two weeks' vacation were Mrs. Janet Hill and son, Hurleysville, New York. Last weekend guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Bentz and son, Sykesville; and Mrs. Paul Kahl and family, Randallstown. Donald Kahl spent the week at the Bentz home while Mrs. Kahl and daughter, Carol Ann, visited other relatives.

Misses Alma, Esther and Claudine Opel were Friday visitors of their uncle, Will Opel, Meyersdale.

Guests for a few days of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Margroff were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Terriwillgner, Dayton, Ohio; and Mr. and Mrs. John Strider, Jr., and daughters, Boonsboro.

Mrs. Lawrence Selby spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. Blanche Wright, Akron, Ohio.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Deniker Thursday and Friday were Glen Krause and son, Michael and his friend, Chris Kline, Hagerstown. Mrs. Deniker and Glen were Thursday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Georg, Accident. Weekend guests of the Denikers were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Deniker and family, Mt. Airy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmidt and family were vacationing last week in Louisville, Ky.; Lancaster, Ohio; Danville, Va., and Huntington, W. Va.

Angie Maust was a Sunday dinner guest of Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Maust, Accident.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Richter were Donald and Sheila Edwards Richter, of Baltimore. Sunday dinner guests were Mrs. Edith Butler, Alverta Hileman and Mrs. Ruth Simmons, Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Friend were Tuesday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McCartney, Gans, Pa.

Weekend guests of Mrs. Wilma Brown were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richter, Hagerstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Hockman and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Wiley, Grantsville.

Rev. H. H. Droutz, a former pastor at St. John's Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, attended services there last Sunday and visited members of the church, prior to visiting his son-in-law and daughter at Alexandria, Va. Although he has retired from the ministry, he plans to become a minister to a mission church in Indiana.

Recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Needer, Jr., and daughter, Teresa, Reisterstown, and Joey Wilson, Baltimore. Teresa remained for a few days with the Hanfts while Mr. and Mrs. Needer and Joey Wilson spent a few days at Camp Perry, Ohio, for the National Rifle Association matches. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Needer, Sr., Baltimore; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Needer, Jr., and daughter spent several days at the Hanft home last week and attended the fair. Mrs. Needer and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Hanft were Friday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Friend. Mr. and Mrs. Hanft were Wednesday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Beckman and Mrs. Margaret Friend, Swanton. Mr. and Mrs. Hanft and daughter, Melrose, were recent sightseers at Luray Caverns and other places of interest in Virginia and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Creed Oester and son, Gerrardstown, W. Va. Mrs. Joe Wright, Addison, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Friend and Mr. and Mrs. Hanft and daughter attended the McCartney reunion at the 4-H Camp at Uffington, W. Va. recently. Mr. and Mrs. Hanft and daughters, and granddaughter, Teresa, and Mrs. Wright motored to Baltimore on Sunday, where Juanita returned to her classes at Maryland General Hospital School of Nursing after spending ten days with her parents. Juanita received her senior stripe during ceremonies at the school on Monday. Anna Marie Bowman, Accident, is in the same class and also received her senior stripe. Teresa returned to the home of her parents and Melrose Hanft also remained with the Needers to spend two weeks. Jill Margroff spent a few days at the Hanft home and last Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker, Salisbury, Pa.; and Elmer and Earl Hanft. Melrose Hanft attended the Gifted and Talented Science Program at Camp Hickory for a few days in July, where Miss Betty McClintock was one of the instructors. Elizabeth Hanft attended the Maryland Forestry Board Conservation Camp for a week.

Oakland Sewer

Oakland in September, 1965. This moratorium was possibly ignored during some period of time, he said, and was reinforced in April, 1975. The moratorium was placed on the town because of the lack of a sewage treatment facility, and the town's discharge of raw sewage into the Youghiogheny River.

H. D. Swartzentruber, Mayor of the Town of Oakland, stated that the town is making arrangements to go ahead with a sewage treatment facility, however the type of facility has not yet been determined. The town has employed the services of Franklin Associates to perform the first stage of the project at this time. The company will perform smoke tests on the town's sewer lines, to determine where water is running into the lines, and to detect any leaks in the lines.

Applications for three of the 10 connections allotted were approved to private individuals during the town's regular meeting. Taps will be installed for Barbara Ward, Hope Drive; John W. Holman, Jr., whose application was automatically approved as it concerned the Bradley Run failing septic tank systems; and for Kevin D. Liller for a new building on High Street.

Council moved that a multiple sewer tap application for Vetter Brothers be referred through Garrett County to the State of Maryland for special consideration.

In other business, the council moved that the $100 Perpetual Care originally paid on a town cemetery lot can not be carried over to the next purchaser, but must be repaid at the time of the new purchase by the new owner.

In a separate matter, the council will permit the Street Department to cut down two oak trees which have been struck by lightning, and several wild cherry trees on the cemetery property. The wood will be donated to the Street Department in exchange for their services in this matter.

Council agreed by consensus to permit the cemetery caretaker to purchase a gasoline hedge trimmer for the cemetery for approximately $170.

In other business, council voted six yea, one nay, to set the mileage allowance for Town officials and employees driving a personal vehicle on business, at not to exceed 20 cents per mile. The town clerk was instructed to prepare a travel expense form for employees' use, to be signed by proper officials.

Two Arrested In Bad Check Scheme

Two Pittsburgh, Pa., men were arrested by Maryland State Police and charged with theft by deception.

Eric Vaughn Shearer, 29, and Erich F. Hess, also kown as Neil S. Young, 23, were involved in a worthless check scheme perpetrated in Garrett County.

According to reports, the men opened joint savings and checking accounts at the Garrett National Bank, Grantsville branch. They then made deposits from Hess's personal account drawn on the Mellon Bank in Pittsburgh, made payable to the fictitious Neil S. Young.

After the deposits were made, cash was then withdrawn from the Garrett National account. Those checks written on the Mellon Bank were returned, as the account had been closed, rendering them worthless.

Historic Sites Survey Will Be Outlined Thursday

A meeting has been scheduled Thursday, August 14 at 7 p.m. in the Garrett Community College Auditorium to explain to county residents a survey of historic resources in Western Maryland being undertaken by the Historical Trust in conjunction with the Department of Natural Resources, Maryland Bureau of Mines.

This one-year survey will cover the western portion of Allegany County and all of Garrett County, the first time that a comprehensive survey of the latter county has ever been undertaken by the State Historic Preservation Office.

The survey is part of the State of Maryland's required preservation planning process to determine the location and significance of historic buildings, structures, district and objects potentially affected by coal mining activity in this area. It is undertaken as part of Maryland's compliance with the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977.

The surveyors will assess and document historic resources including dwellings, mining structures, commercial and industrial buildings, and farm outbuildings. From this inventory, the survey team will determine which sites are eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

THANK YOU!

Savage To Host Whitewater Races

By Michael R. Gregory, Forest Naturalist
Maryland Forest Service

If you have never experienced the thrill of whitewater racing you will have the opportunity to witness this sport on August 16th and 17th. On that date the Middle States Division of the American Canoe Association will be sponsoring an international whitewater competition on the Savage River just below the Savage River Dam. If you have been looking for an excuse to come out to Savage River State Forest this is it. Expert canoeists and kayakers will leave you in awe with their skillful maneuvering of their small craft through the swift and turbulent waters of the Savage River. The slalom events will take place on Saturday starting 10:00 a.m. while the wildwater racing will begin at noon on Sunday.

August is a perfect time to visit your state forest. Camping is an especially popular activity at this time of year because the climate is so agreeable. August is typically a dry month with lots of sunshine. With little chance of being rained on and warm days giving way to cool nights, campers find their stays in state forests both pleasant and relaxing.

You can greatly enhance your trips to the forest if you remember to bring your camera along. The scenery at this time of year can be quite beautiful. Late flowering plants such as Oswego tea, Cardinal flowers, and Jewelweeds add vivid splashes of color to the forest landscape. Also, the lush forest growth on steep hillsides accents the rugged beauty characteristic of Western Maryland. The photographs you take of your excursions to the state forest will provide you with pleasant recollections of your summer travels, particularly during the cold winters of Garrett County.

Remember, autumn is not too far away. So take the opportunity to visit Savage River and Potomac-Garrett State Forests during these pleasant summer months.

Kitzmiller School Registration Urged

Parents of children living in the Kitzmiller School area who are interested in having their child attend the new four-year-old classroom program for the coming school term are requested to call the principal of Kitzmiller School to enroll their child, according to Charlene Evans Thomas, Instructional Supervisor.

This class is designed for all children of the Kitzmiller School area who were born during the year 1976. The class is full-day, and is staffed with a certificated teacher, an aide, and a coordinating teacher. Free transportation within the Kitzmiller School area is provided daily.

To receive more information or to enroll, interested persons should call Robert Rentschler at home, 334-4689 (after 5:00 p.m.), or at the Kitzmiller School, 453-3101, during the day.

Dahlgrens Honored At Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahlgren, Highland, California, were guests of honor at a dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Glen O'Brien and family on July 20 at the Deer Park Fire Hall. Approximately 70 relatives and friends from West Virginia, Ohio, Florida and Maryland attended.

Mrs. Dahlgren, the former Mona O'Brien, and her husband, former residents of Garrett County and Akron, Ohio, have been house guests of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien.

Also visiting the O'Briens was Mrs. A. B. Somerville, Gallipolis, Ohio, the former Myrtle O'Brien, sister of Mrs. Dahlgren and Mr. O'Brien.

Promoted By SHA

Maxwell W. DeWitt, Mountain Lake Park, an employee of the Maryland State Highway Administration District 6 since April 1, 1976, has been promoted from Highway Worker II to Motor Equipment Operator II effective July 9, 1980, according to T. W. Beaulieu, District Engineer.

Plans Are Set For Kids' Dog Show

A prize for everyone will be the order of the day at a free Kids' Dog Show to be held at 2 p.m., Aug. 16, 1980 at Hopemont Hospital.

All area children between the ages of 4 and 14 who have a dog are invited to enter. Any dog may compete, regardless of breed, pedigree or professional training, provided it is at least six months old.

The Kids' Dog Show is sponsored jointly as a public service by the National Recreation and Park Association, Ken-L Ration, and Hopemont Hospital. It gives children the opportunity to learn responsible dog ownership while having fun parading their canine friends.

Judging categories are best behaved, funniest, smallest dog, largest dog, best looking, and Best of Show. First, second and third prize ribbons will be awarded to winners in each category, with a Best of Show to be selected from the first place winners. In addition, each entrant will receive a merit award ribbon and a Ken-L Ration dog care booklet.

Entry blanks for the Kids' Dog Show are available at Gregg's Pharmacy, Oakland and Terra Alta, W. Va; Morgans Foodland, Kingwood, W. Va., and Hopemont Hospital. Preregistration is encouraged, but entries will be accepted up to 30 minutes before show time.

For additional information, interested persons should contact Martha Hollis, Activities Department, Hopemont Hospital, 789-2411 Ext. 14.

VEPCO Cited On Pollution Charge

The Environmental Protection Agency has taken action to resolve air pollution problems at Virginia Electric & Power Company's power station in Mount Storm, W. Va.

Stanley L. Laskowski, Acting Director of EPA's Region III Enforcement Division, issued a Notice of Violation to VEPCO for exceeding the visible emission standard of 10 percent opacity, according to a May 14, 1980 monitoring report, Stack No. 1 was emitting discharges of between 10 to 50 percent opacity for about 25 percent of the time. Stack No. 3 violated emissions standards about 18 percent of the time monitored.

Although no penalties are associated with the administrative notice, the EPA administrator may issue an order to comply or initiate court action if the violation goes beyond a 30-day limit.

The regulations being violated are part of the federally approved State Implementation Plan for the Cumberland-Keyser Interstate Air Quality Control Region, according to the EPA.

Index Of Prices Received Climbing

The Index of Prices Received by Maryland farmers for All Commodities continued on an upward swing. At mid-July the index climbed 10 percent (21 points) above mid-June and 8 percent (16 points) above a year ago, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service.

The All Commodities Index was 227 percent of the 1967 base, compared with 206 percent last month and 211 percent a year earlier. The All Crops Index, at 239 percent of the base, was up 9 percent (19 points) from last month and 2 percent from July 1979. The Livestock and Livestock Products index rose 12 percent (123 points) from mid-June and last year.

Prices paid by Maryland farmers for feeds, increased or remained unchanged from a month earlier for all, but bran which was lower in price. Compared with July 1979, bran, middlings and cottonseed meal increased in price, while broiler feed and 16% dairy feed were unchanged. All other feeds showed a decrease in price from last year.

Parachute Jump Competition Set At Camp Dawson

The third annual Harold C. Pierce Memorial Leap Fest will be held at Camp Dawson, Kingwood, WV, on Saturday and Sunday, August 30 and 31.

Sponsored by the West Virginia National Guard's Special Forces Section, Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, the "Leap Fest" consists of airborne parachute teams making jumps from altitudes of approximately 1,250 feet and landing as close as possible to a five-meter X of colorful orange panels. Each jumper will then be required to touch a 20-centimeter disc about the size of a frisbee in the middle of the X.

According to Master Sergeant David W. Wilson, members of airborne units from four states, including Maryland, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and West Virginia, have been invited to participate. Approximately 20 members of the Canadian Airborne Regiment, Petawawa, Ontario, have also been invited to attend. Last year 16 members of the Canadian Airborne Regiment participated, and earned their American Jumpwings.

According to Colonel Anthony P. Romano, Commander of the SF Section, the jump teams will make static line parachute jumps at an altitude of 1250 feet from military helicopters over Camp Dawson. The jumpers will use the MC-1-1 Manueverable (steerable) parachute.

Trophies will be awarded to the first, second and third place team winners, and the first and second individual winners.

The public is invited.

ROUND WE GO

Going around in circles used to be fun. Now it has become the identifying mark of human bewilderment. For millions of people life seems a whirling confusion that takes them nowhere . . .

All religions have one thing in common: they stress the belief that life has purpose which man needs to seek, discover and fulfil. In short, religion is the cure for going around in circles.

Christianity inspires people to seek life's purpose in the love and will of God. When we join with others in the worship and work of our churches we discover goals for living and the spiritual strength to reach them.

When the merry-go-round has ceased to be merry it's time to get off. Yes, and time to get on with purposeful Christian living.

BEYOND THE "AMEN"!

Lesson for August 17, 1980

Background Scripture:
Nehemiah 1 through 6, 8 through 9.
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 122.

There are usually two wrong ways to regard prayer. One is to expect too little of prayer, the other is to expect too much. To be sure, from God's side there are no limits to prayer. But from our side, there are definite limits which we may impose. One of these limits is the practice of asking God to do it all without our help.

Rev. Althouse

In a sense, this may sound like a contradiction of much of what we have been saying these past few weeks, that Israel suffered because the nation did not trust fully enough in God. But God's constant reminder through his prophets that his people should depend upon him was not intended to mean "I'll do it all." God does answer prayer, but one of the greatest effects of prayer always is the changes it brings about in the one who does the praying.

Fasting and Praying

So, there are two basic elements to prayer: the communication that takes place before the "Amen" is pronounced and the changes in thought and deed that follow after it. We see this demonstrated so well in the story of Nehemiah. Learning that the survivors in Jerusalem were in "great trouble and shame," Nehemiah was deeply moved: "When I heard these words I sat down and wept, and mourned for days; and I continued fasting and praying before the God of heaven" (Nehemiah 1:4). This man who held a high position to the Persian King poured out his concern for Jerusalem and its people, and we find his eloquent prayer at the very beginning of the book that bears his name (1:5-11).

But there was to be more than fasting and praying, and something would need to be done beyond saying "Amen." For his prayers not only communicated his concern to God and expressed his trust in God's power to meet this need, they also did something to Nehemiah, so that in time he became part of the answer to his own prayer, getting the king to permit him to return to Jerusalem and take charge of the reconstruction.

"Let Us Rise Up and Build!"

It was this same kind of attitude that enabled Nehemiah to successfully rebuild the walls of Jerusalem. With his challenge ringing in their ears, the people in Jerusalem when they had finished praying, said: "Let us rise up and build," and Nehemiah tells us that "they strengthened their hands for the good work."(2:17,18). Later, he reports: "So we built the wall...for the people had a mind to work" (3:6). And when confronted by jealous enemies who wanted to interfere with their work, Nehemiah and his people met this challenge in the same way: "And we prayed to our God, and set a guard as a protection against them day and night" (3:9).

And they were successful because they knew what went both before and after the "Amen" of prayer.

PROPER SLEEP IS ALWAYS IMPORTANT

With few exceptions, it is not true that the older one gets the less sleep is needed. Older people usually need more sleep to help limit tension, fatigue, dizziness and headaches which senior citizens often get because they may sleep less than seven hours each night.

Once in a while a mild home remedy for sleeping can be helpful. But, if getting to sleep is a constantly recurring problem, you should consult your physician. We have many prescription medicines he may prescribe to better solve your problem.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

About Nutrition

Editor's Note: Few areas of medicine are more basic to health than that of human nutrition, yet the complex interaction of nutrients and body metabolism is only beginning to be understood. Physicians and scientists at the West Virginia University Medical Center are working to develop a unified program in human nutrition that includes new courses for medical students, seminars for practicing physicians and a new visiting professor series on nutrition. To share these advances with the state, WVU faculty are providing this series of interviews on topics of nutrition.

First physician to be interviewed is Dr. Edmund B. Flink, Benedum professor of medicine and former chairman of the department of medicine. His research includes nutritional aspects of alcoholism.

Question: What is the single most important cause of malnutrition in the United States today?

Answer: I believe is alcoholism because of its widespread, varied and serious effects on body metabolism.

Q: How do you define malnutrition?

A: Malnutrition means too little food, the wrong kind of food or lack of certain important nutrients such as minerals and vitamins. Obesity also is malnutrition because too many calories have been consumed.

Q: Is the main cause of malnutrition in alcoholics the substitution of alcohol for nutrition they should receive or is it direct damage to the body, or both?

A: The answer is both because alcohol does not contain nutrients other than calories. An alcoholic satisfies his caloric needs with alcohol and doesn't get enough proteins, vitamins and minerals. In addition, alcohol causes the loss of minerals in the urine, mainly zinc and magnesium but other essential elements as well. However, supplying vitamins, minerals and proteins to the alcoholic does not correct all of this problem.

Q: In other words, one can't keep drinking and just take diet supplements?

A: Absolutely not!

Q: Most people consider alcoholic beverages to be appetite stimulants. A drink before dinner or wine with a meal supposedly increase the appetite. Is this an accurate assessment?

A: There is much folklore about this. The wine industry and those who like wine feel it is definitely an appetizer, but there is no clear scientific evidence to back them up. Wine and beer can enhance the taste of certain foods, but in some instances where appetite stimulation is really needed—as in those suffering from or recovering from serious illnesses—alcohol doesn't seem to do much.

Q: How reversible are the effects of alcoholism? What can be done, and how quickly, if a person stops drinking?

A: All of the symptoms of malnutrition can be reversed if alcohol consumption is stopped. But there are structural changes in the body, particularly in the brain and liver, which are not reversible. Liver cirrhosis and chronic brain damage are devastating effects of long-standing alcoholism.

Q: How long have you been engaged in research on alcoholism and what have been your major research interests?

A: I have been working in this area for 28 years. Many patients in hospitals in the United States have damage to organs from chronic alcoholism, particularly to the liver, brain and heart. Inevitably, physicians in my field of internal medicine will see these patients. Through this experience I developed a deep concern about the diseases caused by alcohol.

My research interests have been primarily in the chemical and metabolic changes that occur at the time of withdrawal from alcohol. This interest stems from previous work on magnesium and potassium metabolism. Patients with alcohol withdrawal illness—delerium tremens—have symptoms like patients with magnesium depletion from causes other than alcoholism. This observation resulted in the finding that magnesium deficiency occurs in all patients who have consumed large quantities of alcohol for a month or more.

Q: Of the nine or ten million alcoholics in this country, what percentage would you estimate suffer from malnutrition of varying degrees?

A: A relatively small fraction suffer from obvious malnutrition at any one time, but during the lifetime of any alcoholic that person will suffer some or most of the consequences of nutritional disturbances.

Q: What are the principal illnesses resulting from malnutrition in alcoholics?

A: There is direct damage to the heart muscle, the supporting or skeletal muscles and the peripheral nerves. Muscle hemoglobin may be dissolved out of muscle and cause kidney damage. Patients develop severe pain, numbness and paralysis of the extremities. Liver disease occurs, partly from direct alcohol damage which is enhanced by poor nutrition. Delerium tremens and later serious brain damage occur.

Brain damage is caused by two things: toxic effects of alcohol, causing atrophy of the brain, dementia, loss of memory and loss of mental capacity, and a combination of thiamine deficiency and magnesium deficiency resulting in rapidly progressive and severe illness. This includes loss of coordination and of eye muscle function, and severe and usually irreversible brain damage.

Q: Beer has more food value than hard liquor. Can one become an alcoholic by drinking only beer and are the nutritional problems as bad?

A: The evidence is quite good that it's not the kind liquor that is important, but the quantity consumed. The reason distilled liquors are more prominent in the literature is because it is so much easier to drink larger quantities of these alcohols. But there are many persons who become alcoholics and have the whole syndrome—from Cirrhosis to brain and nerve damage—from beer and wine.

Q: Apart from malnutrition, how does alcoholism affect people?

A: This is probably the worst part of all because many innocent people suffer. Devastating turmoil occurs in families because the husband, wife, or both, are alcoholics, and the children are left without guidance. The home is often broken by divorce because of alcoholism. The economic cost can be tremendous. The alcoholic becomes a poor employee and is often absent so that he loses his job.

One definition of an alcoholic is a person who has social, financial or health problems relating to alcohol. One recent study indicates that if a person consistently has as few as two drinks a day over a long period of time, the odds are one in three that he or she will become an alcoholic.

Q: Is the problem of alcoholism in the United States growing or declining?

A: It's not getting any better and the alarming thing is that alcohol use is becoming rampant among teen-agers, even among junior high school students. The problem has reached epidemic proportions. This is a tragedy. We can't even imagine the social side effects at this time.

Childrens Week Program Noted

Hopemont Hospital is presenting a Children's Week Program August 17. The program is dedicated to the young patients and those "young at heart" who reside at Hopemont Hospital.

A variety of activities have been scheduled. They include: a Hospital Variety Show, a Young People's Picnic, an Animal Farm Trip, a demonstration by the Terra Alta Fire Department, a Tug-of-War Contest, a Kids' Dog Show, a Children's Film Festival, a magic show, the 249th Army National Guard Band and the "Country Rebels," Clarksburg.

Some of the activities are open to the public. Those who enjoy country and western music are invited to listen to the "Country Rebels" from Clarksburg on Aug. 9 at 2 p.m. in the hospital parking lot. On Aug. 16, at 2 p.m., children 4-14 years of age will be showing their dogs at the Kids' Dog Show. On August 17, the 249th Army National Guard Band of Fairmont will be performing in the parking lot at 2 p.m. The community is invited to attend each of these activities, according to Charles Dixon, recreation director.

Now you can get Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage regardless of your health*

OPEN ENROLLMENT

Now, during a special Open Enrollment period, you can obtain Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage regardless of the condition of your health.

If you're not already a Blue Cross and Blue Shield member and are not eligible for Medicare, this is a great opportunity for you and your family.

Even if you have not been able to get coverage in the past, now you will. Without any medical questionnaire. Without any health statements. You will be accepted automatically.

*Even health conditions that currently exist will be covered after this membership has been in effect for nine months.

But you must act quickly. Open Enrollment ends at midnight September 10, 1980.

At a glance, here's the kind of coverage you'll get.

Blue Cross to protect you against hospital costs.

You'll be protected for up to 30 days of hospital inpatient care on an 80/20 copayment basis. This means we pay 80% of the costs, and you pay 20%, but it also means a lower premium rate. And, your 20% responsibility is limited to a maximum of $500 for each stay in the hospital.

This coverage includes a semi-private room, board, general nursing care, and other customary hospital services; up to 30 days of inpatient maternity care; and in-hospital care for mental and nervous conditions in a Member hospital.

Also, emergency outpatient care received at a Member hospital within 72 hours of an accidental injury, and minor surgery performed on an outpatient basis, are covered in full. We pay 100% of these costs. You pay nothing.

Blue Shield Plan "i" to protect you against medical and surgical costs.

Benefits under Plan "i" are provided, according to an established schedule, based on the surgical procedure performed. They are not subject to the copayment provision of the Blue Cross portion of the Open Enrollment Program.

Plan "i" also provides benefits for physician medical care provided to hospital inpatients for up to 30 days as well as maternity care, consultations, anesthesia and a wide range of other services.

Maternity benefits are available after this coverage has been in effect for eight consecutive months. Benefits also are available for the removal of tonsils and adenoids after the membership has been in effect continuously for six months.

Sign up before Open Enrollment closes.

Just clip and mail the coupon below. But send no money. You will receive complete information including a listing of subscription rates and an application. Simply complete the application and return it to us by September 10, 1980.

(Of course, enrollment in other Blue Cross and Blue Shield programs is available with medical underwriting at any time.)

About Nutrition

Editor's Note: Few areas of medicine are more basic to health than that of human nutrition, yet the complex interaction of nutrients and body metabolism is only beginning to be understood. Physicians and scientists at the West Virginia University Medical Center are working to develop a unified program in human nutrition that includes new courses for medical students, seminars for practicing physicians and a new visiting professor series on nutrition. To share these advances with the state, WVU faculty are providing this series of interviews on topics of nutrition.

First physician to be interviewed is Dr. Edmund B. Flink, Benedum professor of medicine and former chairman of the department of medicine. His research includes nutritional aspects of alcoholism.

Question: What is the single most important cause of malnutrition in the United States today?

Answer: I believe is alcoholism because of its widespread, varied and serious effects on body metabolism.

Q: How do you define malnutrition?

A: Malnutrition means too little food, the wrong kind of food or lack of certain important nutrients such as minerals and vitamins. Obesity also is malnutrition because too many calories have been consumed.

Q: Is the main cause of malnutrition in alcoholics the substitution of alcohol for nutrition they should receive or is it direct damage to the body, or both?

A: The answer is both because alcohol does not contain nutrients other than calories. An alcoholic satisfies his caloric needs with alcohol and doesn't get enough proteins, vitamins and minerals. In addition, alcohol causes the loss of minerals in the urine, mainly zinc and magnesium but other essential elements as well. However, supplying vitamins, minerals and proteins to the alcoholic does not correct all of this problem.

Q: In other words, one can't keep drinking and just take diet supplements?

A: Absolutely not!

Q: Most people consider alcoholic beverages to be appetite stimulants. A drink before dinner or wine with a meal supposedly increase the appetite. Is this an accurate assessment?

A: There is much folklore about this. The wine industry and those who like wine feel it is definitely an appetizer, but there is no clear scientific evidence to back them up. Wine and beer can enhance the taste of certain foods, but in some instances where appetite stimulation is really needed—as in those suffering from or recovering from serious illnesses—alcohol doesn't seem to do much.

RESA Approves Seven Projects For Garrett Co.

The fifteen projects recently approved by the executive committee of the Regional Education Service Agency of Appalachian Maryland, include seven meant to directly or indirectly benefit Garrett County.

Four of the seven are among the five top-rated projects which are designed in various ways to improve the economic well-being of Western Maryland.

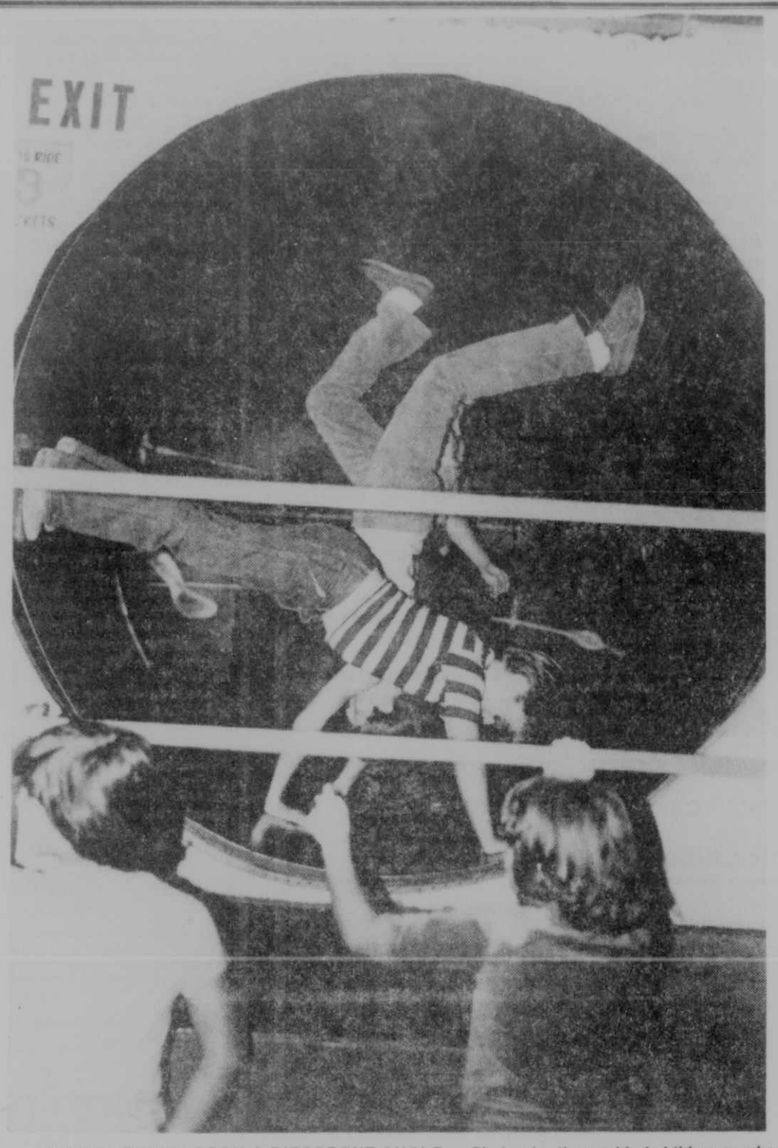

By July of next year, all five of the top-rated projects will be in their fifth year of operation, according to George E. Allen, executive director of RESA.

Top priority has been given by the committee to the project calling for technological extension service for small business and industry. Although the applicant is the College of Engineering of the University of Maryland, the technical expert is working cooperatively with the Institute for Small Business at Frostburg State College.

Funding calls for 75 percent or $57,000 from the Appalachian Regional Commission and 25 percent or $19,000 from local sources. This technological service currently is involved or has been involved in providing service to over 30 companies.

Project No. 2, entitled cooperative work experience coordinator, is carried on under the direction of the Garrett County Board of Education. It provides a coordinator for a cooperative work experience program to serve about 80 students in Northern and Southern Garrett County High Schools. All of the $24,040 funding is sought from ARC.

The staff development consortium, directed by RESA, is the project rated No. 3 and serving Allegany Community College, Frostburg State College, Garrett Community College and Hagerstown Junior College. Funding for this project includes 74 percent or $84,122 from ARC and 26 percent or $29,412 from local sources.

VIEWING THINGS FROM A DIFFERENT ANGLE — Obviously, the world of children can be explored from any position, as aptly demonstrated by these topsy-turvy youngsters at the carnival, which was held in conjunction with the Garrett County Agricultural Fair this past week. Hopefully, this shot was taken prior to the usual consumption of popcorn, peanuts, cotton candy, and soda pop consumed in mass quantities by boys the age of these.

The consortium extends financial and technical assistance to all faculty members of the four participating institutions for staff development activities. In the last 120-month period, it has served through direct contact about 240 persons on the four campuses.

The Garrett County Board of Education project involving trowel trades at Northern and Southern High Schools is the No. 5 project for RESA. All 100 percent of its $27,065 funding is from ARC.

Requested funds are for the salary, fringe benefits, materials of instruction and travel for the instructor, who divides his time between the two high schools. He will serve between 30 and 40 students in the junior and senior classes of the two schools. As the economy improves, it is anticipated there will be a greater need for trained workers in the trowel trades.

Thirty-eight students have pre-registered for the 1980-81 school year.

Garrett County has two projects in the second group designed to focus attention on improved career opportunities for the people of Western Maryland.

These projects, which have priorities ranging from six through 10, are in their third or fourth year of operations.

Listed as Project 8, is a Garrett Community College project entitled exemplary animal care. This project seeks $42,562 or 54 percent of the fiscal year total from ARC. This is a third year project of a multi-agency cooperative program with long range goals of combining the career preparation of veterinary science technicians with the health care of unwanted stray animals.

The VST program will provide certifiable graduates for employment by veterinarians located in the region and elsewhere in Maryland. The program's enrollment grew from 19 in 1978-79 to 31 in 1979-80.

Project No. 9 is titled the Tri-State community service telecommunications system and is directed by RESA. It calls for $50,000 from ARC in the fiscal year. Its overall objective is to establish a multi-media communications system for the dissemination of information, training, instruction and conferencing in the Tri-State region.

This project, now in its third year, is described as one which can open the door to worldwide informational and educational resources needed to make this region accessible and competitive in the struggle for economic development.

In the five RESA continuing projects with the lowest priority, from 11 through 15, is one to be operated by Garrett Community College.

All five in the low priority group are programs just becoming operational this summer.

Project No. 12 will provide a career development and placement technician at GCC. The $11,633 sought from ARC is 84 percent of the project's annual cost.

A career development and placement technician will continue operating and maintaining the career information center on the McHenry campus and the career resource center at the college's Oakland center.

The technician will continue providing job placement services for the approximately 225 full-time and part-time vocational students who may seek employment inside or outside Garrett County.

Census Bureau To Take Survey

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of August 18-23, Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia, announced recently.

The survey is conducted for the U. S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 84,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation.

For example, in June the survey indicated that of the 104.5 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 96.5 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 7.7 percent, about the same as the 7.8 percent in May, but substantially higher than the 7.0 percent recorded in April.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals, according to Bureau.

Party And Circus Set For Reading Club Participants

A party and circus extravaganza will be presented at the Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland, this Tuesday, August 19, for the final day of the Big Top Summer Reading Club. Children in the club have been attending weekly workshops since June 24, and have been visited by area talent, to learn circus skills. For the final meeting, the children will apply the skills they've learned at the workshops.

The group's instructors will present a puppet show for the participants prior to the circus, refreshments will be served and reading club certificates will be distributed.

The miniature circus will feature performances by the children in such areas as roller skating, gymnastics, and possibly juggling, singing, "clowning around," magic, or pantomimes. Pam Hardesty, library staff person, stated that the event will more or less be a "free for all" and should be loads of fun! The library staff will supply large cut-outs of circus performers which the students can stand behind to pose for photographs. Parents are asked to bring their cameras.

Ms. Hardesty stated that the program went very well this summer, and all seemed to have a good time while learning. The program has been running in all branches of the library, and participation at the Oakland branch alone numbered 164 children, who are now preparing for a fitting and fun climax.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig
Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."
Remnants Available
IT GOES ANYWHERE
Just like summer fun, carpeting can be enjoyed both indoors and out. Gone are the days when carpeting was a fragile item that would easily fade, stain, and mildew. Today's indoor/-outdoor carpeting is constructed of special synthetic fibers designed to withstand punishment by mother nature. It's completely weatherproof. Rain quickly drains off due to the moisture-resistant fibers. Indoor/outdoor carpeting is mildew proof, too. And it won't fade under the sun's powerful rays. You can easily clean indoor/outdoor carpeting with the garden hose.
More and more backyard patios and terraces are sporting colorful indoor/-outdoor carpeting. It adds beauty to any outdoor setting, whether you're planning a formal outdoor reception, a neighborhood barbecue, or a cozy family picnic. Carpeting means comfort underfoot, too.
Not convinced that carpeting is durable enough to withstand year-round outdoor use? It's durable enough to withstand the locker rooms of the big league stadiums. That's right—indoor/outdoor carpeting is holding up under spiked shoes, infield dirt, spilled lotions, and moisture of athletic locker rooms.
Indoor/outdoor carpeting has also become a popular addition to ski lodges, beach houses, golf clubs, and even miniature golf courses. More and more swimming pool owners are finding it makes a perfect non-slip surface for around the pool, too.
Why not stop in today and find out more about the amazing indoor/outdoor carpeting. You'll discover it has a multitude of uses for both inside and outside your home.
Remember, too, to come visit us for the finest selection for any type of carpeting you are considering for your home. I shall be pleased to show you our full line and suggest some good patterns and colors, too. See you.
Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

Eglon Clinic Goes Private As Dr. Greg Pinkerton Takes Over

by Dawn Milne

As I talked with an older friend of mine about Dr. Greg Pinkerton, she surmised, "Sounds like a good man to know. Now, where did you say he is?"

I thought too, he seemed like one of those "old time doctors" one reads of, or one of those you may have had the good fortune to know.

Recruited by the Preston County Health Council, Dr. Pinkerton has been working for the past two years out of the Council's medical facility in Eglon. As of August 1, 1980, Dr. Pinkerton has taken over the Eglon Clinic as his own private practice, and has renamed the office "Union Medical Services."

Located in the former offices of Drs. Harold and Blanche Miller of the 1930's Pinkerton's "Union Medical Services" cares for 2,500 people from Maryland and West Virginia. Here they receive general practice medicine, minor surgery, and the genuine concern of one of those doctors who has been known to make house calls when necessary.

Why would a "West Virginia—turned Baltimore city-boy" doctor end up in rural medicine? To quote Greg, as Dr. Pinkerton prefer I call him, "I've wanted to practice in a rural setting since the summer after my first year of medical school. I had a summer fellowship in a rural practice in Olney, MD, with Dr. C. E. Ligon. After that summer, I knew I wanted to be a country doctor."

Beginning a new medical practice is never simple, but Dr. Pinkerton jumped in with both feet. He dedicated himself to making the Council's Eglon Clinic work. "I treated the work as I would have begun my own private practice, because I saw an opportunity to create the kind of practice that would maintain the personal feeling and touch that doctors have brought to the area. I saw an opportunity to build the kind of practice I had hoped for—'baby to grandpa' medical care."

The Preston County Health Council is pleased with the development of the Union Medical Services. Jean Winters, Council secretary, Eglon resident, and daughter of the former Drs. Miller stated, "I never dreamed we'd get a doctor here. I had hoped for a mobile clinic like I'd read of . . . But a doctor for Eglon . . . It's great."

Winters went on to say, "It's good, too, to see the council's hard work pay off. Of course, Greg played a major role in the success of the clinic."

Pinkerton practiced medicine as though he intended to live in the area. He treated the Council's clinic as his own. He bought a home in Aurora, and it became obvious that he and his wife Nancy, an LPN, were going to stay.

Nancy and Greg found Preston's winters long, but the "primary hardship," stated Greg, "is the distance between my office in Eglon and the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, but it's easily travelled terrain, and I've had excellent support and back-up from the hospital's doctors and staff."

The Health Council has been part of Pinkerton's help, too. "The Council and the National Health Service Corps have given me the chance to find medicine emotionally and professionally satisfying," commented Greg. The Preston Health Council is dynamic and is providing multiple services."

Dr. Pinkerton gave special commendation to Council Administrator, Matt Vinikas, "Matt worked for a sustained effective health care that would prove reliable to Preston County—reliable and accessible."

Leasing some office equipment, providing the original office site, and happily turning over its most profitable clinic to Pinkerton, the Council can give itself a pat on the back. It has partially succeeded in one of its goals; to provide Preston County with permanent health care."

Greg and Nancy have found their spare moments filled with dust, dirt, and good times remodeling their 100-year-old home and gardening. They enjoy their home and give more credit for their success to the "love and support of the community."

On Sunday, August 3, 1980, over 100 people gathered at the Maple Spring Church pavilion in Eglon for a covered dish dinner to celebrate the Pinkertons' clinic.

Occasionally, the Pinkertons can get away to visit relatives in Baltimore, but Pinkerton admits, "You can't be 9:00-5:00 and be a doctor. We've made a commitment to ourselves and our patients that we'll give the best medical care we can."

Tom McConnell, Council president, sees the Council's Eglon Clinic turned Union Medical Services as a success. "it's a culmination of the Council's, the staff's, and Greg Pinkerton's hard work. It's a step forward for the Council and Preston County. It's a job well done."

It is a job well done and there are 2500 plus people who are better off for it. As a matter-of-fact, the Pinkertons, the community, and the Council sound like good people to know.

PICTURES OF JUPITER

The photographs of Jupiter taken by Voyager I and Voyager 2 will be used to create maps of the planet. The first step will be to form control networks based on the photos. From these networks, coordinates of surface features may be determined as well as latitudes and longitudes. In addition, the radii of four satellites have been established: Io, 1,816 kilometers (1,128 miles); Europa, 1,563 kilometers (971 miles); Ganymede, 2,638 kilometers (1,639 miles); Calisto, 2,410 kilometers (1,410 miles). Control networks and maps will also be made for these satellites too.

MOON

Monday, the Moon will pass through its First Quarter phase at 6:28 p.m. At this time the Moon will be one-quarter turn east of the Sun as observed from the Earth. Moonset will be at 9:57 p.m. tonight. Next Tuesday the Moon will set at 27 minutes after midnight.

The apogee of the Moon will occur Friday at 2:00 p.m. At this time, 405,245 kilometers (251,856 miles) will separate Earth and its satellite.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Venus, Mars and Saturn will be the visible planets during this month. Venus will be above the eastern horizon 3½ hours before the Sun rises. Mars, among the stars of Virgo, may be observed low in the southwest just after sunset. Saturn will also be low in the southwest just after sunset.

DAYLIGHT DECREASES

At the end of the week, next Tuesday there will 14 minutes less daylight than there will be today. Sunrise was at 6:27 this morning. Sunset will be at 8:16 tonight, 13 hours 49 minutes later. Next Tuesday sunrise will be at 6:33 a.m. followed 13 hours 35 minutes later by sunset at 8:08 p.m.

Today is the 226th day of this year. The path of the Sun today will be the same as it was last April 29th.

Southern States Of Grantsville To Meet Tuesday

Election of Stockholder Committee, Farm Home Advisory Committee members, as well as operations reports, will highlight the Southern States Cooperative's annual membership meeting for Southern States Grantsville Service on August 19 at Grantsville Fire Hall. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Patrons and members planning to attend the business session should contact Southern States Grantsville Service for meal tickets.

Harley Brenneman of Bittinger will serve as chairman of the local meeting. Roy Beitzel, of Cherry Glade Mennonite Church of Bittinger, will give the invocation.

Wayne Harman, Clarksburg, a member of Southern States Cooperative's regional staff, will report on the over-all Southern States operations. This report will also include a 12-15 minute slide-tape presentation entitled "You Are Here," which will show the cooperative's broad involvement in behalf of its members.

Local operations and services rendered to agriculture in the community will be discussed by manager Jesse H. Harsh.

There will be special recognition for local board and Farm Home Advisory Committee members who retire this year.

Nominees for the local board are: Bernard McKenzie, Salisbury; George Shawley, Bittinger; Frank Stanton and Kenneth Yoder, Grantsville.

Ladies nominated for the Farm Home Advisory Committee are: Mrs. Forest Blocher, Grantsville; Mrs. Glen A. Durst, Frostburg; Mrs. Bradley R. Keim, Salisbury and Mrs. John T. Peck, Pennsylvania.

The delegate and alternate nominees in Election District E are: Harley Brenneman and George Shawley, II, Bittinger and Simon Tice, Grantsville.

F.H.A.C. "Share A Craft" display will be a feature of the meeting. Members and their families are urged to bring handmade crafts for display.

The following committee chiarpersons will assist with the meeting—Mrs. James Carey, Frostburg, attendance and telephone committee; Jesse H. Harsh, Grantsville, foods committee; Harley Brenneman, Bittinger, greeting and ribbons committee; Mrs. Kenneth R. Resh, Grantsville, decorating committee.

Judge Thayer's Ruling Shows Bel Air Boy In Need Of Assistance

Associate Judge Fred A. Thayer, Garrett County Circuit Court, ruled an 11-year-old Bel Air boy in need of assistance due to being mentally handicapped.

James Lilly had been held in connection with the death of his nine-year-old-sister, Carla, on May 4.

A charge of delinquency due to murder was dismissed, based on the judge's finding that the boy was mentally ill. In Juvenile Court, accused offenders are charged with being delinquent children due to a crime, rather than being charged with a crime, as is the case with adults.

Joseph P. Firlie, Juvenile Court Administrator, said disposition of the case will be heard Friday, August 29. At this time, it will be decided whether the boy needs to be institutionalized.

Citizens Spending More On Taxable Entertainment

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced Friday Marylanders continued to increase spending for leisure activities despite the economic downturn. The comptroller reported that $229,554,520 was spent on taxable entertainment in Maryland during Fiscal Year 1980, a 7% increase compared to the $214,491,721 spent during the previous fiscal year.

The comptroller noted that leisure spending did decline during the fourth quarter of Fiscal Year 1980, as the nation's economic troubles deepened, but reported that spending seems to be recovering. The counties, cities and towns of Maryland benefited from leisure spending to the tune of $11,741,744 in Admissions and Amusement Tax revenues during Fiscal Year 1980. The amount of revenue distributed to the subdivisions for Fiscal Year 1979 was $10,884,059.

"More tax revenue was received from night club entertainment than any other form of taxable entertainment reported," Mr. Goldstein said, pointing out that the $61,466,584 spent for night club admissions and entertainment yielded a total $2,409,369 in local tax revenue.

Spending for other forms of taxable entertainment included $43,731,601 for movies, producing $2,334,388 in tax revenue. Spending in coin-operated amusement devices was the fastest growing of any category, and amounted to $32,112,032, up 32% over the previous fiscal year. It yielded tax revenue totaling $1,093,795 for Fiscal Year 1980.

Spending in live theatre and concerts totaled $16,562,966, indicating a decline of 8% from similar spending made during the previous fiscal year. The tax revenue gained from Fiscal Year 1980s totals amounted to $1,113,912. Marylanders spent $20,035,940 for admission to athletic events, yielding tax revenue of $1,961,565. Spending for golf activities amounted to $10,278,573, accounting for $482,108 in Admissions and Amusement Tax revenues.

The Admissions and Amusement Tax rates are set by local elected officials, while the tax receipts are collected by the State Comptroller's Office and distributed to the local subdivisions.

"Final Fiscal Year 1980 payments totaling $3,361,894 have been mailed to the local subdivisions," Mr. Goldstein said.

Garrett County received $11,707.94 for the fourth quarter, making a total of $55,286.61 for Fiscal Year 1980.

Jones's cartoons multiply like 'wabbits'

Chuck Jones's Road Runner and Bugs Bunny

(Copyright Warner Brothers Inc.)

Among the oft-repeated lines borrowed from television and the movies, "Beep, beep" and "What's up, Doc?" must be two of the most frequently heard. They are both by-words of characters created by Chuck Jones, a film animator.

The Road Runner and Bugs Bunny, who respectively make the above remarks, head Jones's Warner Bros. cartoon-character repertory, which also includes Wile E. Coyote, Pepe Le Pew and Claude Cat.

With last year's release of "The Bugs Bunny/Road Runner Movie," Jones celebrated the 40th anniversary of Bugs Bunny, the "wabbit" who first captured moviegoers' attention in 1939. "The Bugs Bunny/Road Runner Show" has been on daytime TV for more than 20 years.

Jones, who was born in Spokane, Wash., and graduated from Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles, was discovered by Ubbe Iwerks, who had started his own animation studio after leaving Walt Disney's. Jones began working for Iwerks, washing the images off the cels, or plates, which contain the individual drawings from which animated cartoons are filmed. He then progressed to painter/inker and eventually became an "in-betweener," a position from which he was fired — twice.

Jones became a cel-washer again, this time for Leon Schlesinger, who was later to sell his animation studio to Warner Bros. There Jones worked his way up to animator and was assigned to the newly formed Tex Avery unit, where Porky Pig and the wild Daffy Duck were born.

His first directorial assignment was "The Nightwatchman," followed by films about dogs, mice, bats — and Bugs Bunny.

During World War II Jones collaborated with Theodore (Dr. Seuss) Geisel on the animation of an inept soldier, Private Snafu. Almost 25 years later, this same writer-director team produced "How the Grinch Stole Christmas" and "Horton Hears A Who," the latter of which won a 1971 Peabody Award for excellence in television programming.

Jones won two Oscars in 1949 ("For Scent-imental Reasons," best animated short, and "So Much for So Little," best documentary short subject). He won a third Oscar in 1965 for another animated short, "The Dot and the Line." Jones has received six additional Academy Award nominations.

It was a 1941 cartoon, "The Dover Boys," that helped set the method and timing for much of the stylized animation that eventually followed. Jones also experimented with stylized and formalized backgrounds.

He now heads his own independent production company, Chuck Jones Enterprises, which has created nine half-hour prime-time TV specials, all of them produced, written and directed by Jones.

Evidence of Jones's popularity is supported by the fact that during recent years his specials have continued to be repeated on network television, some as many as 10 times.

IN FOCUS

Education will test new TV format in fall

In September, an American version of Britain's 11-year-old Open University will be tested throughout the United States for the first time.

Seven colleges and universities and 11 TV stations — led by the partnership of the University of Maryland and the Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting — will inaugurate the first coast-to-coast system of television-assisted college courses leading to a bachelor's degree in behavioral and social sciences, humanities, and technology and management.

The National University Consortium, a non-profit organization financed in part by a $400,000 grant from the Carnegie Corporation, hopes to enroll thousands in a range of courses. The average student will take about six years to earn a degree.

Although controversial when launched in Britain in 1969, the Open University has since reached hundreds of thousands of students and is now widely accepted. It currently enrolls 80,000 annually in degree programs and has produced some of the worlds's best textbooks for self-tutoring. The University of Maryland adopted the program on a trial basis in 1972 and has enrolled 13,500 students over eight years.

Many American educators have insisted that the idea simply would not work in the United States. The British had a huge backlog of people who had been barred from higher education by class barriers, they pointed out, while in this country, access to college had steadily expanded. While Britain has a shortage of college facilities, the U.S. has overbuilt. In these terms, the consortium sounds like the wrong move at the wrong time.

Donald R. McNeil, president of the University of Mid-America, disagrees. The University of Mid-America, which is affiliated with the State University of Nebraska, has produced media-based college programs for the past six years. Although not associated with the consortium, McNeil has long advocated an American open university. He supports teaching via the new technology — satellite, cable and broadcast television, videodisks and computers — while conventional higher education drags its feet.

The consortium goes a step further by combining the open university concept with a stategy to bring new students (and new sources of income) to existing colleges. To get credit, students must actually enroll and pay tuition at the rate set by the participating college or university, which also issues the degree.

The consortium courses will be available during the pilot year through Pennsylvaia State University in University Park; California State University at Dominguez Hills; the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga; Iona College in New York; South Vermont College in Bennington; Linfield College in McMinnville, Ore., and the University of Maryland in College Park.

In each instance the local public television station will broadcast the lessons. The consortium will feed the television component of the courses to these stations via satellite. Students can also attend optional tutorial seminars, but will mostly work at home.

In addition, the courses will also be broadcast by stations in Sacramento, Calif.; Indianapolis; Pullman, Wash., and Moscow, Idaho. Students in these areas will enroll with the University of Maryland and transfer as soon as a local college becomes a member of the consortium.

Each student will purchase a study package, be assigned a tutor and receive a schedule of programs to be broadcast by the local station. Tutors advise students when to reach them by telephone. A typical consortium study package consists of:

— Texts specially written for each course.
— A detailed, week-by-week student syllabus.
— Supplementary readings.
— Self-help exercises, problems and text questions.
— Written assignments, which will be returned to the institution of record.
— Nine half-hour television broadcasts.

It's impossible to predict the consortium's impact, but its supporters hope that the experience may eventually transform some on-campus instruction.

But even its most fervent advocates emphasize that the open university is not for all, or even most, students. Dr. Barry Burrows, acting director of the Open University of the University of Maryland, points out that "The consortium study methodology and material are prepared for the serious adult student. Our experience in Maryland has been that directed study is most effective with students over 30 years of age who have had some previous college work and who are well motivated and self disciplined.

"With this type of student," Dr. Burrows continues, "these courses have been as effective as traditional classroom instruction. This is true by almost any criteria, including student grades, retention of students in individual courses and retention of students in degree programs."

GANG LEADER Fat Sam (John Cassisi, left) and his sharp-tongued girlfriend (Jodie Foster) discuss how they will deal with a rival gang, in "Bugsy Malone." The all-kid spoof of the Roaring '20s films, which also stars Scott Baio in the title role, will be broadcast for the first time on television as a special movie presentation, Wednesday, Aug. 20, on CBS.

Plain talk is rare, but talk-shows boom

By RUTH THOMPSON

"They come to see Donahue himself, he doesn't need celebrity guests," exulted one of the money men behind Phil Donahue's syndicated series several years ago. Well, with the passage of time, the ratio of famous names to non-entities has risen.

Still, the money man was right. Phil Donahue's unique knack for mini-interviews with his audience, as well as with his official guests, puts him in a niche by himself. He's a hard act to follow. Other hosts who hope to attract as big a tune-in are more apt to fall into what is known as the Johnny Carson pattern.

People who remember the "Tonight" show on NBC before Carson's debut, say he inherited the format from Jack Paar. And, yes, he did. But Paar, as even older-timers know, did not develop the talk-variety format; Steve Allen did.

Steve, a high-energy talent (writes books, composes music), looks barely five years older than he did in the 1950s and is a frequent guest on almost everybody else's talk-variety show where he is usually asked to reminisce a bit and then play one of his tunes, either vintage or fresh.

New shows of the genre carved out by Allen are due this fall (and don't forget NBC's mid-summer addition of David Letterman's show), and that's in addition to hardy holdovers Merv Griffin and Mike Douglas.

ABC once thought it could dilute the Carson tune-in by setting up comedian Joey Bishop as Carson's direct competitor. Quick flop. The CBS anti-Carson entry was Merv Griffin. Now Merv, though he couldn't dent that Carson rating block late at night, had long been a favorite with daytime and early evening audiences, and he whisked himself right back to the stations and time-slots where he was (and still is) a champion. Further, his director is Johnny Carson's brother, Dick Carson.

Mike Douglas's contract with Group W wasn't renewed this spring. Reports say he wanted anything from one to two million more per year in salary, and Group W said no. Whatever. Instead of going along with Mike, Group W replaced him with singer John Davidson, who had practiced up on how-to-interview by subbing for Johnny Carson on some of his many nights off. Mike, however, proved himself a fighter. He quickly formed is own syndication company and signed up a batch of stations around the country, some of which carry both Douglas and Davidson.

Davidson has said he's going for a younger group and "more truth," and for guests who will open up to him and spill more private details about their lives. Maybe women over 50 won't like his style, he told an interviewer, but those less venerable groups (prized by advertisers) presumably should.

Group W also has a second personable youthful (but not too young) host warming up in the wings for a syndicted September debut. He's Gary Collins, who with co-host Pat Mitchell, has 76 stations lined up for a daytime "Hour Magazine" session. They might lure anybody that Davidson alienates. One of their early topics is "Sex and the single woman over 50."

THURSDAY

Frank Reynolds will be among the ABC correspondents covering the 1980 Democratic National Convention, Monday, Aug. 11, through Thursday, Aug. 14.

Footage must be same

A policy regarding the use of rating symbols (e.g. G, PG, R and X) in non-theatrical and cable markets was recently laid out by Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America and chairman of the Policy Review Committee of the Classification and Rating Administration. Per the newly stated policy, if a film is being shown on cable and has been revised so that it no longer conforms to the version certified by CARA, the film must be resubmitted and recertified before it can use a CARA rating. Valenti added that if the film has been revised, reference to its prior theatrical rating may be made, provided it carries the notice at the outset of any cable airing that: "This film was originally rated — in its theatrical exhibition. This version has been revised for cable."

Ron Howard defection

Ron Howard is Richie Cunningham no more. Howard, who starred in ABC's hit "Happy Days" and is already an experienced director, writer and producer, recently jumped ship and has joined NBC, signing an exclusive long-term agreement to develop series and movies through his Major H Productions. Howard will produce all, and direct or act in some, of the Major H programs for NBC.

New TV magazine

"Hour Magazine," hosted by Gary Collins with Pat Mitchell as co-host, has started production in Hollywood. The new Group W Productions' syndicated daytime information-entertainment series, already sold in 76 markets, is scheduled to premiere on Sept. 8. Among the promised segments: Lou ("The Hulk") and Carla Ferrigno work out together and discuss their new marriage; beauty secrets from Cher, Farrah Fawcett, Linda Gray, Ali MacGraw, Valerie Perrine and Victoria Principal; an interview with Christopher Reeve, talking about his philosophy of marriage versus living together; Phyllis Diller takes viewers on a tour of her closets and shares her feelings about being single again.

Bob Hope movie

Bob Hope will make a made-for-TV movie for airing on NBC during the 1980-81 season, a project he has wanted to film for some time — "The Walter Winchell Story." "Winchell" will count as one of the seven programs Hope and his Hope Enterprises will supply to NBC next season, starting with the Sept. 6 hour that will serve as the lead-in show to the Miss America Pageant.

'Heavyweight' returns

Older viewers who recall TV's golden days will be delighted at a long-overdue second viewing of "Requiem for a Heavyweight," to air as part of the "Golden Age of TV" series on PBS on Friday, Aug. 22. This will mark the first time in 24 years that this landmark production has been rebroadcast; the original airing on CBS's "Playhouse 90" was Oct. 11, 1956. It subsequently won an Emmy, Peabody, Sylvania, Harcourt-Brace and TV Writers Award. "Requiem for a Heavyweight," a gripping story of professional boxing and the people who rely on it for their survival, was written especially for "Playhouse 90" by Rod Serling.

FRIDAY

Chris Wallace examines the plight of the itinerant farmworkers who harvest the food that finds its way into the country's supermarkets, on "NBC Reports: The Migrants, 1980," Friday, Aug. 15, on NBC.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

PRETTY MUSIC — There are many, many TV series that are now on and have been on in the past that have pretty theme songs. Is there anywhere in the country where we can get records or tape recordings of these songs? — Dick Reed, Cedar Park, Texas

Go to your biggest local record store and check. Lots of TV music has been recorded. Several years ago, Henry Mancini made an album of themes, many of them written by him. If your record store can't help you with a particular theme and it is a show currently in production, write the music director, in care of the show, at the network that carries it. One other idea: Why don't you try tape recording the music you like so much? That way you can get some shows of the past that are now in syndication. So long as you don't plan any commercial use for the music, it is not illegal to tape something you like in your own home.

HISTORY SEARCH — To whom should I write to obtain information on a film produced and/or directed by D.W. Griffith? — Brenda G.Bouchard, Oakland, Mich.

If you can't find what you need to know in film reference books in your local library, write to the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences Library. The address is 8949 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills, CA 90211. They should have whatever information you need.

CROSSING CHANNELS — What channel is "Saturday Night Live" going to be on? They said it was going to be on Channel 4, but I saw a listing that said it was on Channel 2 and 13. — Paul C., Bloomington, Ind.

You'll just have to watch locally. In different parts of the country, especially in areas where there are fewer channels, a network can be affiliated with a channel of a different number than in a neighboring state. For instance, most times CBS is 2, NBC 4 and ABC 7. But many places have different numbers for the networks. In some areas two networks are affiliated with one local outlet, so CBS and ABC can both have shows on the same numbered channel. If a channel is numbered 13, you know it is local station. "Saturday Night Live" is an NBC production.

MONDAY

Robert ("Airplane!") Hays stars in the title role of "Young Will Rogers," a drama based on an incident in the life of the famed cowboy-humorist-showman, on NBC's "Mark Twain's America," Monday, Aug. 18.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Soapster slated to host new game show

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

HOLLYWOOD — Jed Allan (Don Craig on "Days of Our Lives") is one actor who is never idle. Along with his ever-popular role on "DOOL," Jed has hopes that a projected new game show he's been slated to host, called "Bounce Back," will get the go-ahead.

Fans of Jed may remember that this wouldn't be the first game show for Jed; he also hosted the popular syndicated show, "Celebrity Bowling," for several years. While awaiting the outcome of the negotiations on "Bounce Back," Jed appeared in the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera production of "Guys and Dolls," receiving much praise for his acting ability and his potential as a vocalist.

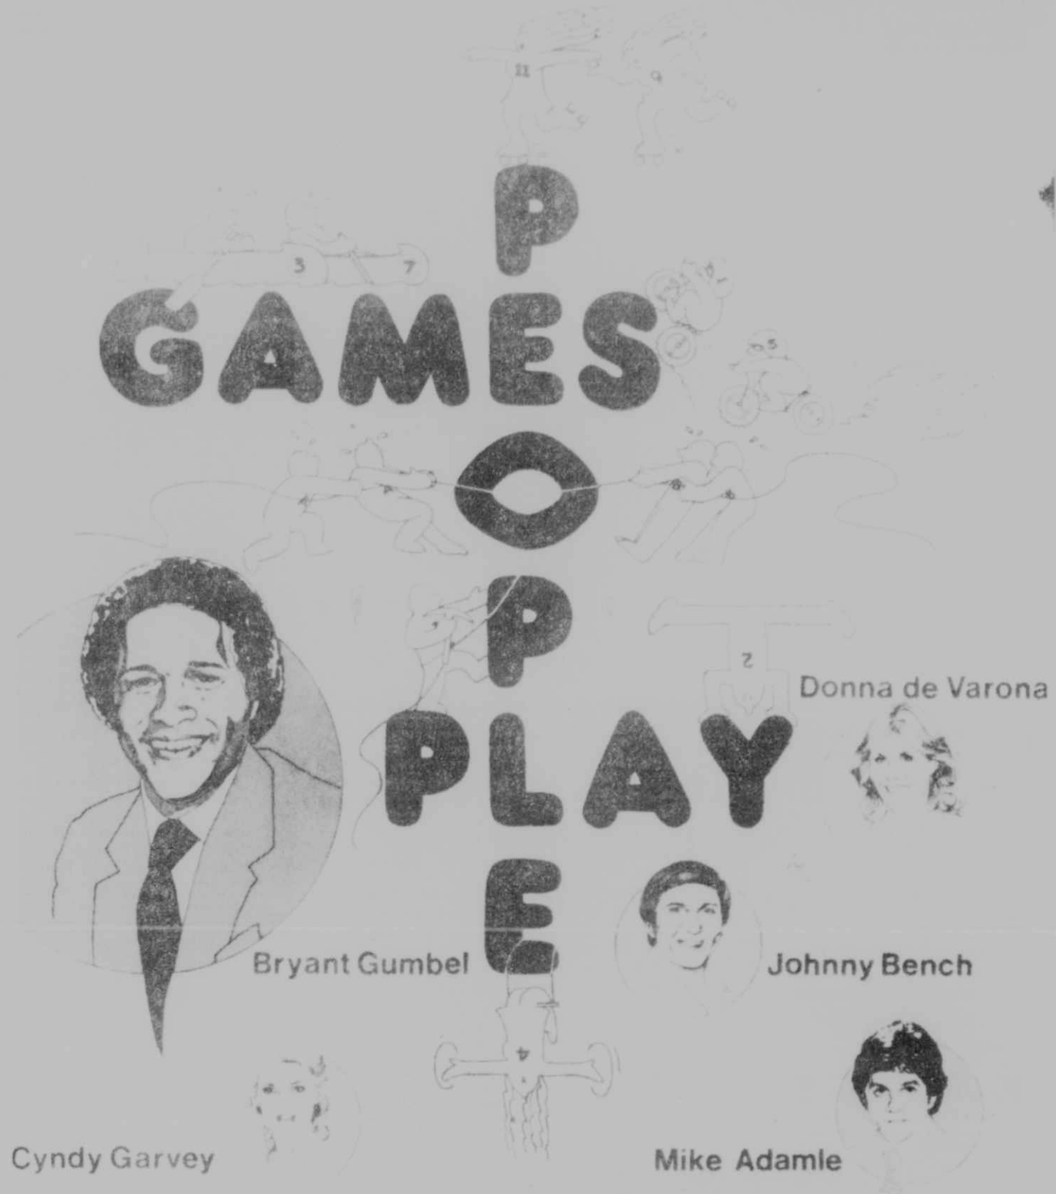

Robert Lipton (Jeff Ward on "As the World Turns") has joined the rank of celebrities enmeshed in the roller skating craze in Los Angeles, along with his lady, Marie Masters (ex-Susan Stewart on "ATWT"). Bobby is most likely wondering what happened to his "ATWT" role, which has dwindled in past months.

One thing's for sure, if Lipton's role on the soaper comes to an end, he has a few alternatives. He's developed a sitcom that Filmways is very interested in producing and he's already been tested for a new hour-long TV series still in the planning stages.

And, although Robert nixed the offer, not wanting to break his contract with "ATWT," he was approached by the powers that be at "Days of Our Lives" to join that show. Thus, it wouldn't be a big surprise if Bobby were to eventually join Marie in the Sunshine State on a more permanent basis in lieu of jetting back and forth, as the couple is doing now.

Margaret Colin is the newest cast member to be added to "As the World Turns" in the role of Margo, Lyla Montgomery's daughter, who had previously opted to live with her father. Margaret was last seen in a soap role as Paige Madison, a role she created on "Edge of Night" last year.

FUN AND GAMES — Sportscaster Bryant Gumbel will host NBC's new sports-variety series, "Games People Play," a celebration of sports and athletic participation saluting the competitive — and often heroic — spirit of the average man, woman and child. Joining Gumbel will be co-hosts Cyndy Garvey, Cincinnati Reds catcher Johnny Bench, Donna de Varona and Mike Adamle. The series premieres Thursday, Aug. 21, on NBC. (PREMIERE)

TUESDAY

Robby Benson and Glynnis O'Connor star as teen lovers in "Ode to Billy Joe," a drama based on characters from the popular ballad, to be aired Tuesday, Aug. 19, on NBC. (REPEAT)

Dream Machine.

Dreams can come true.

Especially with a little thoughtful planning. Like buying U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Bonds can make that dream house a reality. Or that long awaited dream vacation come true. 'Cause Bonds are the safe, dependable way to save.

And while you're keeping your dreams alive, your Bonds will be working hard for the great American dream, too.

So buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

They'll put your financial worries to rest.

E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4½% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Scout Officials To Discuss Fall Recruiting Plan

Each Cub Scout pack and Boy Scout troop in the Tri-Valley District of Potomac Council is being asked to be represented at one of two meetings which will be held on September 4. Units in Allegany, Garrett, and Mineral Counties will meet at 7:00 p.m. at the Mineral County Health Center in Keyser, while units in Hampshire, Hardy, and Grant counties will meet at 7:00 p.m. at the Hardy County Library in Moorefield.

At the meetings a schedule will be developed for Cub Scout "School Nights." All representatives are asked to meet with their pack committee prior to the September meeting to evaluate leadership needs, plan a short program and select a date for their "School Night."

Boy Scout representatives will be given information on a Scout recruitment plan that will be promoted throughout the district during the fall. The plan involves a program that will be organized in each local community by the local Scout troop.

According to District Executive, Rob Rephan, the purpose of the two meetings is to more directly involve the local packs and troops in the recruitment program and to start the fall season earlier in the Cub Scout program. It was noted by Rephan that nearly 150 boys joined the Scouting program during last year's fall recruitment program.

The Potomac Council serves youth in Allegany and Garrett Counties in Maryland; and Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy and Grant Counties in West Virginia, and is a participating member of the County United Way.

Officials Predict Farmers' Income Will Drop In '80

Farmers' income may plummet 22 percent to 37 percent this year from 1979's record-matching net income of $33.3 billion an Associated Press report stated last week.

The figures represented the first official forecast by the department of net farm income for 1980.

Economists have been avoiding the use of hard figures for months although saying that farm income would likely drop sharply, probably by "around a fourth" from last year.

The figures were in a monthly "agricultural outlook" report by the Agriculture Department's Economics, Statistics and Cooperatives Service.

An expected gain of 4 to 6 percent in farm cash receipts (for commodities sold) will be more than offset by a 10 to 12 percent rise in production costs," the report said.

Overall, it showed, net farm income—the amount farmers have left over after paying production expenses—could drop to between $21 billion and $26 billion for all of 1980.

The fourth quarter figures were projected at an annual rate of between $17 billion and $21 billion. Previously, the report had forecast income rates only through the third quarter.

If an annual rate in a three-month period held steady over the entire 12 months, that would be the income for the calendar year.

One revision was in the report's net income annual rate for the second quarter, now put at $25 billion. A month ago, the second quarter was forecast at $29.2 billion. Rising prices for livestock, grain and some other commodities were factors in the higher estimate.

The annual income rate in the third quarter, previously forecast at $23.5 billion, was shown in a range of $22 billion to $26 billion in the latest report.

"Hot, dry weather has eroded crop prospects in the southern and central plains, parts of the northern plains, the southeast and parts of the Corn Belt," the report said.

The extended blast of hot weather has put stress on livestock; slowed the rate of weight gain for cattle, hogs and broilers; and caused some loss of broilers as well as broiler breeder hens.

"To date, some farmers have suffered severe crop damage or loss," the report said. "Crop yields in the affected areas will be lower than they would have been otherwise, and it is clear that the record feedgrain and oilseed production levels of the past two years will not be repeated. Cotton Yields are also expected to fall short of last year's record.

"However, August is a critical month, particularly for soybeans, and the eventual U. S. crop production will depend on the temperature and precipitation patterns in coming weeks."

The report said prospects for prices of grain and oilseeds "improved significantly in July" as markets rallied sharply in response to reduced harvest prospects and continued large exports.

Dairy Program Comments Due By August 18

Dairy farmers and other interested persons have until August 18 to comment on the milk price support level for the 1980-81 marketing year which begins October 1, according to the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"The public is also invited to comment on the price and terms of butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk purchases made by the Commodity Credit Corporation," Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Committee, said.

The support price for milk is established between 80 and 90 percent of parity on October 1 of each year by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "We estimate that the minimum level of support will be $12.73 per hundredweight on October 1 for milk containing a 3.5 percent butterfat content," Crowl said. This would be an increase over the $12.07 per hundredweight support price which became effective on April 1 and could result in a 5 to 6 cent-per-gallon increase in retail milk prices.

Under the dairy price support program, the government buys butter, cheese, and nonfat dry milk to enable manufacturing plants, on the average, to pay producers at least the support price for their milk.

Other dairy program decisions to be made include the manufacturing margins used in calculating the purchase prices of cheese, butter, and nonfat dry milk; the allocation of any change in the support price for milk affecting the purchase prices set for butter and nonfat dry milk; and the level of sales prices of CCC-owned dairy products.

"Comments to be considered, must be in writing and received in our Washington office no later than the August 18 deadline," the ASCS official said.

Persons should mail comments to the Director, Procurement and Sales Division, Room 5741 South Building, U. S. Department of Agriculture, ASCS, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D. C. 20013.

Black Lung Claims Schedule Announced

Charles N. Lewis, Deputy Commissioner of the U. S. Department of Labor, Black Lung Division, P. O. Box 26, 214 Seventh Street, Parkersburg, WV 26101 has announced the following schedule of time and place for individuals wishing to contact the Department concerning black lung claims:

County Office Building, No. 3 Pershing Street, Cumberland, Second Thursday of each month 9:00 a.m.-3:00 p.m.; Preston County Courthouse, Kingwood, WV, First and Third Friday of each month 9:00 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; Senior Citizens Center, 222 Water Street, Parsons, WV, Second Tuesday of each month 10:00 a.m.-12:00 noon.

These offices have been established to provide service to those individuals wishing to file for black lung benefits or that have questions concerning claims previously filed and still pending a decision. The representatives in these offices will also assist miners or dependents of miners should they have questions concerning the black lung benefits they are receiving or in any matter concerning benefits provided under the 1977 Reform Act of the Black Lung Law.

Black lung benefits are payable to a miner who has become totally disabled by black lung disease and to certain of his dependents. In the case of a deceased miner, benefits are paid to eligible survivors of a miner who was totally disabled due to black lung disease or whose death was caused by the disease.

Lewis also noted that should an individual not be able to contact one of the above black lung offices in person or by telephone that they may visit their local Social Security Office for assistance on their black lung inquiry.

Those offices under the jurisdiction of the Parkersburg Black Lung District Office listed above serve residents of Northern West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and the District Columbia.

CHOOSING THE CORRECT PAINT

Have you ever questioned what type of paint should be used when tackling a big paint job? This is an important question to ask, because when the right type of paint is chosen results are much more satisfying. Actually, the final appearance and the durability of the finish are largely determined by the paint used. Following are descriptions of the four major types of paint.

*A flat wall finish paint gives soft tones to walls and furnishings. Latex base is quick-drying, low odor, and washable with water. Oil base is highly durable and needs to be cleaned with mineral spirits.

*A semi-gloss finish paint gives a brighter look and is more washable than flat paint wall finish. It is most often used for accent walls, kitchen, bath, or on wood or metal trim to match flat wall finish.

*A high gloss paint finish has a bright shiny appearance. It is highly washable and therefore is used for areas of hard wear, such as moldings, door frames and children's furniture.

*Enamel paint produces an extra high gloss, and has excellent washability and durability. It is best used for accents and some furniture. Enamel is available in both latex and oil-base. Also, an epoxy enamel which is chemically designed for appliances and bathroom surfaces is available.

FOOD NOTES

Limes are now in plentiful supply according to USDA marketing officials and they are the perfect ingredient for refreshing and delightful dishes for these hot summer days. Here is a delicious dessert using lime that I think you will enjoy:

PEACH AND LIME CRUNCH

3 cups bread crumbs
½ cup melted butter
4 cups sliced fresh peaches
¾ cup light brown sugar
¼ tsp. nutmeg
Grated rind and juice of ½ lime

Mix bread crumbs with the melted butter and spread one-third of the mixture over the bottom of a 2 quart casserole. Combine the peaches, brown sugar, nutmeg, and lime rind and juice. Spread half of that over the bread crumbs in the casserole. Sprinkle another third of the bread crumb mixture over the peaches and top that with remaining fruit mixture. Top with remaining bread crumb mixture and bake, covered, in a 350 degree F. oven for 20 minutes. Serves 4-6.

TO PRESENT CONCERT — The Family of God Gospel Singers from Martinsburg, Pa., will be at the Loch Lynn United Brethren Church Sunday, August 17, at 7:30 p.m., for a gospel sing program. The program is open to the public.

Gasoline Use Down In June

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced Friday that gasoline consumption during June 1980 fell below the consumption level for June 1979, a month when long gasoline lines and supposedly short supplies dramatically cut gasoline consumption.

Marylanders consumed 153,536,573 gallons of gasoline during June 1980, down 1.7% from the 156,145,293 consumed the same month of 1979.

"The real significance of this decrease in consumption can be measured by the 15% drop it represents from the amount of gasoline used during June 1978, the last 'normal' June," Mr. Goldstein said. "That kind of conservation when there is no shortage is dramatic proof of the effects of price and voluntary conservation."

Mr. Goldstein also noted that gasohol consumption during June 1979 remained steady at approximately 1.6 million gallons.

Motor Fuel Tax revenue generated by June 1980 consumption totalled $15,972,048, approximately one-half of one percent less than the $16,044,144 collected during the same month last year.

QUESTION:

"Our natural gas bills go up and down with the seasons. Any way to change that?"

ANSWER:

"Columbia's Budget Payment Plan evens them out. You pay the same every month, summer and winter."

August is sign-up month for the Columbia Budget Payment Plan. Which means that starting in September, your natural gas bills can be averaged out, and you'll have the same, predictable amount to pay each month. Summer and winter.

For example, a family with a total bill for the year of $564.00 will pay $47.00 each month on the Budget Payment Plan. And have the assurance of knowing what each bill will be. Without the Budget Payment Plan, a summer bill could be as low as $12.00, but their February bill could reach $95.00.

Gone are the extremes. You'll pay more in the summer, but you'll pay a lot less in the winter. And at the end of 12 months, if you've paid for more natural gas than you've used, you get a credit.

Over one-third of our residential customers are now using the Budget Payment Plan. And August is the month to sign up. So act soon. To start the Plan—or receive a brochure that explains it more fully—contact your Columbia Gas office. Also ask for a copy of our free conservation tips booklet, "The Everyday Energy Saver's Guide."

COLUMBIA GAS
Still your best energy value.
And we want to keep it that way.

Chatterton, Kittle Vows Exchanged

Priscilla Anne Chatterton, Baltimore, and George Peterson Kittle, Annapolis, exchanged wedding vows on July 12 at 1 p.m. during a double ring ceremony. The wedding and reception were held on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Knight, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Watson Dyar. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoffman. The Rev. James McBride, of Shelbourne Baptist Church performed the ceremony, held in Winfield.

The bride wore a mid-length layered-cream-colored dress with lace smocking. A spray of roses, poms and baby's breath was worn in her hair, and she carried a bouquet of roses and poms. She was given in marriage by her father, Lloyd Watson Dyar.

Mrs. Linda Holthaus, Baltimore, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, and best man was Benjamin Sincell of Mt. Lake Park, friend of the groom. Mrs. Holthaus wore a floral dress and carried a bouquet of daisies and poms. Ring bearer was Keith Chatterton, and the flower girl was Jennifer Cole.

Approximately 75 guests attended the celebration of marriage.

The couple left for their honeymoon to Mt. Lake Park. They will return to their home in Annapolis.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Lansdowne Sr. High School, and she attended Catonsville Community College. She is a Medical Laboratory Technician for the Veterans Administration.

The groom is a 1972 graduate of Belpre High School, Ohio. He attended Garrett Community College and Anne Arundel Community College and is presently employed by Washington Homes.

Kathy Lynn Wotring, Robert K. Wiles Wed In Candlelight Ceremony June 14

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Aurora, W. Va., was the scene of the June 14 wedding of Kathy Lynn Wotring to Robert Kevin Wiles.

Rev. Bernard Carl performed the double ring ceremony before an altar of white daisies with lighted candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith P. Wotring, Aurora, W. Va. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wiles, Amboy, W. Va.

A program of nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Phyllis Vandevender, who also accompanied Mrs. Frances Roth in singing If, We've Only Just Begun, and The Lord's Prayer.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, and given in marriage by her parents, wore a floor length gown of tiered Chantilly lace and a misty tulle neckline, finished with a double collar. Her fingertip veil, of nylon tulle lace was trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath with white satin streamers. The gown belonged to the bride's aunt.

Miss Kim Green, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of mint green dotted swiss, with cap sleeves and a low squared neckline, trimmed with picot lace with a high waistline trimmed with a ribbon belt tied in the back.

She wore a mint green picture hat trimmed with two silk daisies.

Miss Karen Wotring, Mrs. Carole Green, Miss Tammy Knotts, and Mrs. Doris Wiles served as bridesmaids. Their gowns were styled like that of the maid of honor. Their gowns were rainbow pastels of orange, yellow, blue and pink. They each wore matching picture hats, accented with silk daisies. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of rainbow colored daisies, with white satin streamers.

Diane Terrant served as flower girl. She wore a floor-length gown of mint green dotted swiss styled similar to that of the other attendants. She carried a basket of white daisy petals, and wore a mint green daisy in her hair.

The groom wore a white tuxedo, with a ruffled shirt. The groomsmen wore white tuxedos, with ruffled shirts trimmed to coordinate with the gowns of the bride's attendants.

Dennis Loughrie served as best man. Ushers were Allen Dale Strawser, Phil Green, Danny Arnett, and David Wiles, brother of the groom. Christopher Roth served as ring bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a sky blue floor-length dress, with a pale blue cape, complimented by a corsage of blue, pink and white daisies. The mother of the groom chose a peach floor-length dress, complimented by a corsage of peach and white daisies.

Both of the fathers wore white tuxedos, with ruffled shirts trimmed in peach and blue.

Scott Green and Terry Auvil, cousins of the bride, distributed programs, and Dianne Terrant and Chirstopher Roth distributed the rice packets.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social room.

A three-tiered cake, decorated with a miniature bride and groom, two doves, daisies, and rose buds was baked by the groom's mother, and served by Mrs. Ada Green, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Ruby Auvil, aunt of the bride, served the punch.

Miss Kim Green, Miss Sharon Wiles, Miss Alice Knight, and Mrs. Bernadette Arnett assisted the couple at the gift table. Mrs. Annette Strawser was in charge of the guest book.

After a wedding trrip to Virginia, the couple now resides in Rowlesburg, W. Va.

Two bridal showers were given in honor of the new Mrs. Wiles. Annette Strawser and Bernadette Arnett hosted the first and Charlotte Roth and Linda and Diane Gnegy hosted a surprise shower for the new bride.

Appraisals

"Where living is easy"

SKIPPER'S POINT — This gracious home captures the spirit of a country estate, situated on a large wooded lot with 100 ft. of lakefront. The downstairs is richly paneled and luxuriously carpeted, with an enticing cut stone fireplace. Upstairs, an equally tasteful apartment will generate an appreciable rental income, or will house your extra guests. The "Swiss" exterior, large patio-porch, and overhanging redwood deck present an enviable appearance from the large dock. The price is right . . . . . $115,000.

"All this and heaven too!"

HARVEY'S PENINSULA — A colonial living room, brick fireplace with tubular grate and blower, rich wormy chestnut finishings and doors, and hardwood floors make this a woodsman's delight. A variety of sleeping quarters, laundry room, and ¾ basement with covered storage area, all add up to sensibility. View your 100 ft. lakefront lot from a screened-in porch, barbecue on your patio, and catch the cool lake breezes from a sturdy dock. This brick and frame home is easily maintained . . . . . $52,500.

"A very shady deal"

STATE PARK ROAD — Tall trees line the way to your new lakefront home in one of the more convenient areas of Deep Creek Lake. Situated in a sunlit clearing, this home has been immaculately maintained with a brick fireplace, hardwood floors, paneling and complete furnishings. Few homes boast of a basement as dry as this one, with a forced air furnace, garage, and extra facilities, including a laundry area. Large closets, a gently sloping wooded lot, and especially sturdy construction add to the charm of owning your own lakefront home . . . . . $75,000.

"Double your pleasure"

BECKMAN'S PENINSULA — This duplex with lake access is an exceptional value. Rent one unit and enjoy the other yourself. A brick fireplace and knotty pine paneling in the kitchen/dining and living area make this feel like home. All this on a 0.46 wooded acre lot with shared dock. Consider the possibilities . . . . . $33,500.

"Storybook Forest"

BOY SCOUT ROAD — This was built for the romantic in your family - a picturesque stone and frame cottage right from a scenario in "Brigadoon". Two smaller cottages, aptly named "Wee H[SOLD]-so-Wee Hut", adjoin the main house. All ar[illegible] complete and situated on an aggregate of four lots . . . that's 2.71 acres with 318.68 feet of lakefront! Enjoy an evening cocktail and oversee your dream house from a unique "crow's nest" deck. Make this fairy tale home a reality . . . . . $110,000.

NORTH GLADE ROAD — ½-acre woodland with a travel trailer that sleeps 6, kitchen, dining area, bath. Well, septic and electric hookup. Great for family who enjoys camping . . . . . $11,900.

SKY VALLEY — Exceptional chalet offered fully furnished. Large living room with native stone fireplace, 3 bedrooms plus loft. Situated on well manicured lot. Dock and DEEP CREEK LAKE privileges included. Many extras combine to make this one of our outstanding offerings for year 'round or seasonal living . . . . . $72,500.

BECKMAN'S PENINSULA — 0.64-acre wooded lot with lake access, approved for building . . . . . $13,000.

STOCKSLAGER ROAD — ½-acre level wooded lot with 125 feet fronting on lake . . . . . $26,500.

HOYES RUN ROAD — Ideal cottage for hunting or fishing. 2.72 acres fronting on a flowing stream and just off a paved county road in a rustic setting with privacy. It's ready for your finishing touch and is just minutes from the Ski Wisp and Deep Creek Lake . . . . . $12,500.

SHINGLE CAMP T[SOLD] - Wooded lakefront lot improved with a 12x2[illegible]

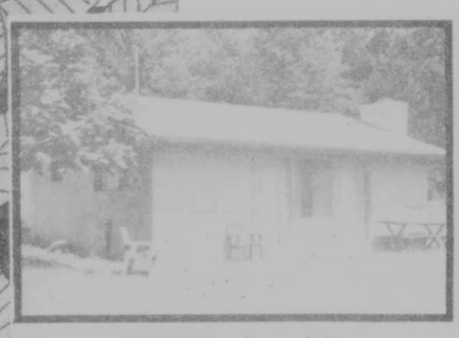

HARVEY'S PENINSULA — Wooded one-half acre lake access lot. Owner will finance . . . . . $6,990.

PARADISE POINT ROAD — Attractive ½-acre building lot with lake access, docks, picnic area, etc. Health Dept. approved and ready for building . . . . . $10,000.

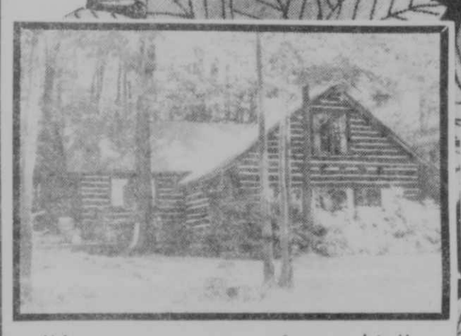

"The view makes it all worthwhile"

TURKEY NECK AREA — Solidly constructed four-bedroom home situated on a level lakefront lot with a spectacular view of the sailing waters of Deep Creek Lake. The interior is in excellent condition - light, airy, and open. An abundance of storage space, two full baths, and fully equipped kitchen insure maintenance-free living. Tastefully furnished with deep pile wall-to-wall carpeting makes decorating a breeze. The large patio porch with built-in barbecue adds unlimited possibilities for the entertainer in your family. A garage, dock, and swimming platform complete an already perfect retreat . . . . . $110,000.

"Wildlife abounds"

THOUSAND ACRES — Wildlife abounds in one of the more secluded areas of Deep Creek Lake. An attractive two-bedroom starter cottage located on a gently sloping lakefront lot in a prestige no-development. This little retreat promises utility as well as a nice view of the lake from your armchair. Capture the spirit of a remote mountain lakefront setting and while away summer hours watching the "deer and the antelope play." . . . . . $70,600.

"A monument to craftsmanship"

LAKE SHORE DRIVE — A rare opportunity to purchase a chestnut log lodge, handcrafted with care in the days when homes were built to endure for generations. A large native stone fireplace serves to heat in all but the most bitter weather, with an oil hot-air backup system. All natural wood throughout provides warmth and atmosphere. Large living room, dining area, with massive stone fireplace, three bedrooms and bath. Offered complete with furnishings and boat with 100 hp outboard engine. As if that weren't enough - add a matching guest cottage containing sleeping accommodations for 12 on two levels, with two baths and kitchenette. All on a nicely landscaped, lakefront lot . . . . . $92,500.

"The elegance of yesteryear - today!"

STATE PARK ROAD — Picture an elegantly landscaped lot, flourishing with rhododendron, evergreens, woodland paths, an English-terraced garden with gazebo, surmounted by a unique five-bedroom cottage. Picture a covered outdoor patio, built-in stone barbecue with fan ventilation, a rustic log guest cottage, and an outbuilding with laundry facilities, workshop, and attached carport. Roam through the interior of the main house, relax near a baronial fireplace, and wake up to a view of Deep Creek Lake in your spacious master bedroom. Wormy chestnut paneling and tastefully appointed furnishings complete the picture. All on a two-acre lot. Elegance was never this affordable . . . . . $97,500.

"A charming chalet"

SKY VALLEY — A large living room and native stone fireplace grace this three-bedroom, fully furnished chalet. The large bedroom loft doubles as a den setting and large expanses of glass provide a view of the well manicured lot. Step out of your kitchen and on to a porch with attached fireplace and outdoor grill. Ownership includes dock and other Deep Creek Lake privileges. Just right for that no-fuss, move-right-in buyer . . . . . $72,500.

STATE PARK ROAD — Large selection of wooded lots. Call our office for details.

"Get away from it all"

GREEN GLADE — Get away from it all and bring family and friends with you. Four bedrooms, a modern kitchen and full bath are very accommodating - and complete the new addition to serve any whim. A large, level lakefront lot will keep the kids entertained while Mom and Dad unwind from a hectic week. A perfect beginning . . . . . $49,900.

"Watch the sailing regatta from your front porch"

TURKEY NECK — A two-bedroom log cottage situated on three lots fronting 181' on Deep Creek Lake. Newly carpeted and freshly painted throughout its colorful interior. A stone fireplace and large expanse of windows add to the amenities . . . . . $125,000.

"Invest in your future"

McHENRY — This three-apartment brick and siding house is an investor's dream. A spacious lakefront lot holds an especially nice porch view of the lake. Each apartment has two bedrooms, bath, modern kitchen and living room. Let us show you your next income-producing property. Call our office for further details.

"For year 'round enjoyment"

LOWER GLENDALE ROAD — For the budget-minded home buyer, this three-bedroom cottage battles energy costs with insulation and hot air oil heat. Enjoy the new front deck on hot summer days and move indoors to a functional living room in the cool of the evening. A 30-foot lake access and dock included. Very affordable. Owner will finance with 20% down, 20 years, 12% interest. Isn't it time you owned a weekend haven? . . . . . $44,500.

"Nestled in among the pines"

LAKE SHORE DRIVE — Tucked in among the hemlock and the rhododendron, this two-bedroom redwood cottage overlooks 100 feet of lakefront. Its large living/dining room with fireplace, convenient kitchen, two bedrooms and bath are well maintained. Storage buildings and a bunkhouse for additional sleeping quarters will accommodate friends visiting for a weekend, who want to stay for the summer. Appreciate the view from a redwood deck . . . . . $64,500.

"All in your own backyard"

MARSH HILL ROAD — This three-bedroom home presents everything that Garrett County has to offer, right in your own backyard. A 100-foot lakefront lot gently slopes to the Deep Creek waters and this solid cut-stone ranch home is within walking distance of the Wisp Ski area. The living room has a full wall cut-stone fireplace and a large picture window view of the lake. Attractive owner financing is available to qualified buyer. For 12 months a year you'll be glad you did . . . . . $78,500.

County Receives Park Revenue

Twenty-five percent of all revenues collected in state parks and forests is returned to Garrett County in lieu of County property tax, according to the Maryland Forest and Park Services. The fourth quarter payment of $15,347 brought the 1980 fiscal year total, which ended June 30, 1980, to $102,766.

Deep Creek Lake, Herrington Manor, Swallow Falls, New Germany, and Big Run State Parks, Savage River and Potomac-Garrett State Forests are administered by the Department of Natural Resource's Forest and Park Services. The fiscal 1980 total reimbursement statewide by the Forest and Park Services was nearly $482,000.

SHA Drivers Receive Training For Emergencies

The State Highway Administration conducted seminars during the month of July on accidents involving hazardous materials which are becoming more frequent on the nation's highways. T. W. Beaulieu, District Engineer, advises that the seminars were not designed to make their drivers experts in the field, but to alert them to the potential dangers and the proper means of reporting such accidents and taking the proper measures until expert help arrives.

The SHA with its large fleet of mostly radio equipped vehicles, is, in effect, patrolling our State's highways, and has a tremendous potential for discovering such accidents, Beaulieu said. The courses centered on recognizing the contents of vehicles by the required placards and the Bill of Lading, if available. The SHA's most important task will be to seal off that portion of the highway affected by such an accident, and help in the control of traffic until the roadway can be cleared, he said.

The courses were taught by Louis R. Hueper, P.E., C.S.P., State Highway Administration Safety Coordinator, from Baltimore, who is one of only two Certified Safety Professionals employed in State Government, and Richard LaBrocco, assigned to the Bomb Squad of the State Fire Marshal's Office. LaBrocco has had 20 years experience in bombs and hazardous materials.

A state-wide procedure has been developed for reporting such accidents through the SHA's communications center so that professional help may be alerted as quickly as possible.

The seminars were coordinated by James E. Blubaugh, District 6 E.E.O/Safety Officer.

Family Members Attend Nutrition Workshops

The Community Food and Nutrition of Garrett County Community Action, Inc., in cooperation with the Garrett County Extension Service, held training sessions for the 100 families enrolled in the Community Food and Nutrition gardening project on July 29 and 30.

The sessions were conducted by Mrs. Opal Fazenbaker and Mrs. Dessie Bowman, Extension Aides. Twenty-four persons attended the two sessions.

Film strips on the basics of canning and jelly making were shown at both sessions.

Following the film strips, an open discussion was held on the proper methods of canning and freezing of vegetables and fruits. Several pamphlets on home canning and freezing were given to each person attending the session.

A drawing was held at the conclusion of each session, with the following persons winners from the Southern Workshop: Mrs. Zelma Bittinger, Mrs. Betty Guthrie, Mrs. Ruth Beckman and Mrs. Grace Kifer.

The winners from the Northern Session were: Mrs. Helen Paul, Mrs. Lottie Jackson, Harry Garlitz and Mrs. Lena Thomas.

The families attending the workshops received freezing containers and jar lids donated by the Kerr Canning Company.

School Bells Ring . . . Mothers Listen

by Carol Kapel

Back-to-school displays have launched their attack on innocent parents once again.

Attempting to outfit two teenagers and a fourth grader with illusions of junior college cannot be done on the average working couple's net income.

My 14-year-old son wants shoes with a price tag which equals the mortgage payment. My teenage daughter wants designer jeans, because everyone who's anyone wears a name on their backside pocket. I see nothing fascinating in Gloria Vanderbilt's signature, neither in the movies, nor in my budget plans. I offered to sign her double knit dress pants, (which she won't be caught dead in) but somehow, she wasn't impressed.

The stores and shopping centers are no help. They inundate the mailbox with booklets, pamphlets, and threats of possible peer pressure if the arms of children everywhere don't burst through classroom doors clutching hoards of pencils, rulers, notebooks, and lunch boxes bearing reasonable facsimilies of R2-D2 or Barbie, queen of the senior prom. (What ever happened to brown bags)?

Of course, the back-to-school sales are supposed to help. Forget it. All they manage to do is open the door to 503 pairs of underwear, with an equal number of mothers grappling over all the size mediums, or rummaging through the aisles, muttering to themselves, contemplating who can still wear what from last year in relationship to what's been "marked down" (It's also been in the store for 12 years).

If we're lucky, all the kids in the family might share the current fad. (Did you ever notice how a fad item always shows its face around August 1)? Obviously, by the looks of the stores today, it's the western look. Have you ever tried to envision three different head sizes, while using your own as a model for a cowboy hat??

Notebook paper—now there's a real treat. I begin my quest for packs of notebook paper about the same time our neighborhood squirrels begin to store their winter nuts. Mid-August finds me wandering through department stores in a semi-conscious state, trying, without success, to remember how many dozen packs of notebook paper I've stashed in various parts of the house and car in preparation for the rationing process. My three youngsters have somehow developed the notion that somewhere, in the forests of America, there are standing hundreds of trees, just waiting to lay down their trunks and branches so that pulpwood may be turned into notebook paper . . . just for them. The most famous novelists of the 20th century could, in no way, surpass my kids in the use of notebook paper.

In spite of all this, I do have one thing to look forward to—the first day of school. I can see it all now. My oldest son will have already misplaced one of his semi-precious athletic shoes—my daughter will be screaming from the bedroom that she hasn't got a thing to wear—and my youngest one will stand patiently by the door—clinging to his clipboard—waiting for his ration of notebook paper.

Bill Makes NASA Head Of Fuel Efficiency Effort

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) recently introduced legislation giving the nation's space agency efficiency in the United States. It also makes the National Aeronautics and Space Agency responsible for coordinating all federal automotive research and development.

Mathias said NASA's "exceptional technological track record" and its independence from federal automotive regulatory functions makes it the logical agency for research and development into new automotive fuels and technologies.

NASA, he said, has a proven record of successfully managing high technology research and development programs and presently conducts 60 percent of the U. S. Department of Energy's automotive fuel research. He also pointed out that since its formation in 1958, NASA has had a strong ability to work closely with private industry.

Mathias said American automobile manufacturers have been reluctant to cooperate with federal agencies involved in automotive research, because many of the agencies are also regulatory bodies which could hinder and impede the free flow of ideas needed for technological advancement.

"The relationship between NASA and the auto industry," Mathias said, "is free of the conflicts which characterize most government agency-auto industry relationships." He said NASA has no regulatory responsibilities and thus would be free to work closely with the auto industry in a cooperative, voluntary effort to improve present U. S. automotive fuel technology. He added that many of the federal government's energy and research efforts have been characterized by confusion and conflict with private industry. He said his bill provides "a big step eliminating these problems in the area of automotive fuel research."

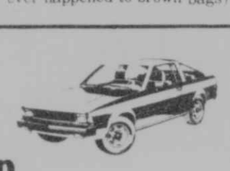

The automaker who comes up first with a car that gets 50 to 75 miles a gallon, Mathias said, will corner the world automobile market. "I want that automaker to be American, and that's why I want to get NASA into the act."

Mathias said his bill will not interfere with the successful completion of the space shuttle, NASA's primary mission. Under the bill, funds for the automotive research effort would come partly from interagency transfers, the windfall profits tax and general revenues. Scientific and technical staff would be assigned from federal agencies in the automotive fuel research field and from NASA missions which have been completed.

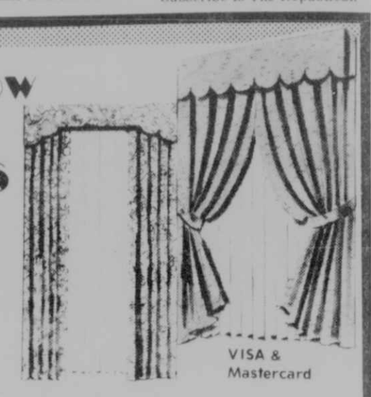

Representative Tom Harkin (D-Iowa) has introduced a similar bill in the House of Representatives.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

4-H News

The annual picnic for families and exhibit of projects was held by the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club on August 4 at the Farmers' Wildlife Park at Horse Shoe Run. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hauser, Brent and Terry; Mr. and Mrs. John Minnig, Kim, Faith and Cherri; Mr. and Mrs. William Lantz, Willie and Jackie; Mr. and Mrs. Don Roth, Arlene and Danny; Mrs. Delores Weimer, Crystal and Todd; Mrs. Judy Shaffer, Gary, Guy Wayne and Regina; and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lewis, Julie and Emily.

Following the picnic supper the group viewed a slide presentation, Look Around You, from the Huntington Galleries.

The business was conducted by president Arlene Roth. Old business consisted of camp reports from those members who attended. The Tri-State 4-H Day at Three Rivers Stadium was discussed.

The club decided to place meeting dates on the Aurora Band Calendar for the next year.

Crystal Weimer gave a talk, "How To Build a Bird Bath"; Faith Minnig taught the group an Indan game called Snow Snake; Terry Hauser explained the course for the State Tractor Driving contest.

Arlene Roth showed the films which she and Sheila Delaney had made for their photography projects.

The club will meet September 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Eglon Memorial Building for the next regular meeting.

Personals

Violet Pitman and granddaughter, Lora Lemaster, of Morgantown, visited Friday in Eglon with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Arnold. On Monday Marshall Arnold, his son Jeff and his two daughters, all of Boston, Mass., visited with the Arnolds. Marshall is a brother of Mr. Arnold and they are also visiting with other relatives in this area.

Westmoreland and their sons, Terry and Jay, who will leave that day for Boones Mill, Va., where he will be serving the Church of the Brethren there. Friends of the Westmorelands are welcome to attend.

The reunion of former students and teachers of the Crossroads School will be held August 17 at the Farmers' Wildlife Park near Horse Shoe Run with a basket lunch to be served at 1 p.m. Everyone is invited.

The August 5 meeting of the Eglon Homemakers was held in the Eglon Memorial Building with Rebecca Teets as hostess. The meeting began with a display of a crocheted pot holder set and dried flower picture as the hostess' special feature. As an added bit, Jean Winters read "Zucchini Blues".

The lesson was "The Creative Woman in Her Community," and was presented by Jean Winters. Mrs. Winters used brainstorming, exercises in committee work and role playing to present the main goals of the lesson which were to gain skills in working together to assess community needs and to bring ideas to fruition.

Secretary Mary Rembold took the roll call which was answered by names of vegetables. President Linda Lewis led the business discussion and announced the requirements for the Tannenbaum Festival which will be held December 6 in Kingwood. It was decided to put the club dates on the band calendar. Hostess and lessons were chosen, committee reports filled out and other end-of-the-year reports made.

The meeting closed with devotions on the family life of Jesus, led by the hostess who read from Luke 10. She also discussed the various facts about his early life and concluded by reading "Home" by Edgar A. Guest, and having prayer.

Refreshments were served to Lectie Bonner, Avenell Parsons, Mary Rembold, Marguerite Shaffer, Nina Layman, Jean Winters, Ruth Teets, Florence Minnig, Lorraine Fike, Barbara Heckert and Linda Lewis.

A ham, bean and cornbread dinner will be served at the Aurora Fire Hall August 17 by the Cathedral Theta Rho Club and Junior Odd Fellows Lodge. Serving will be from Noon until 4:00 p.m. The proceeds from the dinner will be used to finance a trip to Sovereign Grand Lodge to be held in Toronto, Canada.

On September 7 the time of services at the Maple Grove Assembly of God Church, near Horse Shoe Run, will be Sunday School at 9:30 a.m., with morning worship at 10:45 a.m. and evening services at 7:00 p.m. Also, beginning September 3, Bible Study on Wednesday evening will be held from 7:00 until 8:00 p.m. and choir practice will be from 8:00 until 9:00 p.m.

The Maple Grove Assembly of God Church will celebrate with Rally Day on September 7. The guest speaker for the 10:45 a.m. worship will be the Rev. Gordon Hensley and at 7 p.m., the film, "The Road to Armageddon," will be shown.

On August 24, following the morning worship hour, there will be a covered dish dinner at the Maple Spring Church to say farewell to Pastor and Mrs. Don Beckman, Eglon.

The 59th annual Hauser Reunion was held August 10 at the Stemple Ridge Church with a large number in attendance.

Adrian and Pat Stemple hosted a supper and party Saturday evening at their Aurora home for their daughter, Debbie, who is graduating August 15 from the Monongalia County Vocational Center as a practical nurse. Seventy relatives and friends attended.

Leonard Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Parsons, Aurora, attended State 4-H Camp held at

The Aurora High School Class of 1964 met at the Aurora Fire Hall on August 9 for a dinner, served by the VFD Auxiliary, and a reunion. Those attending were Leland and Ardis Teets, Robert Harsh and Bonnie, Retha Moats Griffith and Harold, Shirley Beckman Lipscomb and Guy, Sandra Roth Hauser and Bill, Alvin Lockhart and Jeanette, all local; Barbara Slaubaugh Evans and Donnie, Leadmine; Doyne Teets and Bonnie, Springfield, Va.; Carolyn Evans Baumgartner and Rick, Rowlesburg; Carl Unger and Jean, Clarksburg; and Carol Martin Everly and Jack, Kingwood. On Sunday, seven of the class members and their families had a picnic at Broadford Park at Oakland.

Relatives and friends of the late Rev. and Mrs. Daniel W. Kirk met at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building on Sunday, August 10, for their annual reunion. Sixty-five attended from Ohio, Maryland, and West Virginia. A dinner was served at noon. It was voted to meet at the same time and place next year. Some of the immediate family were unable to attend because of illness.

On July 27, the 16th annual Old Timers Reunion was held at the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building with 100 persons signing the register. Gifts were presented to the following: oldest student present who had attended the old Aurora Elementary School, Alfred Wotring; oldest teacher present, Andrew F. Long, age 93; greatest distance traveled, Harold Hughes, Florida.

The largest number of brothers and sisters attending were of the Amos Stemple family: Eva Wotring, Paul, Frank and Elmer Stemple, Bertha Jeter and Kathryn Harvey. The White and Lipscomb families followed with four members each.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Ernestine Sisler, chairman; Paul Stemple, secretary-treasurer; and Ruth Snyder, assistant.

Attending the Golden Age Camp at Buckhannon last week were Pearl Stemple, Olive Beckman, Eva Wotring and Ruth Snyder, of Aurora. This was the last Golden Age Camp to be held at EvUn Breth Acres, since it is to be sold. There will be another Golden Age Camp next year at a different location which will be announced later. Spring Heights will be the camp in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Boleyn, Morgantown, are announcing the birth of their first child, a girl born at 8:09 a.m. on August 11 in West Virginia University Medical Center. The baby weighed eight pounds, two and one-half ounces and the name chosen for her is Heidi Christine. Mrs. Boleyn is the former Kathy Donham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Donham, Grafton. Paternal grandparents are the Rev. and Mrs. Lester Boleyn of Morgantown. Maternal great-grandparents are Mrs. Virgie Donham, Aurora, and Mrs. May

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Article 66B of the Code of Public General Laws of Maryland empowers the County to prepare, enact, amend and provide for the administration and enforcement of a zoning ordinance within its territorial limits; and,

WHEREAS, the Garrett County Board of County Commissioners have formally adopted the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning Ordinance; and,

WHEREAS, the Garrett County Commissioners have found that certain amendments as detailed herein are desirable and necessary for the effective enforcement and implementation of the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning Ordinance; and,

WHEREAS, the County Commissioners have given due public notice of public hearings relating to these proposed amendments, and have held said public hearings;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Garrett County Board of County Commissioners do hereby enact the following amendments to the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning Ordinance:

1) In Section 302 G change the second sentence to read as follows:

302G Any change in the character and extent of a special exception use, except a change to a use permitted pursuant to Section 302C, shall require a special exception granted by the Board of Appeals pursuant to Article 10.

2) Add a new Section under Article 2 to define "land records" as follows:

218A Land Records

For the purpose of this Ordinance "land records" shall mean the duly recorded documents filed, recorded and indexed in the custody of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Garrett County.

3) Add a new subsection C to Section 1105 in Article 11 as follows:

1105 C

An application for a reclassification shall not be accepted for filing by the local legislative body if the application is for the reclassification of the whole or any part of land the reclassification of which has been opposed or denied by the local legislative body on the merits within twelve (12) months from the date of the local legislative body's decision.

4) In Article 8, change Section 805 to read as follows:

Upon application on a form provided by the Zoning Administrator, the owner or agent of any nonconforming use, structure or property shall be issued a certificate by the Zoning Administrator recording the facts of such nonconforming use, structure or property. Such certificate may be used as evidence in asserting rights pursuant to this Article.

DULY ADOPTED by unanimous vote of the Garrett County Board of County Commissioners this 29th day of July 1980 to become effective on and from the 25th day of August 1980.

By Order of the Board

NO. 7787 EQUITY
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND

ORDER

ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County: The Defendants unknown being predecessors in title to William R. Offutt, Trustee are hereby notified that the Plaintiffs, John A. MacMillan and Christine MacMillan, his wife, have filed a Bill to Quiet Title to that certain tract of land containing one-fourth of an acre and being described in that deed dated February 17, 1951 and recorded in Liber 166, folio 6, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, being described as follows:

"3. Part of Lot Number 14, being one of the subdivisions of a tract of land called "Small Meadows" and beginning for the part hereby intended to be conveyed, at a stake standing at the end of the second line of lot No. 10 of said subdivision; it being also the end of the first line of said Lot No. 14, and running thence with the second line and part of the third line of said Lot No. 14, South 38 degrees West, 26 perches; South 43-½ degrees West, 9-7/10 perches to a post; then North 39-1/4 degrees East, 35-5/10 perches to a post standing in the first line of said Lot No. 14; thence with it South 52 degrees East, 8/10 of a perch to the beginning; containing one-fourth of an acre, and being the land conveyed to the said Charles D. Shaffer by William R. Offutt, Trustee, by an unrecorded deed date May 28, 1921, which said deed is to be recorded prior to these presents."

The Plaintiffs allege there are no known claimants to the property and that there is no action at law or equity to enforce or test the validity of the titles to the tract. The Plaintiffs have prayed that an Order be passed declaring absolute ownership in the Plaintiffs.

Defendants are hereby warned that failure to file an answer or other defense on or before September 29, 1980, may result in the case proceeding against him by default.

Assignee's Sale Of Valuable Real Estate

Situate in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage from Robert C. Koch and Teresa A. Koch, his wife, undated but recorded on August 23, 1976 in Liber No. 369, folio 153, one of the Mortgage Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and said mortgage being duly assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will on Friday, the 29th day of August, 1980

At the Hour of 11:00 a.m. EDT on the property hereinafter described, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the property to be sold being described as follows:

That parcel of land situate, in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, which is known and designated as Lot No. 15 as shown on the plat of "Springwood Acres South," recorded in Plat Book 2, page 29, one of the Plat Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being the property conveyed to Robert C. Koch and Teresa A. Koch, his wife, by deed from Hugh Michael Buttry, dated August 5, 1976 and recorded in Liber No. 370, folio 186, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

Said property is subject to the following restrictive covenants:

1—Said land shall be used for residential, single dwelling homes.

2—No activity may be conducted on said property or in any building thereon which may constitute or become an annoyance or nuisance or disturb the peace of the community.

3—No temporary structure, such as a tent or trailer or cabins shall be placed upon any part of the property except as a temporary measure during construction of a permanent home. All plans and specifications for homes constructed on said property shall be approved by Everett Allen Fratz and wife, their heirs, personal representatives and assigns.

4—Buildings may be of any design, and may be constructed of wood, logs, stone, brick or composition, provided they will not detract from, or mar the natural beauty of the community.

5—No building or other structure shall be placed within a setback of 15 feet from the front property line and 10 feet from any adjacent property line.

6—Any permanent structure placed upon a lot must contain a minimum floor area per floor of 480 square feet exclusive of porches, patios or carports, and any said structure facing a street must be at least 20 feet wide.

7—Water supply and sewage disposal installations shall be made in strict compliance with the health and building codes applicable to Garrett County, and all bathroom and toilet facilities shall be incorporated within the main structure.

8—Open fires are prohibited on any part of the property. Outdoor fireplaces, grills and all chimneys must be provided with fire screens of sufficient design to prevent scattering of sparks.

9—Trees and topography shall remain uncut and undisturbed except as required for construction purposes.

10—Each property owner shall promptly remove or otherwise dispose of any accumulation of trash, garbage or rubbish, and at all times maintain said property in a neat and sanitary condition.

11—Firing of rifles, guns or weapons of any kind is prohibited within the aforesaid boundaries.

12—In the event that water shall be made available from a central system a charge will be made to users thereof.

Said lot contains 1.21 acres and is unimproved.

Terms of sale: 1/3 cash on date of sale and the balance upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

State and county taxes will be adjusted to date of sale.

Surface of the area to be mined is owned by John Guard, Rt. 1, Box 27, Friendsville, Maryland 21531, and the mineral to be mined is owned by John Guard, Rt. 1, Box 27, Friendsville, Maryland 21531. The application proposes to mine within 25 feet of the right-of-ways of Selby Road and Old Morgantown Road. The MD grid coordinates of the Section to be affected are N. 684 700, E. 134 350. The application also proposes a change in the existing land use from Woodland to Cropland.

A copy of the application is available for public inspection at the Maryland Bureau of Mines, 69 Hill Street, Hill Street School, Frostburg, Maryland 21532 during normal office hours.

Written comments, objections, or requests for notification of the date of public hearing on the application will be received until September 26, 1980 by the Director, Maryland Bureau of Mines, 69 Hill Street, Hill Street School, Frostburg, Maryland 21532.

Attention: File No. OPA 80-37
—Adv. 23-4t.

BLASTING NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that Gaylord Fuel Corporation-Stone Division, P. O. Box 128, McHenry, Md., will conduct blasting at its surface quarry operation located at Sang Run Road on Hoyes Run, Garrett County, under Permit No. 77SP0131 from March 1, 1980 through January 1, 1981, in compliance with all 1979 State and Federal laws.

Blasting will occur either between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12 noon, or between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday weather permitting. This schedule will be followed except during adverse conditions that will prevent blasting, or if the operator or public safety requires unscheduled detonations.

At least 10 minutes prior to all detonations all access roads will be controlled to prevent unauthorized entry. A warning signal will be sounded at least 5 minutes prior to detonation with 3 blasts of 10 seconds duration. The warning signal will be sounded once after detonation of 15 second duration as an all clear signal.

New Gasification Process Offers Boost To County

Lieutenant-Governor Sam Bogley and representatives from the Maryland Environmental Service (MES) and the Maryland Energy Administration (MEA) met with Garrett and Allegany County officials for a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Grantsville Holiday Inn to discuss a project designed to help develop further markets for Western Maryland coal.

Bogley stated his support for the project which is being undertaken by MES and involves a new technology for gasifying coal by combining it with solid waste.

The process, called Simplex, is specifically designed to use the highly caking bituminous coal found in the eastern United States including Western Maryland. The co-processing of coal and organic waste materials would reduce raw material cost to less than half that of any competing coal gasification process because of the availability of urban solid waste from the Baltimore Washington metropolitan area.

The process was described to those attending the luncheon by

Visitor Center To Be Opened Near Friendsville

Garrett County has been selected by the State of Maryland as the site of a new Visitor Information Center to be built near Friendsville, with final approval of construction and equipment funding being signed this week.

The center will be supported by the state, and will contain such information as recreational facilities, restaurants, campsites, special attractions, Maryland history, directions, and general information useful to tourists, as well as local and statewide residents. Garrett County will be particularly emphasized due to the vast number of local offerings.

The State Highway Administration will actually own the building, with the operation under the direction of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, according to the director, Cindy Banks. Funding for the operation and staff will be provided by the state of Maryland, through the Department of Economic and Community Development.

The opening of the center, to be located on Rt. 48, just east of Friendsville, is projected for the spring of 1981.

SOLEMN RECESSIONAL — James and Jane Simms, pictured second and third from left, are consoled and supported by each other and by members of the Southern Rescue Squad as they leave the scene of an accident on the Underwood Road which claimed the life of their son, James H. Simms, on Monday afternoon. Young Simms lost control of his 1979 Jeep CJ-7 when he observed that the roadway was covered with over two feet of water from the rain-swollen Youghiogheny River, struck a utility pole and came to rest in about five feet of water. Tichnell Family Members Plead For Overturn Of Death Sentence

SALISBURY, MD (UPI) — The wife and mother of a West Virginia man convicted of killing a deputy sheriff pleaded with jurors Tuesday to have mercy on the man they both love and allow him to live.

The Wicomico County jury of seven men and five women must decide whether Richard Tichnell, 33, should be sentenced to death or life in prison for the fatal shooting of Garrett County Deputy Sheriff David Livengood last year.

"I beg you. He is my only child. I wish you could spare his life for him," said Tichnell's mother, Verna Tevers of Fairmont, W. Va. "We deeply regret what has happened and if I could give my life to bring Mr. Livengood back, I would. Richard is not the heartless person he has been made out to be."

Tichnell's wife, Caroline, 32, also made a plea for his life.

"For his son's sake and mine, I ask for his life and that's all I want to say," she said.

Tichnell was sentenced last year to die in the gas chamber for killing Livengood during a burglary at an Army-Navy surplus store in Oakland, but an appeals court overturned the penalty.

The Maryland Court of Appeals said Circuit Judge Richard Pollitt erred by saying in chambers he did not know whether the case was a "death penalty" situation.

Tichnell's attorney, Clark Frame, said that statement convinced him to allow his client to forego sentencing by a jury. Pollitt sentenced Tichnell to death.

During Tuesday's proceedings, Tichnell told the jury he fired at Livengood because the deputy had shot him in the shoulder and he

Boy, Did We Goof!

In the August 13 issue of The Republican, the information written under the picture of the Grand Champion Baby Beef at the Garrett County Fair, and its owner, Kriss Hinebaugh, contained a gross error in the amount for which the animal was sold. It was reported to have been sold for $826.

In reality, the Garrett National Bank purchased the 1,180 pound steer for $2.50 per pound, for a total of $2,950. It was then donated to the Accident and Kitzmiller Fire Departments.

Our apologies to Kriss, the Garrett National Bank, the 4-H organization, the Garrett County Fair and the unwitting animal. The city girl who made the error has embarrassed regrets.

Bus Contractors Request Raise, 30 Threaten To End Contracts

The county commissioners Tuesday signed the FY1981 budget for the Board of Education making the budget official, but financial worries for the two parties are not over yet as they face the possibility of 30 bus contract termination requests before September.

The commissioners, Board of Education members and Garrett County Bus Contractors Association representatives met Tuesday to discuss the financial problems faced by the county's some 90 bus contractors.

"If some financial relief is not given," stated Charles "Bus" Bender, spokesman for the bus contractors, "I know of at least 30 of the individual contractors who will be sending in their letter notifying the Board of Education they wish to terminate their contract."

Garrett County's school transportation budget traditionally has been fully funded by the State Department of Education, including payment to bus contractors. In recent years, contractors have noted they are paying more to run and maintain a bus without adequate compensation from the state.

"A contractor is fortunate if he makes $1000-1500 profit a year," stated Bender.

The contractors approached the Board of Education Thursday for a four cent per mile raise for maintenance which would mean a total of $52,000 for the year for all contractors.

The commissioners granted a property tax exemption request for the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department for the first half of FY1980-81. The exemption was on the industrial building in Grantsville which houses the Flushing Shirt Factory.

GCC To Hold Two Special Registrations

As a convenience to students, Garrett Community College will hold special registrations for the fall semester in Grantsville on Wednesday, August 27, and at the Oakland Center on Thursday, August 28, according to Deloris Edgar, Registrar.

College representatives will be available from 4:00 to 8:00 p.m. at each location to assist in program and career selection and to enroll for the semester. The Grantsville registration will be held in the cafetorium at the new elementary school.

Final registrations will be conducted Monday through Friday, September 8 through 12. Semester classes start on Monday, September 15.

For additional information, persons may call the registrar at 387-6666.

Lake Residents Request Improved Road Maintenance

Representatives of the Penn Point Association of Property Owners, Deep Creek Lake, met with the county commissioners Tuesday to request more servicing of the road in their area.

Robert Stewart, spokesman for the association, and S. J. D'Alfonzo and Mrs. John Morey, association members, made three requests of the commissioners.

They requested improved maintenance of the last mile of county road up to the Penn Point gate; plowing of the road into the properties during the winter season, and consideration of amending the zoning ordinance to exclude temporary structures such as travel trailers used as living quarters in the neighborhood.

The commissioners agreed to investigate the matters but took no formal action.

In other business, Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator, reported he had received the contractors proposal for grading and curbing the commercial entrance to the access road off Rt. 135 into the site of the new Coca-Cola Plant. The commissioners stated no action would be taken until further information on the construction schedule for the new building could be obtained and the possibility of grant funding could be explored.

Tim Dugan submitted three invoices totaling $4500 for approval by the commissioners to be reimbursed through the HUD Community Block Grant. The invoices, for projects which are part of the grant, were for the Appalachian Parent Association — $3000, Community Action Committee — $1000, and the Planning Office — $500. All three invoices were approved.

The commissioners granted a property tax exemption request for the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department for the first half of FY1980-81. The exemption was on the industrial building in Grantsville which houses the Flushing Shirt Factory.

Heavy Downpours Contribute To Death Of Young Oakland Man

Nearly four inches of rain in a 48-hour period in Garrett County early this week resulted in the flooding of several roads, basements and homes and was the major cause of the death of a 19-year-old Oakland man.

James Howard Simms died Monday of massive internal injuries sustained when his 1979 Jeep CJ-7 went out of control when faced with a literal lake of water covering the Underwood Road near the Youghiogheny River.

According to Maryland State Police, Simms was traveling south at an excessive rate of speed, rounded a curve and faced the flooded roadway. He applied his brakes, lost control of the vehicle and skidded off the right side of the road, striking a utility pole broadside on the driver's side. The force of the impact snapped the pole in two.

Simms was thrown from the vehicle, which rolled over onto its left side and came to rest in a field in approximately five feet of water. Garrett Central Alarm dispatched the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and the rescue squad's equipment truck to the scene.

Members of the squad, fire department and two bystanders entered the water and Simms was found by Southern Rescue paramedic Dave Evans submerged approximately 15 feet from the vehicle. Simms was brought to the surface by Oakland fire chief Buzz Updyke and squad members immediately began efforts to revive him. Officials estimate he had been under water for at least 15 minutes.

Squad members continued cardiac rescue techniques until arrival at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where doctors, nurses and other hospital personnel worked for over an hour in an unsuccessful attempt to revive the victim. An autopsy report indicated Simms died of massive internal injuries.

The flooded section of Underwood Road was not marked or blocked off. Herb McCrobie, administrator of the Garrett County Roads Department, stated that the department checked that area of Underwood Road about 1 p.m. Monday, at which time the road was not under water. The supervisor then travelled to other areas of the county to check for possible flooding, he said.

A resident along the Underwood Road stated that the road was dry Monday morning. He added that the portion which later became flooded has been known to rise very quickly. The river swelled its banks and covered surrounding lands in about five feet of water sometime between 1 and 4 p.m., when the accident occurred.

McCrobie said yesterday that all crews were out checking flood areas, found primarily in the southern end of the county. All areas found to be flooded were posted by the department and some were blocked off, he said. The same procedure applied to the submerged portion of Underwood Road, after the fatal accident.

As of yesterday morning two roads remained under water,

Teamsters Strike Bloomington Dam

About 350 workers of all trades hired by the Perini Corporation, Framingham, Mass., the major subcontractor of the Bloomington Dam project, resumed work on the dam Monday morning, after a week-long strike.

The Perini employees had refused to cross picket lines erected Tuesday, August 12, at the job site after a dispute arose over the union's attempt to organize about eight office and lab employees of the company. Members of Teamsters Local 453, Cumberland, were striking against Perini Corporation, builders of the main embankment, and the strike did not interfere with other subcontracted jobs throughout the project. S. J. Groves and Sons continued work on the relocation of W. Va. Route 46 and the dike and spillway, however progress on the main embankment had been running slightly behind schedule and the strike made matters worse, said Robert C. Craig, supervising engineer, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The National Labor Relations Board will conduct an election this Friday for the Perini employees, including an assistant purchasing agent, keypunch operator and secretaries, lab technicians and timekeepers.

According to Joseph Freno, president of Teamsters Local 453, if the employees vote to affiliate with the union, the company agreed to recognize the bargaining unit and begin contract negotiations. If the employees vote against affiliation, he said, the union "will walk away from it (the job site)."

Craig stated that Perini Corp. has agreed to reorganize the office to accommodate the decision made Friday. He observed that this is the first major labor dispute since the work on the dam and relocation of the Western Maryland Railway began in 1971.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, designers and supervisors of the project, welcome visits to the job site and conduct tours of the area upon request. Persons interested in observing the progress made at the Bloomington Dam site should call 1-359-0211 for a free tour.

WHITEWATER GALORE — Believe it or not, this unidentified whitewater racer is still in her boat. She was one of many who participated in the International Slalom and Wildwater Races on the Savage River this past weekend. By controlling the flow of water from the Savage River Dam, the Savage River offers one of the finest whitewater courses in the world and has been the sight of numerous previous national and international competitions, as well as the U. S. Olympic Trials.

DAMAGING FLOOD WATERS EVIDENT — A scene of utter chaos is shown in Gorman, as weekend rains amounting to 3.94 inches were recorded from Friday until Tuesday morning in the county. Many homes and businesses in Gorman were surrounded by water. Flooding also occurred south of Crellin, including parts of the Silver Knob and Mansfield Roads. Crellin area residents were especially hard hit, with damaged yards and flooded basements. Waist-high water surrounded homes, and some county roads were blocked to traffic, including Graham and Dilloy Roads. Gorman residents were assisted by local fire department personnel, who helped pump flooded basements in the area. Above is a photo of the Old Mill Restaurant.

County Educator Dies On Friday

Services were held Monday in the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, for Foster Arlington Riggs, 69, Mountain Lake Park, who died Friday in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Riggs was a retired school teacher and served as principal at Swanton, Loch Lynn, Grantsville, Mountain Lake Park, Center Street, and Dennett Road Schools.

He was past president of the Garrett County Teachers' Association, and served as a representative to the National Educators' Association Conventions is Miami, Fla., and Minneapolis, Minn. He was a member of the National Retired Teachers Association, and the Garrett County Retired Teachers' Association and a life member of the Parent-Teachers Association.

He received a bachelor's degree in education from Fairmont State College in 1939; and a master's degree from West Virginia University in 1951. He had engaged in graduate work at Columbia University, the University of Maryland and West Virginia University.

Mr. Riggs organized a Boy Scout troop in Swanton; was a leader of scouts in Grantsville and Mt. Lake Park; attended the National Scout Jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., and Colorado Springs, Colo., was a scout leader to Philmont Boy Scout Ranch in New Mexico, and was awarded the Scouter's Key.

He was also a member of the Grantsville Rotary Club, the Oakland-Mt. Lake Lions Club, and was a supervisor for Bethlehem Steel Co., Sparrows Point, for seven years.

Surviving are his wife, Mary (Loughrie) Riggs; and one son, Foster A. (Sonny) Riggs, Temple Hills.

Rev. James F. Remley officiated at the morning service, with interment following in Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

The family requests memorials take the form of contributions to the Bethel United Methodist Church, Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad or Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Beach At Little Brown Lake Now Open For Swimming

The Garrett County Health Department announces the reopening of Little Brown Lake bathing beach, Avilton-Lonaconing Road, for swimming.

The swimming area had been closed July 25 - August 1 due to an outbreak of a gastro-intestinal illness officials believe to have been spread at the lake.

Officials noted that a high number of persons who had contracted the illness had been swimming at the lake over the July 19-20 weekend.

The outbreak was first detected in the emergency room of Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland where persons went for treatment. The number of known cases has reached between 50-60.

The health department has been taking water samples for the past four weeks and have found the lake to now be free of any source of pollution. Officials stress a similar outbreak could have occurred at any swimming area when the conditions were right. They explained that over the July 19-20 weekend, the temperatures were hot, meaning the lake was probably very crowded. A person carrying the virus could easily have spread it through the lake water.

The actual virus causing the illnesses has not yet been determined.

Milk And Meals Policy Noted By Education Board

The Garrett County Board of Education, Food Service Department, today announced its policy for free and reduced price meals and free milk for school children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served in schools under the National School Breakfast and Special Milk Programs.

Local school officials have adopted family-size income criteria for determining eligibility (see table below), effective July 1, 1980, through June 30, 1981.

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown are eligible for free and reduced price meals or free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria, but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies of the application are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year, as income status or family size changes.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the Food Service Department, where it may be reviewed by any interested party, according to the Board of Education.

EFFORTS FAIL — Members of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad work intensely to revive 19-year-old James H. Simms, Oakland, after an automobile mishap Monday in which he and his Jeep CJ-7 came to rest submerged in five feet of flood waters along the Underwood Road. The efforts of the squad and medical personnel at Garrett County Memorial Hospital failed, however, as it was later determined that Simms had sustained massive internal injuries in the accident. Pictured above, left to right, kneeling, are Brad Stewart, paramedic; Ann Smith, paramedic; Robert Sincell, EMT; and Dave Evans, paramedic. The photo below shows the submerged jeep and what remains of the utility pole which was sheared off in the mishap.

Simms will be conducted today at 2 p.m. in the Durst Funeral Home, Oakland, with the Rev. Donald Matthews officiating. Interment will be in Garrett County Memorial Gardens.

Friends will be received at the funeral home today from 1 to 2 p.m.

Born in Morgantown, W. Va., on January 2, 1961, Mr. Simms was a son of James W. and Jane (Bissett) Simms.

He graduated from Southern High School in 1979 where he lettered in three sports, football, basketball and baseball. He attended West Virginia Institute of Technology, Montgomery, W. Va., for one year, where he was a member of the football team.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by one brother, Jason Simms, at home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simms, Aleppo, Pa., and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Bissett, Cameron, W. Va.

The family requests expressions of sympathy take the form of contributions to the Jim Simms Scholarship Fund, c/o Garrettland Realty, 1000 Thayer Center, Oakland, 21550.

Alarm that members of that facility had contacted the Garrett County Roads Department several times on Monday afternoon, requesting that workers return to the Underwood Road and either mark it or block it off. The Roads Department did not respond to the requests, according to Garrett Central.

thought he was preparing to shoot again.

At one point, Frame said to Tichnell: "You're asking this jury to allow you to live."

The defendant responded without emotion, "Yes I am."

Robert J. Radnoti, a state police chemist, testified ballistics tests showed Livengood could not have shot Tichnell from point blank range as said by the defendant.

Frame and State's Attorney James L. Sherbin were slated to present closing arguments Wednesday, followed by jury deliberations.

Sherbin said he will recommend the death penalty on grounds Tichnell committed murder to evade arrest by Livengood, who was acting in his capacity as a law enforcement official.

Frame said he will argue that because of the mitigating circumstances, Tichnell's life should be spared.

The defense lawyer will try to convince jurors Tichnell acted under extreme duress, had no record of previous violent crimes and is not likely to engage in criminal activity in the future.

Health and Safety Tip

From the American Medical Association

Rheumatic fever accounts for much of the heart disease found in children and young adults.

Rheumatic fever usually occurs between the ages of 5 and 15, although adults can have it. It may affect any part of the body temporarily, but damage to the heart, which can be long lasting, is the greatest danger.

Rheumatic heart disease results from the scarring of the heart muscle and valves by rheumatic fever. This may interfere with the vital work of the heart. Many patients recover without permanent injury to the heart valves, but the disease has a way of repeating itself and each attack renews the chances of heart damage.

Rheumatic fever is preceded by a streptococcal infection such as strep throat, scarlet fever or a strep ear infection. It can be prevented by treating the strep infection promptly and thoroughly with antibiotics.

Because persons who have had rheumatic fever are susceptible rather than immune to repeat attacks, long-term preventive treatment is often prescribed for them. Regular doses of penicillin, under the direction of a physician, can prevent further strep infections and thus ward off subsequent attacks of rheumatic fever.

You can protect your child against rheumatic fever by consulting your doctor if the child develops a sudden, severe sore throat, or if he or she has been exposed to someone with scarlet fever or another strep infection.

Downpours

the Silver Knob Road at the Nicholson Bridge, and the Mansfield Road, both south of Crellin. McCrobie indicated that some areas began flooding Sunday night. He explained that there is not much the department can do until the water recedes.

The total rainfall in Garrett County amounted to 3.94 inches from Friday until yesterday morning, with 2.08 inches falling on Monday alone.

Brad Frantz, acting director of Garrett County Civil Defense, said the Crellin area suffered considerably under the week's torrents of rain. Residents in the Gorman area also felt the effects of flooding. Frantz reported damage to yards of homes located along the banks of Snowy Creek along the Crellin Mine Road. The yards of six or seven homes were flooded with waist-high water, and many more developed into wading pools, however the water reached few dwellings, he said.

Civil Defense received a few reports of flooded basements, but not as many as anticipated, said Frantz. Garrett Central Alarm reported that Red House, Mt. Lake Park, Deep Creek and Deer Park volunteer fire companies were kept busy Monday and Tuesday pumping basements as a public service to their areas. Southern Rescue Squad evacuated a bedridden couple residing on the Crellin Mine Road, whose home was surrounded by high water, to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Monday night.

In addition to the Silver Knob Road and the Mansfield Road, Graham, Underwood and Dilley roads were blocked to traffic. Civil Defense stated that no one sought assistance, however arrangements were made Sunday night for the Crellin school to be used as a shelter if needed.

At press time it was learned from Garrett County Central

Too Little Too Late . . .

Heavy rains and the resulting high streams, flooded basements, blocked roadways and eroded driveways are something to which we are all accustomed. It usually happens at least once a year and, while damages may occasionally be excessive, the waters will always recede, the basements can be pumped out and the roads and driveways can be repaired.

However, this week the toll taken by the high waters is insurmountable and non-redeemable, as a flooded roadway resulted in the death of a young man on Monday afternoon. There were no barricades nor warning signs to indicate the flooded condition of the road. Had there been such a warning, the fatal accident would probably have not occurred.

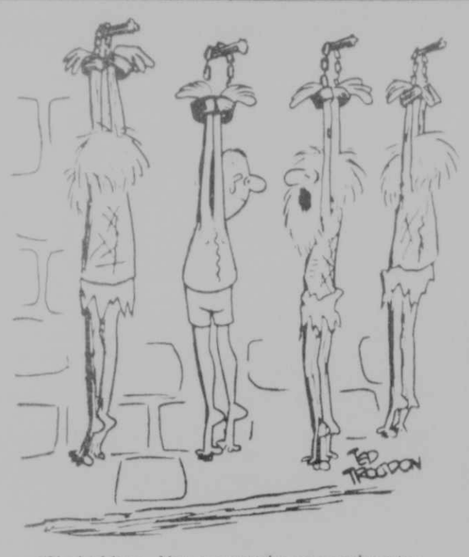

The county roads department, which has the responsibility for such barricades and warning signs, stated that the road had been checked at approximately 12:30 p.m. and there was no water in the road at that time. A department official stated that many other roads throughout the county also had to be checked for flooding that afternoon and roads personnel did not have time to return to the Underwood area, where the accident occurred at about 4 p.m.

However, officials of Garrett Central Alarm reported that they had notified the roads department numerous times throughout the afternoon, suggesting they go out and re-examine the situation and block the road. Garrett Central had even labeled the area on their map with a pin, depicting it as a possible hazardous area.

The road was finally blocked, after the fatal mishap.

Obviously nothing can be done to bring back the precious life of that young man. Hindsight is indeed easier, and in this case, much more painful, than foresight. To use still another cliche, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. To state that the accident was entirely the fault of the roads department would be unfair, however, because driver error was most likely a factor.

One tribute to the victim of this tragedy would be for all involved to do more in the way of safety and prevention to reduce the chances of a similar incident happening again. Hazardous situations must never be taken lightly.

"No kidding. You invented a new carburetor that gets 60 miles to the gallon too?"

New Gasification

representatives of MES who stated one of the benefits of Simplex is it poses no threat to the environment because it generates no stack emissions, waste water streams or incinerator residue while producing a clean fuel gas scrubbed free of air-polluting comtaminants.

The coal would be combined with the solid waste into a briquette which would then be converted in a gasifier to generate a synthetic gas.

MES representatives pointed out that Simplex is the only coal gasification process now under development that can compete with the current price of imported oil.

The implementation of the process in Maryland could increase the need for one-and-a-half additional tons of western Maryland coal a year.

MES has applied for federal matching funds to pay half the cost of constructing a pilot plant to manufacture the briquettes in Cockeysville. Baltimore Gas & Electric as well as Bethelehem Steel have expressed an interest in buying the briquettes for fuel.

The feasibility of the process has been demonstrated in a two-ton per day experimental unit in the Fossil Energy Laboratory of the Department of Chemical Engineering of Columbia University.

The Cockeysville plant is expected to cost around $2 million to construct.

Another presentation made during the luncheon involved a briefing by the representatives of MEA on the current status of Maryland's compliance with the Federal Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act.

Officials attending the luncheon included Garrett County Commissioners Lester Hunter, Truman Paugh and Ernie Gregg; Allegany County Commissioner John Coyle; Senator Edward Mason; Delegates DeCorsey Bolden, William Byrnes, Casper Taylor, Jr., and Thomas Cumiskey; John Meyer of Tri-County Council; June Neder, citizen member of the land reclamation committee; Robert Schoensoher and Tom McKuen of the Maryland Environmental Service; Paul Massicot of the Maryland Energy Administration; Charles Steinier of the Western Maryland Chamber of Commerce; Wallace Ullery of the Cumberland City Council; and representatives of Delta Mining and Buffalo Coal, Inc.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Navy Seaman Recruit Scott A. Heginbotham, son of Robert L. and Donna J. Heginbotham of 808 M Street, Mountain Lake Park, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.

A 1978 graduate of Southern High School, he joined the Navy in May 1980.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sirs:

Last Friday evening I had a bad wreck on Sky Valley Road. Luckily, I was hardly hurt at all. I was really impressed, though, by the responses of many people. The people who lived nearby came over at once to see if I was alright. Members of the fire department began arriving in just a few minutes. Even the ambulance was there by about ten minutes after the wreck. Passers-by stopped to offer help. All of the people on the scene were very friendly and were concerned with my well-being and with making sure that my car didn't catch fire. I was really overwhelmed by the speed and appropriateness with which everybody responded.

I especially want to thank the volunteers of the fire department, the ambulance crew and all of the other people who stopped to offer help. You all helped keep a bad situation from getting worse, and Garrett County should be proud of you.

Thank you,
Mike Peters
Pittsburgh, PA

Dear Sir:

We the citizens of Gorman, Md. and Gormania, W. Va. are faced with two problems. The most important one is the overhead bridge. The Potomac River separates Gorman from Gormania, where the post office is, and the grocery store. Some people have their own mailboxes here on the Maryland side, down on Route 560. But you have to cross the highway.

I wrote to Mrs. Beverly Byron and she contacted the Postal Service. One day the Postal Service sent a representative who came and discussed the situation. The bridge was also discussed.

Now it's election time. The bridge is condemned and it needs to be replaced with a new bridge. Governor Rockefeller should come and do something before something serious happens. I have been hearing tapes; people say we wouldn't have work and other things if it hadn't been for Rockefeller. So please come to our rescue before the election in November.

Jennings Randolph had the Luke Bridge closed for about 17 years. He promised if elected he would see that the Luke Bridge was replaced. I have been up here at Gorman four years this past July. The Luke Bridge has never been replaced, and people were even stopped from walking across it.

People are always condemning the county commissioners. I, myself, take up for them. Truman Paugh is a good friend of mine. This morning, I knew this was their day in office, so I called. We got prompt action. Truman called me on the phone during the noon news, and this afternoon the Roads employees were here doing their work. Thank you three county commissioners for your prompt attention. I hope the Governor's will be as prompt concerning our overhead bridge.

Sincerely,
Mae Ridings
Gormania, W. Va.

Dear Sir:

Sometime ago when I read those nasty letters about our hospital it really bothered me, I just couldn't believe it.

Just recently I was hospitalized and I was treated so nice by all the aides and nurses. Esther Benedict whom I know, Nancy Barr, Judy Wilt, Reba Long, Angela Meyers, Kaye Durst, Linda Edwards, also many more whose names I can't remember now and I don't want to slight anybody, for they were all grand to me.

Doctor Zelman was so kind to me, also Doctor Thomas, an old friend, and Doctor Rishel.

I just couldn't believe those nasty letters could be written, after having been treated so nice. Maybe I was the exception, but I most certainly hope not.

Well anyway I want to thank the hospital personnel for a wonderful stay.

Yours truly,
Wilbur G. Fox

Dear Editor:

I have an idea for our community. How about the town of Oakland holding a public farmers' market each Saturday throughout the summer and fall? A good spot for such an undertaking would be the town parking lot behind Miller's Market.

The town could derive funds from the farmers who would rent space to tout their wares each Saturday from 8 a.m. until noon. The public could get fresh food from area farmers at a fair price.

I'm not suggesting we don't need our local fruit market, but this is the first community I've ever lived in where there is not an open air public market. They can be an adventure, featuring homemade breads, cider, fresh flowers, anything people wish to sell or buy by the pound or bushel.

It seems sad that there is so much farming in Garrett County and it's hard to find the food to buy. Perhaps the persons who would come into town to purchase such produce would visit some of the stores in downtown Oakland.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Robert Heginbotham

Don't take it home with you.

A lot of people do it. Take their problems home with them from work. They worry about their jobs and their salaries. How much they take in against how much they pay out. If they can expect a raise in pay. Or when.

One way to avoid worry is to start saving. Join the Payroll Savings Plan at work. A little portion of your salary is automatically set aside toward the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds.

A portion you won't get to take home with you. But you'll never see it and you'll never miss it. So you'll never spend it.

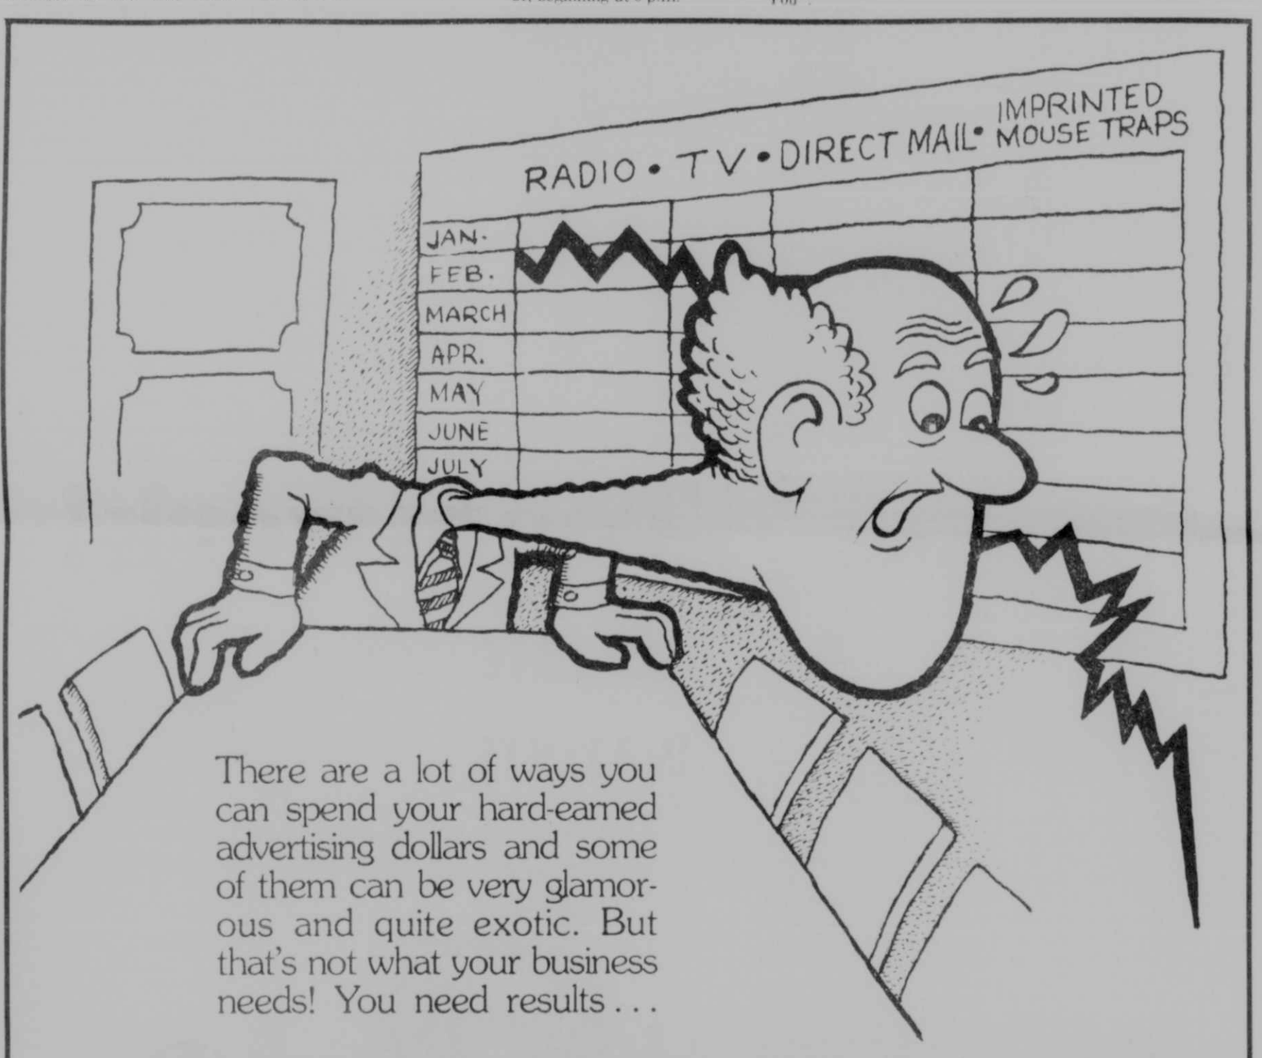

You'll know it's working for you every day. Growing to give you a cushion in hard times. Or a way of achieving a goal in good times.

So don't take it home with you. Leave that "little extra" where it'll do you some good. Adding up to a lot of U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bus Contractors

Herbert Harman, told the commissioners that the state department of education is reviewing its funding method to bus contractors but the FY1981 budget was set by the 1980 General Assembly meaning no relief will be available to bus contractors until the next Assembly session. "The drivers are caught in a bind," said Harman.

The county itself is restricted in buying buses should 30 contractors terminate their contracts. It can own no more than ten buses.

Bender emphasized the contractors did not want to jeopardize the education of the county's students. "We are concerned about the children," he stated. "We want to transport the children but we don't want to transport the children and lose money."

He added that granting the four cent increase may prove to be cheaper than trying to devise alternatives to transport county youth.

The commissioners told the contractors and the Board of Education they considered funding the county's school transportation budget a state problem.

"If the counties take the pressure off the state," said Commissioner Ernie Gregg, "the state will have no incentive to act."

All three commissioners stated they did not see where they could obtain the money requested by the contractors. They did state they would be in meetings with the governor and would explore possible areas of relief.

State Farmlands Are Decreasing

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Maryland has lost about half its farmland to development since the turn of the century and the trend does not appear to be reversing, a state Farm Bureau official said Tuesday.

"In 1980, we're down to 2.5 million acres, just about half of what we had in 1900," bureau spokesman Jack Matthews said. "It has been turned into airports, highways, shopping centers and developments."

The state had 5.1 million acres of farmland in 1900, as compared to 4.1 million acres in 1940 and 3.4 million acres in 1960.

"I'm not sure of the percentage elsewhere, but certainly it is decreasing at a rather dramatic rate," he said.

"It is becoming more of a concern in the northeast because we're losing the land that produces food and fiber."

Matthews noted the northeast currently relies on California and Florida for fruits and vegetables, but that may have to change because of soaring energy and transportation costs.

"We're going to have to look to a different type of (food) production," Matthews said, citing as an example the possibility of growing tomatoes in greenhouses.

Ways to Save

1. Check on the cost of school lunches for your children versus the cost of packing their lunch. (Of course, you'll consider their health as well as the cost.)

2. With friends and neighbors, you can "swap" outgrown children's clothing, share rides to work and school, exchange baby-sitting service, arrange joint purchase of expensive and infrequently-used house and yard equipment, entertain "potluck" fashion—have fun and save money, in many ways.

3. Weekly allowances for even very young children often actually save money on candy, ice cream and impulse toy purchases. And—more important—they teach the youngsters the value of money.

4. Don't over-buy on children's clothes. Keep in mind how fast sizes are outgrown, and with today's washers and dryers, you don't really need as many changes of clothing.

5. Save with a purpose. You can, for instance, build up a strong determination to send your children to college, or to own your own home. Determine to save a definite amount each payday for this purpose, and then let compounded earnings work for you to build savings faster.

PET POINTERS

Some cases of parvo virus infection have been suspected by Maryland veterinarians, but as of this time relatively few have been confirmed by available laboratory tests. While the possibility of exposure should be of concern to all dog owners, an epidemic does not exist within Maryland or the District of Columbia. In an attempt to clarify existing information, the following assessments and recommendations are offered by the Maryland Veterinary Medical Association and The District of Columbia Veterinary Medical Association.

1. When possible, have your dog vaccinated. Vaccine is in short supply throughout Maryland. Every effort is being made to improve this situation. At this time, only one vaccine, Parvocine, marketed by Dellen Laboratories has been approved by the USDA for use in the dog. Several research institutions have investigated the safety and efficacy of the feline (cat) distemper vaccines to protect dogs from parvo virus. The consensus of opinion is that when aprpoved canine vaccines are not available, a MLV (modified live virus) feline distemper vaccine will protect the dog and is safe. While side effects can occur, they are rare and relatively minor.

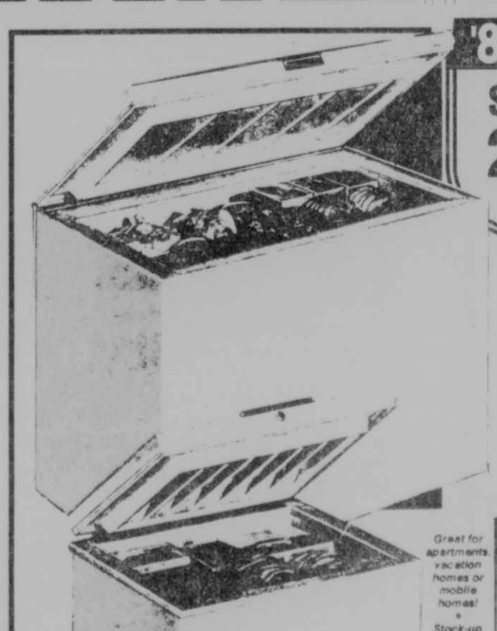

It is imperative that all dog owners be aware of that mink enteritis vaccine has not been subjected to field trial use in the dog by any research group. Neither its efficacy or safety have been determined. At present, USDA has not approved the use of this vaccine nor is it recommended by such institutions as the School of Veterinary Medicine at Cornell, which is responsible for much of the available research pertaining to parvo virus.

2. If your dog is not vaccinated: avoid contact with other dogs and the droppings of other dogs. Do not travel with your dog. When possible, do not take your dog to boarding or grooming establishments, dog shows, field trials, obedience classes or other situations where dogs may congregate.

3. If your dog develops vomiting and/or diarrhea or appears unusually depressed call or see your veterinarian quickly. Many cases of parvo disease respond to treatment, but the sooner this treatment is initiated, the better the chances are of recovery. Despite intensive home and hospital care, occasionally dogs will not recover from this disease.

The Maryland Veterinary Medical Association is convinced that with the continuing cooperation of area dog owners and the number of presently vaccinated dogs, a serious outbreak of parvo virus disease can be avoided within the state.

The GARRETT COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

The Playhouse opens its seventh and final production of the season tonight. Herb Gardner's phenomenally successful "A Thousand Clowns" is a comedy about love, real and unreal. In this case Murray Burns (Milburn Mehlhop) finds his idyllic lifestyle with his precious nephew (David Hollander) when social workers (Joan Statkus, Chris von Eckartsberg) arrive on the scene to review the situation. That the tables get turned is not such a surprise, but the way Herb Gardner does it is. The production, directed by Cather MacCallum, will play through Saturday night, curtains at 8:30 p.m.

Reservations are necessary for "A Thousand Clowns" and will be honored until 8:20 on the night of the performance. Theatre-goers are urged to call Englander's, Proudfoots or Gregg's Pharmacies in Oakland for information and reservations.

Season and individual show tickets to WVU theatre productions will go on sale Sept. 2. They may be reserved by telephoning the Creative Arts Center Box Office at (304) 293-3020.

Youth Receive Training And Work Experience Through Summer Program

WORK EXPERIENCE REALIZED — The 1980 Summer Youth Training and Employment Program, directed by the Board of Education of Garrett County and the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA), involves nearly 160 Garrett County youth in actual working situations, coupled with a weekly training program designed to help participants enter into the working world. Pictured above, a program instructor at Deep Creek State Park assists participants employed at the park in the area of tractor maintenance.

SUMMER JOBS PROVIDED FOR AREA YOUTH — Participants of the 1980 Summer Youth Training and Employment Program range in age from 14 to 21 years, and are provided summer jobs throughout the county working up to 32 hours per week, and attending eight hours of training each week. The participants are paid minimum wage for work and training time, and are provided helpful guidelines to assist them in becoming citizens of the working world. Worksites available to the enrollees include county schools, recreation areas, governmental agencies, Department of Natural Resources, Garrett Community College, libraries, and Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

By Kathy Railey

The 1980 Summer Youth Training and Employment Program, directed by the Board of Education of Garrett County and the Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA), is drawing to a close. The last day of the program will be highlighted by a picnic at Herrington Manor State Park on August 22.

The summer work program for youth was initiated in Garrett County 14 years ago, and was revised this summer to include training sessions for the participants. The program is designed to help participants enter into the working world and to become citizens in a community, while developing their abilities. Nearly 160 youth from Garrett County are involved in the program, ranging in age from 14 to 21 years. These people are provided summer jobs at one of about 30 worksites throughout the county, and they must attend weekly training sessions. Participants work up to 32 hours per week and attend eight hours of training per week, earning minimum wage for all hours put into the program, including training.

Worksites available to the enrollees include county schools, recreation areas, governmental agencies, Department of Natural Resources, Garrett Community College, libraries, and Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The program is directed by Steve C. Hile, and training sessions are coordinated by Debbie Ambrose and John Ledden. The program employs the services of six counselors, Phil Caruso, Robin Harvey, Steve Liller, Kathy Myers, Elmer Redinger and Janie Stover, who visit the participants at least twice each week on their work assignments. The staff counselors conduct discussion groups, tests and evaluations as part of the training program. Carma R. White serves as secretary/bookkeeper for the program.

The training sessions include workshops, field trips and guest speakers. Identical sessions are held weekly at Northern High School and Southern High School, for the benefit of all participants, and transportation is available for them. The sessions are designed to provide guidelines for securing and maintaining meaningful employment in life, to introduce the participants to area employment opportunities, and to help create an awareness of services available to assist them in employment and living in Garrett County.

According to John Ledden, training coordinator, "we want to give a realistic look at what work is really all about." The participants are expected to perform as regular employees. "The program must be pursued seriously. Some participants have been fired or dropped from the program for poor attendance or performance," said Ledden. Each participant has a worksite supervisor, or boss, and a counselor to go to in the event of a problem. Participants with discipline problems, or those who are irresponsible in the work situation, are required to meet with the director of the program to work out a solution to the problem.

The program provides participants with general information on how to keep a job, including proper dress, promptness, responsibility, following a schedule and directions, and attitudes.

The first three training sessions were conducted by various guest speakers. John Peterson, Head Football Coach at Frostburg State College, began the series with a workshop dealing with "Motivation for Work." The following session was a workshop on "Self-awareness," conducted by David Spurrier, Guidance Counselor at Bruce High School, Westernport. During this session the participants were involved in exercises geared toward helping them identify some of their basic life concerns. The third session was conducted by Ben Thorn, Vocational Evaluator for Garrett County Schools, who discussed interest attitudes, job applications and job interviews.

The training sessions included audio-visual presentations provided by the Media Resource Center of the Garrett County Board of Education. Enrollees viewed TV video selections dealing with self image, career planning and interpersonal relations. The film "Manufacturing in Western Maryland" was also shown.

The second phase of the program provided participants with the opportunity to travel and observe culture and resource career opportunities available to them. In July the group went on field trips around the county, including a tour of the Garrett County Courthouse, a visit to area libraries and the Garrett County Historical Society, and to Garrett Community College.

The participants travelled to Westvaco and Bausch and Lomb to observe actual production-type situations at industrial sites. Three busloads travelled to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. as part of the program, "for cultural enrichment," said Ledden, and to observe developments in aeronautics at the Air and Space Museum. Enrollees viewed the film "To Fly," and toured museums of their choice.

On August 1 all participants attended a Career Day at Southern Middle School. Persons from over 20 different occupations presented talks on their line of work, and were available to answer any questions the enrollees might have. Representatives of various fields came from the Cumberland area, Pinto, Markleysburg, Pa., and from towns in Garrett County, to explain firsthand the skills required for work in their fields.

The remainder of the training program has been centered around sessions involving counseling in individual career interest and employer expectations.

The Summer Youth Training and Employment Program is part of a year-round effort on the part of CETA and the Garrett County Board of Education to enrich and educate area youth and to prepare them for life after school in the work-oriented environment. A continuing program will begin in the fall, and will also be directed by Steve Hile. Enrollees in the program appear to have gained very valuable work experience and interpersonal relationships in a working situation, which should prove helpful to them when they make application in the future for permanent employment.

Local Fair Parade Winners Are Named

Winners in the Garrett County Fair Parade are announced for the 1980 event.

COMPLETE COURSE — Several members of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad recently participated in a 12-hour mountain rescue course offered through the Fire Extension Service of West Virginia University, Morgantown. Class members were introduced to the techniques of rescuing individuals on mountains and from heights. To qualify for the course, participants had to demonstrate basic rapelling and knot-tying skills. In the photo, left to right, front row, are Southern Rescue members Jackie Wachter, Fran Pope and Kathy Benedict. Standing, left to right, are Dan Swartzentruber and Randy Crabtree, Southern Rescue; instructor Bill Ramsey, paramedic and captain of Monongalia County Rescue Squad; instructor Andy Morris, EMT and lieutenant of Monongalia Rescue; Dave Evans and John Feather, Southern Rescue.

Frostburg State Registration Set August 25-26

The final phases of the undergraduate registration for the Fall 1980 semester at Frostburg State College will be conducted on Monday and Tuesday, August 25 and 26, according to Thomas A. Bilger, registrar.

Monday, August 25, will be advising day for new, unregistered students and processing day for pre-registered students. Any pre-registered student, who has not done so to date, may secure their academic schedule and I.D. validation sticker from the Registrar's Office upon proper payment of fees at the Business Office during regular working hours, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., in the new Administration Building on the campus.

On Tuesday, August 26, students who received incomplete schedules and desire to make changes to that schedule should report to Compton Hall according to the following schedule: Seniors 8:30 a.m., Juniors 9:00 a.m., Sophomores 9:30 a.m., Freshman A-K 10:00 a.m., Freshman L-Z 10:30 a.m.

Students who have received a complete schedule need only to report to class according to that schedule. The free drop/add period will be held August 27-September 3, at the Registrar's Office.

Late registration will take place August 27 - September 3, at the Registrar's Office.

Classes will begin on Wednesday, August 27, at 8:00 a.m.

For further undergraduate information please call the Frostburg State College Admissions Office 689-4201 or the Registrar's Office 689-4346.

William Penn signed a friendship treaty with Indians in the Pennsylvania region in 1793.

AWAY WE GO! — Over the top and down the cliffs of Coopers Rocks near Morgantown via rapelling was part of the practical training of the mountain rescue course following a morning session of classroom work. Patient packaging, rope anchoring techniques, patient lowering and raising skills were among the many procedures learned and practiced by the members of the course. In the photos are, above left, Dave Evans; above right, Kathy Benedict; and below, Randy Crabtree.

Twenty Killed On State Roads

Twenty persons lost their lives on Maryland highways according to the weekly news release compiled by Lt. C. R. Troutman of the Maryland State Police. Of these fatalities, 13 were drivers, four were passengers and three were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in 18, and driver error was present in 18.

There has been a gradual 10 percent increase in the total traffic deaths in Maryland when compared with the same period last year. There has, however, been a drastic increase in the number of motorcyclists killed on the highways; an increase of 54 percent is reflected to date.

Persons killed through August 17, 1980, total 455, compared to 414 for the same period last year.

Oakland Knocked Out Of League Playoff Action

The Oakland Pen-Mar baseball team saw its hopes for a title dashed Sunday afternoon in being eliminated from the playoffs by Island Creek, 2-1. The Oaklanders were successful in the opening round Saturday by edging Hyndman, 6-5, in an extra-inning contest.

The win over Hyndman came in the top of the tenth inning on an infield single by Greg Beachy to score Mark Tysinger. By the seventh inning it appeared that Oakland was out of the running, trailing 5-1. However, a grand slam homer by Dave Bender quickly knotted the contest, forcing the extra innings.

John Helmick was the winning pitcher, while Nesselrodt took the loss.

Hyndman outhit Oakland 13-6 as Lloyd Diehl went three-for-four and Rod Sager and Matt Matthews each singled twice for Hyndman.

Annual Western Maryland Golf Tourney Slated

A field of over 100 Tri-State area golfers is expected this weekend at the Oakland Country Club for the 18th annual Western Maryland Amateur Open. The three day, 54-hole event begins Friday with the first foursome going off at 8:30 a.m. the top 60% of the field at the end of Saturday's play will qualify for Sunday's final round.

Among the previous winners to compete this year are defending Champion Rick Gruff, five-time winner Jack Forbes of Morgantown, Lindsey Gonder of Oakland.

Beall, Garner, Screen and Geare and Sharps Chevrolet are again sponsoring a hole-in-one contest with a new Chevrolet going to the first player to ace number 9 during play on Friday or Saturday.

There is no admission charge for spectators.

"Golf For Heart" Tourney Slated

The Third Annual "Golf for Heart" Tournament will be held Saturday, September 13, beginning at 1:00 p.m. at the Oakland Country Club, according to John H. Wolf, Tournament Chairman. Proceeds will benefit the research, education and community services of the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Chapter. Rain date will be Sunday, September 21.

A donation of $10 per person should accompany the entry form. This will include the cost of the awards dinner to be held at the Club after the tournament. Play will be of mixed captain's choice, two men-two women in the A, B, C, D Handicap. Extras will be #10 Green—$1 and #17 Green Drive with the closest to the pin being the winner—$4 per team.

Deadline for entry is 8:00 p.m. Friday, September 12, with the draw taking place that evening.

Entry forms may be obtained from the Oakland Country Club, Cumberland Country Club, Maplehurst Country Club, or the Heart Office, 551 North Centre Street, Cumberland.

Eighty-Six Youth Attend Agape Day Camp

The Swanton-Bloomington Methodist Charge recently held an Agape Day Camp near North Glade, on the Glen Teets camp lot.

Children from five through nineteen years of age were invited to take part in the discovery opportunities offered by camp director Linda Fleming, and the twenty counselors and helpers involved in the camp experience held August 11 through August 15.

Those involved in the program included Edith Llewellyn and Dottie Beckman, kindergarten and grade one counselors; Brenda Friend, Gail Richter, and Lois Rhodes, grade two and three counselors; Kim Wilt and Chris Teets, grade four and five counselors; Louise Nealis and Phyliss Friend, grade six and seven counselors; Shirley Beckman, Hilda Claycomb, and Jean Bush, grade eight and nine counselors and Rev. Ted Sines and Mrs. Gail Sines, grade ten through twelve counselors.

The camp pixies were A. J. Fleming and Keela Rhodes. The camp pastor was Russ Glotfelty; camp photographer, Richard Gerlock; Camp Grandmother, Goldie Rhodes; and camp fishing guide, Alan Wilt.

The week's activities closed with a covered dish dinner, followed by a family campfire.

A total of 86 youth attended the camping experience.

County Resources Studies Described At Public Meeting

Three studies designed to record the historical, archeological and wildlife resources of Garrett County and western Allegany County have been initiated in conjunction with the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

At a meeting conducted Thursday evening in the Garrett Community College auditorium, Anthony Abar, director of the bureau, explained the background and purpose of the studies. Basically, he said the studies would help bring the bureau into closer compliance with the Federal Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 by providing information necessary in designating land not suitable for coal mining.

Many different factors are considered before designating an area unsuitable for coal mining, he stated. Of all the different factors, the least amount of information exists for archaeological and historical sites and for rare and endangered wildlife species' habitats.

He pointed out that information gathered in these three studies would be used in the decision of whether an area is unsuitable for coal mining, but he could not guarantee absolute protection of an area even if it were historically, archaeologically or environmentally significant.

Following his presentation, Abar introduced representatives of the three agencies contracted to perform the studies and the overall coordinator, Connie Lyons, Frostburg. Those agencies are the Maryland Historical Trust, the Maryland Geological Survey and the State Wildlife Administration. Donna Ware, of the Maryland Historical Trust stated she was heading up the one-year study by an interdisciplinary survey team which would identify historically and architecturally significant buildings throughout Garrett and western Allegany counties.

Besides providing the information to the Bureau of Mines, Ms. Ware said results of the study would be used to evaluate standing structures for listing on the National Register of Historic Places and would be placed in the Maryland Historical Trust data banks.

Of special interest to the team are buildings or groups of buildings 50 years or older.

Members of the team to be working in Garrett County, besides Ms. Ware include Valerie Cessna, Ann Fair Burns and Merry Stinson.

The archaeological survey was discussed by Kenneth LaCoste who stated the purpose of the survey would be to collect a sample of various kinds of archaeological sites found in Garrett and Allegany Counties. These sites include historic sites, such as the remains of early settlements and industries, and prehistoric or Indian sites.

LaCoste stated there are two separate teams, an historic sites team headed by LaCoste and a creek basin survey team headed by Robert Wall. The historic sites team is primarily investigating specific areas believed to contain archaeological remains representing the early history of the area.

The creek basin survey team is looking for prehistoric sites by crossing selected valleys of the two counties along parallel traverses. Test holes, usually the width of a shovel, are excavated and then backfilled.

LaCoste stated finds so far have been small Indian encampments and a few rockshelters.

He stressed the importance of public participation in the project saying the team is interested in any artifact collections, which it will photograph, and any known site locations.

The archaeological teams will be in the county another 14 months.

Ed Thompson, principal field investigator for the Maryland Wildlife Administration survey, said the major purpose of the two-year study will be to determine the distribution of three species on the state's endangered species list and to determine whether the three actually qualify for an endangered status.

Thompson explained the three species have only been located in one Maryland county—Garrett County. The three species are the green salamander, the coal skink, and the mountain earth snake.

Thompson noted other endangered species reside in the region, but the study only addresses the three that have not previously been examined.

The four emphasized the studies would not be used to take away the rights of the personal property owners. Only items or structures found on state property can be claimed by the state. LaCoste noted, however, that citizens have turned over items to the state that have no monetary value but have historical value.

Citizens attending the meeting criticized the teams for beginning work without first holding a meeting to alert the public and for crossing private property without prior permission from the property owner.

The speakers assured the group the teams have been instructed to gain permission from a property owner before crossing his property.

Abar stated the information from the three studies would be made available to the public through the public libraries and through the Bureau of Mines office in Frostburg.

Donna Ware, Kenneth LaCoste and Connie Lyons are working out of the Bureau's Frostburg office and can be reached by calling 689-4136. Ed Thompson can be contacted at phone number 689-8215.

The leopard is so called because in medieval times, the animal was thought to be a cross between the lion (leo) and the pard, a panther that had no markings.

About Nutrition

Editor's Note: Few areas of medicine are more basic to health than that of human nutrition, yet the complex interaction of nutrients and body metabolism is only beginning to be understood. Physicians and scientists at the West Virginia University Medical Center are working to develop a unified program in human nutrition that includes new courses for medical students, seminars for practicing physicians and a new visiting professor series on nutrition. To share these advances with the state, WVU faculty is providing a series of interviews on topics of nutrition.

This interview is with Dr. Irma H. Ullrich, associate professor of medicine who is involved in clinical research on the effects of fiber in the diet.

Q. Is fiber a necessary part of people's diet?

A. It's not essential to the maintenance of life. People have been maintained on intravenous fluids for months. Some, with diseases of the digestive tract who are unable to eat food, are maintained on synthetic diets that contain practically no fiber.

Q. Apart from these exceptional cases, is fiber conducive to good health?

A. A great deal of research is being done in this area. There are two kinds of dietary fiber. Fiber is the part of the plant cell wall that's indigestible. One kind is soluble fiber including things like guar and pectin. This seems to be more important in the control of blood fats—cholesterol and triglycerides. The other is insoluble fiber like cellulose which affects primarily bowel habits, maintenance of regularity or bowel movements, and their content.

Q. African peoples have a much lower incidence of certain diseases than people in developed countries. Is that related to their high fiber diets?

A. It's true that people in Africa who eat lots of fiber have less of certain diseases that afflict Americans. These include diabetes, obesity, colon cancer and hardening of the arteries. But there are other major factors involved such as differences in life style, exercise, how much stress a person has. Thus while dietary fiber is of importance to those people, I don't think we're able yet to say exactly how important.

One factor seems to be confirmed by other studies—persons on high-fiber diets have a lower incidence of diverticulosis, a disease of the bowel.

Q. How does dietary fiber act in the digestive tract, apart from its effect on bowel function?

A. It has important effects in that it doesn't seem to be digested by the usual enzymes put out by the body. It is, however, metabolized by bacterial enzymes and this may make the fiber available for nutrition. Another important aspect is the effect it may have on other constituents of the diet. For example, fiber may change the metabolism of cholestol.

Cholesterol is usually excreted by the liver into the intestinal tract and metabolized there by these same bacteria. There is a possibility that the products of this metabolism can cause cancer in the colon if they remain in contact with the colon for long periods.

Fiber could be important by reducing the amount of time these particular compounds have contact with the intestinal wall and it also may decrease the metabolism of the cholesterol products as well. Both of these aspects are thought to be of importance in reducing the incidence of colon cancer in people who eat large amounts of fiber.

Q. Do individuals differ in how they respond to dietary fiber?

A. At West Virginia University we've been studying normal individuals, putting them on either a high fiber or a low fiber diet. Most are healthy young men, yet they showed a really marked difference in how they tolerated the high fiber diet.

The most common complaint was increased amounts of gas, usually manifested as abdominal cramps and flatus.

Most reported increased numbers and volume of bowel movements, yet even in our small group there was a marked difference in how much their bowel habits were altered. One subject was even constipated on a high fiber diet. So yes, there certainly is a large difference in how people react to a high fiber diet.

Q. Does a high fiber diet appear to help patients with diabetes?

A. Most of our research at WVU has been with normal people, but there is research available on high fiber diets in diabetics. They were put on a high carbohydrate diet mainly of legumes, beans, whole wheat bread and fruit, and they had a decrease in their insulin requirements and improvement in their cholesterol levels. Some of these patients have stayed on this particular diet for years and benefits seem to be maintained over that period of time.

Q. What results have you and Dr. Margaret Albrink obtained in your research?

A. We're involved in looking at the effect of fiber on how much sugar you can ingest without the usual deleterious results, mainly increased triglycerides.

Normal subjects are placed on high and then on low fiber diets, with a certain amount of added sugar, to see whether they can eat more sugar while on the high fiber diet without the bad effects.

The study is not completed, but the preliminary results seem to suggest that a high fiber diet is somewhat protective against the deleterious effects of sugar.

Q. Have there been any breakthroughs in dietary fiber research in recent years?

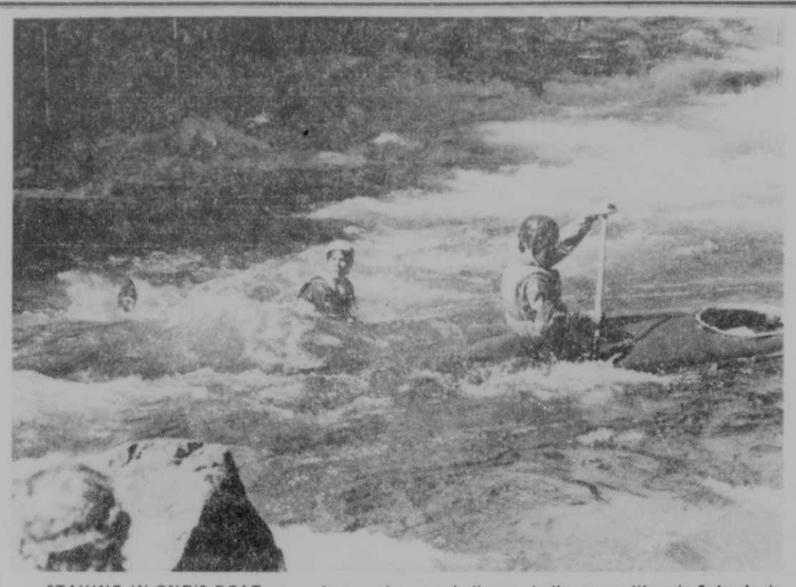

A. Breakthrough is a much overused word, but perhaps the biggest breakthrough would be Dr. Denis Burkitt's original observations that populations which eat large amounts of fiber seem to have a lower incidence of a number of diseases that occur so commonly in Western societies. Much of the present research is directed to either confirming or rejecting those original observations.

Some of the most interesting research involved guar, from an Indian Cluster bean, and pectin, made from fruit. They're soluble fibers, and studies indicate they may be effective in treating people with elevated blood fats. These substances have to be concentrated and purified because you could never eat enough of the beans or fruit to get the proper amounts.

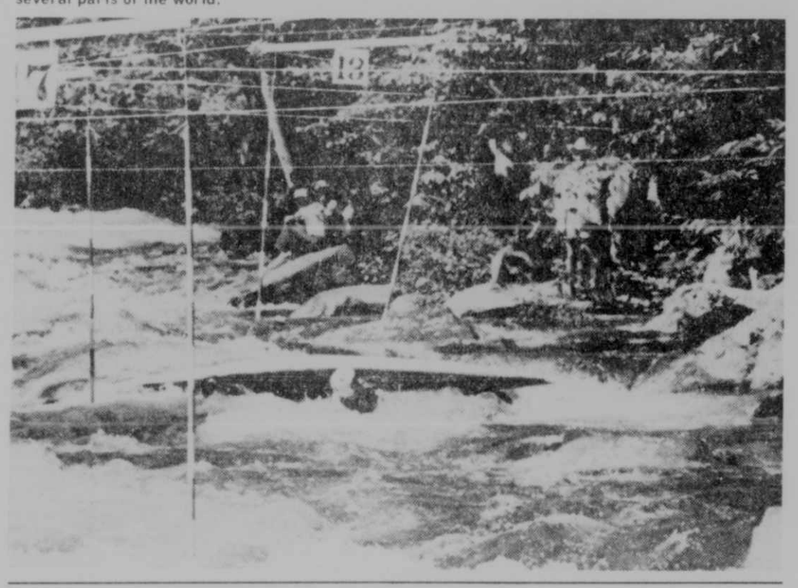

Q. As a physician treating patients, what advice do you give regarding dietary fiber?

A. In terms of bowel function, I tell them it's perhaps of value to include additional fiber in their diets. That would include something like a bowl of all-bran cereal with breakfast. But with regard to long-term relationship to other diseases, I don't think that information is yet available.

We need considerably more research to establish the importance of fiber in the diseases that Burkitt was looking at. But fiber may be of value in helping people lose weight. Foods high in fiber are much more filling and decrease hunger more than concentrated forms of carbohydrate such as candies.

STAYING IN ONE'S BOAT was only one of many challenges to the competitors in Saturday's and Sunday's International Slalom and Wildwater Races at Savage River. The participants had to master a quarter mile course composed of numerous gates and the river's own natural rock formations in the shortest possible time and with the fewest violations to have any hopes of making the winner's circle. Some of the gates had to be completed backwards or in an upstream direction. The races were sponsored by the Canoe Cruiser of Washington, Middle States Division of the American Canoe Association and the Philadelphia Canoe Club, and drew participants from several parts of the world.

THE "DREAM HOUSE" SYNDROME

There are two species of househunter - the pragmatist and the idealist. Beware of going to extremes at either end of the financial spectrum.

You can be too practical. For instance, assuming that a home in need of repair can be fixed at an overall price savings and find out that the final cost greatly exceeds the estimate . . .Buying a home in a neighborhood whose value is going downhill because "it's a bargain" . . . Buying a home with fewer rooms than you really need. You may end up with an unsuitable, uncomfortable home with a lower resale potential.

On the other hand, the idealist should beware of the all-too-frequent "dream house" syndrome. Sure, it's tempting to set out in quest of the absolutely perfect home, but it's better to balance your dreams with your pocketbook. Even if you can define the perfect home (which is doubtful), you probably couldn't afford it. Be prepared to compromise.

Four County Men Arrested After Assault, Robbery

Four men from the Oakland area were arrested Saturday by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department and charged with robbery and battery in connection with an assault upon Gary Lee Leonard, 26, Terra Alta, W. Va., which occurred Friday about 2:45 a.m.

The incident occurred at Crellin Hill while Leonard was asleep in a vehicle parked along the edge of a roadway. Leonard was awakened, yanked out of his vehicle and was brutally assaulted, police said. The suspects took Leonard's wallet and car keys and $6 in currency.

Leonard was treated and released at Garrett County Memorial Hospital for head injuries, police said.

Arrested and charged in connection with the incident are Roger Keiper, 26, and Joseph DeWitt, 18, both of Oakland; and William Stemple, 31, and James Stemple, 21, both of Mt. Lake Park. William Stemple was released the next day on his own recognizance. James Stemple and DeWitt were both released Sunday on $100 bond. Keiper is still incarcerated on $250 bond.

In other police business, the National Guard Armory reported the theft of a portable generator from Swallow Falls on Sunday, August 3. The generator was apparently being used for live entertainment on Saturday, was left at the park overnight, and was found missing on Sunday. Loss value is estimated at $1500.

The Buffalo Coal Company garage, located in Bayard, W. Va., was damaged and burglarized during the night of Tuesday, August 12. Unknown subjects cut a hole through the rear wall of the garage, entered and ransacked the building, and made off with approximately $879 in tools. Taken were a bench grinder, valued at $225; a one-half inch impact wrench, valued at $289; and a cutting torch with a 50-foot hose and gauges, valued at $365. Damage to the wall is unknown.

The Buffalo Coal Company was vandalized during the night of August 9, reported last week, amounting to a loss value in damages of more than $600. At that time a vehicle belonging to the company, valued at $2500, was intenionally destroyed by fire.

In separate incident, Alice M. Riggleman, Kitzmiller, reported a breaking and entering and theft which occurred at her residence on Thursday, August 14. Unknown subjects reportedly kicked in the rear door of the dwelling, ransacked the house and took guns and a camera. The items taken were a 22 caliber magnum pistol and holster; a 410-gauge shotgun, pump action; a 22 caliber rifle, pump action; an unknown type rifle and a Polaroid Swinger camera. No loss value was placed on the stolen items.

Robert Squibb, of Pittsburgh, reported the theft of a Sanyo 8-track tape player from his boat, sometime during the night of August 2. The theft occurred while the boat was at Squibb's dock at Harvey's Peninsula. Police said there was no sign of damage to the boat. A loss value has not yet been determined.

Tools Unlimited, Inc., Route 219, north of Oakland, reported a forgery and theft by deception which occurred on July 25. An unknown subject rented a tow bar and forged another person's name on the receipt. Loss value is approximately $189, plus rental fees of about $7 per day.

In a separate incident, John Brenneman, Accident, reported the theft of two lawn ornaments from his front yard. The thefts occurred two different nights, August 14 and 15. Taken were a small green and white elf and a Mexican ornament, both valued at approximately $100.

The Sheriff's Department last week investigated two destructions of property, both to windows of vehicles.

Wellington Kempher, Sr., of Dover, Ohio, reported that someone broke out the windshield of his motor home during the night of August 13, while it was parked in Mt. Lake Park. A rock was used to break the glass on the driver's side. The estimated loss value is $200.

Gary Beckman, Mt. Lake Park, reported that early Sunday evening someone used an unknown force to shatter the driver's side window of his 1974 Dodge two-door vehicle, while it was parked at his residence. The damage is estimated at $50.

In addition to the four men arrested on Saturday for robbery and assault, the department arrested Randy Lantz, 23, on Monday for motor vehicle charges. Lantz was released on his own recognizance.

Scout Leaders To Meet Tomorrow

The Oakland Neighborhood of Girl Scout leaders and registered adults will have a meeting and covered dish picnic on August 21 at 6:00 p.m. at Broadford Recreation Area. The purpose of the meeting will be to reorganize troops.

Leaders will be needed for several troops. Persons interested in helping with a troop or being a leader may call Deanie Johnson, Neighborhood Chairman, 387-5666. Training will be given for leaders and assistants locally in September.

Maryland News Summary

BALTIMORE (UPI) — An East Baltimore teen-ager died of multiple injuries early Tuesday when he ran from a median strip into the path of an oncoming car, police said.

Richard Chapman, 19, died at 2:30 a.m. at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Witnesses said Chapman ran in front of the car driven by Kevin Smith, 29, of Baltimore. Smith was not charged.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Two men armed with sawed-off shotguns robbed a branch bank in South Baltimore of an undetermined amount of money Tuesday, police said.

Witnesses told police two men wearing overalls and yellow construction caps entered a Union Trust Co. branch at 9:15 a.m. brandishing shotguns and ordered tellers to give them money.

The bandits took an undetermined amount of money before fleeing on foot, police said.

City police and the FBI were investigating.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A city judge has imposed a 20-year prison sentence on a man convicted of soliciting an undercover policeman to murder a Maryland State Police major.

Gene T. Meyer, already serving a life sentence plus 30 years for murder, was found guilty of offering to pay an undercover officer dressed as a clergyman to kill Maj. Frank Mazzone.

It was the third time since 1978 Meyer has received prison terms for trying to arrange killings or for murder.

The most recent sentence stemmed from Meyers's attempt to have Mazzone killed for foiling previous murders he had planned.

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) — The leases of nine families ordered to move out of a Howard County housing project have been extended until February pending completion of a study of the complex.

County Executive J. Hugh Nichols granted the extensions this week at the urging of the county Community Development Committee.

The residents originally were told to move out by Nov. 1 because their incomes were too high, but officials now are considering a proposal to convert the complex into cooperative housing.

Officials said some of the tenants who make more than the allowed incomes for public housing may have the option of purchasing their apartments under the co-op proposal.

SALISBURY, Md. (UPI) — A man convicted of murdering his estranged wife has asked for a new trial because he said one of the jurors who convicted him was biased.

Charles E. Simms, 39, was convicted last week by a Wicomico County Circuit jury of killing his estranged wife, Estelle, in May when she went to their trailer home in Parsonsburg to retrieve some of her belongings.

Patrick L. Rogan Jr., the public defender who represented Simms, said the man should get a new trial because juror Ralph Owens was not impartial in his deliberations.

Mrs. Simms, who left her husband in June, 1979, had gone to police for help because he had threatened her life. But police and court officials turned down her request to have an escort when she went to the trailer.

Colleges Hear New Student Proposals

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A master plan for Maryland's four-year college would limit freshman enrollments at the state's public colleges and establish program specialities — ending disputes between several colleges over which is allowed to teach certain courses, officials said Tuesday.

The plan, submitted for comments to the colleges this week, was proposed because of the spectre of declining enrollment, which is expeced to drop 12 percent the next 10 years.

It also would solve a dispute over whether the University of Maryland-Baltimore County will be allowed to establish journalism and business schools. Baltimore area colleges have opposed the additions because they say there are adequate numbers of colleges in the area teaching the courses.

The new plan would block the UMBC proposal, although University of Maryland Chancellor John Toll said he had not given up hope the programs might eventually be approved.

Sheldon Knorr, state commissioner of higher education, said the master plan was spurred by the declining enrollment which makes it necessary for colleges to compete for incoming freshmen by offering programs attractive to them.

"It didn't make sense to have one campus growing at the expense of others," Knorr said.

The State Board for Higher Education will decide later this month whether to approve the plan which would give each school areas of specialization to avoid duplication and to make each attractive to some students.

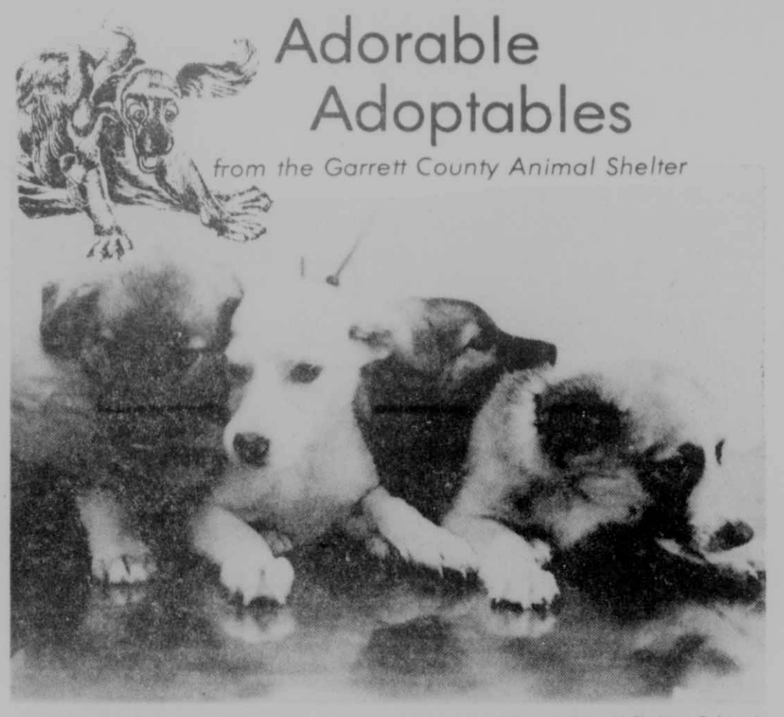

The limits on freshman enrollment generally would be lower than this year's expected freshman enrollment. However, four schools that are not filled to capacity — Bowie State, Salisbury State and St. Mary's coleges and UMBC — would be allowed modest freshman enrollment increases.

The University of Maryland's College Park campus — the largest in the state — would be allowed 4,000 freshmen by 1989. Last year, officials hoped to keep first-year enrollment to 4,800, but wound up with 5,161.

"We've bought the concept that some distribution, and not dog-eat-dog, is the best idea for Maryland," said Jean Spencer, executive director of the Board of Trustees of State Universities and Colleges.

Adorable Adoptables

from the Garrett County Animal Shelter

PUPPIES GALORE — This week's residents at the Garrett County Animal Shelter, Oakland-Sang Run Road, are mixed beagle and Elkhound puppies, all ready to go home with you! Last week's pups were adopted by Diana Harrison, Catherine Ruppenthal, and Robert Rice. One kitten was given a new home by Roy R. Welch. The other two kittens will be available until this Friday only. Won't you call 334-3553 today?

Excessive Noise Ordinance Claimed "Unconstitutional"

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Ocean City Mayor Harry Kelley said Tuesday he will institute another ban on excessive noise in his resort community if a federal judge declares the existing ordinance unconstitutional.

"If this is unconstitutional, I'll make another one next year," Kelley said in a telephone interview in response to a lawsuit charging the noise ordinance is unconstitutionally vague.

Attorney Peter Wimbrow filed the class action suit Monday in U.S. District Court on behalf of nine people charged with violating the law and others in similar situations.

The lawsuit, filed against Kelley, the City Council and the police department, charged the ordinance was unconstitutional, selectively enforced and the plaintiffs had been denied their rights to due process.

Wimbrow asked for a temporary restraining order to prevent city officials from enforcing the ordinance until the lawsuit is decided, but Judge Joseph Young denied the request.

Kelley disputed the lawsuit's claim that the ordinance is designed to "harass" people between the ages of 18-30, saying it was intended to bring order to the community.

"This is the best year we've had and I know why the people are here — because of the discipline, because they can walk down the Boardwalk and not be raped or mugged," he said.

"I will protect all the people's rights, but at the same time I will demand respect, dignity and discipline."

The lawsuit asked the judge for an injunction ordering the police department to erase any criminal records it may have as a result of arrests for alleged ordinance violations.

It also requested $2 million in damages for each of the nine Maryland residents who brought the suit.

In one case, three of Winbrow's clients were arrested for allegedly violating the noise ordinance while three other people were asleep in the house where the arrests occurred, the attorney said.

"Hundreds of persons in the 18-30 age group have been arrested, handcuffed, fingerprinted, jailed and mugged for ostensible violations of the 'noise ordinance,'" the suit contends.

"This treatment has not been accorded to any other class of violators covered by the ordinance, such as nightclubs, bars, amusements, automobiles, church bells, etc."

Anderson Hopes For Presidential Debate Position

United Press International

John Anderson got a mixed reception from the American Legion, but is hoping for a better one from disgruntled Democrats and in polls that will determine whether he qualifies for the third microphone in the presidential debates.

The independent presidential candidate addressed the Legionnaires in Boston Tuesday, facing a stony silence when he criticized Ronald Reagan's repudiation of the arms limitation treaty, but applauded when he spoke scornfully of President Carter's weakness and vacillation in foreign policy.

In remarks prepared for delivery to the veterans group today, Reagan criticized Carter's military policies, saying they could "ultimately become provocative." He said he hoped the administration won't take "reckless actions" to demonstrate the strength of U.S. military power.

Quoting John F. Kennedy, the Republican presidential nominee repeated his call for U.S. military superiority over the Soviet Union and accused Carter of failing to recognize the links between military strength and foreign policy.

Carter will make his first post-convention speech Thursday to the Legion and will fly the next day to Detroit to address the convention of the American Federation of Teachers.

Unlike the pro-Carter National Education Association, the federation supported Sen. Edward Kennedy for the Democratic nomination. Kennedy had a date to speak to the group Thursday, and the White House believes the federation will endorse Carter eventually.

Anderson broke off his New England campaign swing at midday Tuesday and flew to Washington to meet with and seek the support of two disgruntled Kennedy Democrats - Reps. Les Aspin of Wisconsin and Shirley Chisholm of New York.

He told reporters later Mrs. Chisholm still is in the "aftershock" of the convention and wants time to reflect before answering his plea.

Aspin — who ruled himself out of a possible Anderson vice presidency run — said he has not made a decision, but will do so by Sunday when he has a date with a group of Kennedy Democrats in Wisconsin.

Anderson's principal task at the moment is to climb a point or two in the polls to meet the League of Women Voters 15 percent minimum to qualify for the presidential debates this fall.

Two polls published Tuesday had bad news for him and for Reagan, but good news for Carter.

The Chicago Sun-Times published a Gallup Poll conducted during the three days following Friday's closing session of the Democratic convention.

It showed Carter now only 1.0 percent behind Reagan, 38-39, with Anderson unchanged from the previous poll at 14 percent.

The previous survey shortly after the Republican convention last month showed Reagan with 45 percent to Carter's 31 percent.

And a new NBC-Associated Press poll showed Carter still 7 percent behind Reagan but having made even more dramatic gains. Reagan now leads Carter with 39 percent to 32 percent, but in early August the standing was 47-22 — a 25 percent spread.

It said Anderson had 15 percent in August but only 13 percent now.

Child Undergoes Corrective Surgery

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A 4-year-old Edgewater girl has become the youngest known person to undergo jaw surgery to correct a deformity, Johns Hopkins Hospital doctors said.

"We've checked the medical literature," said Dr. David M. Tilghman, director of Hopkins division of oral surgery. "There are no reported cases anywhere in this country or the world of this surgery on a 4-year-old."

Tilghman said that until the operation was performed last week on Theresa Robb, the youngest child to have an osteotomy was 9 years old. At that age, the jaw is firm and will continue to grow naturally.

At 4 years old, the jaw bends easy and a blow or fall might cause it to stop growing, he said.

But Hopkins physicians and Theresa's parents decided the risks of surgery were preferable to the possible psychological damage that could be caused by the deformity.

The Anne Arundel County child's lower jaw was twisted out of shape due to a birth defect, making it difficult for her to eat and causing speech abnormalities.

"We just felt it was reasonable to go ahead with this surgery on Theresa," Tilghman said. "She was reluctant to talk and we felt it was best to spare her the psychological problems."

Mortgage Rates Climb, Indicate Upward Trend

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Mortgage interest rates in the Baltimore metropolitan area have increased about 1 percent in the past month, indicating a new upward trend that is not pleasing bankers.

"Contrary to what a lot of people may think, we don't favor high rates," Robert E. Hecht, president of Baltimore Federal Savings and Loan, said Tuesday.

"It means we're putting out fewer loans because borrowers resist high rates, but we're still paying interest to the people we're borrowing from."

Interest rates exceeding 16 percent early this year were followed by a significant drop to 11.25 percent in June. The current rate for a conventional home mortgage loan is about 12.5 percent.

Hecht said he thought the rates would fall below the 11.25 percent mark, then show a slight increase following the November election.

"That scenario just didn't happen," he said. "Our costs went up more quickly than we thought they would."

Some lenders attributed the increase to the quick mortgage rate decline during a six month period.

"They fell much too fast," said J. Howard Edwards of the Provident Savings Bank. "You have to have a period of readjustment and that's quite likely what we're seeing now."

However, several bankers noted they do not expect mortgage rates to climb back up to the 16 percent level.

"They won't go as high as last year," said Michael Wentworth of the Savings Bank of Baltimore. "I see 13.5 percent as the highest."

Hecht said once the rates pass the 13 percent mark, many potential buyers refuse to borrow until the rates drop.

FHA-VA Mortgage Funds Made Available Through Federal Action

The federal government today raised the maximum allowable interest rate for some government-insured single-family home mortgages from 11.5 percent to 12 percent, a move designed to help more families obtain a home.

Officials of the Department of Housing and Urban Development said the move will adjust the program to market mortgage rates, thereby making more money available to finance Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration mortgages.

HUD also said the allowable interest rate for graduated payment mortgages will rise a point from 11.5 to 12.5 percent. This is a program designed to help young families obtain relatively low payments to start out, which will rise in later years when their income will be higher.

HUD Secretary Moon Landrieu said many lower-income families now are unable to obtain FHA and VA mortgages, which offer lower rates and smaller down payments than conventional loans.

This is because when the FHA-VA ceiling falls too far below market mortgage rates which last week were between 13 percent and 13.5 percent many lenders require the seller of a house to put up "points," ultimately increasing its cost to the buyer.

"Points" are a one-time charge to the seller, with one point equaling 1 percent of the mortgage. In practice, however, the points are paid by the buyer since they are tacked on to the selling price of the house.

Landrieu said as many as 10 points have been charged recently, and HUD officials said under the new interest ceiling the number of points charged probably will be about six.

But Mark Riedy, executive vice president of the Mortgage Bankers Association, called the government's move "too little and too late."

Riedy said the basic rate should have been raised a full percentage point and the graduated program a point and a half to help preserve what he called a "fragile recovery" in housing.

The present 11.5 percent ceiling was set on June 5. The government raised it to 12 percent, effective today.

Meanwhile, Chase Manhattan, the nation's third largest bank, raised the prime lending rate it charges its most creditworthy corporate customers to 11¹ percent from 11 percent,

"The increase was based primarily on the recent upward trend of market rates generally and should not be construed as a prediction of the future course of interest rates," Chase said in a prepared statement.

Burdened by Chase Manhattan's prime rate hike, rising mortgage rates and investor fears of inflation, the stock market suffered its second consecutive loss Tuesday after two rally attempts failed.

Trading was moderate as the Dow Jones industrial average, an 18.09-point loser Monday, shed another 8.78 points to 939.85 Tuesday.

Also, the Commerce Department reported U.S. corporate profits plunged a record $19 billion between April and June.

Losses were widespread among manufacturers, with automakers taking it the hardest. The oil industry, squeezed by the windfall profits tax and declining sales, showed a profit loss for the first time in two years.

Trash Haulers Must Pay Double

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Garbage haulers who dump trash from outside Anne Arundel County at the Glen Burnie landfill will have to pay double the price for the privilege.

The County Council voted Monday to raise fees for waste brought from other counties to the Glen Burnie landfill to $24 a ton from $12. The Glen Burnie landfill is the only county-owned landfill that allows trash from other areas.

Kathy Marx, executive director of the Maryland Solid Waste Association, said her group will "be in court as soon as possible if it's at all possible. We'll do whatever we can to get this struck down."

The association sued Anne Arundel County in July to overturn a ban on dumping out-of-county trash. Circuit Judge Bruce Williams has issued an injunction blocking enforcement of the ban until the lawsuit can be heard.

Hospital Scanner Requests Denied

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Hospitals are forbidden to apply for permission to purchase complicated CAT X-ray machines for 120 days, the state Health Planning and Development Agency Agency said Tuesday.

The ruling temporarily halts a dispute between the agency and four Baltimore hospitals that wanted to buy the computerized axial tomographic scanners, which cost about $600,000 and provide more detailed information about injuries than traditional X-rays.

William Landis, executive director of the health agency, said he approved a task force recommendation that it be given more time to develop standards for use of the machines. The task force is studying the availability of CAT scanners and their costs.

"I agree that the public health of the citizens of Maryland would not be served by the registration of additional CAT scanners during the deliberations of adoption of new criteria," Landis said.

The agency denied requests by four hospitals — Union Memorial, Franklin Square, City and Maryland General — to buy the machines in April because it said the seven machines already in use in the Baltimore area were adequate.

The state Health and Mental Hygiene Department reversed that decision in May, allowing the hospitals to go ahead with their plans. But the health planning agency requested and received a delay while a task force studied the matter.

Hospital administrators said they have a critical need for the CAT scanner.

Dr. Charles Jenkins, president of Union Memorial, said neurosurgeons have threatened to quit working in the emergency room unless the hospital gets one of the complicated X-ray devices. He also said patients in hospitals without CAT scanners are sometimes in danger if they have to be transported to another hospital for the X-rays.

More than 1,200 patients at Union Memorial need CAT scans in an average year, but patients must wait an average 2.4 days to be transported to other hospitals, Jenkins said.

Dundalk Marine Terminal To Add Thirteenth Berth

Dundalk Marine Terminal, heading for a record tonnage year at three of its 12 cargo berths, will soon add a 13th "super" berth to meet the needs of shippers during the 1980s.

Low bid to construct the first phase of the new facility, expected to cost a total of $40 million, was submitted by the McLean Contracting Company, a Baltimore firm, in the amount of $12,148,393.

Work to be done under the contract consists of the furnishing of all materials and equipment and the performing of all necessary labor to complete construction of 963 feet of marginal wharf and a ro/ro platform, including 150,000 cubic yards of excavation and embankments of various types.

Also, 135,000 cubic yards of dredging and the installation of a turbidity control curtain, erosion controls, storm drains, underground utilities, lighting, railroad tracks, a gantry crane railway and 2,600 square yards of reinforced concrete pavement and 32,000 square yards of bituminous concrete pavement.

In addition, the work will include the construction of a diked dredge disposal facility, including the hauling and placement of dredged material at Hawkins Point.

The McLean bid was $1 million under what Maryland Port Administration engineers estimated the project would cost. Actual work cannot begin until the bid is approved by the Maryland Board of Public Works.

Completion of phase one is slated for mid-1983, and the total project a year later. The new berth will add 30 acres for container storage and permit the export and import of 750,000 tons of cargo annually.

Berth 12 at Dundalk Marine Terminal set a record in the port of Baltimore in 1979 by moving a million tons of cargo. It is expected to repeat that performance in 1980, along with Berths 8 and 11.

During the first six months of this year, Berth 8 handled 483,975 tons of cargo, Berth 11 moved 540,779 tons and Berth 12 handled 401,366 tons.

A barrel of oil equals 42 gallons. The measure stems from the 19th century when oil was carried in wooden, 50-gallon barrels that leaked an average of eight gallons during shipment and storage.

Two Killed, One Critically Hurt During Shooting

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Two persons were shot and killed and another critically wounded Tuesday outside a city public housing project, police said.

A Baltimore man was arrested and charged with murder.

Police patrolling the area hear gunshots at the George Murphy housing project at 12:45 a.m. and found a dead man lying in the street. Another man was found dead in a car parked near the project, and a woman who was wounded was found in the seat next to him.

Another officer saw a man holding a pistol flee the scene. The officer ran after the man and caught him without a struggle, police said.

John Woodland, 24, was charged with two counts of homicide and handgun violations. He was taken to the Central District lockup pending a bail hearing.

The victims were identified as James Fetter, 30, a resident of the Murphy Homes who was found in the street with a gunshot wound in his head, and James Turner, 27, of Baltimore. Turner, found in the passenger seat of the car, died from gunshot wounds to the neck and chest, police said.

Denise White, 27, of Baltimore, was listed in critical condition at the University of Maryland Hospital with gunshot wounds to the face, chest and arm.

Police said they have not established a motive for the shootings.

State Lottery Weekly Ticket Sales Declining

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Maryland Lottery's new weekly game has failed to boost steadily declining ticket sales, lottery officials said.

"This game is not being accepted the way we thought it would," said Lottery Director Marvin Puncke. "We try to please people, but apparently we didn't read the people right."

Ticket sales have declined from about 300,000 a week to the 260,000 range since the weekly game was revamped this summer to offer more prizes, according to Puncke.

As a result, lottery officials are mulling over the idea of dropping the weekly game altogether — even though they would prefer to come up with a new twist and continue it.

And while the weekly game is floundering, ticket sales for the daily lottery have soared recently.

The state took in $183.4 million in revenues from the daily game between February and July this year, compared with the $164.4 million brought in during the same period last year.

Counties Fail To Submit Petitions

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Citizens in two counties were unable to meet the deadline for submitting petitions to get election-by-district proposals on their November election ballots.

Groups in Anne Arundel and Howard Counties, where council members are elected through county-wide balloting, had tried to get enough signatures for a referendum on district elections.

The Howard County petition drive fell short by more than 2,800 signatures and the Anne Arundel County group needed another 2,400 names.

But in Anne Arundel County, a compromise proposal will appear on the November ballot because of action taken by the County Council.

Council members, opposed to the citizens group's idea, voted to hold a referendum on a proposal callling for the nomination of council candidates by primary elections in each district.

Residents Stage Complaints About Concert Noises

COLUMBIA, Md. (UPI) — Some Columbia residents say they don't have to buy tickets to hear rock concerts at the Merriweather Post Pavilion — all they have to do is stay in their homes.

A group of persons who said they have been kept awake by concerts at Merriweather testified Monday at a hearing of the Howard County Health Board. The board was investigating complaints that noise levels at the amphitheater violate state limits.

Jonathan Ross said he and his wife resort to earplugs and putting pillows over their heads during some concerts. Despite those measures, he said, they still are able to hear the music.

County Executive Recovering From Attack By Dog

BEL AIR, Md. (UPI) — Hartford County Executive J. Thomas Barranger, who was attacked and bitten in the face by a dog while attending a cocktail party, returned to work this week, officials said Tuesday.

Tom Gerrigan, Barranger's news secretary, said the county executive returned to work after recuperating from the attack last week at home. He will attend the Maryland Association of Counties meeting this week at Ocean City, Gerrigan said.

Doctors needed 49 stitches to close the wound on Barranger's face after a German shepherd bit him while he was attending a friend's party in Bel Air. Gerrigan said Barranger is thinking of having plastic surgery in about five months.

Report Card Issue Dates Are Announced

The dates that report cards will be issued during the 1980-81 school year were announced this week by Albert A. Coviello, Supervisor of Pupil Services for the Garrett County Board of Education.

The Northern and Southern Middle Schools will issue report cards six times throughout the year on the following dates: October 20, December 9, January 30, March 16, April 30 and June 8.

All other county schools will issue cards four times on the following schedule: November 14, January 30, April 7 and June 8.

Coviello stated that the third, fourth and fifth reporting dates for the middle schools and the second and third dates for the other schools could be changed if a significant number of school days are missed because of the weather.

Today your boy's world is a wonderful place of trees and blue sky, puppy dogs and best friends. Perhaps his greatest decision is which tree to climb and how high to go.

But it won't always be so. As he grows, his choices must grow in scope and seriousness also.

Just as you today can't choose for him which tree to climb and how high; so also, as he grows in wisdom and stature, you cannot choose for him the proper values and goals for his life. But you can guide and direct him in the ways you have found to be good and right.

Attend the church or synagogue of your choice and take your child with you.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE SCRIBE WHO WAS A BUILDER

Lesson for August 24, 1980

Background Scripture: Ezra 7 through 10.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 133.

I have often noticed that many people identify themselves to others by means of their vocation. Sometimes in working with discussion groups, I like to begin by asking each person who he or she is. Of course, they always respond with their name, but many people go on to say, "I'm a carpenter," "I'm a housewife," or "I work for the insurance company."

Rev. Althouse

There is nothing necessarily wrong in identifying ourselves in this manner, so long as our vocation does not presume to sum up all or even most of what we are. You are a salesperson, but there is much more to say about you beyond that. Too often our vocational image tends to have the effect of locking us into a confining role that falls far short of that for which God created us.

The story of Ezra is a good illustration of how a man was much more than his chosen vocation. When he is introduced to the narrative in the book that bears his name, he is described in these simple terms: "He was a scribe skilled in the law of Moses..." (7:6). So he was a scribe, nothing exceptional about that for there must have been many scribes. Yet the King of Persia Artaxxerxes, apparently saw that Ezra was something more than just a scribe, for when he came to the king asking for permission to return to his homeland to rebuild the temple, "the king granted him all that he asked, for the hand of the Lord was upon him" (7:6).

Yet, even as Ezra returned to Jerusalem, he still thought of himself as a scribe and little more. "For Ezra had set his heart to study the law of the Lord, and to do it, and to teach his statutes and ordinances in Israel" (7:10). Perhaps that is the key to what happened to Ezra: he not only was determined to study the law, but he was equally determined "to do it" -- and when a person is determined to go beyond studying about God's will and attempts to do it, there is no way his or her life can be contained in a nice, neat little package.

Appoint Magistrates and Judges

So Ezra set off for Jerusalem a scribe, but in years to come people would remember him as prophet, priest, teacher, administrator, governor and, in the broad sense of the word, a builder! Because of this man and his many talents, the Temple of Jerusalem was raised up once again from the ashes of Babylonian destruction. But Ezra built more than a Temple, he built a renewed community of God's people. The foundation he laid was more than mortar and stone, but faith, courage, leadership and wisdom. He was much more than just a scribe, he was a servant of the Lord.

Lurking in the shadows of his scribal vocation and image there lurked a builder, waiting to be freed to serve God in whatever manner the Lord might direct. So look within yourself to see what may be waiting there to be set free and thus serve your Lord.

Japanese Students Visiting Accident

A number of people in the Bittinger area are experiencing a friendship and cultural exchange by hosting four Japanese students as part of the Labo International Program, jointly sponsored by the Labo Teaching Information Center in Japan and the 4-H Clubs of America.

Four families, members of the Glade Mennonite Church, Accident, are offering their home for a one-month period to 16-year-old Yasuko Maji, 17-year-old Chisato Malda, 15-year-old Miho Koyama, and 13-year-old Masaya Takahashi. These young people are in America to take part in language acquisition, combined with total personality development, bringing their people and culture closer together with the people and culture of America.

Besides participating in everyday activities, the young people exchange information and ideas, which continue through letters after the return to their native land.

The local host families are working in cooperation with the Allegany Mennonite Conference of Western Pennsylvania and Maryland, which has placed 35 Japanese teenagers in Mennonite homes this year.

The annual Tri-State Law Enforcement Officers Picnic will be held August 20 at the Maryland State Police lodge, located off Exit 24 of Route 48. Directional signs will be posted for drivers to follow after leaving the interstate. The picnic is open to any police officer in the three state area.

The picnic will begin at noon, featuring a full course meal at 5 p.m. Recreational activities will be provided.

Arrangements have been made with the Maplehurst Country Club, Frostburg, for any officers interested in playing golf during the day. Tee-off time is 9 a.m. Interested persons should contact Tfc. P. D. Wilson, LaVale barrack, to make arrangements at 729-2101.

Those planning to attend the affair are asked to contact Second Lt. B. J. Chabot, secretary of Lodge 40, Maryland Troopers Association, before Friday at the number listed above.

A fee will be charged.

Judge Jones Finds Four People Guilty

District Court Judge Lewis R. Jones found Richard Dale Ward, 29, Oakland, guilty of trespassing stemming from a disturbance on the property of Betty Welch, also of Oakland, on June 23.

According to arresting officer Deputy Steve Beeman, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, Ward illegally entered the Welch property in an apparent intoxicated state. He was fined $10. Additional charges of disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace were declared nolle prosequi.

In an incident occurring the same day, Ward was also charged by Deputy Larry Gnegy with resisting arrest and malicious destruction of property when, according to the complainant, he acted in a disorderly manner while inside the police cruiser. He apparently began kicking the plexiglass installed in the cruiser dividing the front and rear seating area. He then kicked the side windows and door panels, causing total damage of $50. Additional charges of disturbing the peace, disorderly conduct, and failure to obey a lawful order was declared nolle prosequi. Ward was fined a total of $100.

In a related incident, Deputy Charles P. Nolan, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, charged Betty Lou Welch, Oakland, with resisting arrest, failure to obey a lawful order, and battery in a disturbance which occurred at the Welch residence along Fingerboard Road on June 23.

According to Deputy Nolan, he was kicked twice by Mrs. Welch, who was also engaged in cursing, swearing, and use of obscene language while refusing to obey his order. Judge Jones ordered a pre-sentence investigation in the case.

In the same incident, Roger Lee Keiper, 27, Oakland, was found guilty of disorderly conduct for his part in the altercation and fined $25.

A Salisbury, Pa., woman was found guilty of theft stemming from charges by Chief Frank Wilkins, Grantsville Police department.

According to the complainant, Dorothy Bittinger, 34, was observed taking a bottle of ketchup, a baby dress, and a sweater from the Grantsville Foodland/Ben Franklin store on July 3.

The Bittinger woman was fined $50. Total of the stolen goods was $12.41.

Homeowners' Tax Credit Program Deadline Noted

The deadline for filing an application for the State of Maryland Homeowners' Tax Credit Program will be September 1, 1980. Any applicant wishing to have his or her eligibility for a property tax credit based on income considered must submit the standard application form on or before September 1, 1980 to the State Department of Assessments and Taxation.

The Homeowners' Tax Credit program provides tax credits of up to $900 a year based on a comparison of the homeowner's actual property tax bill to a "tax limit" established in the law for the person's specific income level. Last year, 112,111 persons actually received a tax credit averaging $306 each. The sum of $34 million was returned to Maryland homeowners in the form of these credits. If a tax bill has already been paid, then any credit due will be issued as a direct refund.

Standard application forms are available at all public libraries and assessment offices or by calling the central office of the Homeowners' Tax Credit Program at 1-800-492-3790 (toll-free).

Now you can get Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage regardless of your health*
OPEN ENROLLMENT
Now, during a special Open Enrollment period, you can obtain Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage regardless of the condition of your health.
If you're not already a Blue Cross and Blue Shield member and are not eligible for Medicare, this is a great opportunity for you and your family.
Even if you have not been able to get coverage in the past, now you will. Without any medical questionnaire. Without any health statements. You will be accepted automatically.
*Even health conditions that currently exist will be covered after this membership has been in effect for nine months.
But you must act quickly. Open Enrollment ends at midnight September 10, 1980.
At a glance, here's the kind of coverage you'll get.
Blue Cross to protect you against hospital costs.
You'll be protected for up to 30 days of hospital inpatient care on an 80/20 copayment basis. This means we pay 80% of the costs, and you pay 20%, but it also means a lower premium rate. And, your 20% responsibility is limited to a maximum of $500 for each stay in the hospital.
This coverage includes a semi-private room, board, general nursing care, and other customary hospital services; up to 30 days of inpatient maternity care; and in-hospital care for mental and nervous conditions in a Member hospital.
Also, emergency outpatient care received at a Member hospital within 72 hours of an accidental injury, and minor surgery performed on an outpatient basis, are covered in full. We pay 100% of these costs. You pay nothing.
Blue Shield Plan "i" to protect you against medical and surgical costs.
Benefits under Plan "i" are provided, according to an established schedule, based on the surgical procedure performed. They are not subject to the copayment provision of the Blue Cross portion of the Open Enrollment Program.
Plan "i" also provides benefits for physician medical care provided to hospital inpatients for up to 30 days as well as maternity care, consultations, anesthesia and a wide range of other services.
Maternity benefits are available after this coverage has been in effect for eight consecutive months. Benefits also are available for the removal of tonsils and adenoids after the membership has been in effect continuously for six months.
Sign up before Open Enrollment closes.
Just clip and mail the coupon below. But send no money. You will receive complete information including a listing of subscription rates and an application. Simply complete the application and return it to us by September 10, 1980.
(Of course, enrollment in other Blue Cross and Blue Shield programs is available with medical underwriting at any time.)

IN FOCUS

Runaway airplanes are all in a day's work

The first day's flying sequence for "Flamhards" was nearly the last for Peter Jackson, the cameraman who filmed the romantic adventure story that airs Tuesdays through the end of September on PBS.

As Jackson aimed his camera at one of the radio-controlled model vintage aircraft that provides much of the color in the series, it yawed after take-off and headed straight for him, striking the camera within inches of his head.

Undeterred by this narrow miss, a few days later he was getting aerial shots while dangling from a trapeze attached to a helicopter.

The model that nearly did Peter in was one of seven especially built for "Flamhards." In addition, there's a fleet of full-size replicas of the same turn-of-the-century aircraft in which aviation's pioneers made their first trips into the wide blue yonder.

In the limited-run series, which was filmed entirely on location in northern Yorkshire, the adventurous spirit of the early age of flight comes into sharp conflict with the status quo of rural England and the age of the horse. At Flamhards, a decaying country mansion, the conflict rages within one family. A father and one of his sons cling to yesterday; his other son, whose passion is aviation, rejects their obsession with riding and hunting. The conflict is heightened by arrival of a pretty young orphaned relative who must choose one of the two men.

The aircraft replicas, designed by David Boddington (who also built the planes for the BBC's "Wings"), include a Blackburn 1912 monoplane and a two-seater Mercury, a Sloriot XI, La Demoiselle, and a fictitious plane called Emma, which starts out a triplane and finishes many variations later in the dramatization of Kathleen Peyton's trilogy, as a shoulder-wing monoplane.

Boddington, an ex-RAF pilot, has been "modeling" all his life. He estimates he's designed more than 100 radio-controlled models and has a factory in Yorkshire where model kits are turned out. He was on hand for the filming of "Flamhards," making sure that the actors who taxied them along the ground "knew what they were doing."

A typical sequence had the airplane models sent aloft by an assistant, who then quickly handed the transmitter to Boddington, who was waiting with a cameraman and pilot in a helicopter on the ground. "As soon as the model passed the helicopter, we took off and chased it," says Boddington. "So you get a shot of the model flying, with the ground 100 or 1,000 feet below. That was great fun."

Landing was the trickiest part of the maneuvering. Boddington had to put the models down within a foot or two of the cameraman, who was grinding away from a hole in the ground dug out to provide the proper realistic perspective.

Starring as Christina, the girl who has to decide which cousin she wants to marry, is 24-year-old Christine McKenna. Steven Grives plays Mark, who offers her an oldstyle life whose boundaries do not extend beyond the fields in which he hunts, and Edward Judd plays the intolerant father. Alan Parnaby portrays William, who wants Christina to be his co-pilot for life.

Christina (Christine McKenna) gets a bird's eye view of the world as "Flambards" continues Tuesday evenings through September on PBS. The romantic adventure series is set in the pre-World War I era when daring young men — and women — explored the sky in their flying machines.

STARVIEW

For some beauties, fame is not fleeting

By RUTH THOMPSON

For the first quarter century of its existence, the Miss America Pageant yielded winners whose real names were remembered only up to the moment (and maybe not that long) until they passed the crown to a successor the Saturday after Labor Day in Atlantic City.

Most of them wanted it that way. A majority married their childhood sweethearts — a surprising number of whom, by the way, were doctors — and settled into community life. A few still like it that way.

But starting with Miss America of 1945, that changed. That Miss America, of course, was Bess Myerson, who became first a television hostess of special events, then director of consumer affairs for New York City, an advisor on consumerism to corporations and is now campaigning to become the Democratic senator from New York State.

As she told us once, "Remember that the pageant had just changed its rules. It was the first year of the scholarship. Miss Myerson, a straight-A student, showed promise as a pianist and planned to use the money to prepare for a career as a concert artist. But, she found herself drawn first to reporting public affairs, then becoming a leader of them.

Phyllis George, the 1971 Miss America, told us that she got no farther than her hometown contest in Denton, Texas, on her first try, but her father urged her to enter a second year because "Honey, without that $700 you won toward school, it would have been that much harder." It was Phyllis, who almost more than any other title-holder, travelled the country for a couple of seasons talking up local and state pageants because it isn't only "the big win" that counts; there are some nifty consolation prizes.

Phyllis got so caught up in big money opportunities — first television commercials, then sports commentary — that she never did get back to finish college.

Though she says she is obligated someday to finish a still-pending contract for more sports commentary, just when that will be is uncertain since she is now the first lady of Kentucky, the wife of its Governor John Y. Brown and the mother of a new baby.

But to return to a point Phyllis has made, since the pageants have become television events, there are multiple opportunities for contestants other than just the top winners. It can run a lot higher than the immediate scholarship money and free wardrobes.

Jayne Kennedy, for instance, placed high, but not at the crowned heights as a pageant contestant. But television coverage showcased her, and CBS chose her for their post-Phyllis George sports commentator. And the season, she was wooed away by NBC to co-host "Speak Up, America" with Marjoe Gortner.

Because of her outspoken political stands in recent years, many forget that Anita Bryant first came to national attention on the beauty-talent pageant route. Her singing voice and smile got her slots on variety shows, an orange juice commercial and the cohosting for a time of the Orange Bowl Parade telecast.

CINDY SAYS

Bolger keeps kickin'; Burt's home is Indian

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — Ray Bolger does one hour of kicking his legs high over his head every morning. If you want to look like a great 76, you can do that, too. Of course, if you're only 33, forget it! ... Burt Reynolds, who bought Beatie George Harrison's old pad in Holmby Hills, is filling it with redskin artifacts on account of he's half Indian ... Loni Anderson, who could not be exactly considered chopped liver even if she were a klutz around the house, is a gourmet cook. I mean she doesn't throw together linguine and meatballs. She makes canard a l'orange and that kind of jazz.

A sad sigh from Doc Joyce Brothers. I'd gladly begneath my stomach to anyone who wants it, because some unwelcome fat has made its home there and the way it's settled in, I figure it's there for life!

... Did anybody know Jimmy Carter's press aide Jody Powell got tossed out of school on account of they found him cheating on a test?

... Cheryl Ladd, about those 14-hour days of filming TV series: "I call the place Penitentiary Fox" ... Shaun Cassidy paid $50,000 for a black Porsche and he tootles around town on a cockomamie bicycle. When chums want to see the Porsche he takes them to the garage and runs them around the thing ... I guess you maybe heard that Sylvester Stallone is up to his stubble in reincarnation. Believes he was a prizefighter in another era — or another picture — or something ... Mama Jolie Gabor told her kiddies Zsa Zsa, Eva and Magda, that should her time ever come that they promise to put false eyelashes on her before she goes to that great beauty spa in the sky ... Definition of a bigamist: Guy who believes two wives can live as cheaply as one.

Bo Derek, who inhaled a pitiful $35,000 for her first movie, "10," sucked up a nice $1 million for her title role in the movie version of "Brenda Starr" ... While daughter Carrie Fisher banked one mil from "Star Wars," and will sock away another mil for "Son of Star Wars," or whatever this second galaxy is called, mommy Debbie Reynolds is quietly selling the jewelry, the flatware and the valuables to pay off debts.

There's trouble in Paradise. Bob Dylan's last tour was not greeted as though it were the second coming. Dylan did only religious songs, and his sinning flock wanted a little more juice ... The offer homie Lindsay Wagner razzberry'd to do another series was a multimillion dollar one. She doesn't dig TV no more. She wants to be in the movies ... Angie Dickinson's going to knock off a book. She didn't say on what ... Brando: "Acting is a bum's life in that it leads to self-indulgence" ... Catherine Deneuve: "A woman should never go crawling to a man or love. He likes to get a run for his money."

And from Mickey Rooney, who has been there and back: "For some people marriage is like peanuts. It's hard to stop at one."

IN THE WHITE HOUSE — The lives of eight American presidential families and the black family who cared for them are depicted in NBC's mini-series, "Backstairs at the White House," to be aired Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, Aug. 24, 25, 26 and 28. Shown above, starting in upper left: Victor Buono and Julie Harris as President and Mrs. Taft; Robert Vaughn and Claire Bloom (as the widower) George Kennedy and Celeste Holm (as the Hardings); Ed Flanders and Lee Grant (as the Coolidges); Larry Gates and Jan Sterling (as the Hoovers); John Anderson and Eileen Heckart (as the Roosevelts); Harry Morgan and Estelle Parsons (as the Trumans); Andrew Duggan and Barbara Barrie (as the Eisenhowers), and Olivia Cole (l.) and Leslie Uggams as Maggie and Lillian Rogers, mother and daughter who between them worked as maids in the White House for 32 years, and Louis Gossett Jr. as Levi Mercer, another staff member. (RE!EAT)

THURSDAY

Storage of chemical waste is the subject of an "ABC News Closeup" documentary, "The Killing Ground — An Update," to air Thursday, Aug. 21. The program follows-up problems first exposed on ABC's "The Killing Ground" in early 1979.

TV TATTLE

Beattys' kid show

Actor Ned Beatty and his wife Tinker recently formed Kidbits, a Hollywood-based non profit corporation designed to upgrade children's programming by opening communication between Los Angeles producers and viewers. Already Kidbits, through Beatty Productions, has produced five short, innovative pieces that are varied in theme and format. They include performances donated by Christopher Reeve, Doug Henning, David Hubbard and Beatty himself.

New producer for Lewis

Jerry Lewis has announced that the producer of his 1981 Labor Day Telethon — the 15th in the series of annual extravaganzas — will be one of the show's behind-the-scenes veterans, Robert J. Considine, until now producer of the telethon's New York local and network segments and innovator of the "Best of Broadway" productions. Considine also serves year round as director of station relations for the Muscular Dystrophy Association, the telethon's beneficiary.

Too much U.S. TV?

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's president, Al Johnson, told the Canadian Parliament recently that that country's television system is being overwhelmed by "friendly but foreign voices." In his annual report to the House of Commons, he noted that English Canadians spend 75 percent and French Canadians 40 percent of their viewing time watching American programs. The programs come to Canadians through cable systems and privately owned Canadian stations that import them.

'Fame' into series

MGM's salute to yr performing talent in New York's High School of Performing Arts, "Fame," a spring theatrical release, will be translated to the TV screen projected as a weekly hour series for NBC. "Fame" is being prepped for the 1981-82 season. Chris Gore, who penned the original screenplay, is writing the "bible" for the series, will do some scripts and probably will be executive editor.

Godfather saga

An encore presentation of "Mario Puzo's The Godfather Saga," the nine-hour feature presentation assembled from Francis Ford Coppola's two Academy Award-winning motion pictures, will be broadcast on NBC over four evenings this November. The drama, which was merged and edited especially for television, stars Marlon B , Al Pacino, James Caan, Robert Duvall, Robert DeNiro, Talia Shire and Diane Keaton. It originally aired in November 1977.

The America-1000

Elwood Blues (aka Dan Aykroyd) is driving the infamous Bluesmobile across the United States, stopping off along the way to discover what makes America laugh. "I'm not just going to the major metropolises, not just your Nielsen cities, but out there to the heartland, where the real folks are," said Aykroyd. He also plans to deliver the Bluesmobile, which gained immortality in "The Blues Brothers" film, starring Aykroyd and John Belushi, to upstate New York where it's being donated to a collection of classic cars. Before leaving on his trip, Aykroyd tuned up the engine, checked the water and oil and stocked up on the contents needed for his survival kit — Gatorade and Milk Bone dog biscuits.

Japanese TV

You've seen television programming from Britain, France and Brazil. Now PBS has scheduled three dramas and two documentaries from Japan, part of a limited-run series called "Television from Japan 101," produced by New York's WNET. Catch "Pilgrimage of a Thousand Days" on Saturday, Aug. 30.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

WONDERS DO CEASE — Can you tell me what happened to "Wonder Woman"? Is there any chance of it coming back? Where can I write Lynda Carter? — E.G., Oxnard, Calif.

When a series slips in the ratings, it eventually slides off the tube entirely. That's what happened to Diana Prince, aka Wonder Woman. The show is in syndication now, but as for new episodes, it's highly unlikely it will come back. Lynda is on to other things now. She was TV's second Wonder Woman. When the first pilot movie was made, Cathy Lee Crosby played the role. Cathy is now on "That's Incredible." Lynda was in the second pilot movie, which became the series. Write her in care of her manager-husband, Ron Samuels, 780 S. Beverly Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90212.

LET'S SHOOT J.R. AGAIN — We have all kinds of theories about who shot J.R., but some of us didn't get to see that show. Will that segment of "Dallas" be shown again? — Nelda Peshinski, Rock Island, Ill.

It sure will. The present plan is to telecast it as a special event instead of running it with the other "Dallas" repeats. The new season is due to start Sept. 18, but the actor's strike may cause fall schedules to be greatly changed. Anyway, one thing is just before new episodes are shown, whenever that might be.

OPEN HATCH — Why is it that since "Battlestar Galactica" Richard Hatch seems to have dropped out of sight? Except for the picture "Murder of Miracle Beach," he hasn't been on anything. Is he a recluse? I think he is a special guy and would like to know anything about him. — L.G., New Stanton, Pa.

Richard's career is going well. He is playing Charlie Chan's Number One grandson in the new Charlie Chan film, which stars Peter Ustinov as the Oriental detective. When actors are making pictures, they appear to have dropped out of sight because shooting schedules are much longer than TV, and the film is not released as quickly. Richard, who is a good musician and singer in addition to being a good actor and a "special guy," has no particular career problems. He's not a recluse, but he is a bit reclusive. You can write him in care of his agent, William Morris, 151 El Camino Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90212.

MARK'S SPOT — I would like to know where I can write Mark Harmon of "240-Robert." — David Noordelos, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Try writing Mark in care of Universal Studios, Universal City, CA 91608 and ask that the letter be forwarded.

Cast celebrates new 'Texas' at barbeque

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — The week before "Texas" hit the television screens of America's soap opera viewing public, NBC held a fancy outdoor barbeque in the show's honor. Gathering at Manhattan's Rockefeller Center Promenade Cafe were nearly all of the new show's cast members, along with the executive production staff.

On hand for short speeches were New York City's Mayor Edward Koch and Governor William Hobby of Texas. There was no question that the round-up of food, fun and country music was a hit. By the time this column comes out you will have had a chance to see some of the action in "Texas," which deals with the three principal families of the show, the Marshalls, the Bellmans and the Dekker clan.

NBC is now hoping that their Texas-sized investment will make a hit. Fans are sure to be thrilled by the show's fast action and many on-location scenes shot in the Lone Star State.

With a red face, this writer would like to correct an error of a few weeks ago and set the record straight by giving Douglass Watson (Mac Cory on "Another World") due credit for winning this year's Emmy Award for best actor.

Be on the lookout in your area for "Dinah & Friends." The popular talk show will be featuring a week of soap opera personalities, including John Gabriel (Seneca Beaulac on "Ryan's Hope"), Wayne Massey (Johnny Drummond on "One Life to Live"), Candice Early (Donna Tyler on "All My Children") and Emmy-winner Francesca James (ex-Kelly Cole on "AMC"). All of the soap opera stars were given a chance to showcase their singing talent.

After a six-week absence from "As the World Turns," Eileen Fulton (Lisa Coleman) was welcomed back to the set by her castmates. Eileen, who is celebrating her 20th year portraying "ATWT's" resident villainess, had been hospitalized with infectious hepatitis. (Have a question about soap operas? Drop us a line in care of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10166.)

Beverlee McKinsey as Iris Carrington is the star of the newest soap, "Texas."

SUNDAY

Behind those proper duds are two of the most famous outlaws — and outlawess? — in the Old West. Paul Newman, Katharine Ross and Robert Redford star in "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," Sunday, Aug. 24, on ABC. (REPEAT)

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

Friday, Continued

Melissa is 'normal and average,' but a star

The girl next door to Johnny Carson would have to be a knockout. She recently moved into NBC's Studio 3 with a new series and is attracting about as much attention as Bo Derek.

However, blonde, fragile-looking Melissa Michaelsen doesn't shape up in quite the same way. At 12, she's a well rounded adolescent, with a "10" when it comes to charm.

That's the opinion of NBC executives who loved Melissa in the TV movie "Goldie and the Boxer" (with O.J. Simpson) and cast her as Maxx in the sitcom, "Me and Maxx."

Also starring Joe Santos as the playboy whose swinging slows to a sway when daughter Maxx moves in — left by a mother who opted to "spread her wings" — the program centers on this odd couple's efforts to live together.

"Maxx and I have similar personalities," says the lady-like Melissa, who shatters stereotypes of brash New Yorkers and bratty kid actors. Like Maxx, Melissa — who began in her younger brothers' acting footsteps at 8 and last year starred both as Goldie and as J.P. in "Orphan Train" — is bright, outgoing, polite and mature.

"I'm just a normal, average kid with normal, average interests," shrugs Melissa, an all-around athlete and marathon runner who placed 259th among 1500 women in the six-and-a-half mile Bonne Bell Marathon last year. Also a tennis and golf buff — she takes lessons in the former and tees off frequently with co-star Santos — and a great skater (ice and roller) and bicyclist, she's most proud of her membership in the Desert Rats swim team. In addition, she collects dolls and ceramic frogs and takes piano and singing lessons.

"I love acting. It's fun and creative, and I feel proud when someone recognizes me. But I'd like to leave my options open for my career. If I'm very successful, I'll continue acting as long as it's a fun thing to do. When it stops being fun, that's when I quit," says Melissa, whose parents maintain they exert no pressure on their three showbiz children.

The Michaelsen family travels and works together, with home being New York. According to father Alwin, an economist and marketing consultant, "The kids regard performing as a privilege, and they know they wouldn't have it if they didn't measure up as well-behaved, nice human beings. My wife and I teach them that rejection isn't negative. They're secure as individuals and take pride in sharing each other's success." (Son Neil, 11, appears on "Search for Tomorrow," and Peter, 8, is featured in the film, "Honkey Tonk Freeway.")

Melissa Michaelsen

"My classmates don't treat me any differently because I'm on television," says Melissa. "Sometimes they'll tease me if a scene I'm in isn't realistic for a kid my age."

Melissa says she's "always interested in boys," but her father won't let her date yet. At home in Manhattan, when the Michaelsen kids go out, "it's always in a pair." And she must do household chores to earn her $15 per week allowance. She also spends much of her free time reading and answering fan mail with the help of her mother; a Melissa Michaelsen fan club is currently being formed.

Though Melissa misses her friends while she's taping in Los Angeles, she prefers sunny California. (She'll soon start work there on an episode of "Here's Boomer" and a sequel to "Goldie and the Boxer.") "The living is more easy going in California," says Melissa, "and the weather's better for sports. I'd miss the snow though."

Who is Melissa's fave star? "Jane Fonda," replies Melissa. "I like her style."

Snow-Dependent Small Businesses Eligible For Aid

Governor Harry Hughes was notified Aug. 4 that Maryland's ski and snow-related small businesses that suffered because of the lack of snow last winter, are eligible for aid from the Small Business Administration.

In a telegram to the governor last week, SBA chief Vernon Weaver stated that Maryland has been designated as an area of economic dislocation due to the severe lack of snowfall during the past winter. This action allows all small businesses in Maryland which can prove "substantial economic injury" as a result of a lack of snow, to apply for economic dislocation loans from the SBA.

The loans are limited to $100,000 and carry an interest rate of 8.25 percent. Applications for the loans must be made before 4 p.m., Oct. 28, and eligible small businesses must fit within SBA's size standards. Loan applications will be accepted at SBA's Baltimore District Office, Oxford Building, Room 630, 8600 LaSalle Road, Towson, Maryland, 21204, or at the Washington District Office, 1030 15th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., 20417.

The SBA's action is a result of a letter sent by Governor Hughes to Administrator Weaver earlier this year in which the governor outlined the extent of economic hardship the dry winter had placed on the state's ski and snow-related industries.

Citing a survey conducted by the Maryland Department of Economic and Community, Governor Hughes pointed out that small businesses in Western Maryland which rely on winter recreation, reported declines in business of up to 25 percent. The survey also showed employment being ten percent below previous years.

The governor said that over the past ten years snowfall in Maryland's ski areas ranged from 45.7 to 107.7 inches. Snowfall for the 1979-80 season amounted to 56 inches. However, the governor stated, unseasonably mild weather resulted in an extremely small snow base, and abnormally high temperatures often melted the snow shortly after it fell.

Regulations On Dairy Products To Be Reviewed

U. S. Department of Agriculture regulations on the inspection and grading of dairy products will be reviewed as part of an ongoing evaluation of all federal regulations.

The review, required by a presidential executive order, is intended to eliminate unnecessary government regulations and ensure that all regulations are written simply and clearly, according to Donald Houston, administrator of USDA's Food Safety and Quality Service.

The review is also designed to ensure rules are consistant with legislative goals and minimize any overlapping jurisdiction with other federal agencies, he said.

"We want to conduct a thorough review of these grading regulations," Houston said, "so we are asking consumers, industry officials and others interested in the agency to suggest ways to improve these regulations."

Among the regulations under review are those which USDA uses to approve dairy plant facilities for grading services and those under which USDA grades butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk. This includes looking at regulations on grade standards-criteria such as flavor and appearance on which grade levels are based to ensure they are understandable and concise.

In the coming months, Food Safety and Quality Service plans to look at other regulations, he said. These reviews will be done by a regulatory review task force appointed by Houston.

Comments on the regulations on grading of dairy products must be received on or before September 30. The notice of this review was published in the August 1 Federal Register, available in most local libraries.

Written comments should be sent to the regulations coordination division, Annie Johnson, FSQS, rm. 2637-S, USDA, Washington, D. C., 20250.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday, August 20, the 233rd day of 1980 with 133 to follow.

The moon is moving toward its full phase.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

The evening stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Leo.

Benjamin Harrison, 23rd president of the United States, was born Aug. 20, 1833. American actress Shirley Booth was born on this date in 1907.

On this date in history:

In 1741, Danish navigator Vitus Jonas Bering discovered what is now Alaska.

In 1955, flying a super-Sabrejet, Col. Horace Hanes reached an altitude of 40,000 feet and a speed of 822 miles per hour.

In 1966, 3,000 people were counted dead in the aftermath of a Turkish earthquake.

In 1977, the first U.S. Voyager spacecraft was launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., on course to Jupiter, Saturn and possibly Uranus.

A thought for the day: American writer Edgar Watson said, "What people say behind your back is your standing in the community."

The state of Delaware has only three counties: Kent, New Castle, and Sussex.

Tina M. Wotring Becomes Bride Of Keith E. Parton June 28

The Bethel United Methodist Church was the setting for the June 28 wedding of Tina Marie Wotring of Oakland to Keith Ernest Parton of McKeesport, Pa.

The Rev. James F. Remley and the Rev. James J. Morris (McKeesport) officiated at the afternoon double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Robert Wotring of 301 Oakland Drive. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gregory of Mt. Lake Park. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kenneth Parton of 2810 Jenny Lind Street, McKeesport.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, wore a formal floor length gown of chiffonette, organza and cluny lace. The gown featured a portrait neckline with ruffle and capelet sleeves, a circular skirt with ruffle, trimmed with satin ribbon and chapel train. She wore a chiffonette picture hat. A silk rose held two silk streamers at the back. She carried a bouquet of yellow columbine and white daisies. She wore a pair of ivory earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and a blue Wedgwood ring.

Attendants were Donna Paugh of Deer Park, Jan Reames of Spartanburg, SC, and Cheryl Blamble of Oakland.

They wore yellow cotton print gowns with ruffle and capelet sleeves. They wore straw picture hats trimmed with a brown ribbon and carried baskets of daisies and yellow freesia.

Glenn Palm of McKeesport was the best man. Ushers were Eric Wotring and Greg Wotring, brothers of the bride.

Soloist Dave Callis sang "Morning Has Broken" and "The Wedding Song." Organist Mrs. Pat Steyer played traditional and classical selections including "Moonlight Sonata" and "Ode to Joy."

Robin Wargo, cousin of the groom, distributed rice packets.

A buffet reception was held at the Oakland Country Club. Frances Friend was in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Linda Donati, sister of the groom, served the three-tier wedding cake which was baked by Mrs. Forrest Sanders.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Starlite Restaurant.

The bride was honored at showers given by Mrs. Jerry Paugh and Donna Paugh at their home and by her co-workers in Morgantown. The couple was honored at a party given by Mrs. Elsie Boucek, sister of the groom.

The bride, a 1975 graduate of Southern High School, received a bachelor's degree in Public Relations from the P.I. Reed School of Journalism, West Virginia University, in 1979. She is currently employed by the University as a preview coordinator in the Audiovisual Library.

The groom is a senior in the Creative Arts Center division of Music at West Virginia University.

The couple resides in Morgantown.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, W. Va. and Mass.

The world's oldest tennis court, built in 1530 for Henry VIII, is at Hampton Court.

In Harmony With Nature—

by Carol Kapel

Nestled at the foot of Kitzmiller Hill, nearly hidden from view, is a spectacular sight unlike any other in Garrett County.

If you can imagine more than 800 individual plants, 51 hanging baskets, 101 separate containers, and rows and rows of colorful border flowers, your mental picture may have you in the vicinity of Mildred Bender's floral fantasy.

To say the display is breathtaking would be an understatement. The natural colors, blended with a seemingly endless array of baskets, pots, boxes, and containers, make the Bender garden a veritable haven of relaxation.

It seemed inappropriate to say this flower garden must take an enormous amount of work, but I said it anyway. I felt myself tiring as Mrs. Bender explained her daily routine.

Each morning, from 8 a.m. until noon, the watering process takes place. Mrs. Bender credits the soil mixture she uses, which is blended with a Cornell University recipe, for the success of the flowering extravaganza. The bloom, a varigated selection of impatiens, shares the garden with several varieties of wax begonias. This combination, according to Mrs. Bender, affords the greatest success. In the past 11 years, she's tried many varieties, including geraniums, petunias, and marigolds, but the degrees of success were varying, and not really satisfactory to her.

This year's crop was planted in April. The late frost and frost warnings experienced in the county this spring nearly cost the Benders their prize possessions. For seven nights in a row it took them nearly three hours to cover the plants, and required every sheet and table cover they could find. Fortunately, they were spared, and should now remain in their colorful state until the first nip of frost this fall.

In addition to the magnificent flowerbeds, a multitude of birdlife considers the Bender garden their private haven, and with good cause. Throughout the interview with the avid gardener, literally dozens of scolding bluejays and vivid red cardinals exchanged defiant challenges, as they brazenly flew within inches of our feet to a pile of shelled peanuts placed there by Mrs. Bender for their dining pleasure. The peanuts are a part of the overwhelming amount of bird feed consumed by the Benders' winged companions each year.

In addition to the peanuts, (which total 100 pounds per year), the bird hosts offer 2750 pounds of sunflower seeds, 1000 pounds of cracked corn, and two loaves of bread per day, in addition to their drinking water.

A flock of misguided robins, finding themselves stranded in the Bender sanctuary during the winter months were kept alive by Mrs. Bender's ingenious feeding scheme, utilizing shredded dog burgers currently on the market. The robins assumed they were worms, and were saved from winter destruction.

The rabbits and the chipmunks are surely not overlooked, as bits of carrots and greens were evident near every tree. A large yellow cat, who, according to Mrs. Bender, "just wandered in one day," snoozed peacefully in the sun, curled up near the patio. I asked if he ever bothered the birds, and she jokingly replied, "I deliberately feed him five times a day, so he's too full to leap in the air!"

Unfortunately, for all flower lovers, and especially the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Bender, they have sold their home and are moving to a retirement village in Florida. In discussing the move, I asked how she could possibly bear to leave the garden, and especially the nature friends. "Leaving my birds will be the hardest. I've kept track of their coming and going for years, and I'll miss them terribly."

Somehow, I had the feeling as I left, that somewhere in Florida, just a few months from now, a neighborhood will suddenly become more beautiful, and the familiar sound of chirping will float along the ocean breezes, saying good morning to some brand new friends.

OVERALL VIEW OF TOTAL RELAXATION — The peace and tranquility of a flower garden are totally captured in this picture of perfection. The Bender home in Kitzmiller has attracted scores of nature lovers who come from all over the county to view the spectacular efforts of Mrs. Bender.

HALF-BASKET ARRANGEMENTS — This clever design is used to enhance the beauty of the buildings adjoining the Bender flower garden and patio. Hundreds of red and white impatiens blossoms peek through mounds of lush green foliage throughout the entire display. The Kitzmiller residence is ablaze with color from April until the first fall frost.

HANGING IN SPLENDOR — The versatility of the hanging basket is exemplified in this unique arrangement found in the flower garden of Mrs. Mildred Bender, Kitzmiller. A total of 51 hanging baskets adorn the total garden scene.

LUNAR ECLIPSE

On Monday at 11:42 p.m. the Moon will be midway through the outer part of the Earth's shadow. The outer part of the shadow is brighter and is called the penumbra of the shadow. The eclipse is called a penumbral eclipse of the Moon. It will be visible in most of North America.

MOON

Monday, the Moon will pass through its Full Moon phase at 11:42 p.m. Moonrise will be at 3:40 this afternoon. Next Tuesday the Moon will rise at 8:34 p.m.

Wednesday, the Moon will be 360,875 kilometers (224,285 miles) from the Earth. This perigee is the closest the Earth and Moon will be during this month.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Venus, Mars, and Saturn will be the visible planets during the coming week. Venus rises about 3½ hours before the Sun rises. Mars is visible for about 2 hours after sunset low in the southwest. Saturn is visible for a short time after sunset. Both Mars and Saturn will be among the stars of Virgo.

DAYLIGHT DECREASES

There will be 15 minutes less daylight next Tuesday than there will be today. Sunrise was at 6:34 this morning. Sunset will be 13 hours 33 minutes later at 8:07 p.m. Next Tuesday, the Sun will rise at 6:40 a.m. and it will set at 7:58 p.m.

Today is the 233rd day of 1980. The Sun will be at the same position at noon today as it was last April 22nd.

Need For K-9s Noted By Police

The Maryland State Police reports the need for additional dogs to add to their K-9 corps.

Any area residents with a dog which would qualify for training, and who would be willing to donate it to the State Police is asked to contact Cpl. Fred Yeager, local K-9 expert, and member of the State Police, LaVale barrack at 729-2101.

The prospective candidates must be a male German Shepherd, in good health, weighing approximately 70 pounds. The dog should be between 12 and 24 months old.

The State Police in Garrett and Allegany Counties, and throughout the rest of the state, use their dogs to track fleeing criminals, locate lost children, search buildings, detect narcotics, locate explosives and recover firearms.

TAKE CARE

Is it possible for your carpeting to retain its true color and attractive like-new texture after months, and even years, of duty underfoot? The answer is a definite YES! By following simple carpet-care rules, you can keep your carpeting new-looking longer, and greatly prolong its life.

Give heavy traffic areas a light going over every day with a carpet sweeper or vacuum cleaner. Light cleaning means about three backward and forward strokes over each section. Once each week, your entire carpeting should be thoroughly vacuumed (six or seven backward and forward strokes.) Call us for our recommendations in purchasing a vacuum cleaner. We recommend only ONE.

Help protect your carpet by moving furniture periodically. Simply move heavy pieces one or two inches up, back, or sideways to prevent permanent indentations. Attend to stains as soon as they occur. Mop spills immediately with a cloth, sponge or paper towel.

Buying the best possible grade of carpeting, and then giving it proper care with the best possible vacuum cleaner will mean a longer lasting carpet.

Shopping at Roderick's will mean a wonderful selection and reasonable prices.

Read these columns regularly each week for important carpet information.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

"When Harry said Home-Earning could save us thousands of dollars on our new home, I smiled and said, 'Right.'

We earned substantial savings by spending time on completing the interior of our new precision-manufactured Kingsberry Home. We hired our own plumber, electrician, heating specialist and other subcontractors and did some of the work ourselves. Our builder erected the house and finished the exterior, then turned our Kingsberry Home over to us for completion. The results were beautiful and the savings were terrific. Home Earning lets you determine the extent of your participation, and it's an exciting new way to get a lot more house for a lot less. Call today and discover the joys of Home Earning.

St. John's To Observe Founding Of Sunday School

Members of St. John's Lutheran Church, Red House, are planning a series of events for August 30 and 31 at the church in celebration of the founding of Sunday School in 1780 in Gloucester, England, by Robert Raikes.

Activities scheduled for Saturday, August 30, will begin at 7:30 p.m. and include singing of hymns used years ago in Sunday School, a play depicting the founding of Sunday School 200 years ago, an historical display of Sunday School materials, a slide presentation of current educational programs at St. John's, and a reception, at which time all known former Sunday School superintendents will be honored and awarded a certificate of recognition.

The Muhlenberg Liturgy will be used at the regular worship hour on Sunday, August 31, at 11 a.m. Pastor Bernard Carl will wear liturgical vestments of the early era. At 2 p.m. the congregation will gather at the Gengy Church picnic area along U. S. Route 219 South for a picnic and ice cream social, followed by an afternoon of games.

All persons who have attended Sunday School at St. John's are invited to attend any of the special activities. For further information, persons may call the church office at 334-4778 or Wilda Sanders at 334-3061. Also, persons knowing the names of any persons serving as superintendent at St. John's prior to 1955 are asked to call one of the above numbers.

With these special events, St. John's is joining congregations throughout the world in observing the 200th anniversary of Sunday School. Along with extensive plans by the National Council and World Council of Churches for conferences and a variety of materials on the Sunday School, an international inter-Lutheran committee is developing ways and means of renewing and strengthing the Sunday School as a part of a broader educational ministry program for congregations and their communities.

Robert Raikes, the founder of Sunday Schools, was a printer in Gloucester, England, and owner of the Gloucester Journal. He started a Sunday School in 1780 to provide some instruction for the many uneducated children on the streets of Gloucester on Sundays.

Attend Friend Family Seminar

Clarence G. Brown and Izetta Fox Brown, of Alexandria, Va., former residents of Friendsville, just returned from attending the fifth seminar and genealogical workshop of the Friend Family Association of America. This year's seminar, attended by approximately 100 Friends, was held at the Harley House, Fort Wayne, Indiana, August 8 and 9.

Included in the two days program were a variety of tutorial papers, given by association members, reporting on research of historical and genealogical significance pertaining to the Friend family and its collateral lines of descent.

Membership in the Friend Family Association of America is open to all persons bearing the Friend family name, allied family members and family groups.

Plans are already underway for the next Friend Family Association of America seminar and genealogical workshop, to be held in 1982 at a place yet to be announced.

Loan Rates For Crops Increased

Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee announced that loan rates on all 1980 crop wheat, feed grains, and soybeans have been raised to reflect the increases in farm operating costs. The release and call levels for the farmer-owned wheat reserve have also been adjusted to reflect the increase in rates.

Crowl said the Maryland loan rates are now $2.44 for corn, $2.98 for wheat, $1.81 for barley, $5.00 for soybeans, $3.86 for grain sorghum, $2.05 for rye, and $1.29 for oats.

"The ASCS grain loan program provides operating cash and allows farmers to hold their crop off the market and benefit from price increases that often come after harvest," said Crowl. "Although the program does not guarantee participating farmers a profit, it does guarantee a selling price equal to or greater than the loan rate," he said. Farmers can become eligible for commodity loans by accurately certifying to their 1980 planted crops.

The loan commodity may be stored on the farm or in a CCC approved warehouse. Grain loans are available for approximately 10 months following harvest and mature no later than the last day of the ninth month following the month the loan is disbursed. Producers may satisfy the loan by repaying the loan or, in cases where the market value is below the loan rate, forfeiting the commodity.

Crowl reminded farmers that the interest rate on all 1980 crop loans has recently been lowered from 13 to 11½ percent.

By placing grain under loan, farmers increase their marketing options and help strengthen crop prices. "The loans give farmers an opportunity to plan their management strategy and sell when the price is right," said Crowl.

Job And Payroll Figures Reported By Census Bureau

Employment in the private sector of the Maryland's 23 counties and one independent city totalled 1,187,850 in March 1978, an increase of 69,628 over the March 1977 figure. First quarter and annual payrolls of $3,205 million and $13,915 million respectively of the counties also showed increases over the year before.

These figures appear in the Census Bureau's recently issued County Business Patterns-1978: Maryland. The Bureau is a part of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The 1978 County Business Patterns reports is the 25th in a series presenting first quarter employment and payroll statistics for all of the states and their counties. The reports provide data by detailed industry on most of the major economic divisions of the 1972 Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) code, including agricultural services, mining, construction, manufacturing, transportation, public utilities, wholesale trade, retail trade, finance, insurance, real estate and selected service businesses.

About three-fourths of all the business and manufacturing employees in the United States are covered in the reports for the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. Not included are employees of Federal, state and local governments, self-employed persons, farm workers and those employed in domestic and certain transportation services.

The detailed reports are useful for analyzing market potential, measuring the effectiveness of sales and advertising programs, setting sales quotas and budgets, analyzing the industrial structure of regions, making basic economic studies of small areas, and serving other business uses, according to the Bureau. They are also useful to government agencies for administration and planning purposes.

Copies of the report are available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Property Owners Seek Road Access Across State Land

by Kathy Railey

A group of about 20 private landowners is currently involved in a deadlock dispute with the State of Maryland, Department of Natural Resources, after State Forest officials barricaded the only existing access roads to privately-owned property. The two roads cross a tract of State property and were blocked after several years of unsuccessful negotiations with the landowners. The tract of land involved in the dispute is known as "Batiste's Discovery," located in central Garrett County on the western fringes of the Savage River State Forest, approximately four miles northeast of Deep Creek Lake.

Batiste's Discovery came about when a partnership of five men purchased 182 acres of land on Meadow Mountain from Peter Bittinger on November 21, 1970. The partnership selected tracts for their own use, subdivided the property in 20 lots, and sold parcels to others interested in recreational property. The lots ranged in size from five to 15 acres. Three cabins were constructed by various landowners, and use of the property was seasonal.

On January 21, 1972, the partnership was advised by Clinton Irwin, then District Director for the Maryland Forest Service, now environmental Specialist, that 50 acres of Batiste's Discovery is owned by the State of Maryland. Bittinger was taken to court by the partnership, and the owners of the 50 acres were relocated on other parcels of land. However, the 50 acres claimed by the State covers the entrance to the only two access roads into Batiste's Discovery.

Irwin claims that the two roads were logging roads, while Douglas Spaulding, of Spaulding Real Estate, landowner and agent for the partnership, stated that one of the roads was constructed by Bittinger prior to the purchase of the property by the partnership. After years of unsuccessful negotiations between the partnership and the State, the roads were barricaded on June 30 of this year, leaving the landowners without access to their property.

Bittinger originally purchased his property from Francis L. Hague on May 16, 1947, and during the next 23 years, practiced timber management by periodic harvesting the trees over the entire parcel of his total 600 acres. His property was surveyed by William Goldsborough, then an unregistered surveyor.

The State possesses documentation of ownership of the 50-acre parcel, in the form of a deed from the Bond Game and Fish Association to the State of Maryland, dated February 20, 1930. Spaulding stated during a recent interview that, at no time during its 40 years of ownership did the State assert ownership of the 50-acre parcel. The area did not appear on public maps as State property, nor was it identified as State land through sign posting or painting of trees, he said. Irwin said that many parcels of State land are not marked, and DNR officials are presently in the process of replotting the States deeds.

Spaulding claims the State's neglect to take possession has created "considerable loss, anxiety and hardship to all property owners." The partnership feels that, while failure on the part of the State to establish its ownership may not diminish its title, the State has some sort of moral obligation to reach an accommodation with the private landowners.

Irwin stated that the Maryland Forest Service has "tried to negotiate with the landowners in good faith, and has offered alternatives." He added that the "Forest Service deeply regrets the necessity of closing roads, however, it is their duty to protect land in the public interest." Irwin said that easement encumbers the use of the land, aside from the fact that it is illegal and contrary to the policy of the Board of Public Works.

The alternatives offered by the State consist of requests that the partnership find other access, or negotiate the exchange of the 50 acres for inholdings, or more desirable property, to be purchased by the partnership. The exchange was proposed in December, 1975, at which time the State furnished the partnership with a list of the tracts of land suitable for exchange, consisting of private property situated in the midst of State land. The determination of exchange was made by Secretary James B. Coulter of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

The exchange apparently is connected with the Garrett County Commissioners' desire for no additional tracts to be purchased in Garrett County by the Maryland Forest Service. The Forest Service felt the inholdings could be obtained through an exchange.

Spaulding stated that the partnership contacted all owners of the properties desired by the State, but was unable to purchase any of the land.

When the access roads to Batiste's Discovery were barricaded this year, all property owners were notified by the State, Irwin said. Since that time, the partnership has compiled a packet of information and maps regarding the boundary dispute, and has sent the packets to Delegates, State Senators and Cabinet members of Secretary Coulter's administration, appealing for some sort of accommodation. The matter has been heard in Annapolis as many constituents have been complaining to U. S. Senators. Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany-Garrett) contacted Secretary Coulter and wrote to Governor Harry Hughes, suggesting a 90-day lifting of the barricade for the Department of Natural Resources and the property owners to renew negotiations and possibly come to an agreement. All landowners have since received letters from the office of Secretary Coulter, stating that access to Batiste's Discovery will be restored for 90 days, effective August 13 through November 11. However, the Department of Natural Resources will still only accept the partnership's obtaining other access, or a suitable exchange of property. In response to the lifting and conditions involved, Spaulding simply stated, "We're now back to where we were in 1975." At the end of the 90-day period, the road will be reclosed permanently, Irwin said.

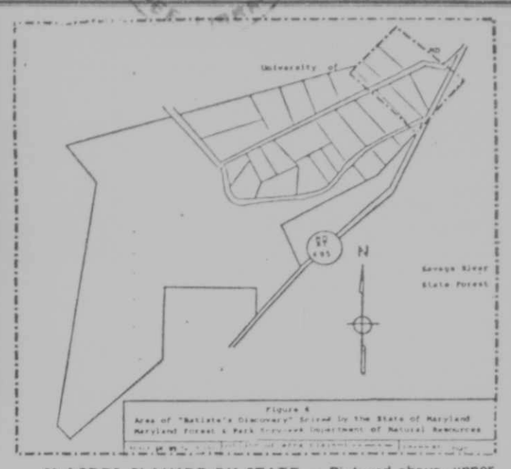

Adverse possession does not apply in this case, as it involves State property, rather than a dispute between private landowners. Spaulding calculated that the rear access road involves about .75 acres of land, and the front access road involves about .17 acres of land. The partnership is eager to purchase right-of-way, however, the State would violate standard procedures if such an agreement is made, said Irwin. He explained that private access across State property interferes with complete and continuous ownership and use of that property by the State, divides and interrupts the land.

Bolden explained that the matter inevitably will fall under the Maryland Board of Public Works, and that governing body must make the final decision. Spaulding stated that the partnership has appealed to the Board of Public Works for access. He estimates a new access road constructed by the partnership would cost about $10,000 to build, taking into account the gaining of right-of-way across the property of other individuals. The partnership should meet with the Board of Public Works sometime in the near future, he said.

The property owners affected are from Providence, Rhode Island; Kansas City, Kansas, Baltimore, New Carrollton, LaPlata, Gaithersburg, Greenbelt, Silver Spring, Laurel, Hyattsville, Rockville, Catonsville, Brandywine, Clarksburg, Oakland and Huntington.

ACCESS TO PRIVATE PROPERTY BARRICADED — The Maryland Forest Service barricaded the only two access roads into "Batiste's Discovery", a private sub-division located on Meadow Mountain, about four miles west of Deep Creek Lake. The barricades were erected on June 30, as the entrance to the roads cross state property. Access was restored temporarily last Wednesday, August 13, for a 90-day period to renew negotiations between the Forest Service and landowners of lots in the sub-division, or to allow the landowners to seek other access. The dispute arose when the Forest Service claimed a 50-acre tract of the sub-division in 1975, a tract which was believed to have been private property.

Unusual Mishaps Injure Several

Maryland State Police investigated several unusual accidents in the district last week.

Among them was a single vehicle accident last Sunday morning, in which the driver, Sylvia Catherine Hunter, 51, Frostburg, was injured. According to police reports, the operator was westbound on U. S. Rt. 40, approximately 150 feet from Finzel Road, when she discovered a spider on her neck, which had somehow gotten into the car. According to the report, in her attempt to remove the spider, she ran off the right shoulder of the road, sideswiped the guardrail, swerved to the left, skidded across the road, and struck the left side guardrail.

Mrs. Hunter was transferred by the Frostburg Rescue Squad to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where she was treated for a broken shoulder.

Last Saturday, approximately 1:30 a.m., a vehicle driven by Roger Clark Newlin, Keyser, ran off Rt. 135, one mile west of Lee Road, overturned, and struck the embankment.

According to the report, Newlin and his passenger, Michael Simpson, also of Keyser, were traveling eastbound, when a deer ran into the path of the auto, triggering the mishap.

Three young persons escaped serious injury last Saturday night when a hay wagon they were sitting on was knocked loose from the blocks holding it on a steep hill. Before the wagon came to rest, most of the young people aboard had jumped off.

Sandra Walsnobich, Julie Dyson, and Jennifer Dyson, all of Coraopolis, Pa., were treated for minor injuries and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The girls were members of a group of young people participating in a hayride and cookout at the Double G. Ranch, McHenry.

Two Kitzmiller women suffered serious injuries last Friday afternoon in a car-tractor-trailer accident on Rt. 42, near Friendsville.

According to reports, Mrs. Isabelle Elliott and her passengers, Mrs. Theresa Matthews and Linda Matthews, were northbound on Rt. 42 when the Elliott vehicle failed to keep right of center, and met the trailer truck on a curve, crashing head-on. The truck was driven by William Barr, Greensburg, Pa.

Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Matthews were admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Linda Matthews was treated and released.

Northern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting the injured.

Tfc. R. B. Westmoreland investigated the accident.

An accident yesterday afternoon on Rt. 219, at the intersection of Mayhew Inn Road, resulted in injury to Susan Lee Devlin, 16, Deer Park.

According to reports, the Devlin auto was northbound on Route 219, and had stopped to make a left turn when a truck-tractor driven by James D. Ashcraft, 20, Mannington, W. Va. hit the Devlin vehicle on the left side.

According to police, Ashcraft failed to reduce his speed and was charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilhelm in Aurora last weekend and attending the wedding of Terri Lynn Winters and Roderick McWilliams were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bolyard, Sr., of Lima, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bolyard, Jr., Wesley and Matthew, Columbus Grove, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bolyard, Bret and Scott, Bellefontaine, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mowery, Lima, Ohio; Kevin Bolyard, Lima; and Mr. and Mrs. William Wilhelm, Aberdeen. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Winters at Horse Shoe Run and the Bolyards visited with Raymond C. Bolyard in Heartland Nursing Home, Keyser. The senior Bolyards remained until Thursday before returning to their home.

Donna Sue Durst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Durst, Mt. Lake Park, and Robert Keith Teter, son of the Rev. and Mrs. David Moon, Oakland, will be married at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland in a 2:00 p.m. ceremony on August 30. A reception will follow the ceremony and friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Miss Durst is employed by the First National Bank, Oakland, and Mr. Teter, at Rigidply Rafters. Both are 1978 graduates of Southern High. Mr. Teter is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bonner, Eglon, where he had lived for many years, and of Mrs. Myrtle Teter, also Eglon.

Members of the Eglon Mountaineer 4-H Club who participated last week in the annual 4-H Roundup at Jackson's Mill were: Faith Minnig, who gave her illustrated talk, Strawberry Harvesting, and received a red ribbon and first place in her division; Arlene Roth, who wore her outfit made in the project Sports Clothes; Terry and Brent Hauser, Willie and Jackie Lantz, participating in the Dairy Show and Sale. From Aurora, David and Darla Stemple and Sharon Wiles also showed their dairy animals and participated in the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Buckley and family, Dover, Del., spent last week in this area visiting with her mother, Mrs. Olive Beckman, in Aurora and with other relatives.

Dental Group To Discuss Nursing Bottle Syndrome

Children who are permitted to fall asleep with a nursing bottle or breast in their mouths, run the risk of developing serious infections, speech difficulties, developmental and nutritional problems, or ultimate loss of their permanent teeth, according to a report to be made at the 97th annual meeting of the Maryland State Dental Association meeting in Baltimore Sept. 4-7.

The "Nursing Bottle Syndrome," a form of dental disease which affects the very young child, is among a number of subjects to be discussed at the four day session at the Convention Center.

Nursing bottle cavities are caused by prolonged exposure of the teeth to sweeteners used in feeding bottles, and the natural sugar in breast milk. When the nursing baby falls asleep with a bottle or breast in its mouth, swallowing slows, and the salivary flow decreases. This results in a pool of the bottle's contents around most of the baby's teeth, allowing the carbohydrate material, in whatever liquid is being used, to remain in contact with the teeth for prolonged periods.

Since babies are unable to relate any discomfort caused by tooth decay or infection, parents often are not aware of the problem until after serious damage has already occurred.

The old adage of "An ounce of prevention" being worth "a pound of cure," is a thought that new and expectant mothers should keep in mind with respect to their offspring, say children's dentists and hygienists. Mothers would be wise to discuss dental matters with their pediatrician in the early months of an infant, to assure good oral health, concludes the report.

Three annual visitors to Garrett County recently composed a Garrett County song, sung to the tune of "Swanee River." While making the long trip to this county from their Florida home, Phyllis Bright, 10; Kristin Bright, 11; and Kari Bright, 14, composed the song to pass the boredom of the lengthy drive. The sisters and their brother David, 8, are the children of Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bright. The family travels to Deep Creek Lake annually to visit Mrs. Bright's mother, Phyllis S. Buxton, who resides at Thousand Acres during the summer. The song is entitled "Deep Creek Lake."

DEEP CREEK LAKE
by Phyllis, Kristin and Kari Bright

We love our Deep Creek Lake vacation,
Far from the heat.
Up in the Appalachian Mountains,
Where sunsets can't be beat.
All the world is hot and humid,
Everywhere we roam.
But Deep Creek Lake is cool and breezy,
Our favorite summer home.

It's fun to swim and water-ski,
On summer days.
We start the days with horseback riding
And end with Blue Barn plays.
Evening finds us mini-golfing,
Sailing is a breeze.
Oh, how we love our summer cabin,
Nestled in the blue spruce trees.

Society Claims Behavior Clue to Vision Problems

A child's behavior is often a clue to spotting undetected vision problems in need of prompt professional attention, says the President of the Western Maryland Optometric Society.

According to Dr. James Dolly, children do not know when they are not seeing as well as they should and they often develop ways of living with their vision problems. Alert parents can spot behavior symptoms that indicate a need for a thorough vision examination.

One such symptom is constantly sitting close to the television set. "All children will sit close some of the time but the child or teenager who always takes a close seat may be nearsighted," Dr. Dolly said.

Another symptom of nearsightedness is a preference for reading and other close work over outdoor or sports activities. On the other hand, a farsighted child may avoid near activity and have trouble with school work.

"Children with vision perception or binocular coordination problems will likely have difficulty learning to read and, when older, reading to learn, even though they test out at average or above average intelligence," Dolly said.

Other symptoms of vision problems are frequent clumsiness; a short attention span for the child's age; frequent blinking; complaints of nausea, dizziness or headaches after reading or doing other close work; poor eye-hand coordination for the child's age; frowning, scowling or squinting; watering eyes; a tendency to rub the eyes; a tense position when looking at objects far away or close up; covering one eye when reading; tilting head to one side when doing close work; or holding the book close to the eyes or the head close to the book.

Parents desiring further information may call toll free the office of the Maryland Optometric Association at 800-492-3025.

The Eiffel Tower is the tallest structure in Europe. With its TV antenna, it is 1,056 feet high.

HEN LAYS "SUPER EGGS" — The eight-week-old hen of Viola Woodward, Oakland, began laying eggs about one and one half weeks ago. Mrs. Woodward stated that the eggs should be pullet size, but are much larger. The third egg laid by the hen contained three yolks, and her fifth egg was larger still. Pictured above, right, is one of the Woodward hen's first eggs, compared to a grade A large egg on the left.

TIPS FOR EASY LIVING

Included here are some suggestions to help make everyday life easier—every little tip helps!

*Tie bright colored ribbon or yarn to the handles of your luggage to make identification easier, especially with the more popular brands.

*Use an empty adhesive tape dispenser to hold a tape measure. It will roll up neatly and be handy for the family seamstress.

*Use an old window shade as a floor cover when children are playing on a carpet. It will keep small puzzle pieces, beads, crayons and the like from getting lost in the shag, as well as keeping the rug from getting soiled. When not in use, it can be rolled up and stored in a corner or under a bed.

*Coat bookcovers with clear shellac and dust will wipe off easily. Mildew on books can be cleaned by wiping them with a cloth dipped in rubbing alcohol. Imitation leather and plastic bookcovers will not crack or peel if petroleum jelly is rubbed into them.

*If a baby's glass bottle is too slippery for tiny hands to hold, or a plastic one too cold or too hot, slip a child's sock over it. This makes an orphaned sock useful.

*Avoid black or gray marks on dishes washed in a dishwasher by loading aluminum utensils properly. Place them in such a way that they won't rub against dinnerware in the washing process. Also, don't wash discardable aluminum items in the appliance—they can break down and cause markings. Remove any markings by using a mild abrasive cleanser.

FOOD NOTES

Potato salad is a very popular summer food which is often avoided by those watching their weight because of the calories. Now everyone can enjoy potato salad by using the following recipe which is good, nutritious and has only 60 calories per serving. I hope you will enjoy it.

YOGURT POTATO SALAD

1 cup plain yogurt
2 tsps. prepared mustard
2 tsps. horseradish
2 cups cooked and cubed potatoes
½ cup sliced celery
1 medium cucumber, sliced
¼ cup sliced onion
1 tblsp. chopped chives

In a large bowl, combine yogurt, mustard and horseradish. Add remaining ingredients, toss to mix well. refrigerate to chill. Makes 8 servings.

Mrs. Edna McDaris, of Petaluma, Calif., spent the past week visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O'Brien. Saturday evening supper guests were her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knudson, of Bermuda Dunes, Calif.; Mrs. Lena Bickford, Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Margraff, Accident; and Mrs. Edna McDaris. The group attended the Margraff reunion Sunday, August 17, at the Bittinger Community Building.

Mrs. Sandra Bornscheuer and children, Baltimore, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Otto.

Mrs. Edith Bickford, Baltimore, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Otto Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lena Bickford, of Baltimore, is visiting relatives here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stockman, Denton, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Otto.

Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O'Brien were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knudson, Bermuda Dunes, Calif.; Mrs. Edna McDaris, Petaluma, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Margraff, Accident; Mrs. Lena Bickford, Baltimore; Mrs. Hazel Collins and Mrs. Sharlan Phipps and Shlena, of Severna Park; Mr and Mrs. Emmit Robinson, Christine and Kelly, Meyersdale, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Gary O'Brien, Kendra and Krystal and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peck, Jeff and Jennie, of this area.

Two Named To Southern States Advisory Board

Carl Bachtel, Horse Shoe Run, and Allen Wilt, Eglon, were elected to the local Advisory Board at the Southern States Annual Membership meeting held in Eglon on August 13. Over 200 stockholder-members and their families attended the session.

Bachtel was named chairman of the local board, while Wilt was picked as vice-chairman.

Elected to the local Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee were: Mrs. Bernard Ball, Horse Shoe Run, and Mrs. John Harsh, Aurora.

Mrs. David Stemple, Aurora, was chosen as chairperson of the Farm Home Advisory Committee while Mrs. John R. Parsons, Aurora, was named secretary.

Charles Teets, Eglon, was chosen as a delegate to represent the local membership at the Southern States Cooperative's 57th Annual Stockholders Meeting to be held in November. Clifton Bachtel, Horse Shoe Run, was named alternate.

Elected as delegate and alternate to a District Election meeting to be held in McHenry this fall, was Clifton Bachtel named as delegate and John Fint, Aurora, alternate.

David Nuzum, Fairmont, a member of Southern States Cooperative's regional staff, reported on the over-all Southern States operations. His report included a 12-15 minute slide-tape presentation entitled "You Are Here," which showed the cooperative's broad involvement in behalf of its members.

The report on local operations and services rendered to farmer members in the community was given by Ronald Bishop, manager of Eglon Farm Service. He reported that total volume for all Commodity Groups showed a dramatic increase.

There was also a special recognition ceremony for new board members, Farm Home Advisory Committee members, as well as those from these groups who were retiring. These included: Robert Harsh, Joe Stemple, Mrs. Joseph Fint and Mrs. Alden P. Wilt.

Other highlights of the session included special string music by The Dulcimers.

Grantsville Area Rotary Donates Teaching Aid

The Grantsville Rotary Club recently presented a modern teaching aid to Mrs. Mary Ann Getty, of the Maryland School for the Deaf.

The equipment, a monofonator, is considered a revolutionary teaching aid that greatly enhances the ability to learn speech and how to enunciate. It works on a vibratactyl principle.

The student being tested with this tool feels a distinctively different vibration for each word or sound that is spoken into the attached microphone. The student tries to duplicate the vibration by speaking directly into the microphone.

The instrument, manufactured in Germany, has a cost of $1050. Funds were raised through various Rotary projects.

Mrs. Getty accepted the donation at a meeting held at the Hilltop Inn Restaurant, Grantsville.

State Line Church To Host Singers

The Hills-Men Gospel Singers will present an evening of country gospel music, Saturday, August 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the State Line United Methodist Church.

State Line Church is located eight miles west of Grantsville, Route 40.

Mrs. Sadie E. Triplett, pastor, invites the public to attend. A free will offering will be taken.

IN MEMORIAM

A birthday tribute in loving memory of our mother, Ada, who passed away Nov. 1, 1979:

Although her soul is now at rest and free from care and pain; the world would seem like heaven, if we had her back again. It broke our hearts to lose her, but she did not go alone; for part of us went with her, the day God called her home.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Article 66B of the Code of Public General Laws of Maryland empowers the County to prepare, enact, amend and provide for the administration and enforcement of a zoning ordinance within its territorial limits; and,

WHEREAS, the Garrett County Board of County Commissioners have formally adopted the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning Ordinance; and,

WHEREAS, the Garrett County Commissioners have found that certain amendments as detailed herein are desirable and necessary for the effective enforcement and implementation of the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning Ordinance; and,

WHEREAS, the County Commissioners have given due public notice of public hearings relating to these proposed amendments, and have held said public hearings;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Garrett County Board of County Commissioners do hereby enact the following amendments to the Deep Creek Watershed Zoning Ordinance:

1) In Section 302 G change the second sentence to read as follows:

302G Any change in the character and extent of a special exception use, except a change to a use permitted pursuant to Section 302C, shall require a special exception granted by the Board of Appeals pursuant to Article 10.

2) Add a new Section under Article 2 to define "land records" as follows:

218A Land Records

For the purpose of this Ordinance "land records" shall mean the duly recorded documents filed, recorded and indexed in the custody of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Garrett County.

3) Add a new subsection C to Section 1105 in Article 11 as follows:

1105 C

An application for a reclassification shall not be accepted for filing by the local legislative body if the application is for the reclassification of the whole or any part of land the reclassification of which has been opposed or denied by the local legislative body on the merits within twelve (12) months from the date of the local legislative body's decision.

4) In Article 8, change Section 805 to read as follows:

Upon application on a form provided by the Zoning Administrator, the owner or agent of any nonconforming use, structure or property shall be issued a certificate by the Zoning Administrator recording the facts of such nonconforming use, structure or property. Such certificate may be used as evidence in asserting rights pursuant to this Article.

John A. MacMillan and Christine MacMillan, his wife
Dilly Road
Oakland, Maryland 21550
NO. 7787 EQUITY
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND
ORDER

ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County; The Defendants unknown being predecessors in title to William R. Offutt, Trustee are hereby notified that the Plaintiffs, John A. MacMillan and Christine MacMillan, his wife, have filed a Bill to Quiet Title to that certain tract of land containing one-fourth of an acre and being described in that deed dated February 17, 1951 and recorded in Liber 166, folio 6, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, being described as follows:

"3. Part of Lot Number 14, being one of the subdivisions of a tract of land called "Small Meadows" and beginning for the part hereby intended to be conveyed, at a stake standing at the end of the second line of lot No. 10 of said subdivision; it being also the end of the first line of said Lot No. 14, and running thence with the second line and part of the third line of said Lot No. 14, South 38 degrees West, 26 perches; South 43-1/2 degrees West, 9 7/10 perches to a post; then North 39-1/4 degrees East, 35 5/10 perches to a post standing in the first line of said Lot No. 14; thence with it South 52 degrees East, 8/10 of a perch to the beginning; containing one-fourth of an acre, and being the land conveyed to the said Charles D. Shaffer by William R. Offutt, Trustee, by an unrecorded deed date May 28, 1921, which said deed is to be recorded prior to these presents."

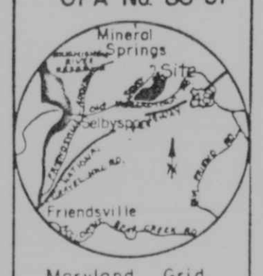

The Plaintiffs allege there are no known claimants to the property and that there is no action at law or equity to enforce or test the validity of the titles to the tract. The Plaintiffs have prayed that an Order be passed declaring absolute ownership in the Plaintiffs.

Defendants are hereby warned that failure to file an answer or other defense on or before September 29, 1980, may result in the case proceeding against him by default.

Clifford C. DeWitt,
Clerk

Assignee's Sale Of Valuable Real Estate

Situate in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage from Robert C. Koch and Teresa A. Koch, his wife, undated but recorded on August 23, 1976 in Liber No. 369, folio 153, one of the Mortgage Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and said mortgage being duly assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will on Friday, the 29th day of August, 1980

At the Hour of 11:00 a.m. EDT on the property hereinafter described, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the property to be sold being described as follows:

That parcel of land situate, in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, which is known and designated as Lot No. 15 as shown on the plat of "Springwood Acres South," recorded in Plat Book 2, page 29, one of the Plat Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being the property conveyed to Robert C. Koch and Teresa A. Koch, his wife, by deed from Hugh Michael Buttry, dated August 5, 1976 and recorded in Liber No. 370, folio 186, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

Said property is subject to the following restrictive covenants:

1—Said land shall be used for residential, single dwelling homes.

2—No activity may be conducted on said property or in any building thereon which may constitute or become an annoyance or nuisance or disturb the peace of the community.

3—No temporary structure, such as a tent or trailer or cabins shall be placed upon any part of the property except as a temporary measure during construction of a permanent home. All plans and specifications for homes constructed on said property shall be approved by Everett Allen Fratz and wife, their heirs, personal representatives and assigns.

4—Buildings may be of any design, and may be constructed of wood, logs, stone, brick or composition, provided they will not detract from, or mar the natural beauty of the community.

5—No building or other structure shall be placed within a setback of 15 feet from the front property line and 10 feet from any adjacent property line.

6—Any permanent structure placed upon a lot must contain a minimum floor area per floor of 480 square feet exclusive of porches, patios or carports, and any said structure facing a street must be at least 20 feet wide.

7—Water supply and sewage disposal installations shall be made in strict compliance with the health and building codes applicable to Garrett County, and all bathroom and toilet facilities shall be incorporated within the main structure.

8—Open fires are prohibited on any part of the property. Outdoor fireplaces, grills and all chimneys must be provided with fire screens of sufficient design to prevent scattering of sparks.

9—Trees and topography shall remain uncut and undisturbed except as required for construction purposes.

10—Each property owner shall promptly remove or otherwise dispose of any accumulation of trash, garbage or rubbish, and at all times maintain said property in a neat and sanitary condition.

11—Firing of rifles, guns or weapons of any kind is prohibited within the aforesaid boundaries.

12—In the event that water shall be made available from a central system a charge will be made to users thereof.

Said lot contains 1.21 acres and is unimproved.

Terms of sale: 1/3 cash on date of sale and the balance upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

State and county taxes will be adjusted to date of sale.

Stephen R. Pagenhardt

VOLUME 103 OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1980 PER COPY 25¢

County Adopts Strict Animal Control Policy

In an attempt to better control Garrett County's dog problem, the county commissioners have announced a stricter enforcement policy of the county animal control law.

Paul Shockey, personnel manager, stated that animal owners who receive an order from Roy Arnold, county dog warden, to vaccinate, license and/or control their dogs will be given ten days to comply. If the owner does not comply within the given time period, his pet will be impounded at the Animal Shelter and he will be summoned to appear in court.

Once impounded, a pet receives a physical examination and vaccination at the owner's expense. If the pet is not claimed, it is euthanized.

Shockey added that he and Arnold are working to improve the animal control in other ways, such as sponsoring vaccination and licensing clinics throughout the county.

Also, the fee for the license and the fine for unlicensed or uncontrolled pets may be increased. Shockey explained monies from the two fees will be put into the county fund which reimburses persons who lose livestock killed by dogs.

The county owes approximately $3,000 to persons whose livestock has been killed by dogs in the past year and a half.

The areas in the county where the animal problem is greatest are Gorman, Kitzmiller, Bloomington, and New Germany. Shockey noted many of the dogs which have killed livestock in those areas have actually been pets instead of wild dogs, although he acknowledged that many wild dog packs inhabit the area also.

Shockey stated Arnold would be going door-to-door in areas where the problem exists.

Licenses are available at the county treasurer's office, Animal Shelter and can be obtained from the dog warden. Arrangements are being made for licenses to also be available in the offices at local veterinarians.

Ad Deadline, Closing Noted

The Republican office will be closed on Monday, September 1, in observance of Labor Day.

The deadline for all classified and display advertising will be Friday, August 29 at 5 p.m.

A NEW PARK OFFICE AND VISITORS' CENTER, constructed at Deep Creek State Park, houses five year-round park employees, two Maryland Environmental Service employees and Garrett County Natural Resource Police and Lake Patrol, with radio dispatch for complaints, assistance calls and game violations in the lake area. The office has a first aid station, designed for access by an ambulance and stretcher, and equipped with a bed, sink and first aid supplies. Park officials have all completed CPR and first aid training, and an EMT is available for assistance in the station. The visitors' center serves as the camping area office. It is one of 10 new park structures recently completed through Project Open Space. See feature on page 10.

Tichnell's Death Sentence Upheld By Wicomico County Jury

Richard Danny Tichnell was again sentenced to die for the murder of Garrett County Deputy David Livengood on January 18, 1979, during the burglary of Davidson's Army/Navy Store, Oakland.

A Wicomico County Circuit Court jury returned the sentence of death Wednesday after deliberating just under three hours.

Tichnell was convicted of the murder a year ago in Salisbury where the case had been removed due to publicity in Garrett County. The Maryland Court of Appeals, which automatically reviews all murder convictions, upheld the conviction but overturned the death penalty imposed by the judge because of a judicial error.

Tichnell reportedly showed no emotion as the jury foreman announced the decision in a single word: "Death."

The case will be reviewed by the State Court of Appeals, and Tichnell's lawyers also said they plan to appeal. If the state's highest court approves the sentence, the 25-year-old Fairmont, W. Va. man could still be reprieved by Governor Harry Hughes, who has said he opposes capital punishment.

Tichnell becomes the second person on Maryland's Death Row, where he will join Timothy C. Poole, the only other man sentenced to die in the gas chamber under the state's death penalty law.

Tichnell was returned to the Maryland State Penitentiary in Baltimore following the trial.

School Lunch To Cost Same As Last Year

Prices for school lunch will not go up this school year providing funds allocated for FY1981 are sufficient for operation announced Richard Buckingham, county cafeteria manager for the Garrett County Board of Education.

Buckingham made the announcement during the Thursday, August 14 meeting of the Board of Education.

He stated the price for breakfast would be 30 cents and for, milk, 15 cents. Lunch prices will be 45 cents for elementary schools, 55 cents—middle schools, 60 cents—high schools, and $1.25—adults.

Due to the uncertainty of Federal funding to the child feeding program, Buckingham stressed the meal prices could increase.

Jury Members Are Selected

September term jury members have been selected by Garrett County Circuit Court.

Petit jury members include Barbara B. Stonesifer; Arthur W. Wolf; Francis Lee Miller; Calvin L. Rinker; Ruby I. Sylvester; Harry E. DeWitt; Bonnie J. Fedde; Curtis Eugene Taylor; Florence Juanita Shaffer; Nathan Criss Browning; Mason L. Madigan; Vincent W. Schroyer; Helen Mae Harshbarger; Mildred F. Highlands Concert Series Scheduled

The Humanities Division of Garrett Community College and the Garrett County Arts Council have announced the second year of the Highlands Concert Series, and the scheduling of six programs.

The series will feature visiting artists from West Virginia University for four performances. Also scheduled is an evening of bagpipe music with Scottish dancers, and a showcase of Garrett County talent which will include music, drama and dance.

The Heyde Trio, composed of piano, oboe and violin, will begin the season with a performance on September 13. An October 18 presentation will foature Comic Opera, with Mozart's "The False Simpleton." The Mountain State Brass Quintet will perform on November 8, followed by the Miltenberger Jazz Trio on March 28. Pipers and Scottish Dancers will perform April 25, and the Showcase of Garrett County Talent is set for May 9.

All performances are scheduled for Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium. Subscription tickets are available at the Business Office of GCC, or from any member of the Humanities Advisory Committee or the Garrett County Arts Council. Persons wanting a subscription may write to Highlands Concert Series, Garrett Community College, McHenry, 21541. Admission will be charged for individual performances, with discount prices for students.

Commissioners To Meet With Lake Property Owners

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners and other officials have been requested to address the August 30 meeting of the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners Association.

The meeting is set for 10 a.m. Saturday at Garrett Community College and association spokesmen have called it "one of the most important sessions ever held by that group."

Questions which individual property owners have been asking each other can now be directed in person to the officials who should have the answers, the spokesmen said.

Two of the most important items on the agenda are taxation and sewage. County officials are seeking input from property owners on a plan to provide sewerage for certain sections of the lake.

The meeting is open to all members of the Property Owners Association of Deep Creek Lake and to all prospective members. Applications for membership can be obtained Saturday at the hearing.

County Students Will Have A Ride To School Tuesday

Garrett County parents who may be worrying whether their children will have transportation to school next Tuesday because of the possibility of 30 bus contract terminations can rest assured buses will be running on schedule, say officials from the Board of Education.

Eugene Flinn, supervisor of transportation for county schools, stated he has received no termination notices to date but even if he had, a contract cannot legally end until 30 days after the notice has been received.

Flinn noted the Garrett County Bus Contractors' Association will meet this Friday evening when those who have threatened to terminate their contracts are expected to decide whether they actually will.

Board of Education officials have no names of any contractors who have expressed their intention to terminate their contracts if they do not receive a requested raise of four cents per mile for maintenance.

Representatives for the bus contractors approached the Board of Education and the county commissioners for the raise but the Board of Education said no funds were available in its budget for the raise and the county commissioners said funding for school transportation was and should remain the total responsibility of the state.

The commissioners also said they knew of no available county funds to grant the raise even if they chose to subsidize the county schools' transportation system.

Commissioner Les Hunter stated that if 30 bus contractors actually do submit termination notices and the Board of Education is unable to replace them or find a way to finance the requested raise, they would hold additional meetings to resolve the problem. "We just

Commissioners Adopt Resolutions For Reappropriation of County Funds

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday adopted two resolutions concerning reallocation of funds in previous fiscal years after conducting public meetings on the resolutions.

The commissioners adopted a resolution to relevy General Revenue Sharing funds budgeted but not expended during Fiscal Years 1978-79 and 1979-80. The funds were relevied as follows: Courthouse Capital, $107,825.09 and Board of Education Capital, $7,234.30.

The second resolution adopted involved the reappropriation of funds from accounts showing surpluses for FY1980 to accounts with unpaid bills.

Funds are to be transferred as follows: from Fringe Benefits to Commissioners - $837.57; from Tax Differential to Circuit Court expense - $3,233.87; from Communications expense to State's Attorney's expense - $1,318.81; from Police Training to Election Board expense - $1,023.02; from Jail Uniform Allowance to County Treasurer's expense - $282.68; from Development Corp. expenses to General Services - $4,801.19; from Sanitary Commission Capital to Contracted Service - $13,770.22; from Licensed Investigator Salary to Special Promotion - $276.32; from Orphans' Court expenses to Sheriff's Utilities - $394.77; from School Bonds & Interest to Sheriff's Office Supplies - $595.66; from Circuit Court Salaries to Sheriff's Insurance & Bonds - $39.00; from Forest Fires to Guard Expense - $214.23; from Treasurer's Staff Salaries to Medical Expenses - $1,854.69; from Animal Shelter Capital to Automotive Expense - $13,091.14; from Soil Conservation expense to Medical Examiner expense - $250.00; from Merit Board Salaries to Animal Control expense - $747.24; from Civil Defense expense to Airport expense - $330.95; from Planning & Zoning Salaries to Jail Food - $2,713.29; from Merit Board expense to Ruth Enlow Library expense - $350.00; from K-9 Operation to Community Action Agency - $137.96; from Community College Bonds to Employees' Retirement - $4,485.25; from State's Attorneys Salaries to Sick Leave - $942.38; from Jury Meals & Transportation to Jail Salaries - $151.84; from Solid Waste Salaries to Child Abuse Program - $1,097.39.

The commissioners noted that both the funds being used and the debts being paid were properly assignable to the Fiscal Year 1979-80.

In other business, Lois Messer, mayor of Kitzmiller, and 12 Kitzmiller residents met with the commissioners to discuss the need for more police protection in their town. They pointed to recent breaking and entering incidents at the Kitzmiller Elementary School, to the increase in stolen gasoline from parked automobiles and to the amount of violators of speed limits as examples for the need for more protection.

Sheriff June Evans and Deputy Frank Finch, also attending the meeting, stated that the Sheriff's Department does make periodic patrol

THE DAY IS DONE — In what might appear to be a photo of a tragic fire, it is in reality the end result of a long day of training for local firefighters. Approximately 70 firefighters from area departments participated in an all-day training drill Sunday in Pleasant Valley. Numerous fires were ignited within the structure and extinguished as firefighters gained experience and training in interior firefighting. Maryland certified fire instructors Robert Shimer, I. Robert Rudy, and Greg Jenkins, as well as some instructors from West Virginia and Pennsylvania, conducted the drill. Companies represented included Oakland, Deer Park, Deep Creek, Bittinger, Gorman, Tri-Towns, Piedmont, Potomac (Westernport), Fort Ashby and Salisbury. The house was donated for the training session by Troy Gregy.

THE GRACEFUL BEAUTY OF SNOW WHITE PEACOCKS captivated these youngsters for a moment during their tour of the M & S Wild Kingdom, Oakland-Sang Run Road. The boys are active in the Bradley Manor/Crellin Recreation Program, sponsored by CAC, which met daily throughout the summer months providing area youth with sports activities, friends and fun. The group has been involved in such activities as kickball, softball, croquet, horseshoe pitching, swimming, volleyball, basketball, and badminton. The program was under the supervision of Pam Nelson, CAC staff, and Brenda Perando, CETA worker, with Nancy Sluss, Roger Strauser, Ruth Oxford and Carolyn Fuster, all CETA workers, assisting.

Biography Service Being Offered

Brad Stewart, of the Stewart Funeral Home in Oakland, announced today that he will begin offering a new and unique biography service to the mountain top residents. Until recently the concept of biography was restricted to the famous, wealthy, or the very ambitious amateur writer. Now, the people of our area have the opportunity to provide a written history of any family member, church or organization at a very reasonable cost.

The biography is a product of the National Heritage Foundation in Scottsdale, Arizona. Each biography will contain complete life histories researched through personal interviews and developed and written by skilled professional biographers. The biography will act as a true record that can be passed on to future generations. Mr. Stewart says, "We are increasingly becoming a mobile society, and family histories are often lost in the shuffle."

This service being offered by the funeral home is published and printed on sheets of rich parchment. They are preserved in a leather like, heavily padded, gold embossed album. And, each biography is copyrighted.

In addition to the copy of the biography given to the family, one will be displayed at the funeral home, one placed at the National Heritage Foundation Library in Scottsdale, and one will be micro-filmed and sealed in a fire proof vault to guarantee its permanence.

Mr. Stewart is proud to present this unique concept to the area residents. For additional information, contact Mr. Brad Stewart, at the Stewart Funeral Home, 32 S. Second St., Oakland, MD 21550, telephone 334-2166.

Local Firm Conducting Study Of Oakland's Sewer System

Franklin Associates, Inc., Mt. Lake Park, is currently conducting a study of Oakland's sewer system, as a step toward the future development of a town sewage treatment facility. Part of the study to be conducted during the next few weeks includes smoke testing of the town's sewer lines.

A spokesman for the firm stated that smoke should not enter the premises of town dwellings unless there is a defect in the plumbing of the home, or a dry trap in the basement floor drain. He added that some residents may want to pour water down their basement floor drain to insure that the drain trap will be effective.

Should smoke be detected within a dwelling, in connection with plumbing, persons should immediately ventilate the house and report the presence of the smoke to the people conducting the tests, who will be outside in the vicinity of the dwelling.

This study is the first step for the Town of Oakland toward stopping its present practice of burdening the Little Youghiogheny River with untreated sewage. Certain statistics must be determined through the study, before the Environmental Protection Agency and the State of Maryland will consider financial aid for a sewage treatment plant.

The amount of inflow, rainwater and groundwater leakage into Oakland's sewer lines must be determined. Another consideration of the study will deal with determining the most cost effective method of eliminating extraneous water, versus money spent to increase the size of a sewage treatment plant to enable it to handle the additional water plus additional operating costs.

In searching for extraneous water, the engineer will be looking for cross-connections between storm and sanitary sewerage, roof leaders (spouting) which are connected to the sanitary sewer, and deteriorated city lines which leak groundwater.

A spokesman for Franklin Associates, Inc. stated that the cooperation of town residents during the study would be helpful.

can't shut the doors on them," he said.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of county schools, and Herbert Harman, president of the Board of Education, are attending a hearing today conducted by the State Board of Education to hear comments on seven different options on funding public school transportation for FY1982.

Ryscavage pointed out the state department had no funds available for such an emergency situation as 30 bus contract terminations this year because its budget was set by the General Assembly.

He indicated that even though the state could offer no relief to contractors this year, it may be able to offer an improved funding plan for transportation in FY1982.

Commissioners

checks but that more were needed. They agreed to coordinate a concerted effort with the Maryland and West Virginia State Police to improve police protection in the Kitzmiller area.

Marilyn Metheny, executive director of the Garrett County Commission on Aging, presented nominations of ten delegates to the State Conference on Aging to be held November 17 in Baltimore. The purpose of the conference is to discuss issues of concern to the lives of older Americans.

The commissioners approved the nomination of all ten delegates. The delegates are: Robert E. Lee, McHenry; Mary B. McCrobie, Oakland; Fran Yoder, Red House; Debbie Marrero, Deer Park; Mabel Hauser, Deer Park; D. Lester White, Sr., Deer Park; Jessie G. McCollough, Friendsville; Evelyn M. Bowman, Grantsville; Arthur P. Brown, Grantsville; and Marilyn Metheny, Oakland.

The commissioners signed a contract with Mt. Top Paving, Sand Flat, for the paving of selected sites around the courthouse. The bid had been awarded August 8. The amount to be paid for the job totaled $19,370. Work is expected to begin this week.

The commissioners approved the submittal of requests for payment by projects receiving funds from the HUD Community Block Grant. Payments were for both reimbursements and advances for Appalachian Parent Association, $23,300, and Community Action, $36,400.

Dr. Joseph Berman, deputy secretary of the state health department, and Dick Hegner, special assistant, were introduced to the commissioners by Dr. William Pope, county health officer. The two state health department officials gave the commissioners a general overview of the state health department as it relates to the operation of the local health agency.

Representatives of the county roads department, civil defense and the county communications departments met with the commissioners to report on their coordinated efforts during the flooding in the county caused by heavy rains Monday, August 18.

Small Miracle Needed . . .

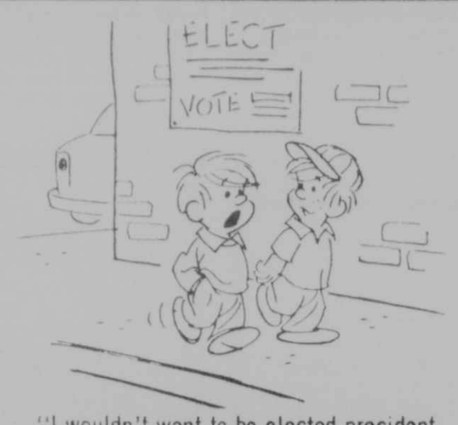

Labor Day may have significant meaning and philosophical value to some persons, but for most of us, especially here on the mountaintop, it is just another holiday and, more specifically, the unofficial closing of summer. It is among the least popular of holidays for young people, for it also signifies back-to-school. This brings us to a present crisis in the county which could lead to serious consequences.

Approximately one-third of the county's bus contractors have threatened to terminate their contracts unless they receive more money. If this happens, it will be difficult, if not impossible, to conduct school because so many students have no other means of transportation. Unless a certain percentage of students show up for classes, the day cannot be considered as one of the required 180 school days. Teachers will be required to report for work and be paid even if the required percentage of students does not make it to school. Then if school days must be made up after the crisis is solved, teachers will have to be paid extra money for the extra work days, which are not included in their present contract. All of these "ifs" are scary ones.

Presently, student transportation costs are paid entirely by the state. The county Board of Education budget does not include money for bus contractors and the Board states that, due to some unexpected maintenance expenses, as well as a false prediction of a decline in student enrollment, what little cushion money the Board had to begin with has been virtually depleted. The county also seems to have little cash and the commissioners do not care to assume financial responsibilities which they feel belong to the state. The state, on the other hand, is already operating on its Fiscal '81 budget and claims there are no extras funds available. The state plans to re-evaluate the student transportation part of the budget for Fiscal '82, however, that will do nothing to alleviate our immediate problem.

Simply stated, the bus contractors want more money and there is apparently no more available. We believe the contractors, as well as the drivers, need and deserve more money. Unfortunately, we also see no source for that money.

We sincerely hope a small miracle will occur in the near future.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I was appalled at the pictures in last weeks "The Republican" of the Simms accident. I thought the picture several months ago of Mrs. Collins after the tornado was bad, but you've outdone yourself this time. Hasn't the Simms family suffered enough without having to come home from the funeral and find those pictures in the paper the same day?

I don't understand the kind of mind someone must have to enjoy another's grief as much as your photographer seems to and I don't understand why you continue to encourage him by printing pictures that cause unnecessary anguish for an already heartsick family.

In some places this might be considered good photo-journalism, but in my opinion, it's just plain poor taste. The exploitation of private emotions should be stopped.

Sincerely,
Beverly J. Beard

Editor:

The recent insensitivity of your newspaper is so totally obnoxious I'm appalled. It is indeed a shame that society is trained to become immune to tragedy-said immunity brought about by so called "news papers." If the idea is to sell papers—then we need some thoughts from the old school where people were respected and their tragedies were not dwelled into as if one were exploiting a bull fight!

Let's let the matter go and let's earnestly attempt to all begin to respect each other; our rights—and especially our privacy in times of grief. I think what has happened is that the society is becoming so superficial to each other we are being taught to make light of our own misfortunes within our families.

A very saddened one over such a blunder,
TED

Dear Editor,

I think the pictures that you put in the paper concerning the tragic accident that claimed the life of Jim Simms were uncalled for and in extremely poor taste.

The people in this county knew that Mr. and Mrs. Simms were very upset. We didn't need a picture to show us their grief. We especially did not need a picture of a lifeless 19-year old-trying to be revived by the Southern Rescue Squad.

I realize the squad gets very little recognition for all their hard work, but you could have put the members who were there and their valiant efforts in the news article—not under a heartless picture like the one you printed.

I'm sure if one of your children would ever have a terrible accident, God forbid, such as this one—you would not want to open up the paper and see their picture that way.

Try to have some heart for the people who are hurting in situations like this. I know many people in the community feel the way I do. The pictures were totally uncalled for.

Debbie Paige
416 Shenandoah Ave.
Mt. Lake Park, Md.

Dear Mr. Sincell,

Having been an extremely close of friend of Jim Simms, I find your display of pictures in the last issue of The Republican to be a classic example of poor photo-journalism. I have had a reasonably high opinion of Oakland's newspaper and of your judgment as editor of the publication in the past. My attitude has had a rude awakening, to say the least.

In regard to your selection of the pictures you printed, I find them distasteful, showing poor judgment on your part, and deeply painful. The most painful photograph was the one of the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad giving Jim medical attention. This particular picture hurts deep down for obvious reasons, and if you cannot see my point you apparently have no feelings at all. Put yourself in the places of the parents of Jim and those who feel that part of them is gone now that Jim is gone. I am sure those who loved him were not appreciative of your selection of photos.

I am disappointed in the way you handled this very tragic accident in the way of the newspaper, and I am sure that I am not the only person who echoes these sentiments. Face it Mr. Sincell—you hurt a lot of us. I hope that in similar situations in the future you will use better judgment, if for no other reason than to spare the feelings of those who cared.

Sincerely yours,
Patrick Gregg

Editor:

I am writing to express my anger upon seeing the August 20th issue of The Republican. Never in the years of reading your paper have I seen poorer judgment used than in the printing of pictures relating to the death of Jimmy Simms.

I realize that a paper has to report the happenings and events that affect our everyday lives, but adding pictures showing grief and tragedy is a disgrace to the family and friends of Jim. It is hard enough to accept his death without being reminded of it—everytime I see a paper.

It seemed to me that from the size and placement of these pictures that the paper felt it had to show a major tragedy. But if that was your intent, then you will likely lose many readers. I know many people who read The Republican just to get away from the tragedy filled pages of other papers.

However, the editorial was very appropriate and the story was not in anyway out of line.

But, I think I'd send my photographer out to lunch the next time the Central Alarm rings.

Sincerely,
A Friend

Dear Sir:

I have recently been told that the 25¢ surcharge on our license tag renewals does not make its way back into the county treasury. I would like a reply as to where or to whom this money goes.

Taxpayer

Dear Taxpayer:

Department of Motor Vehicles policy states that the 25¢ surcharge is to go to the county treasurer for handling and reporting the distribution of automobile license tags. The distribution of the tags through the county treasurer's office is an extra service provided by the county for the convenience of county citizens and for the DMV. The county receives a portion of the license tag fee. County citizens can order their license tags directly through the DMV office in Glen Burnie.

Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to reply to the letter that appeared in your column on August 6, 1980, Up In Smoke.

It appears that this individual is concerned about the economy for this region of the state. I too am concerned about the economic development and well being of this area. However, I feel that I must take a different position.

The future of western Maryland may well be at stake. But, there is much more to be concerned about here than mere economic flourishment. It is saddening to think that one of the ways to attract tourists is through unlawful means. That is of course the growth and sale of marijuana. There are many other better natural resources than this to attract tourists to this area.

To suggest that the Sheriff's Department is guilty of harassment in this area is nonsense. I am happy, unlike Up In Smoke, that the Sherriff's Department is on its toes. Thanks to the unyielding efforts of these fine gentlemen in uniform, the community is spared the influx of harmful elements like this. As Up In Smoke so aptly stated, these are weeds, one of the worst forms of vegetation.

Yes, there are better things that our officers might be doing. However, in order to prevent the growth of five foot plants that you think worthy of notation, they must engage in what you call child's play.

Yes, Deputy Drenning or any other law enforcement officer has something to smile about, for even one plant off the street is something to rejoice about.

It is time that we stand up for our officers. Too often are they called upon to do the unpleasant and dangerous jobs with little or no thanks. I for one want to say thanks for caring.

Sincerely,
Rendita Miller

Dear Editor:

The article "Dental Group to Discuss Nursing Bottle Syndrome" is worthy of comment, as it could alarm nursing mothers.

According to La Leche League International, an organization of breastfeeding mothers, health professionals, and researchers, widely accepted as the world's foremost authority on breastfeeding, the child at the breast does not run a significant risk of "Bottle Mouth Syndrome", due to structural and functional difference in breast and bottle.

In the conventional nursing bottle, liquids flow from the nipple spontaneously, independently of sucking. (The classic test for nipple hole adequacy is to turn the bottle upside down to see whether milk drips steadily.) Thus, a sleeping child has milk flowing over his teeth. Nursers containing collapsible liners require sucking, partially alleviating the problem. However, the nipples of both styles of bottles allow liquid to be deposited near the front of the mouth, where it comes directly in contact with the teeth. It is recommended that a child's bedtime bottle contain plain water only.

The human breast flows in response to the milk ejection reflex, or "let-down reflex." The milk is pushed out by contraction of the mother's milk ducts, initiated by the infant's sucking. This occurs at the beginning of the nursing session, when the child is awake, swallowing and salivating. When the child falls asleep, active sucking stops; the milk no longer flows, and cannot pool around the teeth. The breastfeeding child also draws the nipple far back into the mouth, where milk is deposited closer to the throat than to the teeth.

Breastfeeding, however, does not confer immunity to decay. Parents should apply proper toothbrushing techniques, limit sweets (especially at bedtime), and secure regular professional dental care for their children.

Sincerely,
Ellinor Hamilton
Leader, La Leche League

Several Arrested On Theft Charges

Maryland State Police arrested several persons on a variety of theft charges in the district last week.

Richard Lee Cross, Centerville, Pa., was arrested in connection with the theft of a boat motor and battery valued at $60 from Allen Carl Duckworth, McHenry.

In a separate incident, Raymond Larson, 23, Mt. Lake Park, was charged with theft by shoplifting when an employee of Heck's Department Store, Oakland, observed the defendant put on a pair shoes valued at $19.95 and attempt to leave the store without paying for them.

A Uniontown woman, Bonnie Lee Martynowski, 32, was arrested on charges of theft stemming from an incident at the Green Lantern Service Station near Frostburg.

According to the owner, John E. Minnick, the Martynowski woman asked that her vehicle be filled with gasoline, and a quart of oil be included. When presented the charges, she informed the owner she had no money and fled the scene without paying. She was later picked up, charged with theft, and lodged in the Garrett County jail.

Photographic memories made in Maryland State forests and state parks may be prize winners in the 2nd annual photography contest sponsored by the Maryland Forest and Park Services.

Photographs will be accepted by mail through September 19, 1980. To be eligible, photos must have been taken by an amateur photographer in a state forest or state park since July 1, 1979. In addition to a grand prize, prizes will be awarded in four categories.

The four contest categories are:

People—showing people using a park or forest. (Names and addresses of all recognizable persons must be submitted).

Scenery—landscape views showing a total scene rather than a specific object.

Plants—featuring plants growing in a park or forest or specific details of a plant.

Animals—featuring an animal which lives in a park or forest. Pictures of pets are not eligible.

This contest is strictly for amateur photographers. An amateur is defined as anyone who does not make more than one-half of his/her yearly salary from taking and selling photographs. Employees of the Maryland Forest and Park Services are not eligible. Entries can be prints (black and white, or color) or slide transparencies. Minimum size for all prints is 5"x7". Matted prints are acceptable but no framed or glass entries will be accepted. Entries can be returned after the contest if a stamped self-addressed envelope is included with the entry.

Complete contest rules and entry agreements are available in each state park and state forest and the Department of Natural Resources Regional Service Centers located in Bel Air, Cumberland, Laurel and Salisbury. They can also be obtained by writing: Photography Contest, Maryland Forest and Park Services, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, MD 21401.

Body of Christ?

The Church of Jesus Christ is his body. Consider it this way. Jesus no longer walks the earth. He no longer reaches out his hand to feed . . . or heal . . . or teach.

But his work of feeding, teaching, healing is still being done through the people he calls together through baptism.

That's us. The Church is the Body of Christ . . . banded together to do the work of our Lord. That is the Gospel. It brings us together. It is our reason for being. You will be welcome to join us in partnership with Our Lord.

Would you like to know more of this confessional and ecumenical church? A cordial welcome will be yours.

Three Deer Park Men Arrested For Breaking Windows

Three Deer Park men were arrested last Thursday by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department, each charged with five counts of malicious destruction of property in connection with a recent rash of car windows being intentionally broken in that area.

In addition to two destruction of property cases reported in last week's edition of The Republican, the Sheriff's Department received two other complaints of a similar nature.

Glenn Rutan of Ravenna, Ohio reported that suspects had broken the windshield of his 1979 Dodge vehicle last Thursday, when it was parked on Church Street in Deer Park. Police stated that a ball bat was apparently used to cause the damage.

In a separate incident, Royce Mountain, Accident, reported that suspects used a slingshot to break out the front left window of his 1975 Monza while it was parked at the Broad Ford Elementary School last Wednesday evening. No loss value was placed on the damage to the vehicles.

On Thursday the department arrested John Lough, 18; William J. Smith, 19; and Ray Helmick, 19, all of Deer Park, on charges of destruction of property in connection with these and other cases. All were released the same day on unsecured bond.

Two area summer homes were broken into recently, and items were taken from the dwellings.

The department received a complaint that unknown subjects had forced entry through the front door of a cottage at Four Hooppole South, owned by Wilfred Lloyd of Latrona Heights, Pa., sometime between August 20 and 24. Drawers were ransacked, a bed was slept in, and numerous kitchen items and an antique model ship was taken. No loss value was placed.

A summer cabin off Boy Scout Road, owned by Anna Lohr of Monongahela, Pa., was reportedly broken into sometime between August 17 and 23. Unknown subjects gained entry to the cabin by breaking a window, and removed several household items. No loss value was placed on the items taken.

In a separate incident, Mary Collins, Bruceton Mills, W. Va., reported the theft of the rear license plate from her automobile, while it was parked in a lot on Route 495 in Grantsville on Friday afternoon. Taken was a Pennsylvania cardboard temporary plate, number 1435-540.

In addition to the three Deer Park men, four others were arrested by the department last week.

Roger Snyder, 25, was arrested August 19 for violation of probation. He was transferred to the Allegany County Jail.

Leo Glenn Coddington, 60, was arrested Friday on a charge of carrying a loaded gun in his vehicle. He was released Saturday on his own recognizance.

Jack Wellington Paugh, 34, was arrested Sunday on a battery charge. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Charles Patton, 18, was arrested yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering and was released on his own recognizance.

Mt. Top DAV Holds Annual Family Picnic

Members of the Mt. Top Chapter #29 Disabled American Veterans, Oakland, and its Auxiliary held its annual family picnic Sunday, August 24, at Island Creek Potomac District Park near Bayard, W. Va.

Guests attending from other units were Walter and Alice Bosley, Chapter #2, Cumberland; Chuck and Wilma Myers, Chapter #26, Lexington Park; Anna Mae Berg, Chapter #17, Oxon Hill; and Dorothy Denise, Chapter #23, Beltsville.

Deep Creek State Park Renovations Near Completion

A RECONSTRUCTED BEACH AREA awaits sun bathers and swimmers at the Deep Creek State Park. The area was renovated with a stone base covered by six inches of pea gravel, beginning at the water line, with soft sand above. Lifeguards will not be on duty after Labor Day, however county residents may continue using the beach area and swimming at their own risk until the park closes for the winter season. The snow fences constructed throughout the area to protect new grass will be removed next year. A concession building and bath house, comfort facilities, a playground, and an all-purpose game court cover the surrounding beach area, as well as picnic sites.

A NEW STORAGE BUILDING was constructed under contract with HMF Enterprises, Mt. Lake Park, as part of the renovated park maintenance complex, located near the old office building. The complex is surrounded by fencing, and the area was recently paved.

TWO GAME COURTS were constructed at the Deep Creek State Park as part of Project Open Space. Evidence of landscaping is pictured in the foreground. The recent contract added over 10,000 plants and shrubs to areas of the park, bordering paths, picnic areas and other facilities.

By Kathy Railey

Recent renovations and additions to the Deep Creek Lake State Park should be completed and operational this week, according to park manager Ward Ashby. During the past two years, 10 new structures have been added to the park, along with four new parking lots, and existing areas have been landscaped and upgraded, all through Project Open Space. Project Open Space is a state-sponsored program with available federal and state monies for the purchase and development of community parks and public land. The project contracted at Deep Creek State Park amounted to approximately $1,750,000, and is now nearing completion.

The changes made at the park have greatly improved both its appearance and its recreational facilities, making it not only a tourist attraction, but also a resourceful area for Garrett County residents.

Four large shelters have been constructed through the project, each with a huge fireplace, tables, adjacent private parking areas, and newly-constructed comfort stations nearby. The shelters may be rented for a reasonable fee. All areas of the park are now accessible by the handicapped, as ramps and stairs were installed as part of the project, leading to the various facilities.

The park is comprised of 1820 acres of land, 200 of which makes up the Day Use Area, the major focus of the renovation project. The park was opened for public use in July, 1959, with one mile of public shoreline for swimming, fishing and boat launching, through an agreement with the Pennsylvania Electric Company, owner and operator of Deep Creek Lake. Existing at that time were the concession building and bath house, 57 camping sites and two wash houses, along with comfort stations and shelters. The 75-acre camping area now has 112 campsites, each equipped with a table, grill, fireplace, tent pad and room for two vehicles, and four wash houses.

Three playgrounds have been added to the Day Use Area, and existing playgrounds renovated, through Project Open Space. The new playgrounds are composed entirely of wood, with a sand base, and geometric design equipment primarily constructed for climbing. The new playgrounds blend well with the natural park surroundings, however one park official indicated misgivings about the modern design, stating that two children have suffered minor injuries this summer as a result of using the new facilities. Project Open Space has added 52 new pieces of playground equipment to the park, as well as two new game courts with basketball hoops at each end.

Carl Belt of Cumberland, major contractor of the project, has added over 10,000 plants and shrubs to various areas of the park under sub-contracts, leaving evidence of landscape design along paths and bordering park facilities. In addition to landscaping, ditches were constructed to help correct drainage problems throughout the Day Use Area and down to the beach area, and to ultimately prevent erosion of the public use stretch of shoreline.

The beach area was stabilized and reconstructed through the project, with large stone covered by six inches of pea gravel beginning at the water's edge. A wall, or dike, was constructed at the far end of the swimming area, to break up the wave action and to keep the beach from washing away, said Ashby. The beach renovation project is back to the drawing board, however, as the wall restricts the length and depth of the swimming area, he added. The park's boat launch ramp was also reconstructed as part of the project.

A new park office building and visitors center offers a wide variety of services to area residents, campers and tourists. The office houses five year-round park employees, two Maryland Environmental Service employees, Garrett County Natural Resource Police and Lake Patrol, and is equipped with a radio dispatch and first aid station. The office personnel serve as radio dispatchers for the Natural Resource Police, providing daily availability to answer complaints, game violations or assistance calls throughout the lake area. The Natural Resource Police telephone number is 387-9470, and Ashby encourages lake residents to take advantage of the services offered by the lake patrol officials.

The first aid station housed in the visitors center is designed for ambulance access to a wide doorway, constructed to enable a stretcher to enter the station. The executive officer of the Natural Resource Service, a registered emergency medical technician, is on hand to assist at the first aid station, in addition to park officials who have all completed CPR and first aid training, said Ashby. Other park employees are James Wilburn, assistant manager, and park rangers Thomas Corvaus and Kent Burrell, all having power of arrest for traffic, conservation and park violations. A Conservation Aid position is expected to be filled within the next month, Ashby stated. Lifeguards, CETA and concession personnel were employed at the park during the summer.

The Deep Creek Administration, headed by Gary Yoder, will be housed in the old office area of the park, beginning this fall. A renovated Park Maintenance Complex is located across from the old office building. A new storage area of the complex was recently completed as part of Project Open Space, under contract with HMF Enterprises, Mt. Lake Park. Renovations of the Maintenance Complex included fencing and paving.

The park rangers also got involved in the renovation proj-

Police Claim Repeal Of Helmet Law Causing Increase Of Deaths

PIKESVILLE, Md. (UPI) — The number of persons killed in motorcycle accidents has risen 54 percent so far this year, and state police said Tuesday a new law allowing cyclists to ride without helmets may be one reason for the increase.

Lt. Charles Troutman, chief of the accident records division, said that as of Aug. 17, 60 persons had died in motorcycle accidents in the state, up from 39 on the same date last year.

Troutman said many cyclists who died were not wearing helmets, which has been legal since July 1, 1979 and that may have contributed to the increase, but he could not provide statistics.

"We are still doing studies on whether the increase in the death rate is related to the law," he said. "We have requested from the medical examiner specific information on those who died without helmets."

But he noted there was no significant increase in the number of motorcycles registered in Maryland this year.

Carelessness by cyclists and other motorists also is a factor in the increase, Troutman said.

"We've had a lot of cyclists who have been hit by cars that fail to grant the right of way," he said. "At times motorists just don't see the cycle. Cyclists should be extra cautious, but they are not."

Baltimore County Delegate Theodore Levin, a leader of the fight against repealing the helmet law, said he would introduce legislation this year to reinstate the law.

He said allowing cyclists to ride without helmets costs taxpayers money because if cyclists crash, their injuries are often so severe that they must be treated in a state-funded rehabilitation center.

"I have fairly decent support in the House of Delegates," said Levin, who brought eggs to debates on the helmet law and smashed them to demonstrate what happens the the head of cyclists who crashes without a helmet.

"The problem is going to be getting (the bill) out of the Judiciary Committee, which is not favorable to this type of legislation — requiring people to protect themselves from themselves."

There also has been a 10 percent jump in the total number of highway fatalities this year, and Troutman blamed that on alcohol and recklessness by drivers.

As of Aug. 17, 455 persons had been killed on Maryland highways, compared to 414 on the same date in 1979.

"I'm sorry to say it appears alcohol is a serious factor," Troutman said. "In 251 fatalities, investigating officers said alcohol was involved. That's 50 percent of them right there."

He said police are seeking changes in state drinking laws, which stipulate that a person must have more than a .15 percent alcohol content in their blood to be considered intoxicated. In most other states the level is .10.

Troutman said reckless driving, especially failure to stay right of the center line, was determined to be the cause of many fatal accidents.

"Just looking at the statistic you see it's dumb mistakes," he said. "We have had too many people driving on the wrong side of the road and, bingo, you have a head-on collision.

"People have to pay attention while they are driving. It doesn't take much."

MACO Members Call For Increased State Involvement

When officials of Maryland's 23 counties and Baltimore City left Ocean City Saturday after the three-day Maryland Association of Counties convention they had adopted a policy which could relieve some of the financial burden of local governments.

The policy will take the form of different pieces of legislation which will hand over total funding responsibility of three departments to the state. The bills will be introduced at the next General Assembly session.

The three departments MACO members hope to see totally funded by the state are Election Board, Circuit Court and the State's Attorney's Office.

Les Hunter, Garrett County Commissioner, noted one of the major criticisms of the legislation was that it would weaken control by county governments. He pointed out that counties have little control now over any of these three departments.

Governor Harry Hughes addressed those attending the convention telling them that due to a smaller surplus than expected and the tight financial situation of the state, highway projects would progress at a much slower pace than in the past. He added that the construction of any new highways in the state was unlikely due to lack of funds and to increased pressure from environmental groups.

Volleyball League To Hold Meeting

The Mt. Top Volleyball League will have its meeting for the 1980-81 volleyball season on Wednesday, September 10, at 7 p.m. in the Southern Middle School cafeteria.

Persons interested in forming a mixed volleyball team are asked to attend this meeting. Schedules, officers, entrance fee, rosters, rules, and events will be discussed.

Persons interested in the league who cannot attend, or those with questions, are asked to contact League President Mike Stevens at 387-9395 after 5 p.m.

Women's Volleyball Trophies Awarded

The Mt. Top Womens Volleyball League summer competition came to a close last Wednesday, August 20, with the league play-offs.

Little Darlings took the first place trophy, awarded to captain Chris Shaffer. Mt. Top Paving was awarded the second place trophy; the captain of that team was Helen Stephens. Third place went to Garrett Community College, whose captain was Cindy Stem, and the Sugar Bears won the fourth place trophy, with captain Sue Evans.

Mt. Top Softball League To Hold Tournament

The Mt. Top Softball League will hold a double-elimination tournament at the Deer Park Sportsmans ball field on September 12, 13 and 14.

Entry is limited to teams from the Mt. Top Softball League. Interested persons should contact Paul Frantz at 334-4205. Entry fee is $60.

Hunting, Fishing Day Slated For September 27

President Carter has proclaimed Saturday, September 27, to be National Hunting and Fishing Day nationwide, according to the Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

Maryland's Governor Harry Hughes will follow suit shortly, the DNR added.

In the interim, Maryland sportsmen, civic and fraternal organizations planning to hold individual open house celebrations are being asked to advise the Maryland DNR of their plans.

DNR personnel are making plans to assist with one celebration in each of its four regions.

A list of organizations participating will be sent to National Hunting and Fishing Day headquarters by Bill Perry, Tidewater Administration, 69 Prince George Street, Annapolis, Maryland, 21401.

All participating groups are requested to send pertinent information about their celebration, its location and time.

Assessment Answers

ASSESSMENT APPEALS
By James Burley

Maryland's method of assessing includes an appeal process that is intended to protect the property owner from an improper assessment. Those who feel the valuation on their property is erroneous can seek to have it corrected through this procedure.

The questions to be decided in appealing are: Does the assessment reflect the fair market value, and is it accurate? To make this decision, it is necessary to know what an assessment is.

Under current conditions, the value of property is constantly changing, and everyone knows the assessment changes along with it. This is so because the law insists that the assessment be based on a percentage of the full value of our property. Full value translates to market value—meaning the price our property would command on the market. This is the measurement in a free enterprise system. The assessor does not create value—we do through our transactions in the marketplace. But, assessors do have the responsibility to recognize it as it exists and to evaluate our property accordingly.

Although assessors value property for tax purposes, they do not set tax rates nor levy taxes. These are powers reserved to elected representatives. Property taxes cannot be levied fairly unless the relative value of each property is determined. No two properties are ever identical, but they can be considered comparable in estimating value. All property is physically reviewed before any reassessment is made. The assessment is the product of a full cash value multiplied by the year's growth factor. The assessment is never equal to the full cash value, but is only a fraction of it.

Property owners will normally receive a notice of assessment once every three years. It shows both the existing full value and the assessment as well as the new, or proposed full value and assessment. The new value reflects the market influences on the property since the time it was last evaluated. It is important that the market value be correct because the assessment is derived as a fraction of this value. The proportional, or fractional, value that the assessment represents in relation to the full value will vary from year to year. This year it is equal to 46.825%, or slightly less than half of the full cash value of the property.

If the choice is made to appeal, the first step is to reply in writing to the notice of assessment within 45 days of the date of that notice, carefully following the instructions. A hearing will be scheduled with the assessor at the local assessments office. Appeals can also be made in writing by the owner without the necessity of a personal visit.

The meeting provides a good opportunity for sharing information. Owners can contribute facts that might otherwise be unknown to the assessor and which could lead to a more realistic evaluation. Also, assessors can go over their records with the owner, correcting any mistakes and explaining the means and method employed in arriving at the valuation.

In appealing an assessment, owners should concentrate on the proposed full value and not on those assigned to the land alone or the improvements on the land because the courts have ruled that it is the full value and not the value assigned to the components that counts. The owners in giving their reasons should also limit them to those factors which will contribute toward estimating the correct value of a given property.

In most cases, property owners are satisfied that the assessment is equitable following the assessor's explanation. Later, the property owner will receive a final notice. Those who do not agree with the decision can take the next step by appealing to the Property Tax Assessment Appeal Board.

This must be done within 30 days of the date of the final notice. There is an appeal board in each of the counties and in the City of Baltimore. A hearing will be scheduled. The property owners will generally need no assistance, no fees are required, and they are free to present such relevant evidence as they choose. The assessor will also justify his evaluation. Afterward, the board will render a decision and notify the property owner.

Property owners who are still dissatisfied regarding the accuracy of the assessment can appeal within thirty days from the date of the appeal board's decision to the Maryland Tax Court. Both property owners and the assessments department can appeal to the tax court if either feels that the appeal board has erred in its decision. Although the proceedings are somewhat more formal, legal representation is not essential. There are no costs, and property owners can usually present their own cases.

Should property owners disagree with the decision of the tax court, they can appeal through the regular judiciary system. Here, property owners will probably need legal counsel.

If upon receiving your assessment notice, you genuinely believe that the valuation placed upon your property is higher than it should be in accordance with its proper market value and if you can offer reasons that support this contention, then it is to your definite best interest to appeal your assessment. Other than your time, it costs you nothing.

If, on the other hand, it is not actually the value of your property that is in question but the matter of taxes—specifically the property tax—then the appeal route is not the preferable course of action. The appeal process is a mechanism designed only to assure an accurate assessment. It is not a tax control device. Controlling taxes is another story and takes a different approach.

Cumberland Man Is Sentenced To Jail

Kenneth Galen Matthews, 34, Cumberland, was sentenced on August 21 to 18 months in the Garrett County Jail on theft charges stemming from the burglary of a summer home last October.

Matthews, along with several accomplices, were charged with entering the summer home of Kathryn McCracken, Dry Run Road, near Swanton, by forcing open the rear door.

Among those items removed was a stove, two lamps, a table and four chairs, a recliner, some smaller furnishings and rugs, a quantity of linens.

Matthews was committed to the Garrett County Sheriff for incarceration.

In other court action, an appeal for sentence reduction or modification on behalf of Joyce Teats, 28, Loch Lynn, was denied by Circuit Court Judge Fred Thayer.

Ms. Teats is serving a one-year term for arson.

FOUR NEW COMFORT STATIONS were constructed at Deep Creek State Park, as part of Project Open Space, and are now more conveniently located near newly-constructed shelters available for rental, one of which is pictured below. Four shelters of this type were erected, each with a huge fireplace and each accessible by the handicapped, with four adjacent private parking lots constructed for convenience.

DRAINAGE DITCHES ALLEVIATE EROSION — Drainage ditches recently constructed at the Deep Creek State Park are designed to alleviate drainage problems and to prevent erosion of the beach area and public shoreline. The ditches were constructed as part of Project Open Space.

THREE NEW PLAYGROUNDS CONSTRUCTED — Rustic, geometric design playgrounds were constructed at the Deep Creek State Park, with equipment made entirely of wood and erected on a sand base. Fifty-two pieces of playground equipment were added to the park, all sanded smooth, and existing playgrounds were renovated. The equipment is constructed primarily for climbing, and blends beautifully with the natural surroundings.

ect, by voluntarily constructing picnic site stabilizing pads, leveling all picnic areas with a bulldozer and spreading gravel. Future plans in the area of park renovation include complete paving in the camping area and paving of the area toward the new shelters and boat launch, which should be completed this fall, Ashby stated. Phoenix Construction, Cumberland, has been the major paving contractor for the park project.

Ashby stated that the renovations and additions "didn't really attract more people, as the park was under construction this year." He stated that the Day Use has been about the same this year, adding that he would like to see more Garrett Countians use the park.

There is no charge to enter the park during the week, and the Day Use Area offers swimming, picnicking, fishing and boating in beautifully landscaped natural surroundings. Ashby pointed out that residents and campers may continue to swim at the beach area until the park closes for the winter season, however no lifeguard will be on duty after Labor Day, this Monday.

There is no charge for launching boats, however there is a charge on weekends and holidays to enter the park. The park is open daily from 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., and the camping area is open until 10 p.m. and then gated. Campers may enter the area after hours through a combination lock, Ashby stated.

A tentative closing date for the park is November, however the 1200 acres of undeveloped open hunting area will be open from October 15 through January 31, and during the latter part of April and beginning of May, for Spring turkey.

Hiking, nature study and an interpretive program, instructed by Robert Woy, was available from the third week of June to the last week of July. The interpretive program included campfires, movies, sing-a-longs, nature crafts, outdoor cooking, wild edible plants and hikes to the Thayerville fire tower, as well as tours conducted to points of interest throughout the county. Some places visited through the interpretive program were Swallow Falls, the Deep Creek dam and the Oakland planetarium. Interdenominational religious programs were conducted each Friday evening throughout the summer, under the direction of the Rev. David Long of the Mt. Top Ministerial Association, including movies and gospel concerts.

Ninety-six percent of Deep Creek Lake's 62 miles of shoreline is privately owned, many sections are heavily developed, and some lake shores are steep and rocky. Deep Creek State Park provides county residents an opportunity to take a vacation at home, so to speak, by enjoying the comfortable, public lakeside Day Use Area recently renovated. The area is visited by tourists from the Tri-States and others, so why not by those who live nearby, who want to get away for a day to enjoy Garrett County's natural beauty? The facilities are there for all to enjoy.

Warmer Days, Colder Nights Mark Weather

Cloudy skies and chilly temperatures began last week's weather, more recently clearing with daytime sunshine and mercury rising, but dropping lower at night.

High and low temperatures and precipitation levels for the week were, Wednesday, high 79 degrees, low 61 degrees, trace of precipitation; Thursday, 72, 61, 0 prec.; Friday, 68, 60, trace of prec.; Saturday, 76, 54, 0 prec.; Sunday, 79, 55, 0 prec.; Monday, 83, 54, trace of prec.; and Tuesday, 82, 52, 0 prec. The overnight low was 55 degrees.

Youth Reading Club Presents Circus

The Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland, hosted a summer reading club in all branches of the library, with participation at the Oakland branch numbering 164 children.

A party and circus were presented on August 19, during which time the students applied skills they had learned throughout the summer while attending weekly workshops presented by local talent.

Performers in the circus included Tamra Kelley, ringmaster; Jana Beecham, trained dog act; Belinda Hershman, Rebecca Helbig, Valerie Helbig, and Cathy Burnett, gymnastics exhibition; Joseph and Bob Hauger, stand-up comedians; Stephanie Piper and Loriann Knotts, vocal duet; Nikki Hess and Jocelyn Beecham, song and dance routine; Robert Crowell, magician; Jason DelSignore, juggling, and Laura Buckley and Barbara Leininger, gymnastics routine.

A puppet show was performed by Ann Leighton and Pam Hardesty, library staff, and featured Kristen Crone, a reading club member from the Accident Library.

The library staff commends those members of the community who shared their respective talents in helping to make the reading club a successful venture.

Nancy Beecham helped in many areas of the program, as well as John Durst, Sr. and Frances Acton, clown make-up; Colleen Eddy and Wendy Johnson, gymnastics; Ann Leighton and Craig Phillips, juggling; Bobbie Jo Harvey, Horsemanship; Lana Brenneman, sing-a-long; Ben Sincell, magic; Bernard Burns, balloon animals; and Kristen Crone, puppetry.

Straight Talk About Aging

Dr. Matthew Tayback, State Director on Aging
PRIVATE PENSION RIGHTS
SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The whole subject of pensions is one that raises many questions from workers, especially those who are reaching the point of retirement. Here are some of the most frequently asked, along with some answers provided by the National Senior Citizens Law Center.

Q: How can I tell if I am eligible for a private Pension?

A: Most retired and disabled workers who are receiving Social Security benefits have worked in one or more jobs which were covered by a private pension plan. If you have worked for ten years or more for the same employer you may have enough covered employment to qualify for some kind of pension.

Q: How do I find out how much pension credit I have?

A: If you ask for it in writing, your pension plan is required to give you a full statement of the amount of credit it thinks you have earned.

Q: Can I dispute what the pension plan says?

A: Yes. If you apply for a pension and are turned down, you have a right to a written statement of the reasons for the denial and to a hearing at which you may appeal the decision.

Q: If I have contributed to a pension plan, does that mean I will get a benefit?

A: Not necessarily. Only contributions which were taken directly from your paycheck must legally be returned to you—and very few plans are funded even partly by deductions from workers' checks. Rather, your pension contributions were probably paid directly into your plan by your employer. To get those contributions back, you must meet certain eligibility conditions.

Q: What are these eligibility conditions?

A: They vary from plan to plan, but most require a minimum number of years of work. Furthermore, it is usually stipulated that most, if not all, of this work be uninterrupted by work on another job. Requirements like these are called "term-of-service" and "break-in-service" rules.

Q: How do they work?

A: Suppose your pension plan has a 15-year term-of-service rule and a two-year break-in-service rule. That means that in order to qualify for benefits you must work for 15 years for employers who contribute to the plan. It also means, though, that if you go two years or more without working for contributing employers, you will lose credit for the time you worked before the interruption.

Q: If I lost a pension because of a break-in-service, is there anything I can do?

A: Yes. Many pension plans will excuse breaks-in-service which occur because of disability or military service. But even if your plan will not excuse your break, you may have a legal claim to have it disregarded if it was involuntary—if it occurred, for instance, because no work was available.

Q: Are there other ways I might be able to get a pension, even if my pension plan has denied my claim?

A: Yes. There are now many limits on the eligibility conditions which may be legally imposed by a pension plan. Workers who have retired since January 1, 1976, are generally protected by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). This law will not allow a pension plan to deny benefits to a worker who has completed at least ten years in employment covered by the plan. In addition, ERISA protects pension credit against loss because of a break-in-service as long as the length of the break is less than the number of years worked before the break.

For further information about your private pension right, contact the National Senior Citizens Law Center, 1424 16th Street, N.W., Washington, DC, 20008.

Board Considers Special Services For 29 Refugees

Development of an educational program for the members of the three refugee families recently brought into Garrett County was addressed during the Thursday, August 14 meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education.

Albert Ringer, assistant superintendent of administrative services, reported the Board has a legal responsibility to provide the teaching of English as a secondary language in its schools. He noted the Maryland Department of Education has funds available for such a program.

The Board directed Ringer to write a proposal for a program for the 29 refugees, including the adults, and to approach other county agencies which may be able to assist in the program.

In other business, the Board approved the hiring of ten persons to fill vacant positions. Of the ten appointments, three were for high school teaching positions, five for middle school positions, one for elementary, and one for the newly instituted four-year-old program at Kitzmiller.

Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of county public schools, noted there were three vacancies to be filled before school begins.

Jack Rickman, principal of Southern Middle School, reported three school periods would be devoted to Language Arts and Social Studies. Basic reading skills would be studied during one period, development of language arts skills during another, and social studies in the third. In addition, Rickman stated that for another one-half a period, students would participate in a silence sustained reading program in which they will work on reading skills to complement the reading program.

The Board approved an in-school program for CETA eligible students from grades 9-12. The ninth grade program would involve an eight week course in which students would explore career opportunities in addition to receiving work experience.

A compensatory special education services program was approved by the board which will serve handicapped individuals beyond age 20.

Marilyn Metheny of the Commission On Aging approached the Board to discuss using schools in Bloomington, Friendsville, Grantsville, Accident and Kitzmiller for a senior citizens feeding program. Based upon comments by principals of the five schools and by other staff members involved in the school cafeteria program, the Board approved the use of Friendsville, Grantsville and Bloomington schools. It determined additional study of alternatives was necessary before similar programs in Accident and Kitzmiller could be approved.

In remaining items of business, the Board awarded fuel oil and gasoline bids to Peters Fuel, Oakland, and accepted the Grantsville Elementary School as completed and ready for students on September 2.

Maryland News Summary

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A man who wounded three people when he fired a shotgun from the window of his car remained at large Tuesday, police said.

Sgt. Micheal Bass, a police spokesman, said Larry McKinney, 27, Robert Quilla, 41, and Rufus Wright, 71, were hit by pellets Monday night when a shotgun blast was fired from a rust-colored station wagon.

McKinney was in guarded condition at University Hospital with a chest wound and the other two were in stable condition with wounds to the head and neck, a hospital spokesman said.

Bass said McKinney was walking down a North Baltimore street Monday night when a man in a station wagon yelled to him. As McKinney turned, the man fired a shotgun, striking McKinney and the two others, who were sitting on a nearby porch.

Police said they had no motive for the shootings.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Two men convicted of killing the night manager of a tavern have been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Roosevelt Sneed, 30, also was sentenced to another 15 years in prison for a handgun violation. Snned was identified as the gunman in the shooting of Leonard Hyatt, 54, in May, 1979.

Jerome Williams, 30, was identified as the man who told Sneed to shoot Hyatt.

Prosecutors said the two men shot Hyatt after he locked the tavern doors from the outside and refused their demands to reopen the door.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Two boys who helped city arson investigators arrest two suspects in a fire at the Lakeland Elementary School in April received $50 each Tuesday from the Arson Control Association of Maryland.

Benjamin E. Runk III, 8, and Kittril B. Decator, 9, both students at the school, were honored in a ceremony by the Baltimore Fire Board.

The two boys saw two juveniles lighting matches and throwing them against the school. They told authorities the juveniles probably were at Westport Elementary School, which has fourth-and fifth-grade students.

The information led arson investigators to arrest two juveniles on arson charges.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A proposal to control the noise of blaring radios and other sound-amplifying devices has been introduced in the City Council.

The proposal, offered Monday by Councilmen George Della Jr. and Thomas J.S. Waxter, would prohibit the loud noises from 10 p.m. to 9 a.m. under penalty of a $25-a-day fine or 30 days in jail. A $5 permit would be required to play radios and sound amplifying devices from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The two councilmen said they have received numerous complaints about large radios causing too much noise.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The City Council has approved a $100 million low-cost home mortgage program for families with low to moderate incomes.

Under the program, the city will borrow $100 million dollars, then loan mortgage money to home buyers at an interest rate of 1 percent higher than it had to pay.

Baltimore Deputy Treasurer Lawrence Aley said Tuesday the city may have to borrow the money at an interest rate of 10 percent of higher. Home buyers still would get mortgages at rates about 2 percent less than conventional loans, Deputy Housing Commissioner Mark Sissman said.

SALISBURY, Md. (UPI) — Police continued their search Tuesday for an escapee from the Poplar Hill Correctional Center who was recaptured but escaped a second time while being taken to the Salisbury jail.

Eddie Haynes, 28, of Baltimore, escaped last week from the Quantico center where he was serving a sentence for armed robbery. Police arrested him late Monday in Salisbury, but he broke free as he was being transported from the police station to the city jail0

Police said Haynes was not armed. No one was injured in the escape.

Man Charged With Attempted Murder Of Policemen

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A man who allegedly shot a policeman and was wounded when the officer returned fire was charged Tuesday with attempted murder, police said.

Benjamin Billie, 55, who was in stable condition at Maryland General Hospital with a stomach wound, is accused of firing a shotgun at five officers who had come to search his apartment for drugs, said Sgt. Micheal Bass, police spokesman.

Officer James Weglein, 25, was treated at the same hospital for wounds below the right eye and in both hands and released. He has been suspended with pay pending an investigation of the shooting.

Bass said the five officers went to Billie's door early Tuesday with warrants, but Billie refused to open the door. Weglein then bashed the door in with a sledgehammer.

Weglein was shot with a shotgun as he and the other officers entered Billie's apartment, Bass said. All five officers returned fire but only one shot hit Billie.

Billie surrendered and was charged with five counts of assault with intent to murder. No drugs were found in the apartment.

Child Returned To Mother After Being Abandoned

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — Baltimore County officials decided Tuesday to forego a court hearing and return a 3-year-old girl who had been presumed abandoned to her mother.

Police had said a hearing would be needed before Christina Seachrist, who was committed by a court to the custody of the Department of Social Services after being found in a supermarket, could be turned over to her mother.

But Francis Griedman, a social worker, said, "After talking to her mother I decided to return the child. The court order was canceled. I returned the child to her mother this morning."

Police did not locate Christina's mother, Frances D. Seachrist, 21, of Wilkens, until two hours after the county courthouse closed Monday and social services officials held the girl overnight pending a hearing.

The child was found pushing a shopping cart at 10:30 a.m. Monday by employees of Eddies Supermarket, a grocery near her home.

Police said Ms. Seachrist told them her daughter apparently wandered away while playing in the back yard. The story was verified by neighbors.

Ms. Seachrist said neighbors helped her search the area for several hours. Meanwhile, police were unsuccessful in getting Christina to lead them to her mother.

Ms. Seachrist eventually went to the Lansdowne Shopping Center and was told her daughter had been turned over to the police. She called police and found out the girl they had picked up was, indeed, her daughter.

Police said no charges would be lodged against Ms. Seachrist.

Search Continues For Boat Loaded With Hashish

OCEAN CITY, Md. (UPI) — The Coast Guard continued its search in the Atlantic Ocean Tuesday for traces of a boat that apparently sank with a cargo of more than $2 million worth of hashish.

Authorities already have recovered more than 300 pounds of the drug and wreckage from what they believe was the boat the hashish was carried in. Ships and airplanes are searching a 1,600-square-mile area off the coast of Ocean City for more wreckage and drugs.

On Sunday, the Coast Guard found wooden fragments, life jackets and deck chairs alongside rubber bags containing 170 pounds of hashish about six to eight miles east of Ocean City, Lt. Commander Tom Booth said.

Searchers found more debris and an inflated life raft Monday, prompting the Coast Guard to continue the search, Booth said.

Booth, the head of the Coast Guard's Eastern Shore operations, said it is possible the debris was a decoy to keep law enforcement authorities away from a much larger drug shipment.

"I'm convinced that a boat was broken up. Whether the boat that broke up was a decoy, I don't know," he said at a news conference.

He said authorities have not determined what caused the wreck, but said it could have been an explosion or a collision with a larger ship.

"The breakup (of the boat) was traumatic, either an explosion from gasoline fumes in the bilge, or I don't know what. We had three or four days or heavy weather, and a freighter could have hit a 40-footer without knowing it," Booth said.

Booth said fragments of the boat — none larger than five feet long — indicate the boat was between 40 feet and 50 feet long.

Authorities displayed the 170 pounds of hashish found Sunday at the news conference, but would not disclose the total amount of drugs found. "I'm not going to be specific. But we're talking about more than $2 million worth," Booth said.

Coast Guard officials consider Maryland's Eastern Shore an ideal place for smugglers to unload illegal drugs because of the uneven coastline and the large number of inlets and coves.

Consumer Group Endorses Barnes

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Consumer Federation of America announced Tuesday it has endorsed the re-election bid of Rep. Michael Barnes, D-Md., the only Maryland congressman to get the group's endorsement.

Federation spokesman Michael Podhorzer said his group endorsed candidates in 31 congressional races across the nation, inciuding 19 incumbents, eight challengers and four candidates in races with no incumbents.

The consumer advocacy group rated candidates according to their voting records in Congress.

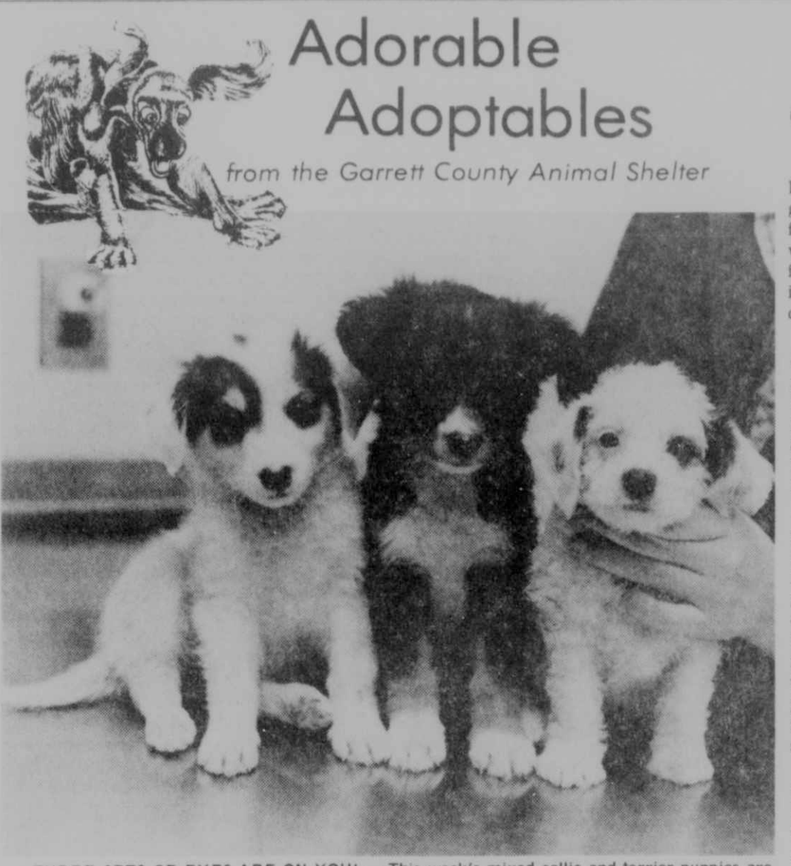

"Another important criteria we look at is whether, in addition to voting for consumers, they're also advocates for consumers — whether they stand up in Congress and are counted among the leaders in consumer issues," Podhozer said.

He said three Maryland congressmen, Republicans Robert Bauman and Marjorie Holt and Democrat Beverly Byron, are among those lawmakers with the poorest voting records on consumer issues.

In another campaign development, Republican Helen D. Bentley, who is running against Rep. Clarence Long, D-Md., said Slavic Americans should form a well-organized political action committee to fight discrimination in this country.

Mrs. Bentley said such an organization could pressure Congress to deal more firmly with oppressive communist tactics used against countries such as Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The first Slavic-American National Convention, held in Baltimore during the weekend, created the Slavic National Council and elected syndicated columnist Michael Novak as its president.

Union Pressmen Warn Of Strike

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Union pressman have threatened to strike the city's three major newspapers if they do not have a contract by mid-October.

The pressman at the A.S. Abell Co., which prints the Sun and Evening Sun, and at the News American, published by the Hearst Corp., overwhelmingly rejected a five-year pact late Monday and said if talks are non-productive they may vote to strike before the Oct. 15 deadline. The pressman have been without a contract for more than 18 months.

The Baltimore Newspaper Graphic Communications Union Local 31 represents about 70 pressman at the Sunpapers and about 40 at the News American.

Officers of both companies, which are bargaining jointly, refused comment. Union leaders also would not comment.

Management's proposal included an average 6 percent raise annually and one-time bonuses of up to $6,000 each for top-scale pressmen. Journeymen pressman currently earn $333.75 a week.

Several pressmen said they also are concerned over "manning" clauses in the contract. That is of importance primarily to Sunpapers workers because the A.S. Abell Co. is installing automated presses next year.

Baltimore Woman Shoots Daughter

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A Baltimore woman who shot her 2-year-old daughter with a .357 magnum pistol did so accidentally, but police said Tuesday they have not decided whether to file weapons charges against her.

The girl, Jessica Thayer, was shot in the stomach and was listed in guarded but stable condition at St. Agnes Hospital following surgery.

Sgt. Micheal Bass, a police spokesman, said Sandra Thayer, 23, accidentally shot the girl during an argument with her husband, Steve, 25, in the living room of the couple's Southwest Baltimore home Monday.

Bass said the woman removed the pistol from its hiding place underneath a mattress on Sunday and put it in her purse because she was afraid her husband would try to harm her.

During the argument Monday, she took out the gun, cocked it and pointed it at him. As Mrs. Thayer was uncocking the weapon to put it away, Bass said her husband moved toward her, causing her to release the hammer.

The child, who was playing on the living room floor, was hit. Bass said Mrs. Thayer then grabbed her wounded daughter, ran from the house and flagged down a policeman, who drove the girl to the hospital.

Bass said investigators determined the shooting was accidental, but have not completed their investigation of whether the gun was registered or used illegally.

Nightclub Owner Stabbed; Shoots One Assailant

ESSEX, Md. (UPI) — A bar owner who caught two men burglarizing his nightclub early Tuesday was stabbed twice in the back and shot one of his attackers, police said.

Edison Mauldin, owner of M & M Lounge in Essex, was in serious condition at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Virgil K. Hall, 25, who was shot by Mauldin in the chest and arm, was in critical condition at the same hospital and Baltimore County police said he would face burglary charges.

Patrick A. Buck, 20, was arrested when he returned to the bar to see if his partner had been hurt and he was charged with attempted murder and burglary, police said.

Police said Mauldin was investigating a noise at his bar, which is below his apartment, when one burglar leaped out the window and ran as another stabbed him in the back.

He then wheeled and shot one attacker, later identified as Hall, two times. Police said no charges would be filed against Mauldin.

Clark's Lawyer Attempting To Block Debate

BALTIMORE (UPI) — An attorney for Libertarian Party presidential candidate Ed Clark will file a lawsuit Wednesday attempting to block the scheduled debate for presidential candidates in Baltimore because Clark was not invited, a campaign spokesman said Tuesday.

Clark campaign spokesman Thomas G. Palmer said the lawsuit will be filed in U.S. District Court by attorney John Armor against Baltimore "in an attempt to prevent the city from using public monies in the proposed Sept. 18 presidential debate in that city if he (Clark) is excluded from it."

The basis for the suit is that Baltimore is providing city services to the League of Women Voters, which is sponsoring the debate. The league said it would cost about $500,000 to hold a debate and host cities were asked to help with the cost.

Mayor William Donald Schaefer also has said at least $250,000 in private contributions will be raised for the debate.

"For the first time, the League of Women Voters is accepting public money and free city facilities to hold a presidential debate," said Clark campaign communications director Ed Crane. "We think the league's criteria for inclusion in the debates are arbitrary and narrowly partisan, but they have every right to exclude Clark so long as the event is privately funded."

Because city taxpayers signed petitions to get Clark's name on the Maryland presidential ballot, "their money should not be used to sponsor an event that excludes Clark," Crane said.

The purpose of Clark's suit is to block use of Baltimore city funds and free use of the Convention Center and public employees if Clark is not included in the debate.

Crane had said Clark would not file a "frivolous suit. We'll only file if we think we have a chance of winning."

Clark, President Carter, Republican presidential candidate Ronald Reagan, and independent candidate John Anderson are the only candidates who have qualified for spots on the Maryland ballot.

Reagan and Carter are scheduled to participate in the debate and Anderson will be invited if popularity polls show he has 15 percent voter support, the league has said.

Vast Majority Of Malpractice Cases Remain Unsettled

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Only 100 of the 700 medical malpractice cases filed in Maryland since 1976, when the legislature established an office to process the claims, have been settled, an official said Tuesday.

Walter Tabler, director of the Health Claims Arbitration Office, blamed the slow pace on a lack of attorneys to hear the cases, insufficient staff and an increase in the number of cases.

He also noted that many cases are tied up for legal reasons unrelated to the work of his office, where each case is heard by an attorney acting as a judge, by a doctor and by a member of the general public.

Tabler said one problem is that attorneys who regularly get paid $75 an hour are hesitant to devote a whole day to a malpractice proceeding for which they are paid $60.

"He's doing charity work and doesn't serve his own purpose nor his profession by doing it," said Tabler, who has asked the Board of Public Works to raise the pay to $175 a day.

Tabler also complained that his office has only one adminstrative assistant and a secretaty and said he wants Gov. Harry Hughes to include more positions in next year's budget.

The rising number of claims also has contributed to the backlog of cases. As of last week, 210 medical malpractice suits had been filed this year, compared to 157 at the same time in 1979.

"People are just suing more," said Tabler. "The warmth that used to exist between family and doctor just doesn't anymore."

Sugar's place is in the factory as well as in the kitchen. Industry uses sugar in tanning leather, silvering mirrors, making hair tonic, shoe polishes, adhesives, photographic materials, explosives, and detergent.

Legislators Receive Gloomy Economic Report

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Maryland legislators were given a gloomy report on the state and federal economy Tuesday and warned that Maryland could find itself in financial difficulty if present revenue trends continue.

"The fall-off in revenue experienced in the last few months, if carried through into 1981, could cause us some major problems," said Thomas Schmidt, secretary of the Department of Budget and Fiscal Planning.

His comments to a joint meeting of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Maryland Commission on Intergovernmental Cooperation came after state Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said current revenue figures no longer show the huge growth that in recent years provided Maryland with multi-million dollar tax revenue surpluses.

"In the near future, tight financial situations may again arise," said Goldstein. "Although final figures are not yet available, preliminary numbers indicate that our (fiscal year) 1980 revenue estimates are well within 1 percent of actual collections, with only state lottery receipts and corporate income tax collections exceeding estimates."

Overall, Goldstein said actual state revenue for fiscal 1980 (which ended June 30) may exceed estimates by only $9 million.

"In view of the current recession, with its rather severe impact upon spending, employment, income, automobile sales and gasoline sales, the prospects look poor at this time for any significant increase in our revenue estimates for (fiscal years) 1981 and 1982," he said.

The dire predictions by Schmidt and Goldstein followed the delivery of similar bad news from Timothy J. Masanz of the National Conference of State Legislatures, who briefed the lawmakers on various cutbacks in federal aid to states.

Masanz said states should not expect to receive federal revenue sharing funds in fiscal year 1981 and possibly not in 1982 or 1983 either. Other reductions will affect federal aid programs for transportation, food stamps and criminal justice programs, he said.

Goldstein said actual revenue from the state's two largest revenue sources, the sales tax and the income tax, is about half a percent below estimates, but that the slight $9 million surplus was made up by increases in estate and corporate taxes.

"We're in the black. We have money in the bank and we're paying our bills," he said.

Asked if the figures indicated the need for a tax increase, Goldstein said, "The time has come in Maryland to review the programs and see where we can cut, what we can reduce. The public doesn't want a tax increase."

He did reiterate his backing, however, of a change in the state's nine-cent per gallon motor fuel tax to a percentage tax that would fluctuate with price changes.

Legislators Agonizing Over Capital Construction Budget

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Legislative leaders searched in vain Tuesday for ways to simplify the drawn-out process of preparing a state capital construction budget in an attempt to provide themselves with more time to make decisions.

"Well, this has been a good review of the process, but I don't know if we gained much on the problem," said Senate President James Clark, D-Howard, after the 90-minute meeting of the Legislative Policy Committee.

The committee, composed of committee chairmen from both houses and headed by Clark and House Speaker Benjamin L. Cardin, D-Baltimore, had hoped to find a way to make decisions on important construction projects before the final days of legislative sessions.

They also looked for recommendations on how they should decide between scores of construction project requests submitted each year that would cost hundreds of millions of dollars, far exceeding what the state can afford.

"How do we compress $550 million (in requests) down to $175 million to $200 million (in available funds)?" asked Delegate John Hargreaves, D-Caroline, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

"We need to find a procedure to compress rather than to make those decisions in the last five or six days of the General Assembly," he said.

Although the legislative leaders easily identified their problems, they appeared unable to resolve them because of constitutional time restraints on when the general operating and the capital construction budgets must be submitted, and when supporting bond sale authorization bills may be introduced.

An official from the Department of State Planning outlined the six-month long process of hearings and review that take place between the time construction requests are initially submitted and when specific projects are incorporated in the budget.

"It is my opinion, however, that it would be unwise to hasten significantly the capital program process I have described to you," said Emory Harrison, the department's assistant secretary.

"We find that even with the existing schedule, agencies actually initiate work on their next year's capital budget equest before the General Assembly has completed its review of the pending requests," he said.

Minorities Compose Small Percentage Of Medical Class

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Only 4 percent of the students entering the University of Maryland School of Medicine this fall are members of a minority group, the lowest percentage in 10 years, officials said Tuesday.

Dr. Willard Allen, director of admissions for the medical school, said he did not know why the percentage was so low and insisted the school tries hard to recruit minorities.

He said all minorities who qualify for admission are accepted at the medical school, but fewer have applied in recent years and many minority candidates do not have the necessary backround in sciences.

Last year, 6 percent of the colleges medical students were minorities. A proposal by the state Board of Education sets a goal of 10 to 13 percent minority enrollment for the medical school in 1985.

J. Harrison Ager, chairman of the state's Desegregation Task Force, said he was concerned about minority enrollment at the medical school.

"I don't think they are committed to affirmative action, and certainly the record doesn't reflect that they are," he said.

Sentencing Delayed In Shooting Case

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (UPI) — A Somerset County Circuit judge Tuesday delayed the sentencing of a Baltimore woman convicted of killing a pregnant Carroll County woman and her son until Oct. 17.

Judge Lloyd Simpkins granted a request by Nelson Kandel, the attorney for Barbara Jean Langley, to postpone her sentencing.

Ms. Langley was convicted last month of shooting and killing Marion Townsend, 27, and her son, Josh. The infant was born after his mother died and died shortly afterwards.

Mrs. Townsend was shot Nov. 24 as she was riding with her husband, Michael, in a car near Lake Roland in Baltimore County. The bullet grazed Townsend's lip and struck his wife in the head.

Ms. Langley and her boyfriend testified she was firing a .357 Magnum randomly and did not aim at the car. But other witnesses testified the Baltimore woman said, "Watch me shoot the car."

Vickie L. Show Becomes Bride Of Todd R. Stockslager July 19

Vickie Lee Show and Todd Randall Stockslager were united in marriage at an afternoon ceremony on Saturday, July 19, in the Meyersdale Grace Brethren Church, Meyersdale. Pastor Ray Davis performed the double ring, candle-light ceremony.

Vickie is a daughter of Larry and Doris Show of Meyersdale, Todd is a son of Vernon and Janice Stockslager of Grantsville.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Roberta Miller, Meyersdale, organist, and Gene Kennedy, Meyersdale, soloist, who sang "A Wedding Song" and "A Marriage Prayer."

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace. The bodice featured a scoop neckline trimmed with lace and sequins. The long tailored sleeves had a lace ruffle and the full skirt swept to a chapel train beneath tiers of lace ruffles and sequins.

The maid of honor was Carol DiValentino, Meyersdale, a friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Donna Show, Meyersdale, sister of the bride; Gale Livengood, Springs, sister of the groom; and Sue Ann Nicholson, Meyersdale, friend of the bride.

Guy Stockslager of Ghent, New York, served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Ron Show, Meyersdale, brother of the bride; Ken Livengood, Springs, brother-in-law of the groom; and Dave Wellborn, Accident, friend of the groom. Sue Stockslager, sister-in-law of the groom, attended the guest book. Michael Show, brother of the bride, and Forrest Harvey, friend of the bride, were the gift receivers.

A reception was held in the basement of the church immediately following the ceremony, with Deanna Kennedy and Marie Patton, friends of the bride, attending the refreshment table. Guests were from New York, Washington, D. C., and Florida, as well as the surrounding areas.

A bridal shower was given by Gale Livengood, Carol DiValentino and Sue Ann Nicholson. A rehearsal dinner was given by the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bittner, at Penn Alps.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Meyersdale Area High School and a 1978 graduate of Frostburg State College. She will be teaching at Capitol Christian Academy, Upper Marlboro, this September. The groom is a 1977 graduate of Northern High School and is a senior at the University of Maryland, majoring in government and politics. He is an evening staff person at the University's Engineering Library.

Following a honeymoon to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, and the Smoky Mountains in North Carolina and Tennessee, the Stockslagers are at home in Landover.

Lewis, Baasland To Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Harland R. Lewis, Oakland, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Alice Grace to Trygve Allan Baasland, son of Mrs. Peder E. Baasland, Oakland.

The couple will exchange vows on Saturday, October 4 at 1 p.m. at Pine Grove Church of the Brethren. A reception will follow the ceremony at the McHenry Fire Hall.

Miss Lewis is a 1978 graduate of Southern High School, and a 1980 graduate of Garrett Community College. She is employed by Garrettland Realty.

Mr. Baasland is a 1976 graduate of Northern High School. He is employed by the First National Bank of Oakland.

Bridal Showers Held In Honor Of Donna Durst

Two bridal showers were held recently, honoring Donna Sue Durst, Oakland, who will wed Robert Keith Teter, Oakland, on August 30 at 2 p.m. The ceremony will take place at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland.

Lesa Whitehair hosted an all purpose shower on August 5 at her home in Mt. Lake Park. A second shower was held August 16 at the home of Wilda Sanders, south of Oakland, hosted by Bernice Melcheck, Kingwood, W. Va; Annie Barr, Baltimore and Wilda Sanders, aunts of the bride.

The bridal colors of white and yellow were carried out at the second shower in flowers and decorations. A cake was baked and decorated by Walter Melcheck, Kingwood, W. Va., uncle of the bride.

Game prizes were won by Arlene Dilley, Tammy Thomas, Tresa Feather, Lenora Moon, Maggie Teter and Barbara Feather. Door prizes were won by Anna Virginia Beckman and Shirley Beckman.

The evening's activities concluded with the reading of "Recipe For A Happy Marriage," read by Jo Ashby.

Swanton Couple To Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce K. Sweitzer, Jr., Swanton, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Brenda Gay Snyder, to Richard Gary Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Bernard, Swanton.

The ceremony will take place on Saturday, September 6, at the Sand Flat Assembly of God Church, Oakland, at 2 p.m. A reception will follow the ceremony at the Deer Park Fire Hall, Deer Park.

Although some invitations have been sent, all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Progress Seen In Eliminating Marriage Tax

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md.) Friday said that the Senate's tax cut bill "goes a long way" toward eliminating the extra taxes married couples have had to pay since 1969.

Mathias has introduced legislation in several Congresses to allow two-earner married couples the option of filing as single people so they would not have to pay higher taxes just because they are married. Mathias' bill in the 96th Congress has 27 cosponsors in the Senate.

The tax cut measure reported today by the Senate Finance Committee provides a deduction of five percent of the first $30,000 of earnings to the spouse with the lesser earnings in 1981 with a maximum deduction of $1,500. A ten percent deduction will be provided for calendar year 1982 and thereafter with a maximum deduction of $3,000.

Mathias was the leadoff witness on the marriage tax when the Finance Committee held hearings earlier this month. Because of the support for the Mathias bill, the Committee decided to consider the marriage tax penalty as part of the tax cut bill.

"I am pleased that the Senate Finance Committee addressed the marriage tax penalty in this bill," Mathias said. "This goes a long way toward eliminating the tax inequities placed on married working couples."

It is estimated that each year more than 18.5 million married, two earner couples filing joint returns pay higher taxes than they would if they were single and living together.

Mathias said, "It is a great shock for 37 million Americans to discover that Congress has imposed a tax penalty on them based solely on matrimony."

"The Finance Committee action is a victory for millions of American working couples," the Maryland Senator said. "I hope the House of Representatives will recognize these Americans when it considers tax cut legislation."

AARP Presents Farewell Dinner To Bender Couple

The American Association of Retired Persons held a dinner in honor of Don and Mildred Bender, Kitzmiller, on August 21. The couple was presented a gift from the members by Joseph Welch, in appreciation for the couple's efforts in support of AARP.

Mr. and Mrs. Bender are past presidents of Garrett County AARP Chapter 779. The couple will leave the county on Saturday to travel to their new home in Florida, where they hope to continue participation in AARP activities.

Songs arranged and sung by Robert E. Lee were presented for the couple at the dinner.

Produce Is Needed For Area Families

The Community Food and Nutrition Program of Garrett County Community Action, Inc. is soliciting fresh produce for families in need of vegetables, to help meet their nutritional needs.

Persons wishing to donate fresh farm produce should contact the Community Food and Nutrition staff at the Community Action Office, Monday through Friday, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., at 334-9431. Persons in need of produce or those wanting further information are also encouraged to call.

Labor Day — the traditional day honoring the labor force of the nation. It's a legal holiday — when working people across the country take a one-day break on the first Monday in September.

Work has long been viewed as the cure for most of the troubles of the world. Honest and productive work, which one intends to get done, is a real blessing for humans. It keeps us moving forward and making our days on this earth worthwhile.

As the parable of the talents shows, God expects us to do something with our abilities. Draw fresh inspiration for your life and work in your house of worship this week.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

TESTING GOD

Lesson for August 31, 1980

Background Scripture: Malachi
Devotional Reading: Psalms 51:1-12.

The one thing none of us wants to do these days is to put God to the test. Even if he invites us to do so, we are not likely to accept the offer.

For one thing, we have been led to believe that one should not test God. Didn't Jesus say to Satan, "You shall not tempt the Lord your God?" Doesn't it indicate a lack of faith to call upon God to prove himself? A test seems so arrogant, so irreverent.

Rev. Althouse

Yet we cannot escape the fact that there are passages in the Bible where God clearly invites people to do just that. This is what he is saying, for example, in Malachi: "...thereby put me to the test, says the Lord of hosts" (3:10).

Robbing God

We need to get the picture: through Malachi God has accused his people of robbing him. "But you say, 'How are we robbing thee?' " And the answer: "In your tithes and offerings" (3:3-8). The people have been holding back in their obligations to the temple. The reason is not just a miserly attitude, but a fear that, if they give too much, they will not have enough for their own needs.

God knows this and he puts the challenge to them clearly: "Bring the full tithes into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house; and thereby put me to the test... if I will not open the windows of heaven for you and pour down for you an overflowing blessing" (3:10).

Their problem, therefore, is not one of greed, but of a lack of faith and trust in God. If they trusted God to supply their needs, they would not hesitate to pay their tithes for they would know that God would not fail to provide for them.

Is that not still a factor in financing God's work? We are limited in our generosity by our fear of not having enough for ourselves and that fear is the direct result of failing to trust God and accept his own promises that he will provide for us. Many churches today, in a time when the conditions of our world call for an expanded mission and witness, rather than a reduced one, are finding, not only that they cannot expand their programs, but must continue to cut back and pare down their present program. We ascribe this situation to the predicted "hard times" that are just around the corner, but it is not the times that are deficient, but our faith.

Testing God

So, no matter how hard it is for us to digest it, there are times when God challenges us to test him — not to prove his love, but our faith! We go through the motions of asking, but he knows we don't really believe that he will answer and provide for us. Thus, his invitation to test is a challenge to start acting as if we believed and trusted in him. Unless we put our own faith to the test, the windows of heaven will remain closed.

Executives of huge corporations can earn salaries of $500,000 a year and more. Actually, this is chicken feed compared to auto pioneer Henry Ford. In one year in the early 1920s, his income was $100,000,000.

ILLEGITIMATE BIRTHS AND GONORRHEA TIED FOR FIRST

Gonorrhea and illegitimate births are tied for first place among teenager hazards, according to a study recently released. Gonorrhea will hit more than 250,000 15-19 year olds during 1980 and it is predicted that more than 240,000 out-of wedlock babies will be born to the same age group.

Among older adults, sexually transmitted veneral infections also are on the rise . . . trichomoniasis, amebicasis and Herpes II lead the list. All are difficult to treat successfully. Trichomoniasis frequently goes undetected in men while causing severe symptoms in females.

Lorraine Mason Named To FmHA Local Committee

J. Lorraine Mason, Pleasant Valley, has been named to a three-year term on the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) County Committee, it was announced today by John D. Daniello, State Director, FmHA for Delaware and Maryland. She succeeds William G. Welch of Oakland, whose term expired June 30, 1980.

In making the appointment, Mr. Daniello said, "The Farmers Home County Committee is a vital link to local conditions. The Agency counts on their judgement, experience, knowledge of people and agriculture in their communities in selecting applicants who have a reasonable chance of success."

The FmHA County Committee assists the Agency in determining the eligibility of applicants for FmHA farm loans. It also acts as an advisory committee on FmHA Farmer Program implementation. The Committee is made up of three members, two of whom must be farmers deriving the principal part of their income from farming at the time of their appointment. Other members in Garrett County are Richard W. Helbig, Deer Park, and Howard E. Green, Oakland.

In addition to helping operate the Mason's family farm, Mrs. Mason is presently active in the Garrett County Holstein Club, where she serves as a news reporter.

FmHA, a credit Agency of the Department of Agriculture, makes farm loans for real estate and production purposes as well as for non-farm enterprises that supplement the farm family income. A "Credit arm of last resort," the Agency has, over the years, enabled many farm families to stay on the land and succeed in farming. A special "limited resource" program provides low interest loans to young farmers and others who have farming capabilities, but need extra help in getting established.

County Historical Society Will Tour Savage River Area

The Garrett County Historical Society will tour the Savage River State Forest area on Saturday, September 13, beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the parking lot at the Accident Elementary School.

The first stop will be the peat bog near Bittinger. From there the bus will proceed to the Savage River State Forest headquarters for a guided tour of the area. Leaving the headquarters the group will go to the New Germany State Park where the tourists will have lunch. Each tourist should pack his own lunch and bring it with him. After lunch the group will visit an old sawmill, Swauger's Dam, Monroe Vista overlook, and Meadow Mt. Foresty Camp.

The bus will return by way of old Route 40 where historic landmarks will be pointed out, including the general course of Braddock's Road.

A small fare will be collected from each tourist to finance the use of the bus.

Reservations can be made by writing Charles Strauss, Sr., Box 66, Accident, Md. 21520 or calling 826-8183. Other interested persons besides society members are welcome to accompany the group.

CAC Will Administer HUD Funds For Property Upgrading

The Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., will administer approved HUD funds totaling $224,000 for the upgrading of at least 20 sub-standard homes in the Jennings area. This program is aimed at owner-occupied homes belonging to the elderly and low income families in this area. Qualified home owners will be provided with funds to upgrade their property to a safe and healthful living environment that is properly connected to all required utilities.

According to Mel Silber, Housing Rehabilitation Coordinator, each rehabilitation project will include one or more of the following elements, as needed: major roof repairs, septic system installation, water supply installation, chimney (flue) repair, indoor bathroom installation, hazard elimination, correct faulty electrical/plumbing, and weatherization.

All work will be done by approved licensed building contractors under the supervision of the home owner and the Rehabilitation Coordinator. The program will make available all necessary funds for the rehabilitation of selected homes to minimum housing standards.

The selection of homes for possible rehabilitation will begin with surveying of the Jennings area by CAC Outreach Workers. They will attempt to locate and inform all area residents of the details involved in the Rehabilitation Program as well as other assistance programs that are available through CAC, said Silber. Applications to determine eligible families will be distributed and assistance in filling out the questionnaire will be offered, he added.

A Project Advisory Committee consisting of interested local residents and representatives from local civic and government agencies will screen all applications that qualify for rehabilitation funds to insure all funds are directed to the elderly and low income home owners in the Jennings area.

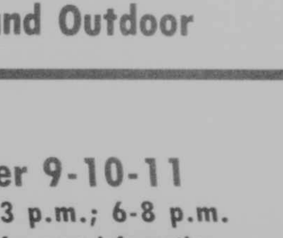

Silber and other CAC staff personnel will be present to conduct public meetings at the Jennings Community Center on Thursday, August 28, and on Wednesday, September 3, after the Hot Meals are served. Information and applications will also be available at the local CAC office located on Liberty Street in Oakland.

On Dean's List At Bridgewater

Dr. Dale V. Ulrich, Dean of Bridgewater College, has released the dean's list for the summer term.

Students on the dean's list have attained a 3.2 or better quality point average of a possible 4.0 for their summer term studies. Among the students on the list was Sherry E. Miller, a sophomore elementary education major and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Miller of Route 2, Accident.

Correction Noted

In a traffic accident article in the August 6 issue of The Republican, the police report named Elwood R. Beavers, 20, Keyser, W. Va., as the operator of a vehicle involved in an accident on Savage River Road on July 27. It was erroneously reported that Mr. Beavers swerved to avoid hitting a parked pickup truck. According to the police report, the pickup was not parked, but rather, travelling north bound, around a curve, partially on Mr. Beavers side of the road when they met, making it necessary for him to swerve to avoid a collision. Tfc. R. C. Georg investigated the incident.

We regret the error.

Conversations on Carpeting

Brought to you by
Carolyn & Butch Helbig

Remnants Available

THE CHOICE IS YOURS

Confused about what carpeting to buy for your home? Has the dazzling array of colors and textures made your decision a difficult one? Here are some suggestions that will help you make the right choice.

Begin by making a list of your favorite colors. Include only those colors you feel you could live with every day. Keep the list in mind as you view the many carpet choices and select your carpet color from the list.

You can also narrow the possible choice by carefully considering the room you are decorating. Is it spacious or small? Will the carpeting be one of the focal points of the room or a quiet accent to the furnishings? Will there be light or heavy traffic in the room? As you answer these questions, you'll begin to discover what kind of carpeting will best serve your needs.

Now it's time to choose your carpeting. You still must select from many lovely colors and textures. If you're still confused, here's an important rule to remember, "Buy what you like." Trust your own senses. Is the carpet pleasing to you? Do you like its look and feel? You'll be living with the carpet, so what you like really matters.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

PARTICIPATES IN SCIENCE PROGRAM — Kimberly Anne Zimmerman was one of 20 students selected from approximately 1,000 to participate in the Physical Science and Engineering Internships Program held recently at Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt. The Maryland State Department of Education sponsors programs for 2,500 gifted and talented students in a variety of subject areas. The summer programs are designed to provide unique, intensive, advanced level learning opportunities for students who demonstrate outstanding academic or intellectual ability, or who are talented in the visual or performing arts. The Goddard interns were housed at the University of Maryland, College Park. Kim is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Zimmerman, Oakland, and will be a senior this fall at Southern High School.

Farm Bureau Holds Campaign Meeting, Elects Officers

The Garrett County Farm Bureau held its campaign kick-off meeting at the Bittinger Fire Hall on Wednesday evening, August 20. President Clark Kolb was in charge of the meeting.

George Coddington of Nationwide Insurance spoke briefly about the bureau's insurance plan.

Ira Yaste spoke about services the Farm Bureau provides to farmers. Jerry Placek, executive secretary of the Maryland Farm Bureau, elaborated upon services offered to farmers by the bureau, and reasons for farmers seeking membership.

Eric Seifarth Fieldman of the Maryland Farm Bureau explained policies of the bureau for the year 1981.

It was announced at the meeting that Wayne Cawley, Maryland Secretary of Agriculture, will be the guest speaker at the group's banquet, to be held October 23.

Election of officers, directors and convention delegates for 1981 was conducted by the women's and men's groups within the bureau.

Pleasant View Church Planning Annual Event

"Saga," and "The Crusaders," will be two of the Gospel Groups featured this year at the Pleasant View Baptist Church's annual "Brush Arbor Day Celebration," to be held at the church on Saturday, September 6. Also performing in concert will be "The Brotherhood Four" of McHenry; Joe DiSimone, Oakland; "The Gospel Ambassadors," Antioch, W. Va.; and "Steadfast," from Mt. Lake Park.

The day's activities will begin at 11:00 a.m. with an opening and the introduction of guests and visitors, to be followed by a time of fellowship and a picnic lunch on the grounds at 12:00 noon. The local groups will be performing at approximately 1:00 p.m. "Saga," and "The Crusaders" will follow at 2:00 p.m.

Volleyball, horseshoe pitching, and badminton will be available during the late afternoon. Children's films and cartoons will be shown in the fellowship hall during both the afternoon and evening concerts by "Saga," and "The Crusaders." The nursery will also be available for use.

A barbecue dinner of hamburgers, hotdogs, salads, desserts, and drinks will be served at 5:00 p.m. There is no charge for the meal which is being provided by the ladies of the church.

The local groups will once again be in concert at 6:00 p.m. to be followed at approximately 7:00 p.m. by "Saga," and "The Crusaders." The evening's concert will conclude in prayer. A Love Offering will be taken during the concert which will be used totally for the support of the Gospel Groups.

There is no charge for the day's activities. The public is invited. Persons desiring additional information should call Mrs. Robert Taylor at 301-334-8151.

The church is located on Route 219 just south of Oakland, Maryland.

Eastern Star Will Hold Dinner Meeting

The Order of Eastern Star will hold its first meeting since summer recess on September 2. All members are asked to bring a covered dish and to meet at the Masonic Temple at 6 p.m. for a dinner honoring Master Masons night. The dinner will be held prior to the meeting.

Extended Benefits Of Unemployment Insurance Noted

Extended unemployment insurance benefits will be paid in Maryland beginning with the week ending August 30, 1980, according to an announcement by Frank O. Heintz, Executive Director of the Employment Security Administration of the Maryland Department of Human Resources.

The rate of insured unemployment for all states has equaled or exceeded 4.5 percent for the last 13 weeks, thus "triggering on" the extended benefits program.

A maximum of 13 weeks of benefits can be paid under the extended benefits program, in addition to the present 26 weeks of unemployment compensation.

To be eligible for extended benefits, claimants:
—must have exhausted their regular unemployment insurance benefits; and —must have a benefit year in effect on August 24, 1980; and —must be partially or totally unemployed.

The Employment Security Administration is in the process of notifying all eligible claimants of the availability of extended benefits. Those persons who have exhausted their regular unemployment insurance benefits and who are eligible for extended benefits should visit their local Employment Security Administration office to file for extended benefits.

Persons currently receiving regular unemployment insurance benefits should return the claim card attached to the last regular unemployment check received, thereby triggering their claim for extended benefits.

FURNITURE CARE

Furniture is something that needs to be taken care of to make it last. With the high cost of furnishing a house, it is much easier to take care of what we have than it is to be careless and ruin a perfectly good piece of furniture. Here are some tips that might help you keep your furniture in good shape.

*Be careful when wearing jewelry, buckles and belts because they can easily scar wood surfaces and snag or tear upholstery fabric.

*Use window shades or draperies to protect fabrics and wood colors from fading due to sun exposure. Also change the position of your furniture occasionally if possible.

*When arranging furniture, use caution to protect it from extreme heat and cold fluctuations. Hot radiators and heat outlets can cause drying.

FOOD NOTES

Zucchini has become a very popular vegetable in recent years. It is as good raw as it is cooked. Zucchini can be stewed, baked, fried, mashed, pickled, and used in baked breads and cakes. Also, yellow and white squash can be used in place of zucchini in recipes. Here is a recipe with an Italian flavor that I think you will enjoy trying:

PIZZARELLI LAYERED CASSEROLE

1 cup rice
3 medium zucchini, cut into ¼ inch slices
2 medium onions, chopped
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce
2 teaspoons oregano
1 teaspoon garlic salt
2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese

Prepare rice according to package directions. While rice is cooking, saute zucchini and onions in butter in 10-inch skillet until onions and zucchini are tender and most of liquid has evaporated. Combine tomato sauce, oregano and garlic salt. Spoon one-half of zucchini and onions over rice; top with one-half tomato sauce mixture. Sprinkle with 1 cup cheese. Repeat layers, ending with cheese. Bake at 350°F. until cheese on top is bubbly, about 20 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Mathias Bill To Keep Farmland In Production

Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Md) recently introduced legislation encouraging farmers to resist the pressure to sell their land to developers and to keep their land in agricultural production.

The Farmland Development Rights Act would offer tax advantages to farmers similar to those now offered to homeowners so they will participate in state programs designed to preserve farming land.

Mathias said his bill tracks programs in New York, New Jersey and Maryland where farmers can sell the development rights of their property to the state. The state purchases an easement on the property which prevents the owner from using the land for any other than agricultural purposes.

"The sale is theoretically in perpetuity but the farmers may buy back the rights after 25 years if it can be shown that profitable farming is no longer feasible," Mathias said.

The Mathias bill will allow a farmer to use the proceeds of these sales to buy more farmland without having to pay a capital gains tax. It will also allow a one-time only tax exemption of $100,000 if the farmer is over 55.

Mathias observed that since the states have limited funds available for these programs, the development rights are often sold for less than market value.

"My bill will narrow the financial gap by allowing the farmers to treat this difference as a gift for tax purposes," he said.

Mathias said discussions with Senator Jim Clark, President of the Maryland Senate, convinced him that action at the federal level was needed to keep farmland in production.

"Unfortunately, our country's farmlands are being converted to non-agricultural uses at a rate of over three million acres per year," Mathias said. "In the last decade alone, this urbanization process has swallowed up land the size of West Virginia."

"If the United States is to remain the world's leading exporter of agricultural products, we must act now to encourage American farmers to continue farming their land," the Maryland Senator said.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Shaffer, Arlington, Virginia, announce the birth of a son, Michael Ryan on August 22 in Fairfax Hospital, Fairfax, Virginia. The mother is the former Tamara J. Gibson. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Wade Bolyard of Oakland. Mr. Shaffer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Perry Shaffer, Sr., of Oakland.

Annual Ox Roast To Begin Thursday In Rowlesburg

The 17th annual Rowlesburg Labor Day Ox Roast will begin Thursday, August 28 with the second annual coronation ceremonies of the queen and her court. Random drawing of the selections was held Monday, August 18, sponsored by the Rowlesburg Volunteer Fire Department.

The queen will be crowned by William (Bill) Simmons, president of the Fire Department, in the Rowlesburg Park. Community youth groups will participate in the preparation for the festivities.

There will be games for all ages from Thursday, August 28 to Sunday, August 31.

On the second day of the festival, Friday, there will be a parade at 7:30 p.m. featuring the queen and her court, fire department units, the Rowlesburg High School band and other area high school bands.

Prizes will be awarded to participating bands. Trophies will be presented to participating Fire Departments.

Weekend activities will be climaxed by the Rowlesburg Park Day celebration on Labor Day, sponsored by the Park Commission. Approximately 100 volunteers will be working.

Pit roasted beef dinners will be sold beginning at noon. Sandwiches and other foods will also be on sale.

Park Day will offer live musical entertainment from country-western band, the "Country Five" of Preston County. Entertainment will also be provided by Charles Strout of Terra Alta, W. Va., vocalist, and Cheat Mountain Cloggers.

The ladies of the Love Chapel Church of Kingwood and the United Methodist Men's Chorus of Rowlesburg will also provide musical entertainment.

Arts and crafts will be on display and for sale.

A fireworks display will conclude the festival Monday, September 1 at 9 p.m.

If all the fluid milk sold in the United States in 1975 was poured into quart bottles, the bottles would stretch 1,264,200 miles.

Real Estate
By DON CARSTENS
Deep Creek Realty

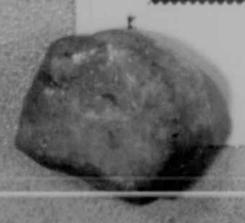

EQUITY GROWS WITH AGE

What is equity? Quite simply, it's the portion of your home you own — the part that isn't mortgaged. To start with, it's your down payment. Then it grows each month by the amount of principal you repay on your mortgage.

For example, let's assume you're in the first year of paying off a $40,000 mortgage you got at 12% for 25 years. Your monthly payments for principal and interest are $414.00, of which about $22 is principal, the rest is interest. At the end of the year you own about $270 more of your home than when you started - sort of a forced savings account. (And you've got a hefty $4,786 in interest charges to deduct from your taxable income.).

The further along you get in your mortgage payments, the faster your equity grows. In the tenth year, your $414 buys equity at $66 per month rate and in your 20th year it's up to about $217 per month. Also, in your 20th year, your monthly payments for principal and interest will be exactly the same as they were in the first year while most other costs will double or triple during 20 years of inflation.

TV TATTLE

'M.A.S.H.' is winner

The episode of "M.A.S.H." scheduled for rebroadcast Monday, Sept. 1, on CBS, was the recipient of a Humanitas Prize from the Human Family Institute earlier this season for its writers, Alan Alda and James Jay Rubinfier. The program received the $10,000 for best 30-minute television script. Alda also directed the episode, which is a largely surrealistic treatment of the dreams and nightmares experienced by the men and women of the 4077th during catnaps they take after a grueling 48 hours without sleep. The Humanitias Prizes, funded by the Lily Endowment of Indianapolis, are awarded annually to honor television programs that illuminate the human condition.

Showtime drama

"Broadway on Showtime" presents Eric Bentley's acclaimed drama, "Are You Now Or Have You Ever Been," on Sunday, Aug. 31, and Thursday, Sept. 4, on the pay-cable. The play, which opened off-Broadway in 1978 and later moved to Broadway, is culled from transcripts of the hearings conducted by the House Un-American Activities Committee in its investigations of alleged Communist infiltration in the entertainment industry. Liza Minnelli is featured in a cameo appearance as Lillian Hellman. The play highlights the testimony of key witnesses, such as Ring Lardner Jr., Larry Parks, Arthur Miller and Paul Robeson.

Phyllis returns

Phyllis George has agreed to return CBS Sports' "The NFL Today" after a two-year absence. Van Gordon Sauter, president of CBS Sports, said "Because Phyllis has responsibilities to her family and young son, who is recovering from surgery, we are not yet ready to announce the precise date when she will rejoin the show, but it will be fairly early in the season." Ms. George first worked on "The NFL Today" during the 1975, '76 and '77 football seasons. Subsequently she served as a co-host of the "People" series and also appeared on a number of CBS specials, including "Celebrity Challenge of the Sexes." In March 1979 she married John Y. Brown Jr., who later was elected governor of Kentucky, and in June of 1980 she gave birth to Lincoln George-Tyler Brown.

Donna Summer to NBC

Superstar Donna Summer has signed an exclusive contract to star in NBC specials. Summer, who has had such hits as "Bad Girl," "On the Radio," "Last Dance," "Dim All the Lights," "Hot Stuff" and "Love to Love You Baby," will star in her first NBC special early in 1981.

The worst TV

Do you think today's television is bad? Long for TV's golden years? You might be surprised at the awfulness of those bygone days if you read "The Worst TV Shows Ever: Those Turkeys We Will Never Forget" (Dutton Paperback, 1980). Bart Andrews and Brad Dunning have put together a compendium of TV's tripe, from total losers like "My Mother, the Car" to popular trash like "Gilligan's Island" to the far reaches of tastelessness like "Queen for a Day." Each of the 30 entries includes a description of the format, a listing of the "guilting parties" responsible for making the program and some remarks from the critics. Humorous reading.

Brinkley magazine

NBC News correspondant David Brinkley will anchor "NBC Magazine with David Brinkley," a new weekly program premiering this fall on Fridays. Brinkley will be joined by Betsy Aaron, Douglas Kiker, Jack Perkins and Garrick Utley.

Sonny Shroyer (foreground) stars in "Enos," a new one-hour series to be aired Wednesdays this fall on CBS. Shroyer portrays the popular deputy from "The Dukes of Hazzard" who joins a special unit of the Los Angeles Police Department. Background, left to right, Samuel E. Wright plays Turk, Enos' parter, and John Milford and John Dehner play their superiors, respectively, Capt. Dempsey and Lt. Broggi.

Soapsters take off on summer vacations

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — Taking some summer time off from her work on the soaps was Susan Keith (Cecile Depoulignac on "Another World"). Susan took her mom on a trip to Jamaica to celebrate her 60th birthday. Also on the trip were Susan's sisters, Sally and Carol, who watched Susan practice her skydiving and gliding hobby by diving off a 30-foot cliff.

Phyllis Behar (Anna Craig on "One Life to Live") was another East Coast soap actress who took time off. Phyllis returned to a remote island off the coast of Maine on what has become an annual pilgrimage for her.

Some years ago Phyllis discovered the island while taking part in a sensitivity course for her acting. She's returned each year, alone, to spend time by herself, writing, sketching and taking photographs.

Leslie Denniston (ex-Karen Peters on "As the World Turns") briefly returned to the daytime scene when she did a one-shot on "One Life to Live" as Asa's secretary, Beverly, and a day's shooting as a nursery school owner on "Ryan's Hope." The catch was that both appearances aired on the same day. It's possible that her "RH" role could become a regular, though.

Signing on with "The Young and The Restless" crew was none other than Brett Halsey in the role of cosmetic genius John Abbott. Long-time viewers of "General Hospital" will remember Brett from his Adam Streeter role. Also on "Y&R," Terry Lester is portraying the role of Jack Abbott, John's son.

Stephen Schnetzer first appeared on the daytime scene in the role of Steve Olsen on "Days of Our Lives" out on the West Coast. After that role was written out during one of the "DOOL" writer changes, Stephen arrived on the East Coast and landed a role in the Roundabout Theater Company's revival of Noel Coward's "Fallen Angels." Well, now Stephen is back on a soap; he has been signed to appear on "One Life to Live" as Marcello Salta.

True to her word, Cindy Pickett has once again vacated her Jackie Marler Spaulding role on "Guiding Light." Stepping into the role is daytime newcomer, Carrie Mowery, who bears a striking resemblence to Cindy. Also new to "GL" but not to daytime viewers is Ted Leplat who portrays Holly's brother, Andy Norris. Ted played Elliott Lang on the cancelled "Love of Life."

STARVIEW

Off-and-on weight is performers' constant

By RUTH THOMPSON

It's been said often that our opinions can swing 180 degrees at the drop of a suggestion. And, in their quest for what's new, reports are that we'll find more than one scriptwriter has latched onto anorexia nervosa as his or her shocker of a theme for the coming TV season. The first production, and a major ABC special this fall, will be "Best Little Girl," starring Jodie Foster.

How did so many writers catch on to the dangers of anorexia nervosa — a self-inflicted ailment in which dieting progresses to life-threatening starvation — at about the same time? The same way the rest of us did: from panel discussions on television and interviews with physicians, in addition to newspaper coverage and a few new books. It is usually characterized as an affliction of insecure teen-age girls.

How close to reality will directors expect their young actresses to skinny down?

The era of imprudent crash dieting is pretty well over, even for the high-fashion models who are often told to trim as much as 20 pounds if they want to launch big-money careers before the cameras.

Unlike the days when Barbara Bain — later to become a triple Emmy winner for her role as Cinnamon on "Mission Impossible" — was told to lose 20 pounds (though she was already a sleek size eight), the heads of model agencies now recommend that though spartan, the pared-down routines should follow the rules of good nutrition. After a week on black coffee, Barbara said she realized that in addition to the immediate unpleasantness, she might do long-term damage to her metabolism and to heck with unsupervised fasting.

The luminous Julie Harris, who at her weightiest appears never to tip the scales above 100 pounds, told us that she once fasted for several days, taking not even water, to get not just the look but also the feeling, of a Dutch martyr who died in a Nazi concentration camp. "It was my idea," she explained.

But don't expect that directors of these new films will permit their actresses to emulate Julie's zeal for realism. There are still directors, however, who see no harm in suggesting that actors or actresses put on temporary poundage. In fact, some of them probably consider it a favor.

Somebody who looks at it that way is actor-comedian Paul Dooley. On his own time, he feels guilty if he's not counting calories. But when he was told that a paunch would be more in character for his father role in the hit movie, "Breaking Away," Paul ate on 20 pounds. He just about had it eased off when he was cast as the hamburger-eating Wimpy in the yet-to-be-released movie starring Robin Williams as Popeye. This time, Paul has gained 30 pounds.

Somebody else who didn't mind being told that portly was better was Elizabeth Taylor when Mike Nichols directed her in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

One actress who did have problems readjusting, however, was Ann-Margret, who gained 30 pounds for her role in Nichols' "Carnal Knowledge." "It was worth it, but it changed my metabolism. It was tough to get back down to the right weight for my dancing," she once told us.

CINDY SAYS

Jimmy is outdone; Cloris spreads bread

By CINDY ADAMS

NEW YORK — A grin from Jimmy Stewart: "Rich Little, the imitator, does me better than I do me myself" ... A busload of tourists who stopped in front of Cloris Leachman's pad were invited in. There were 40 of them, plus the driver. Cloris slapped together tuna sandwiches. The question is, how did she happen to have tuna for 40 lying around the house? ... Kristy McNichol, aged 17, is a chainsmoker.

Tony Curtis, about his soon-due boreography: "It'll be so hot, you'll have to wear asbestos gloves when you read it." His career should be so hot, right? ... John Wayne's grandkid, Marie, a teen-ager, is working as a page at Universal this summer.

Mike Douglas picked up a tab for $5,350 as a farewell to his old TV gang. That didn't even include the tip ... Larry Hagman makes his anti-ciggie stand obvious by pointing a hand-held battery-operated fan at the slob who's puffing away near him ... From "Dallas" star Victoria Principal: "I'm quite happy. Close to satiated, if that's possible, and still ambitious" ... Keenan Wynn's oldest daughter has announced her intention to be an actress. Her name's Hilda.

Cheryl Ladd's big hang-up: That the public will think she's just a hula hoop. She wants to do legit theater, "Hamlet" or something.

Rocker Alice Cooper has 22 TV sets in his palatial palazzo in Beverly Hills. With the kind of bread he makes he obviously doesn't have to be a chintz, so he has all 22 going all the time ... Liberace added a floor-length chinchilla coat with a white mink lining and sable hood — he's the understated type — to his wardrobe ... Chairman Mao's chums have to struggle through their revolution without the Bee Gees. Not for all the tea in Shanghai will they be touring there in the near future, despite the interest of the Chinese. The Bee Gees have no time ... Suzanne Somers and husband Alan Hamel dined at a romantic Italian ristorante in Hollywood and they kissed, hugged and slurped all through the antipasto and fettucine. What happened with the main dish, I don't know.

Farrah Fawcett's into avocados. She eats one for lunch, gnaws on nuts and dried apricots for a snack, then gloms onto another luscious avocado for din-din. Eight hundred calories per diem. She uses the skin of the avocado for a facial. Why, I haven't the foggiest, but this is her thing I guess ... 11-year-old Gary Coleman yawns that by the time he's 16 he'll be behind the cameras. He'll be a producer, he yawns again ... Bette Davis: "All I can say about Hollywood's latest crop of new leading men is that it needs a good weedkiller!" ... Cindy Williams: "One guy I dated said the problem with marriage is a fellow can't support a wife and the government on one income."... And from Baldy Savalas: "A man's hair has three basic styles — parted, unparted and departed."

TV PEOPLE

Inflation is the news story, says Dan Cordtz

Dan Cordtz

Few people are more visible at ABC News these days than economics editor Dan Cordtz. With inflation and recession among the major news stories, Cordtz has become a familiar face to viewers of ABC's "World News Tonight," "ABC News Nightline" and "Good Morning America."

One reason for greater economic coverage is the use of new technology. "We are using machinery that makes it easier to explain tough economic stories," says Cordtz. "By making use of equipment like the quantel (which creates digital video effects) and chyron (which generates characters and symbols on the screen), we can make these complex stories understandable."

Cordtz has also found "Special Assignment," the multiple-part reports on "World News Tonight," an important vehicle for increased economic coverage. Since its inception in January 1979, Cordtz has done nine "Special Assignment" reports, more than any other ABC correspondent. Subjects have included inflation, recession, income tax, the auto industry and credit.

"The best way to make tough economic stories understandable is to give them in-depth attention," Cordtz says. "Our 'Special Assignment' reports have allowed me and producer Anthony Seton an opportunity to explain economic stories that normally could not be told under the time constraints of the evening newscast."

For example, on the first evening of the credit card "Special Assignment" report, Cordtz told of the difficulties encountered by Midwest farmers who try to buy on credit. The next evening, he explained the credit crunch for the consumer as far as small loans, mortgages and credit cards are concerned. In his latest report, he told of the plight of the construction industry and small businesses.

"Credit was a perfect example of how a difficult story was told in a clear, concise and understandable manner. Had we tried to tell that 12-minute story in the normal two-minute time frame of the evening news, we probably would not have succeeded," Cordtz said.

But beyond regularly scheduled newscasts, Cordtz and ABC News have found additional time-periods to deliver economic news.

In March, Cordtz was featured in a day-long report on inflation that began on "Good Morning America" and concluded on "ABC News Nightline." The highlight was a half-hour special that explained the causes of inflation and its impact on Americans. In April, Cordtz joined Max Robinson in a prime-time 15-minute special report on recession.

It comes as no surprise that Cordtz is a good writer as well as a good television correspondant. Cordtz came to ABC News after eight years as a writer with Fortune magazine, with two years as Fortune's Washington editor. He spent 11 years with The Wall Street Journal, as Detroit bureau chief, Paris correspondent, Senate correspondent in Washington and as a page one editor. Prior to that, Cordtz was a reporter for the Cleveland Plain Dealer for three years. He was born in Gary, Ind., and was graduated from Stanford University.

While Cordtz enjoys his new role as a correspondent getting a great deal of air time, he remembers the days when economics stories on network newscasts were rare.

"I had to fight to get stories on," said Cordtz. "While everyone realized that economics was an important story, there were many who felt it made for dull television. Now, with inflation eating away at American paychecks and recession putting people out of work, economics has become the major story in this country. Almost any political poll will show that inflation is the biggest concern of the American voter in 1980."

Priscilla Presley, Jim Stafford (lower) and Burgess Meredith will host ABC's new "Those Amazing Animals," which premieres this fall and will air Sundays. The one-hour series will explore the sometimes dangerous but always amazing world of animals.

PAYING A VISIT TO THE FURRY FRIENDS OF THE WILD — About 47 children involved in the Bradley Manor/Crellin Recreation Program, sponsored by the Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., recently visited the M & S Wild Kingdom, five miles north of Oakland on the Oakland-Sang Run Road. In addition to the playful masked wonder, above, and the docile vegetarian, below, the children observed sheep, a variety of birds, a yak and a llama. M & S Kingdom is owned by Edward Moore and Ralph Strauser.

Emergency Feed Aide Available

Ninety-degree temperatures and lack of rainfall have caused extensive crop damage throughout Maryland. The continuous dry spell has also affected the pastureland causing a loss of feed to many livestock owners, according to Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

Livestock producers who have suffered unusual loss of feed because of the drought may receive benefits through the emergency feed assistance program offered by the ASCS, said Crowl. The program reimburses livestock owners who have suffered 40 percent or more loss of normal feed production. The rate of reimbursement is 50 percent of the cost of eligible feed purchased, not to exceed two cents per pound of feed grain equivalent.

Crowl noted that livestock eligible under this program includes beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep, goats and swine. Benefits are available to any owner of livestock who has suffered a substantial loss of feed normally produced, on the conditions that the owner does not have sufficient feed for the livestock, and that the owner is required to purchase a quantity of feed greater than normal.

Crowl urged producers to file applications for assistance as soon as a 40 percent loss of feed has been determined, since the payments can only be made on purchased feed used after the application was filed. Applications for losses on the 1980 crops must be filed before December 31, 1980.

"For additional information contact the ASCS County Office," said Crowl.

GRANTSVILLE

The Maple Grove Women's Fellowship met at the Church on Monday afternoon for its Monthly Meeting, with Alice Younkin, president, presiding over the monthly meeting. Devotions consisted of the 100th Psalm, the poem, "I Do Not Ask O Lord" followed by prayer and the poem "If."

The past events were discussed and plans were made to make a quilt. Plans for the "Area Christian Women's Fellowship" at the church were discussed as well as plans for the Annual Homecoming on September 12 with the Rev. Jesse and Mrs. Whitacre as Home Coming speakers. A sale dinner is planned for September 6.

The Woodmen Unit No. 128 members, along with families, leaders and friends, totalling 51 persons spent Sunday at Kennywood Park. They were taken there by a bus furnished by Casselman Motor Co. and driven by Thomas Bender.

Miss Leona Butler and Joyce Taylor of Akron, Ohio, surprised Mr. and Mrs. Loy Miller one day last week by spending some of their vacation with them.

Mrs. Vadna Henline and granddaughter Dawn Downing of Silver Spring, spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loy Miller.

Fred Holiday is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Mrs. Jane Wable is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

QUESTION:

"Our natural gas bills go up and down with the seasons. Any way to change that?"

ANSWER:

"Columbia's Budget Payment Plan evens them out. You pay the same every month, summer and winter."

August is sign-up month for the Columbia Budget Payment Plan. Which means that starting in September, your natural gas bills can be averaged out, and you'll have the same, predictable amount to pay each month. Summer and winter.

For example, a family with a total bill for the year of $564.00 will pay $47.00 each month on the Budget Payment Plan. And have the assurance of knowing what each bill will be. Without the Budget Payment Plan, a summer bill could be as low as $12.00, but their February bill could reach $95.00.

Gone are the extremes. You'll pay more in the summer, but you'll pay a lot less in the winter. And at the end of 12 months, if you've paid for more natural gas than you've used, you get a credit.

Over one-third of our residential customers are now using the Budget Payment Plan. And August is the month to sign up. So act soon. To start the Plan—or receive a brochure that explains it more fully—contact your Columbia Gas office. Also ask for a copy of our free conservation tips booklet, "The Everyday Energy Saver's Guide."

COLUMBIA GAS
Still your best energy value.
And we want to keep it that way.

Assault, Battery Head Court Docket

A Deer Park man was found guilty of battery during the August 18 District Court session.

Gale Hardesty, 24, was fined $25 as the result of an altercation between himself and Jack Jones of Oakland.

According to the complainant, he and Hardesty became involved in a shoving match after lewd remarks were directed by the defendant to Jones' girlfriend on a city street.

Oakland police officer Ronald Beeghly charged Carl David Freeland, 24, Oakland, with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct as a result of an incident during the early morning hours of July 13.

According to the report, Freeland was observed on a downtown street in Oakland in an apparent intoxicated condition. When ordered to move on, the defendant did so, but was later discovered lying on the sidewalk, apparently asleep. As Officer Beeghly attempted to help the defendant to his feet, he resisted arrest and struck at the officer.

Judge Jones found Freeland guilty and levied fines totaling $75.

A pre-sentence investigation has been ordered for Donald Ray Hart, Kitzmiller, who was found guilty of assault and battery charges filed against him by Jean Zickerfoose, also of Kitzmiller.

According to the complainant, Hart, in an intoxicated condition, began arguing, using obscene language, and waving a gun around. Ms. Zickerfoose claims her life was threatened, and she was struck by the defendant.

Oakland police officer James Seeders filed charges of assault and battery and resisting arrest against Nina Mae Fisher, 40, Aurora, W. Va.

According to the complainant, he was called to a disturbance in the auto of Marion (Tex) Fisher, husband of the defendant. Officer Seeders reported that Ms. Fisher grabbed an open knife from the car seat and attempted to stab her husband. When Officer Seeders reached through the window to block the attack, the defendant threatened to stab him also. Mr. Fisher reportedly then attempted to intervene and was cut on the fingers. The knife had to be forcibly taken from Ms. Fisher by the officer.

Judge Jones found Ms. Fisher guilty on all charges. A pre-sentence investigation has been ordered.

Judge Jones found Lester Martin Lewis, Jr., 26, Oakland, guilty of theft, and levied a $25 fine.

According to charges filed by Oakland police officer Ronald Beeghly, the defendant was reportedly seen on a train near the Ralph Pritts & Sons Used Car Lot. When Officer Beeghly arrived on the scene, Lewis and a companion were found beside an auto in the car lot along with a five-gallon can and a hose, which was in the gas tank of one of the cars.

Two Friendsville men charged by Maryland State Police with disturbing the peace and public intoxication stemming from an incident on a public street in that town. They were both found guilty and were fined according to each charge.

Dale Eugene Coddington, 27, was fined a total of $50 for public drinking in a prohibited place and disorderly conduct.

Espy Emerson Hook, 23, was also found guilty of disorderly conduct and fined $25.

Hutson Family Reunion Noted

The first Hutson Family Reunion was held on August 16 at Hamill Farm, located near Kitzmiller. Approximately 50 persons were in attendance from Cumberland, Gaithersburg, Bowie, Grantsville, Accident, Mt. Lake Park, Hyattsville, Rawlings, Upper Marlboro, Oakland, Kitzmiller, Swanton, Birmingham, Alabama; Richmond, Virginia; and Salisbury, N.C. There were four children, 11 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren present, along with friends and relatives.

George L. Hutson gave the invocation and John H. Hutson awarded the gifts and prizes. In addition to L. C. Hutson, aged 89, the oldest person present was Paul C. Junkins, aged 83, Cumberland.

The youngest child present was Matthew Watson, aged 3 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Watson, Bowie. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hutson, Rawlings, were the longest married couple. The largest family present was that of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Watson with six children present. The most recently married couple was Mr. and Mrs. Craig Hutson, Swanton. Mrs. Phil Nelson, Birmingham, Alabama travelled the longest distance. Misses Coni Hutson and Suzanne Ryan were in charge of the day's recreation and entertainment.

Epilepsy Association Opens New Office

The Epilepsy Association of Maryland opened a new office in Western Maryland to serve persons with epilepsy. Under a grant from the state Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the Epilepsy Association will be offering individual and group counseling; self-help groups; in-service training; employment counseling; information and referral.

The new office, located at 23 North Locust Street, Hagerstown, has been open since mid-July. Persons in need of services or information should contact Hector Gomez at (301) 733-7579. All inquiries are welcome.

Senior Citizens Reminded Of State Pharmacy Program

Many Marylanders with low incomes, especially senior citizens, can be aided by the State-funded Maryland Pharmacy Assistance Program which has been in operation for more than one year, according to the Maryland Department of Health and Hygiene.

The department reminds Marylanders that this program offers assistance in defraying costs of prescription drugs and some medical supplies. Presently approximately 11,000 persons are enrolled in this program.

In reminding persons about the program, the Department said that research has shown that individuals who are enrolled in the program tend to use the pharmacy benefits due them. It feels, however, that there are many more persons eligible to participate if they would apply.

Eligibility for the program is based on a household's financial resources. The new income limits, effective July 1, 1980, state that a single person must have a gross annual income of $4,400 or less, and cash assets of $2,500 or less. An additional $500 in gross income and $100 in cash assets are allowed for a spouse and for each child under 18 in the household.

For covered items, program recipients pay $1 for each prescription and each refill. Items covered are legend drugs (those drugs requiring a prescription by law), insulin, needles and syringes, and certain contraceptives.

Brochures explaining the Maryland Pharmacy Assistance Program and application forms are available from any local Health Department or Social Service office; by writing to M.P.A.P., P. O. Box 386, Baltimore, Maryland 21203; or by calling 1-800-492-1974.

Now you can get Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage regardless of your health*

OPEN ENROLLMENT

Now, during a special Open Enrollment period, you can obtain Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage regardless of the condition of your health.

If you're not already a Blue Cross and Blue Shield member and are not eligible for Medicare, this is a great opportunity for you and your family.

Even if you have not been able to get coverage in the past, now you will. Without any medical questionnaire. Without any health statements. You will be accepted automatically.

*Even health conditions that currently exist will be covered after this membership has been in effect for nine months.

But you must act quickly. Open Enrollment ends at midnight September 10, 1980.

At a glance, here's the kind of coverage you'll get.

Blue Cross to protect you against hospital costs.

You'll be protected for up to 30 days of hospital inpatient care on an 80/20 copayment basis. This means we pay 80% of the costs, and you pay 20%, but it also means a lower premium rate. And, your 20% responsibility is limited to a maximum of $500 for each stay in the hospital.

This coverage includes a semi-private room, board, general nursing care, and other customary hospital services; up to 30 days of inpatient maternity care; and in-hospital care for mental and nervous conditions in a Member hospital.

Also, emergency outpatient care received at a Member hospital within 72 hours of an accidental injury, and minor surgery performed on an outpatient basis, are covered in full. We pay 100% of these costs. You pay nothing.

Blue Shield Plan "i" to protect you against medical and surgical costs.

Benefits under Plan "i" are provided, according to an established schedule, based on the surgical procedure performed. They are not subject to the copayment provision of the Blue Cross portion of the Open Enrollment Program.

Plan "i" also provides benefits for physician medical care provided to hospital inpatients for up to 30 days as well as maternity care, consultations, anesthesia and a wide range of other services.

Maternity benefits are available after this coverage has been in effect for eight consecutive months. Benefits also are available for the removal of tonsils and adenoids after the membership has been in effect continuously for six months.

Sign up before Open Enrollment closes.

Just clip and mail the coupon below. But send no money. You will receive complete information including a listing of subscription rates and an application. Simply complete the application and return it to us by September 10, 1980.

(Of course, enrollment in other Blue Cross and Blue Shield programs is available with medical underwriting at any time.)

GRANTSVILLE ROTARY PRESENTS HEARING DEVICE FOR THE DEAF — The Grantsville Rotary Club recently presented a MonoFonator to Ann Getty, educator and speech pathologist for the Maryland School for the Deaf, to benefit her students by enabling them to "hear" through vibrations. The presentation was made at the Hilltop Inn, Grantsville, at an August 13 meeting. Pictured with Mrs. Getty above are, left to right, Douglas Garland, vice president, and James Mitchell, president.

Rotary Club Of Grantsville Holds Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Grantsville Rotary Club was held at the Hilltop Inn, Grantsville, on Wednesday, August 13. Two events highlighted the meeting: a presentation made to Mrs. Ann Getty and a Rotary talk given by District Governor Pat Gianopoulos.

President James Mitchell and member Del Proudfoot presented a Siemans MonoFonator to Mrs. Getty. This device enables those with hearing losses to "hear" through vibrations. The machine was purchased by the Grantsville Rotary Club at a cost of over $1,000. Although it will remain the property of the Club, the MonoFonator will be used for the benefit of western Maryland residents by Mrs. Getty in her capacity as an educator and speech pathologist for the Maryland School for the Deaf. She is involved in preschool and parent counseling programs. Following the presentation she demonstrated the use of the machine for interested members.

The impetus for the Club's acquiring the device was Mrs. Getty's speaking to the Club about her work at a meeting in the spring of this year. Her enthusiasm for her work and first hand knowledge of her abilities, seen through her helping of a Club member's daughter, inspired the Club to buy the machine. The cost of this device will be met through a variety of fund raising projects carried out by the Grantsville Rotarians in the months ahead.

For the second part of the evening's program president Mitchell welcomed Dr. Pat Gianopoulos, District Governor of Rotary District 735, who spoke to members and guests about Rotary as an organization that is devoted to service to others. He also described his goals for the District during his year as its District Governor.

Among his goals, Dr. Gianopoulos listed the naming of one new Paul Harris Fellow or Sustaining Fellow by each Club. He announced that, as of this meeting, the Grantsville Rotary Club had doubled that goal. Charles O. Bender and Harry C. Edwards, both charter members of the Club, were named Paul Harris Sustaining Fellows. Contributions will be made in their honor for a period of time to the Rotary Foundation, a philanthropic agency of Rotary International.

The District Governor is in family medical practice in Philipsburg, Pa., and is a member of the Philipsburg Rotary Club. His wife, Norma, who travelled with him, was entertained for the evening by Mrs. Hazel Klotz, wife of member Danny Klotz. District 735 includes 43 clubs ranging from northern Pennsylvania to West Virginia and includes all of western Maryland.

Fourteen Killed On State Roadways

Fourteen persons lost their lives on Maryland highways according to the weekly News Release compiled by Lt. C. R. Troutman of the Maryland State Police. Of these fatalities, ten were drivers, two were passengers and two were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in 12 and driver error was present in 12.

Persons killed through August 24, 1980 total 469, compared to 427 for the same period last year.

Rabid Bats On The Increase, Precaution Procedures Noted

The State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene reports four Marylanders are undergoing anti-rabies treatment and a dozen unvaccinated pet dogs and cats have been destroyed because of bat bites. Confirmed rabid bats reported to date this year number 23.

The department notes that the 23 bat cases represents the second highest cumulative total to date in Maryland. The highest yearly total of 46 bat bites was recorded in 1976, when a Cecil County resident became the first human rabies fatality in Maryland in 25 years.

Dr. Kenneth L. Crawford, Chief, Division of Veterinary Medicine, attributes the high incidence of bat reports to an increased bat population with rabid specimens more numerous.

An open invitation is often given to bats to invade private dwellings when home storm and wind damage is unrepaired. Broken windows, screens, siding, and roofs attract bats to invade homes because they offer safe shelter.

Dr. Crawford suggests, if bats are in a residence, the ideal way to bat-proof is to inspect the entire building including the roof and foundation for openings 3/8 inch or larger and close off all openings except the principal opening where bats enter and leave.

The best way to pinpoint these locations is to station 2 people on the outside of your property at least 45 minutes before and after twilight to visually locate the opening used by bats leaving the building to feed.

The following day, with repair material assembled, wait until approximately 2 hours after dark before closing the remaining openings which then prevent access to the returning bats. The following evening repeat the visual inspection to determine your effectiveness. This method prevents trapping bats inside the building where they could die and cause odor problems or else work their way into the living areas of the house.

Few incidents are more unsettling than the unexpected arrival of a bat in the living area of a house. Dr. Crawford suggests that the occupants leave the room, turning on the lights and closing the door. If the room has one or two windows, wait about 45 minutes for the bat to find a refuge before entering and opening the windows and screens. This will establish a detectable air current that the bat will sense. Again, leave the room turning off the lights and allow 45 minutes for the bat to find the air current and escape. After the bat departs, turn on the lights, close the windows, and seal off the opening used by the bat to get inside.

Bats found on the ground should not be captured alive and they should never be kept as pets; studies show that about one third of bats have rabies. Bats should be killed with a broom or shovel. Dead bats can be safely shovelled into plastic bags or paper containers and delivered to local health departments for testing if a person has been bitten.

Limousin — The Butcher's Animal

Windy Acres Ranch... Pioneering In Genetics

By Carol Kapel

Upon entering the home of Bill and Norma Slagle, one would never suspect that within those walls, history is being made.

Nowhere else in the state of West Virginia is there a pioneer program in effect involving a product of tomorrow quite as unique as the Limousin embryo transplant.

The Limousin, a French breed import beef stock, is known in Europe as the 'butcher's animal,' due to the extraordinary beef-producing, milk-producing records continually being set by the breed.

This remarkable embryo transplant process began in March of 1979, when Bill and Ron Slagle, owners of Windy Acres Limousin Ranch, Bruceton Mills, W. Va., began the search for a way to obtain more than one calf per year from their superior cattle.

The Slagles became aware of Dr. Lloyd Banbury, Ontario, Canada, who performs in the highly specialized field of embryo transplant in cattle. Through a non-surgical process, the Slagles are managing a 70 percent success rate in obtaining pregnancies.

The percentage compares to the success rate of artificial insemination, according to Mr. Slagle. The cost of surgical transfers averages $2500; the embryo transplant process is considerably less, making it feasible for common use in the near future.

The process is a facinating one. The donor cows (those undergoing artificial insemination) are given multiple ovulation hormones. The recipient cows (those who will receive the embryo) as well as the donors, then receive hormone injections to change their normal heat cycle. In this way, they all show estrus (or heat) at the same time, and the donor cows should produce several eggs, rather than just one.

The treatment process is called synchronization. The reproductive systems of all the cows involved in a transfer must be at the same stage at the same time.

To insure this fact the Slagles work closely with Dr. Keith Inskeep, professor of animal and veterinary science at West Virginia University. Dr. Inskeep prepares the cows for the transfer process.

The donor cows receive follicle stimulating hormones for five days to promote the release of several eggs for fertilization rather than just the usual one. On the eighth day after breeding the embryos are flushed from the donor cow with a special fluid that protects the eggs during the transfer. The eggs are then examined under a microscope to see if they are fertilized. Those fertilized eggs are then processed, packaged into straws, and inserted into the uterus of the recipient cows using the artificial insemination process.

The advantage of this procedure is obvious, according to the Slagles. The donor cows, the herd's finest, will be ready once again to produce eggs in 28 days. Because a cow's gestation period is 286 days, this system allows a breeder to obtain any number of calves per year, depending on the amount of 'recipient mothers' in his herd. The recipient cow (the one which actually carries and gives birth to the superior quality calves) can be a 'scrub stock' animal, since the embryo is not actually her genetic offspring. The recipient cow acts only as a 'foster' mother. Embryo transplants can accomplish in one generation what it takes nature many generations to accomplish.

The Slagles selected their purebred Limousin cattle, originally imported from France, and bred them artificially with an outstanding Limousin bull named Sooner. After raising cattle for nearly 30 years, obtaining breeds from 27 states and three countries, the Slagles have determined that the Limousin breed is the most profitable and efficient beef-producing animal to be found.

The Slagles own one of the only three Golden Certified Meat Sires in the United States, the Limousin bull, Mr. Ballygoran Kiwi. The prize winning animal was flown to the U. S. from Ireland, and since its arrival, the Slagles are actively involved in the campaign to promote Limousins. Interstate Farms, Reedsville, W. Va., one of the largest cattle producers in the tri-state area, has been sold on the Limousin as a direct result of the Slagles' influence.

As a prime example of Limousin superiority, the Slagle prize bull gained six pounds per day, as compared to the one to three pound per day growth rate now considered good by many breeders. At 24 months old, Kiwi had a 21½ square inch rib-eye when scanned at the University of Maryland. That ties the world record.

Because the Limousin is genetically trimmed and can meet today's consumer demand for more red meat, the Slagles are convinced that farmers all over the country will soon realize the worth of the Limousin over all other breeds.

The Slagles, who were selected as West Virginias 'Outstanding Purebred Beef Producer' family for 1979 by the West Virginia Department of Agriculture, feel the embryo transplant process can greatly benefit breeders because of the efficiency and cost reduction involved.

Any number of the breeder's calves can be the result of one of the finest quality bulls in the United States and a choice high quality female. Investing in a more valuable cow would be worthwhile, knowing a minimum of 20 to 30 superior calves would come from her in the first year. Dairy farmers could pass on the characteristics of the finest milk-producing members of their herds to the offspring.

Hopefully, the future holds such innovations as frozen embryos, specific sexes matched and mated to individual desires, and a cost reduction in the process, allowing it to become the leader in the production of the red meat and quality milk in a more efficient, practical manner.

VENUS SURFACE

The surface of Venus has been mapped by radar. The instrument was carried on the Pioneer Venus spacecraft. Many features on Venus are similar to those on other planets. Some features are different though. The highest point on Venus is 11.1 kilometers (36,500 feet) above the average height of the Venusian surface. It is part of a high plateau, one higher than the Tibetan plateau and twice as large. There are many craters on Venus similar to those on our Moon. Most of the surface is relatively flat, rolling plains.

MOON

Last Quarter phase of the Moon will be at 2:08 p.m. on Monday. At this time, the Moon will be 90 degrees west of the Sun as observed from Earth. Moonrise will be at 9:11 p.m. today and at 28 minutes past midnight next Tuesday.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Venus and Mars will be the most easily observed planets during the coming week. Venus will be visible for about 3½ hours before the Sun rises. Mars will be visible for about 2 hours after sunset with the stars of Virgo.

DAYLIGHT DECREASES

By next Tuesday, there will be 14 minutes less daylight than there was today. Sunrise was at 6:41 this morning. Sunset will be at 7:56 tonight. Next Tuesday the Sun will rise at 6:46 a.m. and set at 7:47 p.m. Today there will be 13 hours 15 minutes of daylight.

Today is the 240th day of 1980. The Sun will follow the same path today that it followed last April 15th.

Jerry Roth Honored At Family Picnic

Two Appointed To Hospital Cardio-Pulmonary Department

Eric Tribbey

Tom Sedlak

The Garrett County Memorial Hospital and Ventilation Associates, Inc., of Houston, Texas, announce the appointments of Eric Tribbey, Director of the Cardio-Pulmonary Department, and Tom Sedlak, Assistant Director of the Cardio-Pulmonary Department at the hospital. Ventilation Associates, Inc., of Houston, Texas, is under contract to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital to provide cardio-pulmonary services.

Eric Tribbey comes to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital from the University Hospital, University of Washington in Seattle, Washington, where he was employed as a supervisor in the cardio-pulmonary department. Tribbey is a registered respiratory therapist and has a B.S. degree from Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. He now resides in Friendsville.

Tom Sedlak comes to Garrett County from Omaha, Nebraska. He was employed at the University of Nebraska Medical Center and holds an associate degree in respiratory therapy from the College of St. Mary's in Omaha, Nebraska. He and his wife, Joyce, and their daughter, Kendra, now reside on Crosby Drive, Oakland. Sedlak's hobbies include tennis, canoeing and skiing.

Red Cross To Raise Funds For Flood Victims

Flooding streams and rivers in this area have contributed to a cleanup operation costing more than $240,000, according to Col. J. H. Jackson, U. S. Army Ret., spokesman for the Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross. Col. Jackson stated that in the immediate four-state area 2,284 families have been affected by high water, with many homes suffering major structural damage.

Red Cross has announced a campaign to raise $150,000 to help offset the cost of disaster relief operation. To date, 825 families have been assisted. Food, clothing, shelter, emergency medical assistance, cleanup supplies and followup casework have been provided by Red Cross to flood victims.

Jackson said that disaster relief operations will continue into next week although activity now is winding down. "As long as no further rains hit the area, we'll be able to finish cleanup efforts soon. Offsetting Red Cross relief expenses will take somewhat longer, but we're appealing to local residents for contributions to help Red Cross."

Contributions should be designated for Flood victims and sent care of the Garrett County Chapter, American Red Cross, 233 N. Second Street, Oakland, MD 21550.

Woodrow Jackson Honored On Birthday

ACCIDENT

Pastor Fred Illick of Zion Lutheran Church celebrated his 20th Anniversary of Ordination into the Ministry, Thursday, August 21. A Community Card Shower was held in his honor.

Before coming to Accident in 1973, he served parishes in Greensboro, N.C. and Washington, D. C. He also served his year of vicarage in the Panama Canal Zone.

In Accident, besides serving as Pastor of Zion Church, he is an active member of Northern Rescue Squad, also the Accident Fire Company, and is acting president of the Accident Housing Corporation with their Town View Village Project.

His wife, Marilyn, serves as Church Organist and teaches at the Friendsville school. They have three sons, James, Mark and Timothy, and one daughter, Maria Joy. His mother, Mrs. Lillian Illick, also resides in Accident.

The Garrett County Historical Society's annual tour will begin at the Accident School September 13 at 9:30 a.m. A bus will transport the tourists to points of interest in the Savage River State Forest. Each tourist is to pack a lunch and bring it along. A small fare will be charged to defray the cost of the bus. Members of the society and all other interested persons are welcome to take the trip.

SUNNYSIDE-UNDERWOOD

A carry-in covered dish dinner was held at the farm home near Gortner of Pastor and Mrs. Charles Teets on Saturday evening. Tours of the newly renovated home were made and swimming was an activity of the younger group. Different people from Rev. Teets pastorate from Crellin participated. Local ones included the families of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Savage, Mrs. Burlena Upole and children, Mr. and Mrs. George White, and Bessie Canon.

The Peterson family held its family reunion on Sunday at the Broadford Lake Recreation pavilion with about 109 people represented. Mr. Earl Peterson of West Miflin, Pa. conducted the business meeting and George Lee, Orville, Ohio gave a short talk.

Families were represented from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Florida, West Virginia and distant areas of Maryland. Local families attending included the Robert Fords, Walter Peterson's, Robert Upole's, George Ronald White's, Brenda Graham, Bessie Canan and Myrtle Fulk.

Services were conducted on Saturday afternoon from Stewart Funeral Home for the late Ernest Strawser by Rev. Charles Teets and Rev. Gail Hixon. Burial was in Pleasant Valley Cemetery. Mr. Strawser was a brother of Mrs. Myrtle Custer. Bessie Canan attended and visited with the former's children, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Strawser, of Virginia, Mervin Strawser, Adrian, Mich., Rita Duncan of Florida and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Graham and son Scott, Morgantown, W. Va.

George Lee, Orville, Ohio was guest speaker at the Sunday evening worship services at the Underwood Church. His mother, Mrs. Anna Lee and his wife and child also attended.

A mission project was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Kauffman, Pleasant Valley, near Gortner on Thursday by about 74 people participating when a wagon load of sweet corn was cleaned and prepared for drying in the drying vats of Miller's Rigidply establishment. This amounted to about 78 gallons of dried sweet corn to be sent directly to the Haitian Missions.

This project for the Missions has been in operation by the Amish for about 10 or 12 years and will continue with an apple cutting and drying for this week and another load of corn to be prepared in the future.

An error appeared in last weeks items when it was stated Mr. James returned from Garrett County Memorial Hospital. It should have been James Savage.

Charlie Morris, Vera Dignan of Gorman, and Clyde Boling of Silver Lake were recent callers of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boling.

Bessie Canan visited one evening recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Arnold. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold had as house guest Mrs. Arnold's sister, Mrs. Velma Holsopple, near Annapolis, for a few weeks.

Mrs. Canan also visted with Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge White, Eglon, W. Va., where Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennison of Clarksburg, W. Va. and Washington, D. C. were guests. Mrs. Dennison is the former Miss Helen Root, who was here to attend the funeral of her brother, Carl Root on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Othie Myers of Detroit, Mich. have been spending two weeks vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Friend. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ellifritz of Wilmington, Del. arrived at the Friend residence the latter part of the week. Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Ellifritz are sisters of Mrs. Friend. Another sister, Mrs. Grace Hartman is visiting Mrs. Nellie Ford in Crellin.

Rev. and Mrs. Billy Foster accompanied their son Vincent Foster, on Thursday, to Shrub Oak, New York, where Vincent enrolled in Bible Institute for study in the ministry.

The Underwood Bible study group met on Thursday afternoon to reconvene for their regular Bible study. The meeting was held at the newly constructed pavilion on the church grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kisner of Fountain, Fla., were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kisner and family.

Bittinger-Glades

Church News

No Word and Witness class for St. John's will be held this week.

Rev. Elmer Jantzi, Irwin, Ohio, was the preacher for revival services at Cherry Glade Mennonite Church all last week. While here, he was a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Maust.

Carla Bender and Ernest Miller will be married next Sunday in the Cherry Glade Church at 2 p.m. A reception will follow. Everyone is invited to attend.

Wiley Reunion Held

The annual Wiley Reunion was held on Sunday at the Bittinger Fire Hall. There were about 100 in attendance.

Hospital News

Duncan MacDonald has returned home from surgery at Shadyside Hospital, Pittsburgh, and is recuperating at home.

Herbert Buckel returned home on Thursday from Memorial Hospital after having been a patient there for a week.

Personal Items

Mr. and Mrs. John Ruff, Brenda and Mike Ruff, Oakland, were Wednesday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buckel.

The Keir family returned home to Fort Worth, Texas, on Friday, after spending an extended vacation with Rita Keir's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buckel.

Mrs. Jean Cope, Cumberland, was a Friday visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buckel, and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brenneman and children were Sunday afternoon visitors.

Keith Gross, Willard Metzer, and Debbie Aeschliman, who are doing voluntary service in Columbus, Ohio, were Sunday evening supper guests of Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Maust. All are friends of Gerald Maust.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Reckner were Lloyd Brenneman, North Glade; Mr. and Mrs. James Glotfelty and Lisa, Linda and Sheli Bittinger.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reckner, Mr. and Mrs. James Glotfelty and Lisa, Mrs. Linda Bittinger and Sheli were Saturday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Glotfelty, Frostburg. Other guests at dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harmon, daughter, Holly, Cove; and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Carey and two sons, Frostburg.

Mr. and Mrs. James Frantz, Ridgeley, W. Va.; and Mr. and Mrs. George Moats, Oakland, were recent visitors of Martha Glotfelty.

REAL ESTATE

Douglas W. Spaulding Real Estate winds up a smashing summer season... THE LONDON OBSERVER

"Top Hat"

The lavish Hollywood sets for this 1935 production, set off a decorating trend which came to be known as "Hollywood Modern," and it established a national standard for modern elegance. True elegance remains at STATE PARK ROAD. . .Picture an elegantly landscaped lot, flourishing with rhododendron, evergreens, woodland paths, an English-terraced garden with gazebo, surmounted by a unique five-bedroom cottage. Picture a covered outdoor patio, built-in stone barbecue with fan ventilation, a rustic log guest cottage, and an outbuilding with laundry facilities, workshop, and attached carport. Roam through the interior of the main house, relax near a baronial fireplace, and wake up to a view of Deep Creek Lake in your spacious master bedroom. Wormy chestnut paneling and tastefully appointed furnishings complete the picture. Elegance was never this affordable . . . . . $97,500.

"All in your own backyard"

MARSH HILL ROAD — This three-bedroom home presents everything that Garrett County has to offer, right in your own backyard. A 100-foot lakefront lot gently slopes to the De[SOLD]rs and this solid cut-stone ranc within walking distance of the Wisp Ski area. The living room has a full wall cut-stone fireplace and a large picture window view of the lake. Attractive owner financing is available to qualified buyer. For 12 months a year you'll be glad you did . . . . . .

Douglas W. Spaulding Real Estate: an award-winning plot. — courteous, professional, efficient, and talented . . . ATLANTIC REVIEW

"On The Waterfront"

Audiences of 1954 were moved by this film in which Marlon Brando rocketed to stardom under the direction of Elia Kazan. Karl Malden, Lee J. Cobb, Eva Marie Saint, and Rod Steiger fueled the reviews and Leonard Bernstein musically underscored Brando's best performance. Enjoy your own waterfront in TURKEY NECK, and watch the sailing regatta from your front porch. This small log cottage is situated on three lots fronting 181 ft. on Deep Creek Lake . . . . . $125,000.

"Storybook Forest"

BOY SCOUT ROAD — This was built for the romantic in your family - a picturesque stone and frame cottage right from a scenario in "Brigadoon". Two smaller cottages, aptly named "Wee [SOLD]d "Not-so-Wee Cottage", adjo house. All are charmingly complete and situated on an aggregate of four lots . . . that's 2.71 acres with 318.68 feet of lakefront! Enjoy an evening cocktail and oversee your dream house from a unique "crow's nest" deck. Make this fairy tale home a reality . . .

"La Dolce Vita (The Sweet Life)"

Pioneer film-maker, Federico Fellini wrote and directed this imaginative vehicle for Marcello Mastriano and it is considered a superlative achievement in a brilliant, revolutionary cinema style. Live your own sweet life on BECKMAN'S PENINSULA — This duplex with lake access is an exceptional value. Rent one unit and enjoy the other yourself. A brick fireplace, and knotty pine paneling in the kitchen/dining area make this feel like home. All this on a 0.46 wooded acre lot with shared dock. Consider the possibilities . . . . . $33,500.

NORTH GLADE ROAD — ½-acre woodland with a travel trailer that sleeps 6, kitchen, dining area, bath. Well, septic and electric hookup. Great for family who enjoys camping . . . . . $11,900.

SKY VALLEY — Exceptional chalet offered fully furnished. Large living room with native stone fireplace, 3 bedrooms plus loft. Situated on well manicured lot. Dock and DEEP CREEK LAKE privileges included. Many extras combine to make this one of our outstanding offerings for year 'round or seasonal living . . . . . $72,500.

BECKMAN'S PENINSULA — 0.64-acre wooded lot with lake access, approved for building . . . . . $13,000.

STOCKSLAGER ROAD — ½-acre level wooded lot with 125 feet fronting on lake . . . . . $26,500.

HOYES RUN ROAD — Ideal cottage for hunting or fishing. 2.72 acres fronting on a flowing stream and just off a paved county road in a rustic setting with privacy. It's ready for your finishing touch and is just minutes from the Ski Wisp and Deep Creek Lake . . . . . $12,500.

SHINGLE CAMP TERRACE — Wooded lakefront lot improved with a 12x24 cottage.

HARVEY'S PENINSULA — Wooded one-half acre lake access lot. Owner will finance . . . . . $6,990.

PARADISE POINT ROAD — Attractive ½-acre building lot with lake access, docks, picnic area, etc. Health Dept. approved and ready for building . . . . . $10,000.

"You Can't Take It With You"

In a singing and dancing spree, Jimmy Stewart and Jean Arthur toasted the good life in this 1938 lighthearted film. If they would have waltzed over to LAKE SHORE DRIVE, they would have had a rare opportunity to purchase a chestnut log lodge, handcrafted with care in the days when homes were built to endure for generations. A large native stone fireplace serves to heat in all but the most bitter weather, with an oil hot-air backup system. All natural wood throughout provides warmth and atmosphere. Large living room, dining area, with massive stone fireplace, three bedrooms and bath. Offered complete with furnishings and a boat with 100 h.p. engine. As if that weren't enough. . .add a matching guest cottage containing sleeping accommodations for 12 on two levels with two baths and kitchenette. All on a nicely landscaped lakefront lot . . . . . $92,500.

"The Jazz Singer"

Al Jolson starred in Warner Brothers' first "talkie" film in 1927, with three songs and a smattering of dialogue. Al would have really had something to sing about had he moved his piano to SKIPPER'S POINT. This gracious home captures the spirit of a country estate, situated on a large wooded lot with 100 ft. of lakefront. The downstairs is richly paneled and luxuriously carpeted, with an enticing cut stone fireplace. Upstairs, an equally tasteful apartment will generate an appreciable rental income, or will house your extra guests. The "Swiss" exterior, large patio-porch, and overhanging redwood deck present an enviable appearance from the large dock. The price is right . . . . . $115,000.

"A Place In The Sun"

Director George Stevens used huge close-ups of Elizabeth Taylor and Montgomery Clift in this "mature" film of 1951. The film caused the censors and critics some consternation, but none could criticize THOUSAND ACRES, where wildlife abounds in one of the more secluded areas of Deep Creek Lake. An attractive two-bedroom starter cottage located on a gently sloping lakefront lot in a prestige non-development. This little retreat promises utility as well as a nice view of the lake from your armchair. Capture the spirit of a remote mountain lakefront setting and while away summer hours in your own place in the sun . . . . . $70,600.

DEEP CREEK LAKE

ROMAN NOSE SPA — A classic A-Frame with three bedrooms lovingly hidden in a secluded section of Roman Nose Spa, high above Deep Creek Lake. Solid wood construction and [SOLD]sive fireplace add atmosphere, wi inventive outdoor barbecue is gilding the lily. Your nearest neighbors in this wooded retreat are the evening songbirds.

"The Best Years Of Our Lives"

In 1946, Dana Andrews, Myrna Loy and Frederic March highlighted a post-WW II drama of returning veterans, with the obligatory happy ending. The best years of your life could be spent in GREEN GLADE. Get away from it all and bring family and friends with you. Four bedrooms, a modern kitchen and full bath are very accommodating, - and complete the new addition to serve any whim. A large, level lakefront lot will keep the kids entertained while Mom and Dad unwind from a hectic week. A perfect beginning . . . . . $49,900.

From selection to settlement, Douglas W Spaulding Real Estate turns in another class act. HIGHBROW MAGAZINE

"The More The Merrier"

Charles Coburn and Joel McCrea starred in Garson Kanin's hilarious account of the hazards of housing in 1943. The movie was filmed in Washington, D. C., a perfect place to escape from and head instead to McHENRY — This three-apartment brick and siding house is an investor's dream. A spacious lakefront lot holds an especially nice porch view of the lake. Each apartment has two bedrooms, bath, modern kitchen and living room. Let us show you your next income-producing property. Call our office for further details.

"All This And Heaven Too"

Bette Davis and Charles Boyer starred in Warner Brothers' 1940 classic, which was one of the first full-length films, - it ran for 23 reels! These two Hollywood luminaries would have been very comfortable on HARVEY'S PENINSULA — A colonial living room, brick fireplace with tubular grate and blower, rich wormy chestnut finishings and doors, and hardwood floors make this a woodman's delight. A variety of sleeping quarters, laundry room, and ¾ basement with covered storage area, all add up to sensibility. View your 100 ft. lakefront lot from a screened-in porch, barbecue on your patio, and catch the cool lake breezes from a sturdy dock. This brick and frame home is easily maintained . . . . . $52,500.

Douglas W. Spaulding Real Estate promises a phenomenal year 'round performance... DEEP CREEK DISPATCH

"A Midsummer Night's Dream"

Warner Brothers' 1935 adaptation of William Shakespeare's classic, allowed James Cagney as "Bottom" and Anita Louise as "Titania," to romp around the woodlands. You can do your own romping in SKY VALLEY — A large living room and native stone fireplace grace this three-bedroom, fully furnished chalet. The large bedroom doubles as a den setting and large expanses of glass provide a view of the well manicured lot. Step out of your kitchen and on to a porch with attached fireplace and outdoor grill. Ownership includes dock and other Deep Creek Lake privileges. Just right for that no-fuss, move-right-in buyer . . . . . $72,500.

The best "summer stock" in Garrett County is at Douglas W. Spaulding Real Estate... THE CRELLIN COURIER

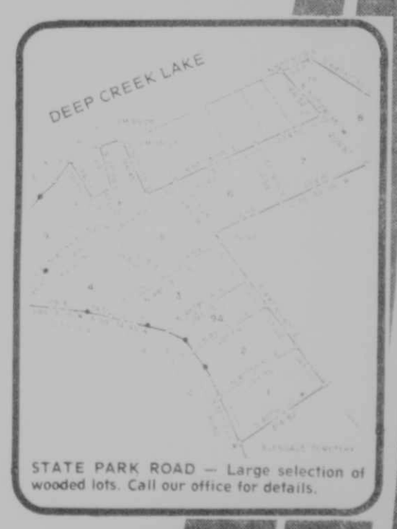

"Made For Each Other"

The public personified Carole Lombard and Jimmy Stewart as the "American Ideal" in this 1939 film. But this retreat for the budget-minded home buyer on LOWER GLENDALE ROAD is the real American Ideal. This three-bedroom cottage battles energy costs with insulation and hot-air oil heat. Enjoy the new front deck on hot summer days, and move indoors to a functional living room in the cool of the evening. A 30-foot lake access and dock included. Very affordable. Owner will finance with 20% down, 20 years, 12% interest. Isn't it time you owned a weekend heaven? You were made for each other . . . . . $44,500.

"Fantasia"

Walt Disney's 1940 extravaganza mixed classical music and animation to produce one of our most entertaining films. The $3,000,000 film was not successful until its 1963 re-release. For a genuine fantasy, visit LAKE SHORE DRIVE, where, tucked in among the hemlock and the rhododendron, this two-bedroom redwood cottage overlooks 100 feet of lakefront. Its large living/dining room with fireplace, convenient kitchen, two bedrooms and bath are well maintained. Storage buildings and a bunkhouse for additonal sleeping quarters will accommodate friends visiting for a weekend, who want to stay for the summer. Appreciate the view from a redwood deck . . . . . $64,500.

STATE PARK ROAD — Large selection of wooded lots. Call our office for details.

PET POINTERS

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

An obvious change in your dog's daily routine often signals a developing medical problem. Some of these problems are easily corrected; others take more time and professional attention.

One of the more serious danger signals is an increase in your pet's water intake, accompanied by a corresponding increase in urination. This may be a sign of diabetes mellitus or kidney failure.

Dr. John Kramer, a professor at Washington State University's College of Veterinary Medicine, estimates that diabetes mellitus affects about 1 out of every 800 dogs examined by veterinarians. The disease is not limited to aging pets. Young males and obese older females are susceptible.

A diabetic dog cannot produce enough insulin to efficiently regulate the amount of sugar in its blood. As a result, the excess sugar must be eliminated in the urine. To do this, the dog urinates more frequently, and must drink additional water to replace the larger amounts being excreted.

If the diabetes is not treated, the dog will begin to lose weight, even though it appears to have an adequate diet. An additional side effect may be the development of cataracts.

In most cases, the cause of canine diabetes is never clearly identified. Research has shown that a few dogs inherit a tendency toward diabetes because they are born with too few insulin-producing cells, but these animals are in the minority. We also know that inflammation of the pancreas, the organ that contains the insulin-secreting cells, may create a temporary form of diabetes, that subsides when the inflammation is controlled.

If your veterinarian diagnoses your dog as diabetic, the disease can be controlled. A major step is to reduce the dog's weight if it is too heavy, and regulate the amount of exercise the pet receives. The veterinarian will also determine the amount of insulin the pet must receive.

Because insulin is not available in tablet form, the dog owner must learn to administer insulin to his or her pet by injection. The technique of giving an injection is not as difficult as gathering up the courage to do the job. Your veterinarian will teach you the technique, as well as bolster your courage.

You will learn that the amount of insulin your pet needs is directly related to its weight. For this reason, diabetic pets receive carefully regulated amounts of food, and between meal snacks are out.

Another factor that affects insulin use is the female dog's heat cycle. The hormonal changes that occur during heat make the dog's insulin requirements fluctuate widely. To avoid the risk of overdosing a pet in heat, most diabetic females are spayed.

Diabetic pets can live for years if the disease is properly controlled. Research at Washington State University is continuing to determine the cause of inherited diabetes in young dogs. The work is expected to add to the knowledge of diabetes development in both humans and canines.

State Police Issue Various Traffic Citations

Maryland State Police investigated a number of traffic accidents and issued various citations in connection with these accidents, during the last reporting period.

Ralph Francis Sell, Jr., 50, Cumberland, was injured on August 15, when, according to the driver, he was forced off the roadway by an unidentified small vehicle. Police reports show the Sell vehicle was traveling southbound on the New Germany Road when he ran off the right side of the highway, struck an embankment, crossed the roadway again and struck a tree.

Sell was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where he was treated and released.

The Glendale Road was the scene of an accident involving an auto and a pedestrian on August 16.

Cynthia Gayle Steele, 26, Warrensville, Ohio, was walking westbound on the shoulder of the highway when an auto driven by William George Hoffman, 50, Oakland, went off the right of the road, striking the pedestrian. Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad transported the victim to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Police charged Hoffman with negligent driving and driving while intoxicated.

A Bel Air, Ohio, man was involved in an accident on August 23, with a car driven by Matthew Patrick Warren Pritts, 17, Deer Park.

According to police reports, Owen Cloran Maloney, 55, was traveling eastbound on Herrington Manor Road when the vehicle driven by Pritts exited from a private driveway directly into the path of the Maloney car.

Pritts was charged by police with failure to stop before entering a highway from a private road or driveway.

The Oakland-Westernport Road was the scene of an accident involving a Piedmont, W. Va., man on Thursday night.

Thomas Ray Starkey, 34, was arrested by Maryland State Police after he lost control of his vehicle while being pursued by the Luke City Police Department.

According to reports, Starkey was westbound on Rt. 135 when he ran off the left side of the roadway and struck the guardrails.

Police charged Starkey with failure to yield the right of way upon entering an intersection and driving while intoxicated.

In a separate incident, a tractor-trailer owned by Paul Dove Enterprises, Evan City, Pa., was demolished Friday morning at the railroad crossing on C Street in Oakland, near the Sterling Processing Plant.

According to reports, the truck became disabled on the track, and when the driver heard the train approaching, he fled the scene, as it was impossible to move the truck.

The train, a Chessie Systems vehicle, was traveling approximately 25 miles per hour, and was pulling 86 cars loaded with coal when it struck the disabled truck.

No personal injuries were reported, and the train continued to its destination.

County Native Named Director Of TV Firm

The Maryland/Delaware Cable TV Association Board of Directors announced recently that they have retained the services of Charles M. Ross to serve the membership as its first Executive Director.

James Faucette, president, stated that Ross, a political consultant, heads his own firm, Ross-Urso Associates with offices to be based in Baltimore. His consulting work includes training, project management, conference planning, fund raising, grants administration, and campaign management.

Ross previously has served in various legislative roles including Aide to the Maryland General Assembly's Assistant Majority leader, Thomas B. Kernan, and Aide to Baltimore's chief lobbyist, Janet Hoffman. In government, he has worked for Baltimore City and the State of Maryland in administrative capacities.

J. Everett Kochheiser, vice president of the Association, stated that Ross also was a former practicing attorney and Assistant State's Attorney in Garrett County, his home county.

The planned growth and development of the cable TV industry in Maryland and Delaware requires that the association of cable TV owners and operators have a professional executive to properly manage the affairs and activities of the membership at the state level, according to Mr. Kochheiser.

The Board of Directors will host a reception in honor of Ross at its annual two-day meeting for the membership on October 24, at the International Inn near the BWI Airport, Baltimore.

THE TRI-STATE MOUNTAIN MEN will sponsor the Tri-State Mountaineers' August black powder shoot on August 31, this Sunday, at Fantasy Valley Resort, Hoyes Run Road, McHenry. Everyone is welcome to enter the monthly competition, men and women, however, participants under the age of 18 must be accompanied by an adult. First, second and third prizes will be awarded for the black powder shoot and tomahawk throw, beginning at 1 p.m., with registration beginning about noon. As is the monthly custom, some members of the Tri-State Mountain Men will be dressed in traditional pioneer and Indian garb. Spectators are welcome to attend the competition.

DEER PARK

Reverend and Mrs. Samuel Moore and children, Parkersburg, W. Va., who were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ben Underwood, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney King visited their son, Reid Allen, stationed at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois. Cinda King, Tammy Graham, Brad and Chad King accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry King attended the Mellinger Reunion, Bittinger.

Gerald Thrasher visited his mother, Mrs. Lambert Thrasher, recently.

The "Country Supper" held for the benefit of the Fire Department, was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Breedlove from Ohio were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry King.

David H. Ayers, of Houston, Texas, spent the weekend with his mother, Luella Ayers, of Deer Park.

Health Systems Governing Body Meets August 20

The Governing Body of the Health Systems Agency of Western Maryland met in Cumberland August 20 at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Dr. J. Steven Skupas, chairman, presided.

The Body approved the Health Systems Plan 3, 1980-81, which was developed for the four Western Maryland counties. This plan will not go to the Federal officials in the Department of Health and Human Services for acceptance as the area's official health system plan.

Election of officers took place and the following slate of officers was approved for the coming year:

Dr. Peter G. Callas, Washington County, chairman; Edgar H. Harman, Garrett County, vice chairman; Jesse I. Burall, Frederick County, fiscal officer; and Mrs. Barbara Howard, Allegany County, recorder.

The following members were approved to serve on the nominating committee for Fiscal 1980-81:

Dr. George M. Breza, Allegany County; David W. Sowers, Washington County; Mrs. Doris M. Lee, Frederick County; and Ross B. James, Garrett County.

Persons re-appointed to the Governing Body membership were: Gary M. Morris and Ms. Constance Ralston, Allegany County; Mrs. Doris M. Lee, Frederick County; Kenneth A. Richmond, Garrett County; and Dr. Wilfred T. Tumbusch, Washington County.

New appointments were Mrs. Ruth Chaney, Allegany County; James K. Kluttz and Dr. James Grissom, Frederick County; and Mrs. Nancy Russell, Washington County.

Resignations were Mrs. Ann N. Cherrington and Charles R. Brooks, Frederick County, and Wally E. Dando, Washington County.

Presentations were made to the body members whose term of appointment has expired. Mrs. Edith P. Loffert of Allegany County, Ms. Agnes A. Kemerer of Frederick County and Mrs. Adele M. Donnelly of Washington County were presented with recognition awards for serving with the Governing Body from September 1976 to August 1980. Dr. Carl H. Mitlehner of Frederick County was also presented with a plaque for his term with the Governing Body, which was from July 1977 to August 1980. Allegany County Commissioners and HSAWM Governing Board president, Arthur T. Bond presented Dr. J. Steven Skupas with an award for his service and leadership as Governing Body chairman during the past year.

The Western Maryland Center which was requesting four new kidney dialysis station facilities was granted an approval of their application, provided that two of the requested four stations be granted immediately and the Center provide monthly reports to the HSAWM concerning utilization of the facilities.

When additional dialysis stations are needed, the HSAWM will expedite the review process.

After a closing speech by Dr. Skupas, he transferred the gavel to Dr. Peter Callas the newly elected chairman.

The next Governing Body meeting will be held on September 17 at the Village Inn at Wisp, McHenry.

Those members present from Garrett County included G. David Green, Edgar H. Harman, Ross B. James and Kenneth A. Richmond.

VFW Post 10077 Meetings Noted

The Garrett County Memorial VFW Post 10077 will host a Corn Roast and Fried Chicken Picnic for members at the Post Club House on Saturday afternoon, August 30 at 2 p.m.

The VFW Post 10077 and Auxiliary will hold their regular meetings in the Post Home at 2 p.m. on Sunday, August 31.

The Department of Maryland, VFW Third District Meeting will be held Sunday, September 7, in The Post Home at 2 p.m.

All members are urged to attend as many of these events as possible, according to Arlie Breedlove, Adjutant.

The world's first commercial telephone switchboard began operation in New Haven, Conn., in 1878.

NOTICE TO HOMEOWNERS LIVING IN OR NEAR JENNINGS, MARYLAND

The Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., is undertaking a Housing Rehabilitation Program in your area. This program is aimed at elderly and low income home owners and is being funded by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (H.U.D.) Qualified, low income home owners will receive direct grants to cover rehabilitation costs. Work will include major home repairs and/or installation of basic utilities necessary to upgrade homes to modern and healthful minimum standards. This program involves NO financial obligation on your part.

All rehabilitation work will be done by approved, licensed contractor to the satisfaction of the home owner and this agency. The amount of each grant will be limited to the actual and approved cost of repairs and improvements needed for the upgrading of the home to minimum standards.

Applications and additional information may be obtained at the local CAC office, located at 360 W. Liberty Street in Oakland, Maryland, or call Mel Silber at 334-9431.

BEWARE THE BEAKS! — This youngster appears to be playing with fire when confronted with the snapping beak of a seemingly friendly, but hungry ostrich. The M & S Wild Kingdom, located near Oakland, provided excitement and adventure to nearly 47 children in the Bradley Manor/Crellin Recreation Program, as they toured the miniature zoo and made some lasting friends. The Wild Kingdom houses approximately 21 different species, including a wide variety of birds. The owners plan to add a bear to their collection sometime in the near future. The Recreation Program ran for the benefit of area youth from June 23 through August 22. The children and workers will meet again as a group in September for a picnic.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Bertha Lee DeWitt wishes to take this opportunity to thank all those in the community who have been so considerate and helpful during her long illness and following her death. Sincere appreciation to Dr. James Feaster, all those affiliated with Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, to the pallbearers, ministers, Dr. Milton Turney, Rev. Kenneth Rice, and to all who expressed their sympathy in any way. May God bless each one.

Velma DeWitt Adams

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply touched by the expressions of sympathy and the kindnesses and consideration extended to us during the illness of and following the death of our wife and mother, Mary Alexander. Your presence and thoughtfulness has helped so much to make the sorrow more bearable. We will be forever grateful for the spiritual guidance of our ministers, the comfort of our church homes, the outstretched hands of our many friends supporting us with offers of assistance, the gifts of food, the floral expressions and memorials. Thanks to all those who told and showed us in so many ways, "we care." We sincerely thank you.

Lloyd, Glenn and Dale Alexander

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Kate Woods, who passed away one year ago, August 30, 1979:

When the family gets together, there is one we fail to see. And it fills our hearts with sadness, thinking of the used to be. Your land is filled with sunshine; ours if filled with tears. For all of us who loved you, It's been a very long year.

Assignee's Sale Of Valuable Real Estate

Situate in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage from Robert C. Koch and Teresa A. Koch, his wife, undated but recorded on August 23, 1976 in Liber No. 369, folio 153, one of the Mortgage Records of Garrett County, Maryland, default having occurred under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and said mortgage being duly assigned to the undersigned for the purpose of foreclosure, I hereby give notice that I will on Friday, the 29th day of August, 1980

At the Hour of 11:00 a.m. EDT

on the property hereinafter described, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the property to be sold being described as follows:

That parcel of land situate, in Election District No. 6, Garrett County, Maryland, which is known and designated as Lot No. 15 as shown on the plat of "Springwood Acres South," recorded in Plat Book 2, page 29, one of the Plat Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and being the property conveyed to Robert C. Koch and Teresa A. Koch, his wife, by deed from Hugh Michael Buttry, dated August 5, 1976 and recorded in Liber No. 370, folio 186, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland.

Said property is subject to the following restrictive covenants:

1—Said land shall be used for residential, single dwelling homes.

2—No activity may be conducted on said property or in any building thereon which may constitute or become an annoyance or nuisance or disturb the peace of the community.

3—No temporary structure, such as a tent or trailer or cabins shall be placed upon any part of the property except as a temporary measure during construction of a permanent home. All plans and specifications for homes constructed on said property shall be approved by Everett Allen Fratz and wife, their heirs, personal representatives and assigns.

4—Buildings may be of any design, and may be constructed of wood, logs, stone, brick or composition, provided they will not detract from, or mar the natural beauty of the community.

5—No building or other structure shall be placed within a setback of 15 feet from the front property line and 10 feet from any adjacent property line.

6—Any permanent structure placed upon a lot must contain a minimum floor area per floor of 480 square feet exclusive of porches, patios or carports, and any said structure facing a street must be at least 20 feet wide.

7—Water supply and sewage disposal installations shall be made in strict compliance with the health and building codes applicable to Garrett County, and all bathroom and toilet facilities shall be incorporated within the main structure.

8—Open fires are prohibited on any part of the property. Outdoor fireplaces, grills and all chimneys must be provided with fire screens of sufficient design to prevent scattering of sparks.

9—Trees and topography shall remain uncut and undisturbed except as required for construction purposes.

10—Each property owner shall promptly remove or otherwise dispose of any accumulation of trash, garbage or rubbish, and at all times maintain said property in a neat and sanitary condition.

11—Firing of rifles, guns or weapons of any kind is prohibited within the aforesaid boundaries.

12—In the event that water shall be made available from a central system a charge will be made to users thereof.

Said lot contains 1.21 acres and is unimproved.

Terms of sale: 1/3 cash on date of sale and the balance upon ratification of the sale by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland.

State and county taxes will be adjusted to date of sale.

NO. 7787 EQUITY
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND
ORDER

ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County; The Defendants unknown being predecessors in title to William R. Offutt, Trustee are hereby notified that the Plaintiffs, John A. MacMillan and Christine MacMillan, his wife, have filed a Bill to Quiet Title to that certain tract of land containing one-fourth of an acre and being described in that deed dated February 17, 1951 and recorded in Liber 166, folio 6, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, being described as follows:

"3. Part of Lot Number 14, being one of the subdivisions of a tract of land called "Small Meadows" and beginning for the part hereby intended to be conveyed, at a stake standing at the end of the second line of Lot No. 10 of said subdivision; it being also the end of the first line of said Lot No. 14, and running thence with the second line and part of the third line of said Lot No. 14, South 38 degrees West, 26 perches; South 43-½ degrees West, 9-7/10 perches to a post; then North 39-1/4 degrees East, 35-5/10 perches to a post standing in the first line of said Lot No. 14; thence with it South 52 degrees East, 8/10 of a perch to the beginning; containing one-fourth of an acre, and being the land conveyed to the said Charles D. Shaffer by William R. Offutt, Trustee, by an unrecorded deed date May 28, 1921, which said deed is to be recorded prior to these presents."

The Plaintiffs allege there are no known claimants to the property and that there is no action at law or equity to enforce or test the validity of the titles to the tract. The Plaintiffs have prayed that an Order be passed declaring absolute ownership in the Plaintiffs.

Defendants are hereby warned that failure to file an answer or other defense on or before September 29, 1980, may result in the case proceeding against him by default.

Named Hospital Food Supervisor

Louise Norwish

Wendy Norris, R.D., recently appointed Louise Norwish as Food Service Supervisor at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Prior to her appointment, Ms. Norwish was affiliated with Holiday Inns, Inc. Her work experience includes Assistant to the Food and Beverage Director in Saratoga Springs, New York, and Secretary to the Food and Beverage Director in Columbus, Ohio.

Ms. Norwish attended Southern High School in Oakland, and Berea College, Berea, Kentucky, where she majored in Sociology and Psychology.

She is an active person and enjoys swimming, tennis, volleyball, softball and biking. In her spare time, she likes to create culinary delights. She designs many of her own clothes and enjoys reading.

Louise is a native Garrett Countian from Red House.

Marriage Enrichment Seminars Scheduled

A series of seminars directed toward married and/or engaged couples will be offered by Rev. Howard Ryan, former pastor of the Chula Vista First Assembly of God Church through the Crellin Assembly of God Church, Star Route 2, according to Rev. A. Ray Beahm.

Rev. Ryan will be conducting marriage enrichment sessions September 4, 5 and 6, and will address the Mountaintop Ministerial Association on Friday morning.

Rev. Ryan brings 24 years experience to the counseling sessions having served as an advisor to help churches discover the stress points that hinder effectiveness and to utilize resources capable of turning those stresses into strengths.

Seminars and counseling sessions to ministers are available, as well as customized programs to fit the needs of individual churches.

Before Rev. Ryan leaves the area, he will be conducting a pastors' seminar on September 8 and 9. Pastors of all area churches are invited to attend.

Persons interested in taking part in the marriage enrichment seminars are asked to contact Rev. Beahm at 334-3867.

MISS WELCOME INN JANE BLACKIE — Olen Yoder displays another champion animal sold at the Garrett County Holstein Production Sale for $3,400. Pictured in the background are Oren Bender, who read the pedigrees; Clark Yoder, the auctioneer; Robert H. Miller, sale chairman and consignor; and Kore Peachy, who purchased the animal. Total sales revenues of $97,100 went to consignors in Garrett and Somerset Counties as a result of the sale of 46 champion animals.

Margraff Family Reunion Is Noted

The descendants of the late Edward Margraff, Accident, held their annual family reunion at the Bittinger Fire Hall on Sunday, August 17.

Approximately 43 persons attended from California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Maryland.

ANNOUNCEMENT:

State of Maryland
Department of Human Resources
Proposed Plan
Maryland Energy Assistance Program
Title III — Home Energy Assistance Act

Program Year: October 1, 1980 - September 30, 1981

The Maryland Energy Assistance Program (MEAP):

The purpose of the Maryland Energy Assistance Program is to provide assistance to eligible households to offset the rising costs of home energy that are excessive in relation to household income.

Eligibility:

To be eligible for energy assistance, a Maryland household must have an income less than or equal to the Bureau of Labor Statistics Lower Living Income Standard. These standards vary for the Washington, D. C. Metropolitan Area (Washington, D. C. SMSA), the Baltimore Metropolitan Area (Baltimore SMSA), and the rest of the state (Non-SMSA Areas). Typically, the BLS Lower Living Income Standard for a family of four would be $13,630 in the Washington, D. C. Metropolitan Area, $12,770 in the Baltimore Metropolitan Area, and $11,180 in the rest of the state.

In addition to meeting the eligibility criteria above, households applying for assistance must be able to show that they are affected by increased costs of energy for heating. This can be done by showing that they pay for heat directly by buying energy (fuel and/or electricity) from a vendor or indirectly through their rent, which includes the cost of heat.

Payment:

It is estimated that energy assistance benefits will range from $90 to $350 per household, depending on household income, heating fuel type, geographical location, and family size. These estimates are subject to change as we verify the data bases that support them. The benefits will be calculated to assure that households in the coldest regions of the state, with the lowest incomes, using the most costly fuel types, will receive the highest levels of assistance.

Payments will generally be made directly to: (1) energy suppliers on behalf of eligible households; or (2) certain landlords who have agreed, in writing, that the benefit amount will be deducted from the next rental payment made by the eligible renting household.

According to Federal regulations, building operators of public or subsidized housing must receive energy assistance on behalf of their "eligible tenants." The State of Maryland intends to seek a waiver of this requirement because the State believes that: (1) this requirement is contrary to the interests of the majority of eligible households in the State, since these "eligible tenants" are receiving rent subsidies and therefore are not vulnerable to the rising cost of home energy; and (2) payments would severely dilute the amount of assistance available for the households with the greatest need; and (3) the costs of administering these payments would be excessive.

According to Federal regulations, energy suppliers who participate in the Maryland Energy Assistance Program must agree not to terminate home fuel or electricity to an eligible household except under very limited conditions. The State of Maryland intends to seek a waiver to change these requirements because the State believes that: (1) for regulated utilities, the Federal requirements are more restrictive than those approved by the Public Service Commission; and (2) for non-regulated fuel suppliers, severely restricted or no credit from wholesalers, the infeasibility of passing on losses from non-payment to other customers, and the burden of carrying long term accounts receivable, make such requirements inappropriate and overly restrictive for the program in Maryland.

Once the program begins, payments on behalf of an eligible household will be made as soon as its application is completed and the household is certified eligible. Households, landlords who have signed agreements, and energy suppliers will be notified of the household's eligibility, amount and duration of payment. It is expected that payments will begin in December 1980 and will continue until the allocated funds are exhausted or until September 30, 1981.

Program Operation/Administration:

The Maryland Department of Human Resources (DHR) will administer the program at the state level. On the local level, 20 local administering agencies have been selected to administer the program.

On or about November 15, 1980, the local administering agencies will begin accepting applications for assistance. The local administering agencies will be required to undertake extensive outreach efforts to publicize the program to all potentially eligible households, with special emphasis directed to the elderly and handicapped. The State of Maryland will not, however, provide extra or higher benefit levels to households with elderly or handicapped individuals.

Emergency Reserve:

The State of Maryland plans to reserve 3% of its grant allocation for weather related and/or supply shortage emergencies. Such emergencies may include: unusually severe cold weather; snow or ice storms; fuel supply shortages; and/or any other weather or supply shortage emergency that affects an area of the state.

Fair Hearings:

The State of Maryland will provide a fair hearing to any household whose application is denied, whose application is neither denied nor approved within 30 days, whose payment is less than the household believes it should be, or whose payment is made in a lesser amount or duration than the household was originally notified.

Funding:

Although the State of Maryland has not yet received its dollar allocation for energy assistance from the Federal government, it is anticipated that the State will receive approximately $26 million. The State estimates that it will be able to serve about 85,000 households with this allocation.

Administrative Costs:

Federal regulations state that: "In no case may the Federal funds received under the Act be used to pay over half of the state's total cost of planning and administering the plan"; and "the state will pay from non-Federal sources the remaining costs of planning and administering the plan". The State of Maryland intends to seek a waiver of the matching funds requirement because: (1) the State Legislative session ended prior to the publication of the Interim Final Regulations and no funding for the program was considered or approved; (2) the state is currently in a very tight fiscal situation; and (3) the state believes that, regardless of the availability of state funds, the cost of administering this Federal program should be borne, as in the past, totally by the Federal government.

Public Comments:

Comments from the public on the proposed plan will be accepted until September 11, 1980. Please submit written comments to:

Governor Appoints Earl J. Clark, Sr. To School Board

Earl J. Clark, Sr., Red House, has been appointed by Governor Harry Hughes to a term of five years on the Garrett County Board of Education.

Clark, a senior vice-president of the First National Bank of Oakland, replaces Robert Diehl, Grantsville, who retired in June.

The 1955 Beall/High School graduate, Frostburg, has been employed at the First National Bank for the past 18 years.

After graduation from high school, Clark travelled to Ohio where he worked for United States Steel. He served in active duty with the National Guard for six months and in the reserves for five and one half years.

Before beginning work at the Bank, Clark was employed by the Unity Finance Company, Oakland, for four years.

Clark is a graduate of the University of Virginia School of Bank Management and of the Dale Carnegie Course.

He is a past-president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lion's Club and has held various district offices in that organization. He is a past-chancellor of the K.O.P. Garrett Lodge #113 and past-president of the Bank Administration Institute.

Clark is presently serving as treasurer and a member of the Board of Directors of the Garrett County Cancer Society. He is also on the Board of Directors and is treasurer of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council.

He serves as treasurer for the county mental health association and is a member of the AF&AM 192 Masonic Lodge of Oakland, the Consistory of Scottish Rite in Cumberland, and the Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

Clark is a member of St. Paul's United Methodist Church where he serves as a member of the Administrative Board, the audit committee and the Council of Ministries. He is chairman of the Evangelical Committee and is superintendent of the Sunday School.

He and his wife, Carol, are the parents of five children.

SO LONG SUMMER . . . HELLO SCHOOL BOOKS! — Catching one last look at freedom, these Garrett County students make their way back to homework, report cards, and other assorted woes associated with the end of a long, lazy summer. Public school doors opened yesterday for approximately 5400 students. The term begins with a new superintendent of schools, Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, who served as assistant supervisor of administrative services for seven years. He replaces Dr. William Buser, who retired. The new Grantsville Elementary School also opened, serving grades kindergarten through five. Still a cloud on the horizon is the threat of a possible problem with several bus contractors, who have threatened to cancel their contracts with the school board if their demands for an increase of four cents per mile are not met. They feel reimbursement for gasoline and maintenance costs is not sufficient. However, with the possible exception of some bus breakdowns, and one little lost guy who couldn't remember where he lived, opening day went smoothly.

Man Injured In Deep Creek Lake Boating Accident

A Pennsylvania man suffered severe lacerations to both legs, resulting from a boating accident which occurred Saturday, August 30, about 5:30 p.m. on Deep Creek Lake. The incident occurred on the lake off Route 219, across from the Trading Post.

Gary William Wandtke, 28, of Waynesburg, Pa., was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad after he was run over by a passing vessel while he was being towed on an inner tube by another boat. Wandtke was taken to the hospital for surgery, which was performed after lost blood was replaced. Wandtke was listed in "satisfactory" condition yesterday at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The incident is under investigation by the Department of Natural Resources police. Sgt. Wydell of the Boating Accident Division of DNR, Annapolis, stated that at this time there is not an abundance of information available regarding the incident, as his office has not yet received a written report. The names of others involved in the incident are, therefore, not available at this time.

ANOTHER POT SHOT — Eleven marijuana plants were confiscated yesterday by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department. The plants, ranging in height from three to seven feet, were found in the Deep Creek Lake area, after a neighbor spotted them and notified the police. One officer estimated the crop would be worth a couple hundred dollars once harvested. The department stated that no arrests have been made at this time, however there are suspects and arrests are pending. The exact location of the crop could not be revealed at this time. Deputy Rick Kutchman is pictured beside one of the larger plants.

Local 4-H Youth Earn Ribbons At State Fair

Considering the fact that the Mountain Top is far removed from the Timonium Fairgrounds, local 4-H youth did extremely well as they represented Garrett County in the Maryland State Fair, according to Lawrence F. Little, extension agent.

Bobbi Jo Harvey exhibited Dola Tamie in the 4-H Junior Western Horse Show on Tuesday to capture first place in the Stock Seat Equitation and Halter classes, fifth placings in Pleasure Pony and Horsemanship classes, and a sixth place in Fitting and Showmanship. Bobbi Jo is a daughter of Mrs. Joanna Harvey of Swanton, and a member of the Saddle Tramps 4-H Club.

Tripp Martin also exhibited his horse Apple in the Junior Western Division. He placed third in the keyhole race and fourth in the barrel race. Tripp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Martin of McHenry, and a member of the Saddle Tramps 4-H Club.

Sandy Harvey rode Eddie's Dust in the Senior 4-H Western Division on Wednesday to capture a first place in Stock Seat Equitation. She also placed fifth in Western Trail, sixth in Western Pleasure and in Halter classes; seventh in Horsemanship, and eighth in Fitting and Showmanship. Sandy is also a daughter of Mrs. Joanna Harvey, and a member of the Saddle Tramps 4-H Club.

Robert Collier placed 11th in the 4-H Tractor Operator's Contest on Friday. He took an exam which measured his knowledge of maintenance and the safe operation of agricultural machinery, displayed his skill in trouble shooting maintenance problems and fared well in the two and four-wheeled driving events. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Collier of Accident, and a member of the North Star 4-H Club.

Also on Friday, Garrett County's representatives in the 4-H State Dress Revue were Patty Livengood and Teresa Thomas, both members of the Monte Vista 4-H Club.

Members of the 4-H Junior Livestock Judging Team scored an impressive eighth place in the conformation judging of beef, sheep and swine on Saturday. Team members were Jeff Graham, Bruce Brown, Randy Tichnell and Roger Wilhelm. Tuff received a ribbon for being named the tenth high individual. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Graham of Accident, and a member of the North Star 4-H Club.

Grantsville Man Murdered, Police Have No Suspects

State Police in Uniontown, Pa., are investigating the homicide of a Grantsville man which occurred last Saturday evening at Henry Clay Township. Donald Roy Wilt, 26, was dead on arrival at Uniontown Hospital, after sustaining a gunshot wound in the left side of his neck.

An eye-witness reportedly observed Wilt's vehicle leave U.S. Route 40 in front of C&M Beer Distrubutors, four miles west of Markleysburg, Pa., and strike an electric pole head-on. State police and ambulance service were notified of the accident about 7:15 p.m.

When officials arrived, Wilt was found alone in the vehicle, unconscious, and slumped over the steering wheel. Ambulance personnel performed CPR on the patient while enroute to Uniontown Hospital, unaware that he had been shot.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital. The gunshot wound was discovered by Ralston McGee, Pathologist.

Police said it is impossible to distinguish the make of the weapon, as the bullet shattered into many fragments. Police also stated it is unknown whether Wilt was shot while operating the vehicle or while fleeing from an assailant.

When police arrived on the scene the passenger-side window of the car was open, and no bullet marks were found. Wilt was driving a dark blue, 1979 Chevette.

State police said yesterday there are no suspects in the shooting death, and the circumstances surrounding the incident are uncertain.

Born in Confluence, Pa., on November 21, 1953, Mr. Wilt was the son of Raymond Wilt and Bonnie (Skinner) Wilt.

He was employed by Green Acres Construction Company, and was a veteran of the U. S. Marine Corps.

Surviving besides his parents are his wife, Rosemary (Tressler) Wilt, and his son, Donald Shawn; four sisters, Betty Tressler, Ursina, Pa.; Barbara Dively, Sharon, Pa.; Peggy Brown, Addison, Pa.; and Ellen Wilt, Grantsville; and four brothers, Kenneth Wilt, Confluence, Pa.; David Wilt, William Wilt and Robert Wilt, all of Grantsville.

Funeral services were held this morning at the Humbert Funeral Home, Confluence, Pa., with the Rev. Richard McClintock and the Rev. Donald DeHaven presiding. Interment was in Jersey Cemetery, Confluence, Pa.

Weather

Some early morning cloudiness, then mostly sunny and not quite so warm later today. Highs in the low to mid 80s. Fair to night with lows in the mid 50s. Partly sunny with a slight chance of a thunderstorm Thursday. Highs in the low to mid 80s. The chance of rain is 10 percent today, near zero tonight and 20 percent Thursday. Winds light and variable today and tonight.

Continued hot weather with only scattered thunderstorms Friday through Sunday. Highs averaging in the 80s and lower 90s, lows averaging in the 60s to around 70.

Officials Note No Change In Bus Contractor Threat

The threat of 39 bus contractors terminating their contracts with the Garrett County Board of Education seems no more real or no more settled than in previous weeks, report Board officials and bus drivers alike.

"We just have to wait and see," said Kyle Bennett, president of the Garrett County Bus Contractors' Association, who would not comment whether he will be turning in his termination request or not.

The Association met Friday evening where members expressed disappointment at the news that neither the county commissioners nor Board of Education could come up with the four cents per mile raise they had requested.

Bennett pointed out at the meeting that each contractor held an individual contract with the Board and that the Association had no legal basis for a group action. He stated each contractor would have to make his own decision whether or not to turn in the required 30 day termination request.

Eugene Flinn, supervisor of transportation for county schools, reports he has still received no termination requests.

Representatives for the bus contractors approached the Board of Education and county commissioners for the raise in August saying the state was not providing adequate compensation for them to continue running their school buses. The four cent raise would have been for maintenance on the buses.

Group To Plan Bus Service To Handicapped

A public advisory committee is being organized to assist in devising a plan to bring the Garrett Bus System into compliance with the Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973, announced Tim Dugan, county planning director.

The Act, which demands a deadline of July 1982 for compliance, mandates that all federally-funded facilities and programs be made physically accessible to handicapped persons.

The committee will help prepare a transition plan to describe how the buses owned by the Garrett Bus System will be made accessible to the handicapped and will help determine if there is a need for alternate interim handicapped-accessible transportation services.

Under the federal regulations, at least half of the Garrett Bus System's "peak-service-hour buses" must be made accessible to wheel-chair users and other ambulatory handicapped persons.

The first meeting for the Committee is scheduled for September 11 at 9:30 a.m. in the Grand Jury Room on the third floor of the courthouse.

Committee membership is open to any concerned county citizens. For further information, persons should contact Anna McNallie at the County Planning Office at 334-4200.

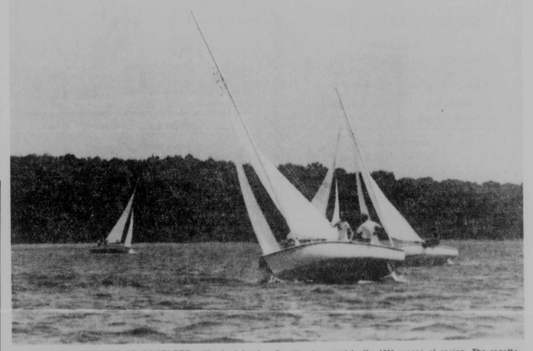

Katharine Smith Named To GCC Board Of Trustees

The office of Governor Harry Hughes has announced the appointment of Katharine Smith, Mt. Lake Park, to the Garrett Community College Board of Trustees.

Mrs. Smith will serve the remainder of the six-year term begun July 1979 by Dana Thoman, McHenry, who was recently appointed to the State Board for Community Colleges.

A graduate of Fairfax Hall, a private school in Waynesboro, Va., she graduated from Marietta College in 1969 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in SUMMER WOULDN'T BE COMPLETE without at least one photograph of sailing on Deep Creek Lake. Twelve to fifteen mile per hour winds and sunny days over the Labor Day weekend provided the perfect setting for the Commodore's Cup Regatta, to complete the 1980 season of racing. The regatta, sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake Yacht Club, included Jet 14, Rebel, and Flying Scot competition. See more photos on page 12.

Lake Property Owners Vote To Hire Engineer To Analyze Sewer Project

Members of the Property Owners' Association of Deep Creek Lake, Inc. Saturday unanimously voted to hire a consulting engineer to analyze the revised proposal for the Deep Creek Lake Sewerage Project to be presented at a public meeting Saturday, September 27.

Over 100 property owners attended the Saturday general membership meeting at Garrett Community College where they discussed the proposed sewerage project and other items and elected persons to serve on the Board of Directors for the next year.

Bob Blasingame, representing a group of property owners opposing the sytem as proposed at a July 5 public hearing, reported the Sanitary Commission had agreed to conduct several mini-studies and revise the project plan to reflect the desires of the residents as much as possible.

Blasingame added the consulting engineer would analyze the Commission's new proposal and recommend to the Property Owners' Association whether or not it should support the project.

Some of those present questioned the actual need for such a project and asked whether any threat to the lake could be prevented by forcing those who are violating Health Department requirements for individual septic systems to correct their systems. Edgar Harman of the county health department indicated the problems could only be solved by a sewerage system.

Dick Nave, administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District, explained the purpose of the system was not to prevent all the pollution in the lake but it would help protect the lake from the threat of eutrophycation caused by too many nutrients seeping into the lake.

In other business, the Association unanimously approved recommendations by the nomination committee for appointments to the Board of Directors for the next year. Members appointed were Sue Spence, Dick Barnes, Mike Kennedy, Philip Hogue, Bob Squibb, Bill Foster and Charles McIntire.

County commissioner Ernie Gregg also appeared before the Association to discuss the FY1981 tax rate. He explained the reasons behind the 40 percent tax rate increase and assured the group that the county was moving rapidly to a solid financial base.

When asked about the change of dumpster sites, he explained the county had been ordered by the state to remove dumpsters from all state property forcing some dumpster sites to be consolidated. He noted the county has had difficulty relocating some dumpsters due to citizens' protests.

Others who appeared before the Association were Ken Richmond, administrator of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, who presented plans for the hospital's new building program and Frank Eberly, president of the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad, who thanked the Association for its support.

Gary Yoder, lake administrator, explained to the group the reason enforcement of lake regulations and wildlife regulations was down this year was because of the lack of available funds for additional Department of Natural Resources police to patrol the lake this summer.

He discussed the progress of the lake dock survey which he said would probably mean the reinstatement of dock permits.

Following the general meeting, the Board of Directors met to elect officers for the coming year. Those elected were: Carl Rebele, president; Robert Squibb, vice-president; and Aza Stanton, secretary-treasurer.

Commissioners Approve Travel Allowance Raise

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved a travel allowance increase, a road name change and several pending advertisements for bid for the county roads department.

The commissioners increased the travel allowance for county employees from 17 cents a mile to 18 cents a mile. The new rate will apply to all travel by county employees after October 1, 1980.

Herb McCrobie, county roads administrator, presented the commissioners with four pending advertisements for bids. The commissioners approved all four bids for advertisement which were for salt, sand to mix with cinders, replacement of a motor grader for the Accident garage and new replacements for truck snow plows.

The commissioners authorized a name change for the Old Morgantown Road near Friendsville after receiving a petition from eight residents along the road. The new name will be Blooming Rose Road.

Tim Dugan, county planning director, introduced the commissioners to Karen Richmond, Baltimore, who will serve as the HUD Block Grant Administrator, a federally funded position. He noted Ms. Richmond will begin work Monday, September 8.

The commissioners approved three invoices to be submitted for HUD Block Grant monies. One invoice was $21,000 for equipment for the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department; the second was $1200 for a salary payment for the block grant administrator; and the third was $1200 for expenses for the Appalachian Adult Activity Center.

Dick Nace, administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., met with the commissioners to schedule a tentative meeting between the commissioners, the Sanitary Commission and representatives of Liberty Trust Company. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss arrangements for additional interim financing pending bonding of costs of the Mountain Lake Park Water Rehabilitation Project.

Pallbearers were nephews, William, Thomas and Willard Broadwater, Larry and Michael Otto, and Michael Riedeman.

The family requests expressions of sympathy be in the form of contributions to the American Cancer Society.

Sheriff's Office Reports Numerous Area Complaints

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating several thefts and vandalisms, which were reported last week. Six related incidents resulted in the arrest of three area juveniles.

Manor Builder's Supply, Route 135, Mt. Lake Park, was broken into during the night of August 25. Entry was gained by breaking out the front door, and unknown persons removed a total of 12 high-power rifles, several portable 8-track cassette tape players and two Bearcat skanners.

The estimated loss value including damage to the door and the items taken is $3,167. Anyone having seen persons in the vicinity of the crime of the above date should contact the Sheriff's Department.

In a separate case, the department received six complaints of theft and vandalism in the Swanton area on August 25.

Caroline Hutson, postmaster of Swanton, reported that someone had thrown tomatoes at the postoffice door and windows, and had put tomatoes in mailboxes.

Alva M. Blake reported that unknown persons had torn down his wood pile and scattered the wood throughout his yard.

Alice Rhodes reported that someone had knocked over her mailbox.

Gerald Friend reported that someone had removed a wheelbarrow and shovel from under his front porch, both valued at approximately $50.

Roy Alvin Dillsworth reported that unknown persons had thrown tomatoes at his vehicle and destroyed a flower pot on his porch.

Delores Friend reported the destruction of flowers on her back porch, valued at $15, and the subjects took shovels, a rake and other lawn tools and threw them in a small stream which runs behind her house. Also taken was approximately two gallons of tomatoes.

Three juveniles were picked up by the department in connection with these incidents. Upon request of the victims, no charges were made, however the boys cleaned up the damage they had done, and arrangements were made for restitution. The stolen items were recovered.

In a separate incident involving breaking and entering, theft and destruction of property, Charles Dillsworth, McHenry, reported that someone entered his trailer on August 25, damaged his television set, cut pictures which were hanging on his living room wall, and took a sewing machine from the dwelling.

The incident occurred sometime during the daytime hours, and police report there was no sign of forced entry. Loss value is estimated at $1100.

Goble Jessup of Deer Park reported the theft of a three and one-half horse power rototiller from his field, sometime during the night of August 24. The machine is valued at $400.

In a separate case, Vera Ferguson, Bethlehem Road, reported that unknown persons entered her home on August 24 and removed approximately $132 from a wallet. Police stated there was no sign of forced entry.

Stewart Brown, Baltimore, reported a destruction of property to a fence located near Eagle Rock Fire Tower in Deer Park. Someone ran over the gate of the fence with a vehicle on August 27, causing approximately $100 in damage and tearing the gate from its hinges.

John Leroy Williams reported the theft of a spare tire and wheel from the bed of his truck, while it was parked in front of his home in Mt. Lake Park. The incident was reported Sunday. Loss value is about $50.

A breaking and entering occurred at the Deer Park VFW, sometime during the night of August 29. Taken were approximately $48 in cash and about $18 in whiskey. There was no sign of forced entry.

In a separate incident, Charles Asmar, Stockslager Road near Deep Creek Lake, reported the theft of a hand-carved wooden owl from a post in his yard. The incident occurred Monday. No loss value was placed.

Daley Franklin Lewis, Accident, reported that unknown persons smashed his windshield with a rock, sometime during the night of August 27, while it was parked at the C&B Trailer Court in Accident. Loss value is undetermined at this time.

Wayne Brooks Hamilton, Red House, reported a vandalism which occurred on August 28. Unknown persons conducted a party in one of the storage buildings on Hamilton Farms, tearing down approximately 50 stacked bales of hay, and leaving beer bottles and trash behind.

A destruction of property to a mailbox was reported by Jeanette Florence Keefe, Mayhew Inn Road, on August 28. Damage to the mailbox is estimated at $20.

A family staying at Alpine Village, Deep Creek Lake, received a visitor during the night of August 25. Charles Robert Patton, 18, Westernport, entered the room where the family was sleeping and cried for help, police said. He then fell to the floor, then crawled onto a bed. The family evacuated the room and when police arrived Patton was found intoxicated, lying on the bed.

Patton was arrested and charged with breaking and entering. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

In addition to Patton, nine others were arrested by the department last week.

Tim Ford, 20, was arrested August 26 on a theft charge, and was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Robert Smith was incarcerated August 26 for violation of probation. He was released the next day when he posted $250 bond.

Joseph DeWitt, 26, was arrested August 27 for disturbing the peace. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

William Eugene Schrock, 37, was incarcerated August 28 on a Bench Warrant, and was released the same day when he posted $250 bond.

Alvin Curt Parrish, 37, was arrested August 29, charged with hit and run, and driving while intoxicated. He was released September 1 when he posted $100 bond.

Glenwood Rinard, 42, was arrested August 30 on a battery charge, and was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Ernest Dale Patton, 37, was incarcerated August 30 for trespassing and resisting arrest. He was released the next day on his own recognizance.

Thomas Martin Posey, 23, was arrested September 1 and was charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and theft. He is still incarcerated and bond is set at $2500, with 10 percent to be posted.

David Harrison Ringer, 23, was arrested September 1 and charged with assault. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Alarming Statistics . . .

In 1900 approximately one in 13 marriages ended in divorce. In 1925 approximately one in seven marriages ended in divorce. In 1950 approximately one in four marriages ended in divorce. In 1978, slightly more than one in every two marriages, or 51%, ended in divorce. Statistically, within just a few decades, all marriages will fail.

These figures are alarming and there are some interesting parallels one might consider. It seems that as life becomes easier, the divorce rate climbs. Shorter work weeks, more vacation time, more modern conveniences and the lack of worrying about where the next meal is coming from all seem to create subtle, but significant, pressures on the marriage union. There was a time when basic survival depended upon the sticking-together of husband and wife.

Along those same lines, the changing role of women in the nation's society has also undoubtedly contributed to the increase in the divorce rate. With the majority of the workforce composed of women, most mothers are able to support themselves and their children, or at least make ends meet, without the financial help of the father. This has not always been the case.

Another contributing factor is that society no longer frowns so much on divorce. In fact, it seems almost like the "in-thing" to do.

In many cases divorce is the best course of action. Although it is a painful ordeal, sometimes the pain is greater for both spouses, and especially children, if parents remain together with no love between them.

However, there appears to be a frightening complacency here. Couples are not willing, and in many cases, don't know how to work at their marriages. Young couples are viewing marriage as a wonderful, continuous rose garden and they are shattered and unable to cope when a few of the roses wilt even a little bit. It is also a self-perpetuating problem, for how does a young person learn the procedures for making a good marriage when his or her parents are unable to follow them?

More education, outside of the home, is desperately needed. Perhaps a course on marriage and family, complete with lessons on communication within the home, should be a required course in all senior high schools.

The stability of the family unit is critical to the stability of society. The above statistics appear to indicate that society is in trouble.

Health and Safety Tip

From the American Medical Association

Allergies Plague 30 Million in U. S.

The word allergy is only 60 years old, but the conditions it describes are as old as mankind.

An allergy is a sensitivity some people develop to substances ordinarily harmless to other people. The offending substances are known as allergens. They do their damage when inhaled, swallowed, touched or injected.

It is estimated that more than 31 million people in the United States suffer from some form of allergic illness.

Most common are skin rashes, hay fever, stuffy nose, asthma, hives and digestive disturbances. Victims of respiratory food and skin allergies often are prevented from leading normal lives. As medical drugs become more potent in curing disease, they also are more likely to cause allergic reactions in some individuals. Insect stings, especially by bees, wasps, hornets and yellow jackets, can be fatal to those who are allergic.

Allergens range through a wide spectrum of materials. Pollens from weeds, grasses, trees and plants; dusts in the home and in industry; mold spores; animal skin or hair; feathers; cosmetics; hair lotions, insecticide sprays; kapok; chemicals; tobacco.

Many foods may be involved, including lobster, crab and other shellfish and fish; meats; fowl; chocolate; nuts; spices; eggs; milk; grains; some fruits and vegetables. Some are allergic to substances touching the skin, such as plastics; some metals; rubber; fabrics; dyes; resins; drugs; foliage of certain plants, such as poison ivy.

Antibiotics, life-savers in halting infections, also can cause reactions in some sensitive individuals. And some few persons are allergic to common medications such as aspirin; laxatives; sedatives; sleeping pills; tranquilizers.

The doctor's help often is needed in finding the offending substance. It should be avoided when possible. If it cannot be avoided, such as pollen in the air, the person must learn to live within its limitations. Certain measures relieve symptoms but do not cure the allergy. Antihistamines provide relief from mild allergies. Other drugs also are used. Epinephrine has been widely used in treating asthma for more than 50 years.

The allergy victim who follows his physician's advice often can expect favorable results, the American Medical Association points out. Medical treatment is supplemented by an understanding of his own case, awareness of sensitivities, and alertness to ways of avoiding offending substances.

Mrs. Smith then worked as a substitute teacher in Moorefield, W. Va., for six months before she and her husband, the Rev. Manning Smith, moved to Ashland, Kentucky. While in Ashland, Mrs. Smith worked in a day-care center and worked with the YWCA and Campfire Girls.

Before moving to Oakland in 1974, Mrs. Smith and her husband lived in Charleston, W. Va., for three and one-half years where she served as district director of Campfire Girls.

Mrs. Smith presently serves as president of the Association of American University Women, and as tournament secretary for the Western Maryland Tennis Tournament. She is a volunteer worker for the Nearly New Shop and a member of the League of Women Voters.

She was a member of the Oakland Junior Woman's Civic Club for six years, and has served on the Garrett Community College Committee for Women's Programming and the Board of Education Committee for the Gifted and Talented Program.

She has received her certification in Parent Effectiveness Training and as a bowling instructor.

She is a member of the choir of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church where she also serves as a Sunday School teacher.

She and her husband are the parents of two children.

Livestock Judging Team also earned an eighth place berth in state-wide competition. Representing Garrett County were Steve and Janet Knepp, as well as Scott Graham and Rhonda Harvey. Steve received a ribbon for placing 18th in individual competition. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Knepp of Red House, and a member of the Red House 4-H Club.

The Junior 4-H Dairy Judging Team placed 11th in state-wide competition, being represented by Billy Bishoff, Sheila Bender, Randall Beitzel and Karen Beitzel.

The Senior Garrett 4-H Dairy Team placed 12th among the counties represented. Team members were Robert Collier, Sherry Beitzel, Steve Lichty and Dwylin Miller.

Don't take it home with you.

A lot of people do it. Take their problems home with them from work. They worry about their jobs and their salaries. How much they take in against how much they pay out. If they can expect a raise in pay. Or when.

One way to avoid worry is to start saving. Join the Payroll Savings Plan at work. A little portion of your salary is automatically set aside toward the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds.

A portion you won't get to take home with you. But you'll never see it and you'll never miss it. So you'll never spend it.

You'll know it's working for you every day. Growing to give you a cushion in hard times. Or a way of achieving a goal in good times.

So don't take it home with you. Leave that "little extra" where it'll do you some good. Adding up to a lot of U.S. Savings Bonds.

Take stock in America.

Judge Jones Hears Variety Of Charges

District Court Judge Lewis R. Jones heard cases involving destruction of property, disorderly conduct, disturbing the peace, and theft charges during the August 25 session.

Lewis Ray Sarfino, 38, Winchester, Va., was found guilty of destruction of property and disorderly conduct stemming from an incident at the Pizza Hut Restaurant, Oakland.

According to the complainant, Sarfino entered the restaurant and went into the men's restroom. Once inside, he reportedly damaged the stall door and trash can, overflowed the sink, threw tissues around the room, and acted in a disorderly manner. When confronted by restaurant employees, he attempted to leave through a locked door, which he also kicked. City police were called, and the arrest was made in the parking lot.

Sarfino was fined a total of $75 and given a 90 day jail sentence, which was suspended. He was placed on 12 months supervised probation.

Karl William Wilson, 39, Oakland, was found guilty of disturbing the peace, disorderly conduct, trespassing, and resisting arrest in connection with a disturbance at the J&M Market.

According to reports, Wilson entered the establishment and began using profane language, making loud noises and acting in a disorderly manner. When asked to leave by the owner, he refused and resisted arrest when police were summoned.

Fines were levied in the amount of $75, and a six-month jail sentence was handed down. The jail sentence was suspended, and Wilson was placed on 12 months supervised probation.

Frank Wilkins, security guard at the Grantsville Foodland, charged Sandy Kay Twigg, 20, Hyndman, Pa., with theft by shoplifting.

According to the complainant, Ms. Twigg was observed in the Ben Franklin section of the store, where she was seen removing a wallet from a display and leaving the store without paying for it.

Judge Jones found Ms. Twigg guilty, and levied a fine of $25.

In a separate incident, David Allen Wiley, 19, Grantsville, was found guilty of larceny and breaking and entering with intent to steal resulting from charges entered by Grantsville Police Chief Frank Wilkins.

According to the complainant, Wiley and a companion were observed removing a screen and the plexiglass from two windows at Summers Auto Parts, Grantsville.

Wiley was fined $25 and given a 90 day jail sentence, which was suspended. He was placed on 24 months supervised probation and ordered to make restitution.

In a related incident, Wiley was again charged by Chief Wilkins with breaking and entering in connection with destruction at the town shed, located in the Grantsville Park.

Once again, according to court records, Wiley was observed kicking in the door of the concession stand, causing $50 in damage.

Fines of $50 were levied against Wiley, with a 90 day jail sentence on each count. The sentences were suspended, and Wiley was placed on 24 months probation and also ordered to pay restitution.

An Oakland man was sentenced to 60 days in jail for the theft of gasoline from a car owned by Robert Simmons.

Donald Cottrell, 20, was charged by the Garrett County Sheriff's office.

A Kitzmiller man was found guilty of theft of a bicycle belonging to John Shannon.

According to Garrett County Sheriff's Deputy Tucker, John Wayne Sampson was seen riding the bicycle near El Lobo's Restaurant.

Sampson was fined $50, and given a 90 day jail term which was suspended. He was placed on 24 months unsupervised probation.

Residents Of Tannery Road Seek Road Maintenance, Access

By Kathy Railey

Residents of the Tannery Road, Hutton, have organized as a group to settle problems of road maintenance and access. These problems recently arose from a July 18 ruling by Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer, stating that the road is a private road, not a county road. The ruling also permitted Ronald Stewart, a resident of the Tannery Road, to reconstruct a fence out into the roadway to surround what was legally declared his property. Maintenance problems with the road began, however, several years ago.

According to Joseph Frantz, son-in-law of the late Frank Baker, former owner of the Tioga Tanning Company, the road existed in 1909 when that portion of land was purchased by the Tioga Tanning Company. When the tannery burned about 1928, Baker sold lots and homes to private owners, each with an 18-foot right-of-way between the lots.

The former owner of Stewart's property, Denver Gank, allowed three other property owners to relocate a portion of the road, realizing it would cross his property.

About 15 or 20 years ago the Tannery Road property owners sought county maintenance for the road, which did not meet the 30-foot right-of-way requirements. Apparently some residents along the road objected to widening the right-of-way, feeling it would be an encroachment.

However, due to the type of roadway and the number of families needing access, the County Roads Department eventually began to maintain the road. The Board of County Commissioners claimed that, on March 18, 1969, it acquired a right-of-way to the road, which currently crosses over a portion of Stewart's land.

In August, 1979, Stewart constructed a barrier 14.72 feet into the roadway, rendering it unserviceable and nearly impassable during winter months, by narrowing the right-of-way. Resulting from neighbors' complaints, the Garrett County Circuit Court issued an injunction in early January, 1980, for the temporary removal of Stewart's barricade. The fence was removed and the injunction expired February 25, 1980, however Stewart did not replace that portion of the fence, awaiting a July 10 hearing.

As a result of the July 18 ruling, Stewart was compensated for damages caused by the removal of the fence, and he reconstructed the barricade on August 22. The ruling also found that the County Roads Department never legally took the Tannery Road into its system, which now prevents the road from being maintained by the Roads Department.

Residents along the road are particularly concerned about access during the winter months, as the Stewart barricade is constructed on a hill at a bend in the road. Eight families live beyond the barricade. Sally Marc, coordinator of the group of landowners, recently received a letter from Buzz Updyke, Chief of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, stating that the barricade "would prohibit fire trucks from using the road." A representative of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad also indicated that, during the winter months, the squad would have difficulty passing the barricade. The landowners feel this poses a danger for elderly persons and others living beyond Stewart's property.

A total of 18 families will be affected by the lack of county roads maintenance, including the Stewart family and one family of part-time residents. The other 16 landowners signed a petition which was submitted to the Garrett County Commissioners and was reviewed by them and Herbert McCrobie, Roads Department administrator, along with other data regarding the case, at an August 19 meeting. The petition expressed the desire of landowners to have the Tannery Road legally taken into the county roads system.

Mrs. Marc this week received a letter from the commissioners explaining how Judge Thayer arrived at his recent decision. The letter also stated that the road, in its present condition, does not meet the present requirements for acceptance into the county roads system, as it requires a 40-foot wide right-of-way.

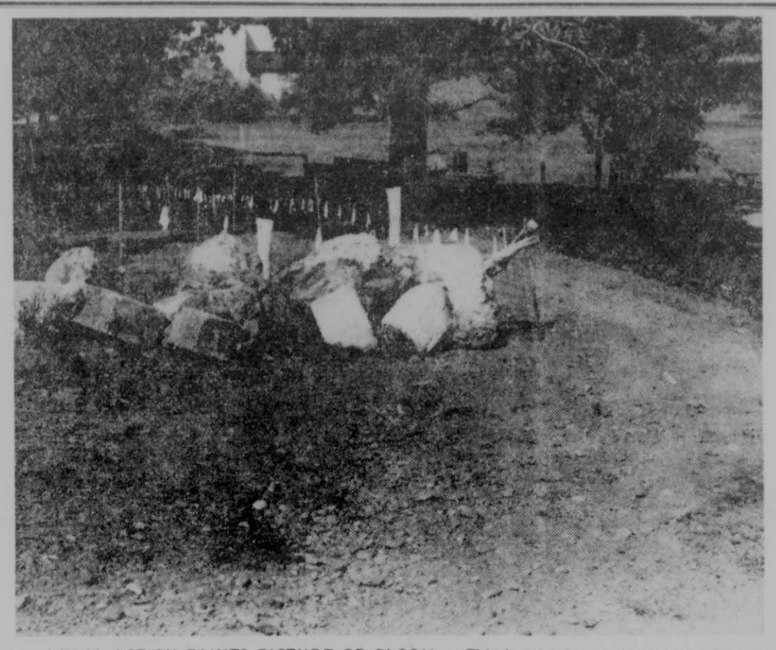

Frantz stated that the road has been there for years for everyone to use, and as a right-of-way to private homes, adding that it is owned by his sister-in-law, and apparently by the B&O Railroad, beyond Stewart's property.

Apparently some residents still object to the widening of the road, which would cause it to enter onto their property, but would also enable it to be taken into the roads system.

One resident said, "they maintained it before, without that footage . . . we're paying county taxes and some of that is going to the Roads Department, and we feel we're getting gypped."

Other access to homes beyond the Stewart property may be obtained by a second private road which is rutted and steep, causing it to be impassable in the winter months.

Mrs. Marc stated that the group of landowners will continue to pursue the issue at other governmental levels and will attempt to remedy the maintenance and hazardous access problems before the snow flies. She added that the commissioners stated that, should an emergency arise, residents should contact the roads department which will attempt to assist fire trucks or an ambulance in reaching their property. However, no indication was made that the road will be plowed this winter.

LEGAL ACTION PAINTS PICTURE OF GLOOM — This barricade, constructed by Ronald Stewart, Hutton, juts into the Tannery Road, narrowing right-of-way and posing an access problem for residents living beyond the Stewart property. The barrier outlines Stewart's property line, and was erected August 22 after a July 18 ruling by Circuit Court Judge Fred A. Thayer permitted its reconstruction. The course of the road was changed several years ago, to cross what was then the property of Denver Gank. The recent ruling also declared the Tannery Road a private road, ceasing county road maintenance and affecting 18 families.

RARE PLANT THRIVES IN GARRETT COUNTY — Butch and Carolyn Helbig, Oakland, have a rare variety of flowers growing in their backyard. They are rare because they are red leafed canna lilies and because they have grown from seven to eight feet tall. The bulbs were given to Carolyn 12 years ago and she says each year "the bulbs get bigger and healthier". Besides the railroad tie beds pictured above, Carolyn has planted four others in various spots throughout her vegetable garden. She and her husband have extended an invitation to any who may wish to see her flowers located at their home on Rt. 560, a little over a mile out of Loch Lynn. Pictured with the flowers are Butch and Carolyn's two children, Theresa (five feet tall) and Jeff (four and one-half feet tall).

Scholarship Fund is Established

A scholarship fund has been established in memory of James H. Simms, former athletic standout at Southern High School, who was killed in an auto accident August 18 of this year.

Simms was a 1979 graduate of Southern and received numerous awards for his outstanding achievements in football and baseball.

He began his football career in the local youth football league and was also an area and zone winner in the punt, pass and kick competition. In 1975 he was named Best Offensive Player on the Southern Junior Varsity squad. In 1978 and '79 he was named to the Potomac Valley All Conference team, the Highland League All Star team and first team, All Area. As a senior he was named captain of the Ram varsity squad and was awarded the Golden Helmet Award. After graduation, Simms attended West Virginia Tech, where he played middle linebacker.

In baseball, Simms was named to the All Star teams in both the junior and senior divisions of the Oakland Little League. He was named Rookie of the Year in 1978 by the Grantsville American Legion and at Southern. In 1979 he was named Best Pitcher for the Rams.

According to the persons responsible for establishing the memorial fund, the terms of the scholarship have not yet been worked out, as it will depend on how much money is donated. It is hoped that it will be a perpetuating scholarship. Donations may be sent to the Jim Simms Scholarship Fund, c/o Garrettland Realty, 1000 Thayer Center, Oakland.

Nineteen-year-old Simms was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Simms, Underwood Road.

Fishing Contest Winners Named

Northern Varsity Cheerleaders Capture Top Awards

The 1980 Northern Varsity Cheerleading Squad once again captured numerous top awards at the Golden Eagle Cheerleading Camp held at Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa., July 28 through 31. The Northern Cheerleaders competed against 30 other squads and approximately 350 girls.

The local group received Superior (Blue) Ribbons every night of evaluation, and placed third in the Most Original and Best Skit Competition.

The squad was awarded a spirit stick every night for spirit and enthusiasm, and was voted by the other squads the most spirited, cooperative, punctual and friendly squad, winning the coveted Golden Spirit Meg Award.

Exhibiting skill and coordination throughout the camp, Northern was selected to participate as one of the five squads in the run-off, which determined the top squads at the camp. Northern captured the 1980 first place trophy, along with the Golden Eagle Super Squad Award.

The Northern Varsity Cheerleaders learned various cheers, jumps, gymnastics and stunts at the camp.

Mt. Top Softball League Action Noted

The Mountain Top Softball League announces the winners of the recent playoff held at the Deer Park Sportsmen field.

Taking first place was Fratz Gas Mart, who won over second place Cee Dee Restaurant.

Green Acres Garden Center rolled over several teams to take third place position.

Most Valuable Player was awarded to Danny Bosley of Cee Dee Restaurant. Winners in division play for the regular season were Bethlehem, Cee Dee Restaurant, and Fratz Gas Mart.

The league has also announced that an all-star game will be played September 7, at the Deer Park field beginning at 1 p.m. Each team is asked to send two players to the game.

The league has several openings for teams from the league to play in a tournament to be held September 12, 13 and 14, at the Deer Park field.

Interested teams should call Paul Frantz at 334-4205 as soon as possible. Entry fee will be $60.00 and trophies will be awarded. Drawing for the tournament will be held at the Loch Lynn ball field on Wednesday, September 10, at 6:30 p.m.

Taking first place was Fratz Gas Mart, who won over second place Cee Dee Restaurant.

Revival Slated

A three-day Revival will be held September 11 through 13 at the Chestnut Grove United Methodist Church off Route 135. The Rev. Alan Sines, pastor of the Albright, W. Va. charge, will be the preacher.

There will be special singing each night, along with performances by the church's youth choir. Everyone is welcome.

Rams And Huskies To Open Friday; Both Expecting Excellent Seasons

Cornish To Lead Rams' Attack

"Another record-breaking performance" is what Southern High School head coach Tom Woods hopes to receive from senior tailback Paul Cornish, who re-wrote the area record books for rushing last season. Cornish (5-9, 170) racked up 1,839 yards on 314 carries in ten games last season to lead the Rams to a berth in the Maryland State Class C finals. However, an ankle injury prevented Cornish from playing in that contest, which the Rams lost to Smithsburg. The Rams entered the championship with a 16-game winning streak.

Woods is also looking for outstanding play from nine other starters this season and a total of 14 returning lettermen. Among them are first-team All-Area tackle Kevin Flanagan and second-team All-Area end Wayne Scott. Scott will be moved to slotback and sophomore Ronnie Bosley, who played for Cornish last year when he was injured, will start at fullback.

Other returning starters include senior tackle David Goldsborough (6-4, 220), senior guard Adam Wolfe (5-9, 170), senior tight end George Scheffel (5-11, 175) and junior defensive ends Pat Rodeheaver (5-10, 170 and Jim Lyons (6-1, 190).

Woods feels comfortable with his starters, but says his biggest concern is lack of depth. "The key to our season will be first of all, to stay healthy and, secondly, to get set for an extremely tough schedule full of very talented teams," Woods said. "Our first line subs will have to grow up quickly." He believes his offense will be more versatile with the addition of Scott and Bosley to the backfield.

Scott caught ten passes for 267 yards and scored 20 points as a receiver last season. Bosley rushed for 233 yards on 47 carries.

The quarterback spot will be held by Todd Lewis, who saw some action last season behind the now-graduated Delbert Liller.

Other returning lettermen are guard Mike Beard (5-9, 165), defensive back Wade Dever (5-5, 135), center Andrew Orr (5-10, 165) and wide receiver T. J. Thomas (5-9, 150).

Besides earning the spot in the State finals, Southern also won the Highland Football Conference and Potomac Valley Conference titles last season.

The Rams will face Beall in Frostburg this Friday evening. Their first home contest will be September 19 against Bruce.

Seven Husky Starters Return

Northern Huskies Coach Jack Settle believes his team will be able to "compete with every team" in the Highland Football Conference this season, as he has seven of his starters returning among one of the school's best turnouts in history. Northern will open Friday night at Berlin, Pa.

The Huskies are coming off a 6-4 season last year, one of their best marks since joining the conference. Their victims included Beall and Bruce and one of their losses was a heartbreaker to Valley, 2-0.

Settle is looking for a better season this year because of "more potential and much more depth."

Among the returnees is quarterback Greg Carr, who was also a first-team Highland Conference defensive back last year.

Anchoring the line for the third season in a row will be senior William Wilt (5-11, 207), who was also named to the All Conference team last season. Settle says that Wilt may also play some offense from the fullback position.

Senior Mike Bradshaw (5-11, 235) has been moved from tight end to tackle. Pete Frazee (5-10, 178), also a senior, will resume his duties as offensive guard. Senior Steve Fratz (5-10, 165) has been moved from wingback to tailback. Corkey Wachter, a senior, (5-10, 165) will return as linebacker and Rick Yommer, senior defensive back, will start at tightend. Jeff Spiker, another senior, will play split end.

Settle is pleased with the running performances of two sophomores, Randy Yommer (5-10, 164) and Troy Margroff (5-9, 156). Another sophomore, Rob Carr, may also start at end and will serve as backup quarterback.

The Huskies will play their first home game on September 19 against Turkeyfoot.

BITTINGER-GLADES

Church News

Pastor James Mitchell and family left the Bittinger Parish on Monday, September 1, to return to Canada to serve a church there that he had had been a part of before coming here. He will serve as pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Linwood, Ontario, Canada and will have a one-church parish about the same size as Emmanuel, Bittinger. He served the Bittinger three-church parish for the past four and one-half years. At a special council meeting Pastor Mitchell read a letter from the Canadian Immigration Service accepting him and Mrs. Mitchell as Canadian residents.

Bishop Kenneth May met with the joint councils of the three churches and outlined the steps to be taken during the absence of a regular pastor. The first supply pastor will be here for services on Sunday, September 7. Communion services will be held at all three churches the second Sunday of each month. Bishop May reported that there are 18 vacancies in the Synod at the present time. He will ask Pastor Richard Seaks of St. Mark's, Oakland, to serve at Vice-Pastor.

There will be no Word and Witness class at St. John's until Thursday, September 25.

Lisa Zuckerman was received into Zion Lutheran Church on Sunday through Holy Baptism. Her sponsor was Clara A. Garlitz.

Farewell Parties Held For Pastor and Family

Each of the three churches of the Bittinger Parish held farewell get-togethers for Pastor Mitchell and his family. On Tuesday, they were all supper guests of Mrs. Clyde Smith and family, Jennings. Afterwards special refreshments and a short program were held in the church. The congregation gave him a gift of money. On Thursday evening, St. John's had a special party with refreshments and a social hour and presented him with a gift.

On Friday evening a supper hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brenneman was held in the Brenneman cabin. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Buckel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Yaste, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brenneman, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brenneman and family, Pastor and Mrs. Mitchell, and Mrs. Dale Leininger and son.

On Sunday, the congregation of Emmanuel held a covered dish dinner in his honor with a decorated cake and presented him with a gift.

Garrett County Historical Society To Take Tour

The Garrett County Historical Society's annual tour will begin at the Accident Elementary School on September 13 at 9:30 a.m. A bus will transport the tourists to points of interest in the Savage River State Forest. Each tourist is to pack a lunch and bring it along. A small fare will be charged to defray the cost of the bus. Members of the society and all other interested persons are welcome to take the trip. Anyone wishing to call may contact Mary Strauss, Accident, 826-6183.

Bittinger Firemen Plan Auction Sale

The Bittinger Fire Department will hold a public auction on Saturday, September 20, at the firemen's building in Bittinger. Persons wishing to donate articles should call Mrs. Bruce Brenneman, 245-4343. They will arrange to have any donated articles picked up.

Birthday Supper Held

The family of Allen Brenneman held a birthday party in his honor on Saturday evening. All ten of his children were present, with children and grandchildren. Twenty-one were in attendance.

Zion's LCW Meets

The LCW of Zion Lutheran Church, Jennings, held its monthly meeting in the church on August 20 with seven in attendance.

Miss Leota Baker introduced the topic "Friendship," a program which related the meaning, the characteristics and the value of friends and their relationships.

A gift offering was sent to Lutheran Church Women for Specific Ministries in honor of Pastor and Mrs. James Mitchell as a tribute of gratitude for their ministry in the Bittinger Lutheran Parish.

Norma Mitchell gave a report on the Synodical LCW Convention held at Thiel College July 24-26, which she had attended as vice-president of the unit. She also reported on the Triennial LCW Convention held at Atlanta, Georgia, during the second week in August.

A letter of thanks was received from the Lutheran Home at Kane, Pa., upon receipt of a package sent recently.

Personal Items

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Preston, Mrs. Mary Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Preston and sons Todd and Casey, of Westlake, Calif., were Saturday evening supper guests of Sam and Cindy Stanton.

Mrs. Ferne Beachy accompanied Mrs. Raymond Jones, daughter Johnna Jones and Mrs. David Boggess to the State Farm Queen contest at the Timonium State Fair last Sunday. Johnna was Garrett County's representative in the contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement Falstick, Gaithersburg, were Friday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brenneman.

Pastor Kenneth Zehr and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brenneman.

Mrs. W. E. Buckel and Ferne Beachy were Tuesday afternoon visitors of Mrs. Herbert Buckel.

Mrs. Mary Forney was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Wilburn on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Glotfelty, Carlisle, Pa., and Dr. Donald Glotfelty, Pittsburgh, were visiting their mother, Martha Glotfelty, last week. Mrs. Glotfelty was a Tuesday evening supper guest of Mrs. Clyde Smith and family, Jennings.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Legeer, Forrestville, have returned to Bittinger to live. They plan to build a new home here in the near future.

THE ARTS

by Kathy Railey

Highland Arts Unlimited, based in Keyser, W. Va., will begin its eighth season this fall. The series was organized by a group of concerned citizens interested in promoting the arts. The programs offered throughout the year include music, art, dance and drama, and are open to non-members as well as members, with a small admission fee.

Jesse Reed, a native of Belington, W. Va., will represent the field of art with a lecture-demonstration on lithographing techniques on October 30, in the church at McKee Arts Center on the campus of Potomac State College. Some of his artwork will be on display at the Shipper Library, Potomac State College, October 30 through November 5.

On December 12, the Mary Lauver Harp Trio will perform old familiar songs, classics and seasonal Christmas carols, at Potomac State College.

The National Players will appear in Shakespeare's "The Tempest" on April 8, and the Brandon Thomas comedy "Charlie's Aunt" on April 9. A special admission price will be offered to non-members attending both plays.

Taxfree membership contributions may be sent to Highland Arts Unlimited, Box 63, Keyser, W. Va., or persons may call (304) 788-1235 (304) 788-3066, or (304) 788-0111 for further information.

According to George Hazen, Chairman of the Fine and Performing Arts of Allegany Community College, Cumberland productions and dates for drama and music have been set for the 1980-81 school year, featuring the ACC Singers and the ACC Drama Department and Trojan Playhouse.

The drama department's first production will be Noel Coward's "Nude With Violin," on October 23, 24, and 25. "Nude With Violin" is a bright comedy by a master of the genre. The title refers to the supposed last masterpiece "painted" by an artist named Paul Soridin.

Soridin's estranged family has come to Paris in bereavement over the death of the painter and in anticipation of the inheritance of a great fortune. Unfortunately for the "mourners," Sebastion, valet and personal friend of Paul Soridin, has a most surprising letter written by the artist before he died, and the fun begins.

Auditions for the play, which requires six women and eight men, will be held September 10 and 11 in the Allegany Community College Theatre. Persons wanting additional information regarding auditions or tickets should contact Michael Hartman at 724-7700, extension 250, or Betty June Dougan, Public Relations Officer, at 724-7700, extension 200 or 201.

International Year Of Disabled Persons Proclaimed By Hughes

Governor Hughes has proclaimed 1981 to be the "International Year of Disabled Persons" in Maryland.

In a ceremony at the State House Monday, the Governor presented the official proclamation to Richard G. Dunne, Director of the Governor's Office for the Coordination of Services to the Handicapped. Mr. Dunne is the official liaison for Maryland with the U. S. Council for the International Year of Disabled Persons. The U. S. Council, located in Washington, D.C., is a nonprofit organization formed by citizens concerned with the rights of the disabled in America. This Council has followed the lead of the United Nations, which designated 1981 the International Year of Disabled Persons. The United Nations' theme for this International Year is "full participation of disabled persons in the life of their society."

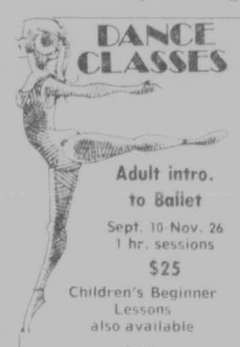

The Maryland proclamation in recognition of the International Year of Disabled Persons was issued in line with the ongoing, nationwide campaign to help the American public understand disabilities. "I urge each citizen of Maryland to support those activities which allow, and indeed encourage, the full participation of all citizens, irrespective of disability," Governor Hughes stated.

For further information on the International Year of Disabled Persons, persons may call the Governor's Office for the Coordination of Services to the Handicapped, Baltimore Metro 269-2908 TTY 269-2909, Washington Metro 261-2525, Ext. 2908, TTY 261-2658.

Now you can get Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage regardless of your health*

OPEN ENROLLMENT

Now, during a special Open Enrollment period, you can obtain Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage regardless of the condition of your health.

If you're not already a Blue Cross and Blue Shield member and are not eligible for Medicare, this is a great opportunity for you and your family.

Even if you have not been able to get coverage in the past, now you will. Without any medical questionnaire. Without any health statements. You will be accepted automatically.

*Even health conditions that currently exist will be covered after this membership has been in effect for nine months.

But you must act quickly. Open Enrollment ends at midnight September 10, 1980.

At a glance, here's the kind of coverage you'll get.

Blue Cross to protect you against hospital costs.

You'll be protected for up to 730 days of hospital inpatient care on an 80/20 copayment basis. This means we pay 80% of the costs, and you pay 20%, but it also means a lower premium rate. And, your 20% responsibility is limited to a maximum of $500 for each stay in the hospital.

This coverage includes a semi-private room, board, general nursing care, and other customary hospital services, up to 30 days of inpatient maternity care, and in-hospital care for mental and nervous conditions in a Member hospital.

Also, emergency outpatient care received at a Member hospital within 72 hours of an accidental injury, and minor surgery performed on an outpatient basis, are covered in full. We pay 100% of these costs. You pay nothing.

Blue Shield Plan "i" to protect you against medical and surgical costs.

Benefits under Plan "i" are provided, according to an established schedule, based on the surgical procedure performed. They are not subject to the copayment provision of the Blue Cross portion of the Open Enrollment Program.

Plan "i" also provides benefits for physician medical care provided to hospital inpatients for up to 30 days as well as maternity care, consultations, anesthesia and a wide range of other services.

Maternity benefits are available after this coverage has been in effect for eight consecutive months. Benefits also are available for the removal of tonsils and adenoids after the membership has been in effect continuously for six months.

Sign up before Open Enrollment closes.

Just clip and mail the coupon below. But send no money. You will receive complete information including a listing of subscription rates and an application. Simply complete the application and return it to us by September 10, 1980.

(Of course, enrollment in other Blue Cross and Blue Shield programs is available with medical underwriting at any time.)
